Asthma and Consumption.

DR. SHERMAN'S ALL-HEALING BALSAM, as a remedy for Asthma, Consumption, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, and all Diseases of the Lungs, Throat, Liver and Stomach, stands unexcelled.

Read what it has done! More Home Testimony in Favor of DR. SHERMAN'S ALL-HEALING BALSAM. New Orleans, Feb. 25, 1848.

To Dr. Sherman's Agent, 151 Chartres street: Dear Sir—Having derived great benefit from the use of Dr. Sherman's Balsam, you will permit me to address a few lines to you. I have been troubled for a long time with a bad cough, together with raising blood, to such a degree that I could scarcely talk without coughing. A friend of mine advised me to try Dr. Sherman's Balsam, and in less than two weeks after its use, I find myself perfectly well, and able to attend to my business. I have recommended it to several of my friends, and in all cases with success.

Yours, dear sir, with respect. J. E. BRISCOE. Clerk for T. L. White, 53 Canal st. Residence, 24 Maria street, New Orleans STILL THEY COME!

Having accidentally become acquainted with the virtues of Dr. Sherman's All-Healing Balsam, I have no hesitation in declaring that its use in my family warrants the assurance that it possesses all the gifted qualities attributed to it. In one case, where the medicine was taken on my recommendation, the effect was almost magical, as the Cough and Expectoration of mucus matter bore a strong analogy to a decided consumptive tendency. I believe a more general knowledge of this medicine is only required to place it among the best curatives extant, for Consumption, Dyspepsia and other diseases arising from a disorganized state of the stomach and affections of the lungs.

JAMES REESE, 13 Camp st., New Orleans. Monix, December 7th, 1847.

I hereby certify, that for 18 months I had been lingering under Consumption, and expected every day to be my last. At length I procured a bottle of Sherman's Balsam, and it raised me as it were from the grave. It cured me, and I am now able to attend to my daily avocation of a boatman.

WINER'S

Canadian Vermifuge.

THE best remedy ever yet discovered for all kinds of WORMS. It not only destroys Worms and invigorates the whole system, but it dissolves and carries off the superabundant slime of mucus, so prevalent in the stomach and bowels of children, more especially of those in bad health.—The mucus forms the bed or nest in which Worms produce their young, and by removing it, it is impossible for worms to remain in the body. It is harmless in its effects on the system, and the health of the patient is always improved by its use, even when no worms are discovered; the medicine being palatable, no child will refuse to take it, not even the most delicate.

Sold Wholesale and Retail by J. Wright & Co., 151 Chartres st., New Orleans. A. E. RICHARDS is the agent for "Winner's Canadian Vermifuge," in Plaquemine, and also for the sale of "Dalley's Pain Extractor." mar11 ly Plaquemine March 11, 1848.

The Hurra at Columbus, Ohio.

We give below a few disjointed extracts from the report of the proceedings, as affording a general idea of the late disgraceful proceedings at the Capital of Ohio:

House of Representatives.—The two houses met again in the hall of the House, and after a call of each branch, Mr. Whitman took the floor, and commenced reading a report from a portion, but not a majority, of the committee appointed yesterday by the Speaker of the Senate, to examine the returns for Governor.

Mr. Beaver raised the question as to the right of the gentleman to submit a report. Without waiting for a decision of the point of order,

Mr. Whitman again commenced reading his paper.

Mr. Dennison called him to order. Mr. Whitman. Who shall settle the question? Not the Speaker alone—he has no right to make any decision in the matter; if any decision be made, it must come from both Speakers in that desk.

The Speaker of the Senate here made an effort to be heard, but

Mr. Whitman, (at the top of his voice,) remarked: We know our rights here, and we will maintain them. If gentlemen on the other side suppose they can ride us down, they are mistaken. It is a most infamous attempt, this, on the part of the Whigs, to rob us of our rights, and we will not submit. I shall proceed to read this report. [Cries of "go on! go on!" from the right hand side of the House.]

The Speaker of the Senate again attempted to settle the point of order which had been raised, but

Mr. Whitman fiercely and loudly proclaimed, that he would never submit to the decision of one Speaker, but as a matter of politeness merely, he finally concluded he would listen to what the Speaker had to say.

Mr. Speaker of the Senate, if the members of this House shall aid you in the violation of the constitution, they will be participants with you in the crime.—Appoint this committee, and let this matter be amicably settled. I care not a barbee how the matter is settled; I care not who is Governor; but I am in favor of order and the constitution. I speak for the great party whom I have the honor to represent, and who constitute the decided majority in this State. If a violation of the constitution is attempted, I warn you of the consequences. No one can tell what they would be. Are 155,000 freemen to be disfranchised tamely? Would the Whig party permit themselves to be thus disfranchised? No. I have a higher opinion of their bravery and gallantry.

Mr. W. concluded by apologizing for the length of time he had occupied, in the few remarks he had made in thus opening this discussion. He closed at 12 o'clock.

Mr. Goddard: Mr. Speaker, I wish to speak about ten minutes. I think I can satisfy—

Speaker. Will the Senator from Muskingum give way for a moment? [Mr. Goddard did so.] In many of the positions taken by the Senator from Fairfield, I perfectly agree, and my duty is, to my mind, clear. I, therefore, in accordance with the constitution and the law, declare Seabury Ford elected Governor of the State of Ohio. The Speaker then announced the state of the vote.

While this announcement was being made, which was done in the midst of a tremendous tumult on the right side of the hall,

Mr. Archbold, shaking his fist and head at the Speaker, was proclaiming at the top of his voice—"You are a perjured scoundrel—a perjured scoundrel, sir!"

Mr. Whitman, advancing towards the Speaker's seat, and shaking his fist at that officer: Mr. Speaker, Mr. Speaker, Mr. SPEAKER, I order you, sir, I command you, sir, in the name of the people to stop; to come down from that desk!—You have violated your oath, sir! You are a miserable coward! You're a perjured villain! He then turned to the Clerks' desk, and threateningly commanded them to make no entry of the Speaker's declaration.

It is impossible to describe the excitement and confusion in which the whole of these proceedings were transacted.—The right side of the House were on their feet, and aiding in the uproar; and the gestures, attitudes, exclamations; and ejaculations of the parties, made a picture which can only be conveyed by the skillful painter of men under the influence of the most excited passion.

During this scene, and while Messrs. Whitman, Archbold and other Senators, were hurling their anathemas and oaths at the Speaker, that officer announced that—

The convention having accomplished the purpose for which it was convened, the Senators will now retire to their chamber.

The Senators then left the hall. Mr. Mott: I move the Speaker call the House to order, now that we have got rid of these disorderly Senators.

Speaker: The House will come to order.

Mr. Monfort, (flourishing his cane over the clerks' desk) order, hell! order, hell!

Speaker, (rapping violently upon his desk,) order, order.

Mr. Monfort: Order, HELL!

The Speaker continued crying order, until order being restored for a moment, a motion for a recess was made and carried, and the House took a recess.

Gold Items.

The N. Y. Tribune of the 11th inst. has the following paragraph:

The fine ship Tarolinta, under command of the experienced and gentlemanly Capt. Cave, sails this morning for San Francisco, touching at Valparaiso and Callao. Amongst her passengers, numbering over eighty, are many gentlemen well known in this city—some who leave bright hopes at home for brighter ones in the valleys of the Sacramento and San Joaquin. Among the party we observe the name of Jonas Winchester, Esq., one of the pioneers of the system of cheap literature in books and newspapers, and late publisher of the "New World" and "Golden Rule"—a man possessing the intelligence and energy calculated to insure success in any position. Caleb Lyon, of Lyonsdale, the accomplished Oriental scholar and poet, gives up a good situation under the General Government, and goes out with the design of making California his permanent residence. James B. Devoe, an intelligent printer, and Daniel Norcross, of Philadelphia, belong to this party, as also goes Frederick Jerome, the brave and noble-hearted sailor, with several other gentlemen of character. We wish the gentlemen composing this party a degree of success equal to their most golden dreams.

The Tribune of an earlier date says:

We have been shown private letters of late date, from the Pacific coast, which give some new and exciting intelligent information in relation to the stores of gold accumulating in California. They state that 2,000,000 worth of the dust was at San Francisco waiting for transportation. The greater part of it will probably be taken by the mail steamer California. The English steamer Pandora carried away $300,000 in dust.

Another letter completely contradicts the reports of disturbances at the mining districts. The writer states that excellent order prevails, and there had been but two or three petty depredations since operations commenced in the region.

A letter from a lady of this city, dated at Panama, November 27, speaks of the comfortable quarters in which she is living while waiting the arrival of a vessel for California, and makes not the slightest reference to an unusual crowd of adventurers. From this we may infer that the former reports in relation to the thousands starving there were greatly exaggerated.

Won't the members from California, whoever the lucky individuals may be, have a deep haul at the treasury for mileage?
