The Vista of two Years.

Two years ago to-day Spain declared that a state of war existed between that kingdom and the United States.
Two years ago to-day, with no dream of imperialism, and united as in the days of Washington, we had taken up arms not only to free a struggling people from tyranny, but to vindicate our honor as a nation.

What have these two years brought forth? Victory and mourning—the return of great heroes and the disbanding of armies, but not the content that should follow peace.

On opposite sides of the world we have acquired island and coasting stations, and the care of brown peoples.
On these islands we have seen our flag welcomed, our soldiers hailed as deliverers and our country blessed as a protector.

We have seen the patience of these peoples and their faith in our honesty gradually worn beyond endurance, by the degeneracy of the party in power.
We have seen them—already naked and starving—burdened with additional taxes.

We have seen established in the islands we assume to own, a system of tyranny and injustice such as Spain never dreamed of.

We have seen the dream of imperialism—the dream of government by the few and for the few—the lust for colonies, the overriding of pledges, and a financial capacity on the part of the Administration such as would do credit to the old Carthaginian kings.

Was the war worth all this? Should it not have left something better in its wake than chicanery?—

Cypress Swamp Sell at Good Prices.

Houma, April 25.—Recently there have been several large transfers of valuable swamp lands and sawmills in this parish, in the vicinity of Gibson City. Mr. F. Fandal sold to the Lutcher-Moore Cypress Company, Limited, for the sum of $80,000, his large sawmill near Gibson and 12,000 acres of cypress swamp land. With the exception of 3000 or 4000 acres situated in the adjoining parishes of Lafourche and Assumption, the land sold by Mr. Fandal is in this (Terrebonne) parish. Another extensive land deal was recently made on Bayou Chacaboula, above Gibson City. Mr.
Jules D'Eschaux sold his sawmill and 6000 or 7000 acres of swamp land, for the sum of $56,500, to a company composed of Messrs. John Dibet, William H.
Stark and Edgar W. Brown. The purchasers are residents of Orange, Tax, and Lutcher, La.

Some years ago these swamp lands were purchased by Messrs. Fandal and D'Eschaux at the insignificant price of $1 and $1.50 per acre. The prices recently paid gives a fair idea of the way in which that class of property is enhancing in value.—T. D.

Hill's Eulogy on Lee.

The "Lost Cause" makes the following extract from an address delivered by Senator Ben Hill before the Southern Historical Society at Atlanta, February 17, 1874:

"When the future historian shall come to survey the character of Lee, he will find it rising like a huge mountain above the undulating plain of humanity, and he must lift his eyes high toward heaven to catch its summit. He possessed every virtue of other great commanders without their vices. He was a foe without hate; a friend, without treachery; a victor without oppression, and a victim without murmuring. He was a public officer without vices; a private citizen without reproach; a Christian without hypocrisy and a man without guile. He was a Caesar without his ambition; a Frederick without his tyranny; a Napoleon without his selfishness, and a Washington without his reward. He was obedient to authority as a servant, and loyal in authority as a true king. He was gentle as a woman in life; modest and pure as a virgin in thoughts; watchful as a Roman vestal in duty; submissive to law as Socrates, a d grand in battle as Achilles!"

A Boy's Essay on Hornets.

A hornet is the smartest bug that flies. He comes when he pleases, and goes when he gets ready. One way a hornet shows his smartness is by attending to his own business, and making everybody who interferes with him wish they had done the same thing.

When a hornet stings a fellow he knows it, and never stops talking about it as long as his friends will listen. One day a hornet stung my pa (my pa is a preacher) on the nose, and he did not do any pastoral visiting for a month without talking about the hornet.

FOR THE FARMER

Every now and then some one asks us to explain the difference between ammonia and nitrogen as printed on fertilizer tags, says Rural New Yorker.
Nitrogen is one of the elementary substances. Ammonia is nitrogen mixed with another gas called hydrogen. Hydrogen has no value as a fertilizer.
Nitrogen is 14 times as heavy as hydrogen. Ammonia is a mixture of one part of nitrogen and three parts of hydrogen. A pound of ammonia, therefore, contains only 13 1/5 ounces of available nitrogen. You will see that if a fertilizer contains 2 per cent of nitrogen it would naturally contain nearly 2 1/2 per cent of ammonia, because all the nitrogen would be combined with a certain amount of hydrogen, and thus give more weight. Perhaps we can make a practical illustration by comparing wheat flour and bread. Everybody knows that, so far as food value is concerned, we would rather have a pound of flour than a pound of bread, because the bread contains not only the flour, but water, salt and other things which are not true food. Let us say that a pound of flour would make 1 1/2 pounds of bread. A baker might say, "Here is a barrel of flour, weighing 196 pounds, which represents 204 pounds of bread." No man would say that 196 pounds of bread contain as much food as the barrel of flour. The difference, therefore, between nitrogen and ammonia is that a pound of nitrogen is all useful as plant food, whereas only 13 1/5 ounces of ammonia are worth anything to the plant.

High Price of Meat.

The prediction made last spring and summer that there would soon be a dearth of cattle and swine in this country seems to be realized if the advancing prices of meats are any indication, writes E. P. Smith in the Boston Cultivator.
It is not always that advances in the retail prices of meats benefit the cattlemen and farmers, but they should if matters are rightly regulated.
The producers of cattle should refuse to sell if they cannot share in the advance in prices, especially in a year like this, when there is none too many in the country. In cattle raising for market breeders should keep in mind the fact that they practically control prices if they but co-operate.
The small breeders are of course at the mercy of the large ones and must let their cattle go for the prices that the large ones sell. The breeder who raises a thousand head of cattle can on general principles sell his cattle at less per pound and make a profit than the farmer who raises a dozen. If one understands his business, it is easier to conduct a large cattle enterprise than a small one, and profits are correspondingly more satisfactory. Quick profits and many of them should be the motto of the breeders today. Good times may not last long, but while they do we should make the most of them. Breed animals rapidly and fatten them for the market in the very shortest time possible. Then, when the trade barometer indicates a falling off in demand, and the supply in the country is large, sell quickly, even at a little less than you anticipated. Do not find yourself in possession of large herds when the market is falling off.

A Corner Shot.

The New York World says:
"The Republicans may resolve till the cows come home—they may appoint no end of committees to investigate trusts—they may introduce constitutional amendments and bills galore against monopolies; it will not do them any good.

"The true test of the sincerity of their professed opposition to concerns like the Steel and Iron Company, and a hundred other trusts and monopolies that are promoted and protected by a high tariff on goods which they sell cheaper abroad than they do at home, is this:

"Will they repeal or suspend during the existence of a trust or other monopoly all tariff duties upon the articles made and controlled by such monopoly?"

"This is the only proof of sincerity that informed and determined voters will accept."

The World hits the nail squarely on the head. If the Republicans wish to convince the country that they are opposed to the trusts they can do so by taking up and passing the resolution offered in the Senate by Mr. Pettigrew of South Dakota, providing for the removal of all tariff duties on articles made and controlled by trusts. This resolution was offered to a committee, but nothing has been heard of it since then and nothing will be reported as to its fate. It will never be presented to the Senate, for the reason that the Republican party created the trusts and dare not antagonize them, and thus cut off the source from which they derive their supply of campaign funds."

The feeble declaration against trusts contained in the platform of the Republican convention in Ohio shows how completely that party is bound to the trusts. There is no danger whatever that the challenge of the New York World will be accepted by the administration at Washington, but on the contrary the Pettigrew resolution or any other legislation the purpose of which is to regulate and restrict the operations of trusts will not be permitted to get through Congress, as long as William McKinley occupies the presidential chair and has a majority in the House and Senate to do his bidding.
The tariff is the mother of trusts and the Republican party is the daddy.— States.

The Westlake Herald remarks: Capt. C. T. Cade, erstwhile Republican candidate for Secretary of State in Louisiana, and the doughty gentleman who was going to lead an "armed force to the ballot box," has returned to his ranch home in Texas.

Save Surplus Fruit.

Millions of dollars' worth of fruit annually goes to waste because in its marketable state, when green, the market is glutted, says The Agricultural Epitomist. Evaporation would save much of this loss. Even drying in the sun is better than to permit the fruit to rot. The only trouble is that fruit compelled to compete with sulphured evaporated fruit, which, though it may be inferior in quality, sells at the highest price because it is of brighter color.
Some of the finest appearing evaporated fruit will likely be found to have been treated either before or after evaporation with the fumes of sulphur, and it is probable that sulphur will be used as long as the eye of the consumer demands first to be satisfied. But with evaporators as cheap as they now are, and with a good market for such fruits during a large portion of the year, there can be no excuse for sacrificing any portion of the fruit crop.

What the Best Breeders Do.

Breeders generally would make money by observing the practice of those who command the highest prices for their cattle, says the Tennessee Farmer. In the first place, they do everything in their power to keep up the standard of their herds. In the next place, they never cheapen their cattle, by offering cheap bargains. As a rule, with very rare exceptions, the very best bargain offered in any sale is the highest priced animal. There are numbers of herds in the United States from which, in order to buy a choice calf, bull or heifer, one has to engage it before it is dropped. These are the herds whose practice it behooves the beginner to study.

Good For the Scrub Cow.

The best cow owned by the Kansas Agricultural College gave last year 9,116 pounds of milk and 384.7 pounds of butter fat. The value of the product for the year was $73.17. For the best month last year she gave 977 pounds of milk and 37.12 pounds of butter fat.
For the first month of this year her milk yield was 1,250.1 pounds, which made 44.89 pounds of butter fat. This is an improvement over her best month last year of 273 pounds of milk and 7.77 pounds of butter fat, or 21 per cent.
