Look at Him Well.

Here is the Democratic Emblem.

Which will head the Democratic column on the official ballot. Isn't he game, just like the party he represents? Look at him well, so as to form his particular acquaintance, and on election day stamp him—only once—and put your ballot in the box. It will be a straight one.

A Strange Argument.

Some Republican strikers hereabouts are fighting the Democratic nominee for judge with might and main. It is currently reported that one of the principal counts in their indictment against that particular candidate is, that, as judge, he has been guilty of enforcing certain laws on the statute books which are said to be obnoxious to certain people.

What do the law-abiding citizens of the district think about this? Are they willing and ready to set the seal of their approval upon this new and strange doctrine that a judge is not a fit candidate for re-election because, forsooth, he has enforced the law? Are they willing to countenance the monstrous doctrine that when an officer takes the oath to support the constitution and laws of the United States and the constitution and laws of his state, and to faithfully and impartially discharge and perform all the duties of his office, he shall not be supposed to observe that solemn obligation?

WE DON'T BELIEVE IT, and yet it is just what these strikers would have the people do, when they advance their strange reason for voting against the incumbent judge. Their proposition has another meaning; it is pregnant with the affirmation that the distinguished opponent of the present incumbent will not, if elected, enforce the laws in question.

THE "VARIETY."

Twenty-seven parishes in the state are so strongly democratic that the Republicans have not put up any opposition for the local offices; and yet they have the audacity to try to make the people of this section believe that their ticket has a ghost of a chance of winning. They are endeavoring to "flim-flam" the people into voting them into the local offices, but the little game won't work. It is too thin.

CASTORIA For Infants and Children. The Kind You Have Always Bought. Bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. Watson.

The Daily Leader thus describes the opposition in this State to the Democratic party: What is the freak the Democrats are confronting? Neither fish, flesh nor fowl, it has been metamorphosed from a pig into an elephant, and its platform is protection free-trade gold-silver-McKinley-Bryan force-bill-reform—anything, everything on God's green earth if you'll 'gimme your job.'

Republican Confusion.

"For Governor—Don Caffery, Jr.—a free trade gold standard Democrat. For Lieutenant Governor—Dennis M. Sholars—16 to 1 Bryanite. So much for the head. Now for the tail.

For Superintendent of Public Education, O. B. Staples, who writes a letter of acceptance, in which he says among other things: "For the benefit of any who may wonder if I have any political tenets or for any who may think I prefer concealing them, I frankly state that when it is not possible for me to be a Prohibitionist, I am an independent Democrat, and in the coming national election expect to vote for William Jennings Bryan."

Now let the head of the ticket put the tail of it in his mouth and chew on it, the sting of which is William Jennings Bryan, and keep on chewing and swallowing till he has swallowed all of it up to himself, and if he don't turn inside out in the performance then we are no judge of the animal who-e sting is death to Republicanism, and which is now on exhibition in Louisiana and called "Republican Fusion," instead of "Republican Confusion."

It will catch no Republican who has good common sense or who takes pride in his party, who wants to see the grand principles of his party flourish and become potent factors in the upbuilding of this great nation. The fusion ticket, like all of its kind, is a compound of irreconcilable persons and principles, founded on hate of men—an organized political pandemonium of kickers, which inevitably kicks its own self to death.

The foregoing extract from a journal which has been hitherto a "stily white" organ is one of the many straws which indicate the gathering cyclone which will overwhelm the Republican "confusion" in the coming election.

TOUPE. Mrs. Carmelite Marie Caillouet wife of Alcide Toupe, died Friday morning at 7 o'clock, at the matrimonial domicile in the Bourgeois Settlement, aged 40 years, 5 months and 8 days.

She had been ill for a long time and during her long illness she always displayed like a true christian the virtues of fortitude, of patience and of resignation to the Divine will. She was a good christian, a fond mother and a model help-meet, and will be sadly mourned and missed by a devoted husband and loving child.

The funeral will take place this morning at St. Joseph's Church, and the many friends and acquaintances of the family are respectfully invited to attend. The SENTINEL extends its heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved family.

The Daily States remarks: Although the States is in favor of sound money, it yet heartily indorses this sentiment of the Iberville South: "Give us a half dozen silver planks in preference to another Republican administration, which will mean militarism, annexation, imperialism, the entire vote of the Philippine islands, Hawaii, Porto Rico and Cuba, the early death of the Louisiana sugar industry, and the oppression of the toiling millions by the law protected trusts, the greatest menace to American labor to day."

The Franklin Sun sounds this cheerful note on the progress of the campaign:

"The canvass of the Democratic leaders throughout the State and especially in North Louisiana is an ovation at every place they speak. Crowds of ladies and gentlemen attend every meeting, and of the success of the entire ticket in April next there is not a shadow of doubt. The Democrats see that union is strength and power; they are laying aside all petty grievances and personal spite, and the result will be that they will poll the largest majority ever known in the State."

The States says: Fifteen of a flock of ninety-two sheep, near Erie, Penn., were bitten by a mad dog in February, and soon developed the disease and bit the others. The entire flock was killed. Before the disease was identified the carcasses of several that had died were thrown behind the barn and eaten by dogs. It is, therefore, apprehended that the disease will be spread throughout that section.

The Fusion elements.

Political ideas of each one of these bodies are different and diametrically opposed to the political ideas of the other. For instance, the renegade Republicans are of the high protective tariff type, which means that every article of foreign product or manufacture that comes into this country must pay a high import duty. The Lily Whites are for sugar bounty, or protection for sugar only. The populists are for the reformation of the world, on lines better known to themselves, while the renegade Democrats are of the rule or ruin type, and in this case, having been unable to rule, they are trying to ruin.—Donaldsonville Democrat.
