Latest News.

A number of the citizens of Vermont Cedar, St. Clair, and Dale counties arrived here on yesterday, and report that Col. Montgomery with a Federal force variously estimated at from one to three thousand visited Osceola on Sunday last and after plundering the town, taking a number of citizens prisoners, then set fire to the place, and from reliable information, we suppose a mess of ashes, ashes alone remain to mark the place where once stood the flourishing and peaceful village of Osceola. General Shields arrived here on last evening and report that they burnt Coplinger & Howards mills. After leaving destruction and distress wherever they went, they proceeded towards Stockton and Greenfield, and we presume those places will share the same fate of Osceola. Carthage is the next place in their programme, but we presume they will meet with a warm reception here, as Col. Greer's Regiment of Texas Rangers are encamped near this place. A braver or more determined set of men cannot be found. Col. Greer is a vigilant, prudent and brave officer, his officers and men are gentlemen and soldiers, and are eager for a fight, and we do not fear a surprise from the enemy. South West, Missouri, is truly in an unfortunate condition, invaded by such notorious characters as Lane, Montgomery, Jemmison, and others of Jayhawking notoriety, devastating our country, burning our towns, plundering our houses and murdering our peaceful citizens, and all not under the flag of the Stars and Stripes and their course endorsed by Lincoln and his administration.—South West News.

Great Victory at Alexandria.

Surrender of Lincoln's Army—5000 Prisoners taken—61,000 Missourians in the field—Confederate Flag Waving.

We are just in receipt of the most gratifying intelligence of the success of our armies in the north and west of this State. What else could we expect? The cause of truth justice and civil liberties must prevail.

Our informant, Mr. Fureman, of Marshall, Saline county, whose statements we are assured, and fully believe to be entirely reliable, says, Gen. Price sent a Messenger to Marshall on last Wednesday week, informing the citizens of that place that an unconditional surrender was the only alternative for the Lincoln forces at Lexington. It seems the enemy shielded himself in, and about the college building—that was soon prostrated. Then he fled to his entrenchments. On Saturday or Sunday, our informant learned the Lincoln army consisting of about 5000 men unconditionally surrendered. He believes his information entirely reliable. Of its truth we have no doubt. Prices loss about 18 killed—that of the enemy not known.

At last accounts about 250 Lincoln men were strongly entrenched at Boonville. About 200 Southern men under Capt. Brown, without artillery, made 2 or 3 ineffectual efforts to take them. They were then reinforced by about 2000 of Green's men, with some artillery. They then surrounded the enemy intending to renew the attack last Saturday morning. It is confidently believed the city has been taken. Our friends, we learn, have possession also of Columbia, Palmyra and Hannibal. Green has about 15,000 men; Harris has a large force; Doniphan has 5,000 and Reed is in the field. In fact almost the entire north-west is moving. It is said to be nearly one entire encampment. We are credibly informed that north of the Missouri River, public sentiment is almost a unit for the South and against black republican unconstitutional usurpations.

The best estimates indicate that there are now sixty four thousand Missourians under arms, ready to fight for civil liberty. This is cheering.—South West News.

Military Movements Affecting the Northern Markets.—A late Cincinnati Enquirer has the following significant paragraph in its commercial article:

The talk on 'Change was about the great army now coming west over the three trunk roads. Nothing definite is known as to the number, but it has been stated, and upon good authority, to be between 40,000 and 50,000 men. This, in connection with the refusing to receive any eastern bound freight, produced considerable excitement in commercial circles, and had a tendency to bring forth an almost entire suspension of business. To buy produce, with no prospect of shipping for the next few days, is not a very enviable position in which to place purchasers. It is not supposed that the government will require the roads

(if they are used by it) for any length of time, perhaps not more than once a week. The rolling stock of the New York and Erie and New York Central is not far from ten thousand cars, but what proportion of them are at the eastern terminus of those roads is not known here. If the government has the road, the great question to shippers is, when will they be in a position to begin to receive freight? Every hole and corner where freight can be crowded at the depots in this city, is full to overflowing, with no cars to ship it, and express orders not to receipt for eastern roads.

The Gazette of the same day adds:

Not a pound of freight can be shipped east at present. This had a bad effect upon our markets, and prevents prices from responding to the upward movement on the seaboard. But for the strength of confidence in breadstuffs, prices would give way; but holders having faith in the stability of values, are very firm in their views. At New York to-day flour and wheat advanced under the foreign news, but the market closed rather quiet, buyers awaiting private letters. In our market, sales of flour were light, at $3 90 for superfine. Wheat was dull, but prices were unchanged. Corn firm at 28c. Most articles of provisions were inactive. We quote mess pork at $13; bacon (rib) sides 5 1/2c; shoulders 4 3/4c.—There were considerable purchases of clear bacon sides on Louisville and St. Louis account for army purposes, at 6 1/2 to 6 3/4c, but prices were not reported. A contract has been made for supplying the army at Louisville with bacon, at $4.90, $5.90 to $6.90 for shoulders, rib and clear sides. Lard is firm, at 8c for prime tierce. Groceries are very firm, and prices tend upward.

TELEGRAPHIC.

Nashville, Oct. 18.—A private dispatch from Clarksville, Tenn., says a gun boat with five hundred Federal troops, are at Eddyville, sixty miles below the former place.

A sharp skirmish took place a few days since, at Celina, Jackson county, Tenn., near the Kentucky line, between the Tennessee troops and the Kentucky recruits. The latter fled, leaving a large lot of guns and ammunition. Nine Federals were killed, and two hundred wounded.

Dr. Allen and a gentleman named Long, both of Shelby county Ky., fought a duel at Horse Cave, on the 16th—after the first fire, the affair was adjusted. "Nobody hurt."

A meeting of the members of the Legislature to night, recommend an electoral ticket.

East Tennessee.—The Memphis Appeal of Tuesday says:

General Wm. H. Carroll arrived from East Tennessee on day before yesterday, where he has been for the purpose of raising a brigade of volunteers for active service. He brought with him five full companies, which he left in camp at Germantown, and informs us that seven more companies will come on in the course of the week.

From him we are pleased to learn that the so called Unionists, though preserving their old party prejudices to a great extent, have effectually accommodated all radical differences, and that Parson Brownlow, of the Knoxville Whig, even whispers of raising a regiment for the war. We have it indeed from a reliable source that the Parson has recently written a letter to a gentleman of this city, inviting his co-operation in this patriotic labor, remarking, with characteristic quaintness, that his friend could do "the drinking and cursing" for the regiment, while he (Brownlow) could do the "fighting and praying." The combination will be a good one, we think, and we earnestly hope the Parson may "make the connection."
