

It will be seen by advertisement that the Maj. Aubrey will be at Bayou Goula...

We are under obligations to Hon. T. S. Bocock, of Virginia, for a copy of his speech in the House of Representatives...

We renew our obligations to the Hon. J. S. PENNING, Jr., for his kind attention in forwarding us important public documents.

A new Order has been gotten up in our town by some of our young men. It is called the Sons of Morality...

We have been waiting with great anxiety to get them that we spoke of last week. Will not some of our friends assist us in obtaining the object of our wishes?

Election Rows.

It seems there was some difficulty at the Election in New Orleans last Monday, as anticipated, and unfortunately and melancholy to relate, one man was killed.

We regret to state that the row in the Third Precinct yesterday, resulted fatally in one instance at least. A young man named Edward Burns, a member of Jackson Fire Company No. 18, was shot during the affray...

That "Tan Wash Pedler."

Do any of our readers recollect a white gloved, dyed, Yankee looking customer, who was here a few days since, with a new patent wash, which would make the darkest, brownest, rustiest complexion look as clear as crystal?

The peddler resumed the praises of his wash. "I have sold great quantities to the ladies in different towns, where I have travelled, and it always gives the greatest satisfaction."

"No, sir, we are never troubled with that sort of diseases, nor any one else about the establishment."

"Gentlemen," said the peddler, getting quite solemn, "I have none of the articles you call for, but I shall be most happy to supply you with..."

Victory.

On yesterday, says the Bulletin of Tuesday, the Reformers of the First District gained a substantial, as well as a glorious victory.

There is much of family affliction which the fond mother is called upon to mourn, but we doubt if there is any sorrow more poignant than that which brings to her bosom more deeply seated dejection...

A letter from Shanghai expresses doubts of the rumored success of the Russians, in relation to the opening of the ports of Japan...

THE "KNOW-NOTHINGS" AND THE DEMOCRATIC PRESS.

Already has the fury of the Democratic Press of this State been belched out against the Order of the "Know-Nothings." And why is it? Why is it that the Courier of New Orleans, the king among the democratic troupe of newspapers in Louisiana, is raising its cry of wrath and execration against an association, the objects of which the Courier, as the public can only surmise from results which have followed their works?

Those who have watched the workings of the "Know-Nothings" as we have, and from information beyond dispute, are confident that it is political, and political only, in all its works and aims. There are some who may assert the error and even the danger of such an organization; but to our mind, there is nothing wrong nor dangerous about it.

To attempt to mingle religious matters with the association alluded to—array Catholics against Protestants, and Protestants against Catholics—is merely done through political tact, nothing more—done by the Democratic press to catch the sympathies of Catholics in Catholic regions.

The "Know-Nothings" have said to the world, through their acts, that the Polls—the palladium of our liberties—shall not be desecrated! This is the only public demonstration they have made of their aims and purposes.

Deride, scoff, malign and traduce, it will avail nothing. Ere many suns have sunk into the West, the "Know-Nothings" will be a great and powerful party in the land—the body-guard of our liberties and our rights!

It is stated in the Washington correspondence of the New York Herald, of the 3d inst., that $3 gold pieces will soon be issued.

A VISIT TO BATON ROUGE.

There is no denying it, that Baton Rouge is a very beautiful town—we beg pardon, city we mean. There is no mistake about it. And what is an indispensable desideratum in lending beauty and interest to either town or city, is the fact that there are many warm-hearted and noble-minded citizens there, of the various trades and professions, who give to the visiting stranger a kind of home welcome.

After driving up to the little village in West Baton Rouge (St. Michael we believe it is called) opposite the city, and giving your animal to the attendants at McFADDEE'S commodious Livery Stable, where he is sure to be well taken care of, you have nothing further to do than to walk to the ferry boat and be steamed over to the capital of the State for the price of twenty cents.

We found our contemporaries in good humor with themselves and the world. Friend PIKE of the Comet, we found ensconced behind an enormous desk, which formed the front of his sanctum, and looking as placid and cheerful as the editor of a "dai y" ought to look.

We found BRYAN, of the Gazette, hard at work—his hands black and his sleeves rolled up—as he would likely find us were to pay a visit to our office. He is evidently determined to merit continued success, if hard work and unceasing energy can avail anything.

We visited the Foundry of Messrs. HILL & HENDERSON. They appeared to be busy at work turning out their valuable and heavy articles for machinery of various kinds.

On Friday, the 26th inst, the annual eclipse of the sun will continue about two hours and fifteen minutes, and obscure about eleven twelfths of the sun.

Editors are evidently at a premium out West. Both the Whig and Democratic candidates for Governor of Iowa are editors.

On Friday, the 26th inst, the annual eclipse of the sun will continue about two hours and fifteen minutes, and obscure about eleven twelfths of the sun.

Editors are evidently at a premium out West. Both the Whig and Democratic candidates for Governor of Iowa are editors.

SANTA ANNA IN A TIGHT PLACE.

The steamship El Dorado arrived at New Orleans the latter part of last week, bringing important intelligence from Acapulco. It appears that that strongly fortified city, on the Pacific, is in the hands of the revolutionists under ALVAREZ, a chief who has had uncheck'd sway for many years over that district of Mexico, under every form of Government—making laws of his own to suit his own Department or State of the country, and paying but very little regard to the laws of the General Government.

Up to the Dictatorship of SANTA ANNA, from the difficulty of subjugating a chieftain as popular as ALVAREZ, and from the difficulty and danger also of unshaking against him through the mountain passes which lead to his usurped dominions, he has been suffered to do pretty much as he pleased, so long as he would extend the mere shadow of fealty to the nation.

It will be recollected, by late news received from Mexico, that it was reported that ALVAREZ, who commanded what was conceived to be an impregnable pass in the mountains, had been defeated by SANTA ANNA, and was forced to retreat to Acapulco.

"Santa Anna with his troops, had a large force of the revolutionary party in his rear, and the insurgent city of Acapulco in his front—Alvarez had let him get into the province of Guerrero by apparently abandoning the only mountain pass, through which an entrance could be effected—but after Santa Anna had got fairly in, the pass was again occupied, and he had no other alternative but to push for the sea coast, where he was encamped near the sea shore, in sight of passing vessels.

In the speech of Mr. BOGOC, of Va., (now before us) delivered in the House of Representatives, relative to the increase of the Navy, we find, at its conclusion, the following eloquent remarks:

"It was but a few days since that Lord Clarendon, her Britannic majesty's secretary of State for foreign affairs, announced the important fact that France and England had an understanding as to the policy to be carried out elsewhere than on the European continent—meaning, doubtless, that they agreed as to the policy to be pursued here."

"It was but a few days since that Lord Clarendon, her Britannic majesty's secretary of State for foreign affairs, announced the important fact that France and England had an understanding as to the policy to be carried out elsewhere than on the European continent—meaning, doubtless, that they agreed as to the policy to be pursued here."

"It was but a few days since that Lord Clarendon, her Britannic majesty's secretary of State for foreign affairs, announced the important fact that France and England had an understanding as to the policy to be carried out elsewhere than on the European continent—meaning, doubtless, that they agreed as to the policy to be pursued here."

In the year 1543 the Sultan Selim 2d, at the request of Francis 1st, sent a large army and fleet under the command of the celebrated Turkish Admiral Barbarossa, who occupied the town and port of Toulon, from September 1543 to the end of March 1544.

Madame Zaslavsky, a sister of Kosuth, applied lately to the judge of the New York court of common pleas for the care and custody of her little boy—the child being detained by his father. She keeps a store in Broadway, supporting her family by her own exertions.

IMPORTANT TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

The reports brought by the Africa show that the Black Warrior case has assumed a very threatening aspect at Madrid.

It is rumored that Mr. Soule, our Minister at Madrid, had demanded the recall of the present Governor-General Pezuela, and the appointment of a successor, invested with power to settle differences that may arise with foreign powers in Cuba, besides requiring a very large indemnity for the damage sustained by the owners and others interested in the Black Warrior.

A decree has been issued ordering the immediate registry of all the slaves in Cuba. Those found without a copy of their register being in the possession of those claiming to own them, are to be considered as having been fraudulently introduced, and all so decided are to be set free.

This decree also provides for the introduction and organization of white laborers in the island.

The Black Warrior Case. Several members of foreign embassies in Washington have received private information confirming the accounts brought by the Africa, as to Spain having refused to accede to the demands made in the Black Warrior case.

Later From California. The San Francisco Herald, of the 15th ult., contains the following paragraphs: On the day which the last steamers sailed, the 1st inst., we announced the fact that Luis de Valle, Mexican Consul at this port, had been arrested by the United States Marshal for violating the laws of the United States by enlisting troops in this State to serve in Mexico, and that he had been released on bail in the sum of $15,000.

On the day which the last steamers sailed, the 1st inst., we announced the fact that Luis de Valle, Mexican Consul at this port, had been arrested by the United States Marshal for violating the laws of the United States by enlisting troops in this State to serve in Mexico, and that he had been released on bail in the sum of $15,000.

There is very little news from Col. Walker's expedition in Lower California. By the last advices, the expeditionists had broken up their camp at San Vincente and were retreating towards the Colorado on their way to Texas, as is stated, through New Mexico. The force is said to have been reduced to seventy, all told, being more officers than men.

The California Branch Mint went into operation on the 3d inst, and is now operating successfully. The deposits have been heavy, and the demand for coin is very great. Up to the 13th inst., there had been deposited of gold dust for coin, 9,359 1/2 ounces; for unrefined bars, 9,117 ounces; for refined bars, 67 1/2 ounces—Total in nine days, 18,004 ounces—or $333,872.

The exploring party under Lieut. Whipple arrived at Los Angeles on the 22d of March, having left Fort Smith, Ark., on the 15th of July. Lieut. Whipple came by what is known as the Central Route, and reports it practicable in general terms.

Obituary. Died on Saturday the 29th April, at the residence of his son, 8 miles East of Clinton, Mr. LEVI DOUGHTY, aged 91 years and two months, less one day. He was born in Chatham county, N. Carolina, March 1st, 1763. His early life was nurtured by a widowed mother, until he was old enough to become apprentice to a hatter which occupation he followed up to the year 1815—He grew up in the time of the Revolution and took part in that glorious struggle.

Witness writes as follows: "The great question which occupies, at present, the court of France, is the divorce of the Emperor. He no longer hopes to have any children by his present wife, and it is said he thinks of taking another. The report is not official, but as it has appeared in several licensed papers, the truth of it can scarcely be questioned. Napoleon III is, however, very fond of his wife, and the divorce will resemble in every point that of his uncle and Josephine, who were, as you know separated for the same reason. Whether from this motive, or from any other, the Emperor of the French is looking very melancholy. It is impossible to see her without being struck by her expression of sadness. As to the Emperor he appears constantly calm and impassable."

PLAQUEMINE.

Died, on the evening of the 9th inst., at the residence of Mrs. L. J. ...

Intelligent beyond her years, lively, affectionate, considerate, JANE was not insensible to the pious instructions and godly life of a faithful mother. Though she never made an open profession of religion, the private exercises of her mind from time to time, while in health and during her painful sickness, give us confidence that she, a child of the covenant, and the object of a mother's unceasing prayers, is with her Saviour.

Intelligent beyond her years, lively, affectionate, considerate, JANE was not insensible to the pious instructions and godly life of a faithful mother. Though she never made an open profession of religion, the private exercises of her mind from time to time, while in health and during her painful sickness, give us confidence that she, a child of the covenant, and the object of a mother's unceasing prayers, is with her Saviour.

Intelligent beyond her years, lively, affectionate, considerate, JANE was not insensible to the pious instructions and godly life of a faithful mother.

Auction Sales of Valuable Property. Public sale of a fine lot of negroes will take place at the court-house of this town on Monday next.

MICHAEL GILL, Land Surveyor. Orders promptly attended to. Office on Short street, between Pipkin and Green streets.

1851. SPRING GOODS, 1851.

HART, AUSTIN & CO., Wholesale and Retail Dealers in Dry Goods, Hardware, Saddlery, Groceries and Provisions, General Plantation Supplies, &c. Are receiving New and Seasonable Goods.

ROTH BROS. Are constantly receiving—

FRESH SUPPLIES OF DRY GOODS, HARDWARE, &c. FROM BOSTON, NEW YORK AND PHILADELPHIA. Which will be sold low.

And upon their usual accommodating terms to their customers. 661-23p-1f

27 Silk and Straw Goods. 27 C. YALE, JR. & CO., Wholesale Dealers in all kinds of Silk and Straw Goods, at

27 Magazine st., New Orleans. Keep constantly on hand a full assortment of the newest styles—

OLD MADEIRA. Of the finest quality—like wine Brandy—five or six years in store; for sale by G. W. BAYLEY.

Stray. Taken up by Alceé Pochie a resident on the left bank of the river Mississippi, about 20 miles below Plaquemine, a HORSE, a SORREL HORSE, about fifteen hands high and about ten years old; with a white spot on his forehead and back, two white feet, no brand.

For Last Island. The new and staunch built steamer M.J. AUBREY, Jones, master, will leave New Orleans on or about the 13th inst, and will be at Bayou Goula and Plaquemine on the 14th, thence through to Bayou Teche and Franklin on her way to Last Island. Passengers will please be ready. The Maj. Aubrey will continue to run to Last Island during the season as a regular packet.

Runaway in Jail. Was brought to the Jail of this Parish a negro man, who calls his name PETER, and says he belongs to a Mr. Saunders Ward residing in Washington county, Mississippi. Said boy is about 28 years old, 5 feet 10 inches high; a black. The owner will please come forward, pay charges and take him away. HENRY SULLIVAN Jailor.