New Orleans, Oct. 4.—The sloop of war Richmond, and a large popel-ler, the Water Witch, two sloops of war, one supposing to be the Richmond, a schooner and pilot boat are now at the head of the Passes.

A special dispatch to the Savannah Republican of this morning says that gentlemen from Baltimore arrived at Richmond, state that Northern papers contain accounts of a bloody battle in Western Virginia. The Federalists attacked Lee at Big Springs, on Saturday last and fought through Sunday, resulting in their total defeat, who retreated towards Wheeling, burning villages.

Rosenkrantz is reported mortally wounded.

The Richmond Enquirer published a report, but the War Department has received nothing from Lee, owing to the destruction of bridges by storms.

Richmond, Oct. 3.—President Davis, escorted by Adams' troop of Cavalry from Mississippi, made a reconnaissance from Fairfax Court-house to the enemy's outposts. The enemy now holds Fall's Church.

Richmond, Oct. 4.—Davis reviewed, yesterday, at Fairfax, Walker's, Longstreets, Cocks' and Jones' Brigades, and the Washington Artillery. The President was expected to return in the afternoon.

Richmond, Oct. 4.—Blanchard, has been appointed Brigadier General of the first Louisiana Regiment.

Mrs. Jefferson Davis, Mrs. Jos. Johnson, were seriously injured yesterday by the overturning of their carriage.

Memphis, Oct. 4.—Hardee and his troops are at Columbus—Jeff Thompson is at New Madrid, en route to St. Louis, and to join Price and McCulloch. Gen. Clark is moving hence in the same direction with twenty cannon.

Fremont endangered. 8,000 men from Columbus moved toward Paducah.

The Kentuckians are redeeming Kentucky.

The prediction is that the Southern winter quarters will be at St. Louis, Louisville, Washington and Baltimore.

Richmond, via New Orleans, Sept. 1.—Secretary Meminger by virtue of an Act of the last Congress, established parts of entry and delivery at Nashville and Memphis, for goods, wares and merchandise, imported or exported.

The Examiner of this morning, indicates stirring movements on the Potomac.

Richmond via New Orleans, Oct. 4.—Authentic intelligence has been received, that Gen. Jackson with twenty-five hundred Georgians were attacked on Thursday, on Green Briar River, near Cheat Mountain by five thousand Lincolites, under General Reynolds, and after few hours hard fighting, they repulsed the Lincolites; their loss is heavy. Our loss is small.

Nashville, Oct. 4.—A gentleman arrived here to-day from Eastern Kentucky and says, the Federalists 4,000 strong, advanced on Camp Dick Robinson to Big Hill, sixty miles nearer the Tennessee line, and are fortifying to prevent Zollicoffer's march into Kentucky. Our troops have not advanced beyond Green river. The Federalists are fortifying Elizabethtown where they have 7,000 men and eight cannon—they have had very 7,000 men and eight cannon—they have had very few accessions the last few days.

Richmond via New Orleans, Oct. 4.—A reliable dispatch states that the Lincolites, with a strong force, crossed the Potomac at Olloquan for the purpose of capturing one of our batteries. No particulars given, but believe to be cut off, as they don't know the precise location of our batteries.

The following is an extract from a private letter, dated Lexington, Sept. 16, 1861. We are told in Kentucky. Civil war is at our doors. The Legislature has been bought up; that body is now more fierce for the Lincoln despotism than any Northern State, but the great mass of the people are against them, and will fight against the North. We are tied in this portion of the State—no arms and eight thousand Lincoln vagabonds in camp near us.

There will be some hard fighting in Kentucky, but the old State will go with the South.

There was some intelligence received yesterday from New York. From all that can be gathered, and the information comes through reliable sources, there will be sixty thousand troops—in three divisions of 20,000 men each—dispatched for the Southern coasts, which, with the steamers and sailing vessels, will count up something of a formidable armada. New Orleans is to be attacked by three sources, provided and so forth. Enough said. Let us prepare.

N. O. Crescent.

If the Yankees are to be believed (as even the father of lies sometimes indulges in a slight modicum of that article.) the Southern soldier is the most martial race that ever existed. Before the war Mr. Hickman, who set himself up as a great military authority, held, in the House of Representatives, that the eighteen million of Yankees could speedily overwhelm the eight millions of whites in the South. Now, it is well known, that while the North has all her men and resources enlisted against us, on the other hand, Delaware, Maryland and Kentucky, as States, have not been in the fight at all, and Missouri only in the last four weeks. Nor is this the only deduction to be made for according to Lincoln's voracious statement, the Union party in the North is numerically the largest, and the present war is waged by a minority who have accidentally or surreptitiously obtained power.—Examiner.

It is estimated that the Yankee property under the ban of the sequestration act amounts, in the State of Virginia alone, to about thirty millions of dollars.
