

TESTIMONIAL
On March 1st, 1900
One year ago
I was penniless, but
I have a million dollars.
Property is all right.
Yours truly
Cuban Postal Official

Mark Hanna: "I am afraid that testimonial will be a boomerang."—Chicago Record.

OUR PARIS LETTER.
(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

PARIS, FRANCE, JULY 9, 1900.

Nothing in France is so typical of France as the exhibition, for it is at once superficial to the eye and sound to the understanding, full of tinsel and the most admirable results of industry and of education. Such at least were my thoughts as I came out of the Palais de Congrès after spending an hour in the Social Economic section. Outside were the similes crowd, the gilded domes and plaster decorations, the amusements, the gossip laughter. Inside you were in another atmosphere, an atmosphere of knowledge and utility and peace. Here under some very attractive forms is offered to you the most diverse information of which one example will suffice. The corner devoted to the Russian Temperance movement is charming in its simplicity, novelty, and instructiveness. All about you are diagrams showing the success of the government's propaganda against spirit-drinking in the Russian empire; and a very pleasant young Russian lady, dressed in black, with dark eyes and fair hair, not more as I suppose, than twenty, will answer in this most delightfully broken French, such questions as you may care to put. But the eye and the heart are even more interestingly drawn by the model "debit de la" tea public house, if one can say so without paradox, than by the amiable Russian. It is fitted up exactly as it is seen in thousands of Russian villages. The shop, not unlike the section of a log hut, has at one end a short counter with hard-boiled eggs, red colored, glass jars of sweets and preserves, and bottles of kvass, a non-alcoholic drink made from barley with something of the taste of beer, while behind the counter is a sideboard containing cups and tea-pots. At the opposite end of the shop is another counter with papers and periodicals, and behind that, a book-case filled with books. The middle of the shop is occupied by tables where the tea or kvass is leisurely consumed, where village politics are debated, or where a game of draughts or dominoes is played by the moujik customers. The rest of the furniture is simple and characteristically Russian, that is to say, rude, with a dash of orientalism; a noble brass samovar filled with ever-boiling water behind the counter at one end; a brass ewer under a tap and a comb hanging beside it from a piece of string close to the entrance; a homely clock, loudly ticking clock fixed to the wall and the never-absent colored prints of the Czar and the Czarina. Guess how much a cup, or cups, of tea taken under these humanizing conditions costs; less than two cents. The price range on the wall: a tiny measure of tea, 1 kopeck; two pieces of sugar, 1 kopeck; a slice of lemon, 1 kopeck; a tea-pot of boiling water, 1 kopeck; and three kopecks are not quite two cents. What a vast organization this state propaganda is, it may be appreciated by the fact that it has been going on since it was started the state said $100,000 in 1899, and with its influence penetrating all over Russia, the state subvention was $1,000,000, and the propaganda does more than establish these tea-public-houses. It gives thousands of concerts and conferences and entertainments. The effect is known to be enormous, and with Tolstoy's writings, the Czar's philanthropy, and the propaganda, Russia in a few decades ought to have one of the most civilized peasantries in the world.

WASHINGTON LETTER.
(From our regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, JULY 20, 1900.

Mr. McKinley is again performing his specialty, the wobbling act. He heard the criticism of the country of his absence from his post and rushed back to Washington, everybody supposed to do something. There has been Cabinet meetings and Cabinet dinners, but that is all. Nothing has been done that had not been decided upon before Mr. McKinley pulled himself away from the enticing rocks on that Canton porch. Although it is the general opinion in Washington that Congress should be called in extra session to handle this Chinese business, Mr. McKinley and his advisers decided that no extra session should be called until the urgency became more pressing. Because the allied forces in China have won a temporary success, at an awful cost of life, including many Americans, and the Chinese have sent a message saying that the foreign ministers in Peking are alive, which, by the way, isn't believed by anybody outside of members of the administration, Mr. McKinley will wobble awhile longer.

The truth is that Mr. McKinley is afraid to do anything until he gets a plainer tip on what public sentiment wants this government to do. Men interested in syndicates which have big concessions in China are urging him to send a big army to China so that he can be in a position to prevent the breaking up of the Chinese empire, which would mean the end of their concessions, while republican politicians are cautioning him to feel his way carefully because a mistake will make his defeat for reelection more certain than it now apparently is. He can't get more men in the army without authority from Congress, and he is afraid to take any more men from Gen. MacArthur, who has already been made to send men to the Philippines against his vigorous protest. Consequently, unless there is an extra session of Congress the total American force in China will not exceed 12,000, and several thousand of them cannot be got there before the first of September, no matter how badly they may be needed. Meanwhile, Mr. McKinley has gone back to Canton to wobble at leisure until public opinion shows him what to do.

There are reasons to believe that a decidedly interesting talk took place in the dining room of Secretary Gage's suburban residence, where Mr. McKinley, all the members of the Cabinet who are in Washington, and Gen. Leonard Wood, Military Governor of Cuba, were guests. The subject was Cuba and its probable future relations towards the U. S. ing with some friends and proud, no doubt, of the labor of love and peace she and her husband had accomplished. The prince then became my informant for the nonce and pointed out what was interesting in the collection. The Alliance, he said, had, when it was founded after the Hague Conference, been called the "League of Women for International Disarmament", but the title was misunderstood and so had to be changed. Few people could grasp the fact that it was not isolated or total disarmament that was aimed at, but only the simultaneous reduction or abolition of standing armies. He took special pains to show me the pictures and petitions of notable American workers in the cause Mrs. Belva Lockwood for one, the lady whom California, (so the Prince said) voted to be President of the United States; Mrs. May Wright Sewall, for another; Mrs. Ormsby Evans, Mrs. Cornelius Stevenson, of Pennsylvania; Mrs. Eder Anna White, Mrs. Hazitt Bevis, of Mass.; Mrs. Emeline B. Wells, of Utah, and Mrs. Fannie W. Gresham of Texas. There were photographs of other American ladies and of the lady workers of other countries of Finland, of Roumania, of Egypt even. Roumania was represented by Mile. Vacaresco, Sylvia Carmen (the Queen of Roumania's friend, now as the Prince told me, working quietly in her Paris apartment at music and literature and art. Does she often think of Prince Ferdinand, I wonder, who wished to marry her but was compelled by reasons of state to marry into the Queen of England's family? It is very possible, for she is only five and twenty and unmarried.

Mr. McKinley is again performing his specialty, the wobbling act. He heard the criticism of the country of his absence from his post and rushed back to Washington, everybody supposed to do something. There has been Cabinet meetings and Cabinet dinners, but that is all. Nothing has been done that had not been decided upon before Mr. McKinley pulled himself away from the enticing rocks on that Canton porch. Although it is the general opinion in Washington that Congress should be called in extra session to handle this Chinese business, Mr. McKinley and his advisers decided that no extra session should be called until the urgency became more pressing. Because the allied forces in China have won a temporary success, at an awful cost of life, including many Americans, and the Chinese have sent a message saying that the foreign ministers in Peking are alive, which, by the way, isn't believed by anybody outside of members of the administration, Mr. McKinley will wobble awhile longer.

The truth is that Mr. McKinley is afraid to do anything until he gets a plainer tip on what public sentiment wants this government to do. Men interested in syndicates which have big concessions in China are urging him to send a big army to China so that he can be in a position to prevent the breaking up of the Chinese empire, which would mean the end of their concessions, while republican politicians are cautioning him to feel his way carefully because a mistake will make his defeat for reelection more certain than it now apparently is. He can't get more men in the army without authority from Congress, and he is afraid to take any more men from Gen. MacArthur, who has already been made to send men to the Philippines against his vigorous protest. Consequently, unless there is an extra session of Congress the total American force in China will not exceed 12,000, and several thousand of them cannot be got there before the first of September, no matter how badly they may be needed. Meanwhile, Mr. McKinley has gone back to Canton to wobble at leisure until public opinion shows him what to do.

There are reasons to believe that a decidedly interesting talk took place in the dining room of Secretary Gage's suburban residence, where Mr. McKinley, all the members of the Cabinet who are in Washington, and Gen. Leonard Wood, Military Governor of Cuba, were guests. The subject was Cuba and its probable future relations towards the U. S.

Gen. Wood is in Washington for the purpose of receiving instructions as to the method of electing delegates to the proposed Cuban constitutional convention, which it has been hinted at inside administration circles, may start the annexation ball to rolling by adopting an annexation resolution or declaring in favor of it. If such is the administration programme, the arrangements for the election of delegates to the convention will probably be such as to ensure a majority of an annexationist. Gen. Wood will talk about everything else in Cuba, but as soon as you say annexation he is as mum as a clam.

The Chinese Minister in Washington is about as slick as the slickest of his race and he seems able to make Secretary Hay accept any old story that he chooses to tell him. His latest, which Mr. Hay thought important enough to repeat at a Cabinet meeting, is that the reason the foreign ministers in Peking have not communicated with their governments is that they are hid in the houses of Chinese friends and are afraid that any attempt to send messages would put the mob onto their hiding places. The Chinese Minister's success in stuffing the members of the administration may encourage him to remain in this country and go in the gold brick business if his government gets knocked out at home.

The wires have been kept hot getting word to such republicans as Representative Hull, of Iowa, Chairman of the House Military Committee, who has been publicly advocating the calling of an extra session of Congress, to take the other tack and fall in behind Mr. McKinley, in opposition to an extra session.

Communications received by the Chinese Minister indicate considerable alarm among the Chinese residents of our large cities. They fear that Americans will try to avenge the murder of Americans in China by massacring them. It is, of course, a groundless fear.

UNCLE ELI'S FABLES.
The Simple Traveler and the Crow That Was Wise.

A Traveler on the highway chanced upon a Crow seated on a limb of a roadside tree, and being struck by the bird's plumpness and blackness he cried out:

"Oh, Crow, I have never seen a handsomer bird! Your plumage is simply grand!"

The Crow blinked at him, but had nothing to say in reply.

"Such pose—such dignity!" continued the Traveler. "The Eagle has been

ARIZONA KICKLETS.
Some Items of Interest Gleaned by a Lively Newsgatherer.

The mail carrier on the Grass Valley route got in 30 minutes ahead of time Wednesday afternoon. He says that a cinnamon bear picked him up

WASHINGTON LETTER.
(From our regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, JULY 20, 1900.

Mr. McKinley is again performing his specialty, the wobbling act. He heard the criticism of the country of his absence from his post and rushed back to Washington, everybody supposed to do something. There has been Cabinet meetings and Cabinet dinners, but that is all. Nothing has been done that had not been decided upon before Mr. McKinley pulled himself away from the enticing rocks on that Canton porch. Although it is the general opinion in Washington that Congress should be called in extra session to handle this Chinese business, Mr. McKinley and his advisers decided that no extra session should be called until the urgency became more pressing. Because the allied forces in China have won a temporary success, at an awful cost of life, including many Americans, and the Chinese have sent a message saying that the foreign ministers in Peking are alive, which, by the way, isn't believed by anybody outside of members of the administration, Mr. McKinley will wobble awhile longer.

The truth is that Mr. McKinley is afraid to do anything until he gets a plainer tip on what public sentiment wants this government to do. Men interested in syndicates which have big concessions in China are urging him to send a big army to China so that he can be in a position to prevent the breaking up of the Chinese empire, which would mean the end of their concessions, while republican politicians are cautioning him to feel his way carefully because a mistake will make his defeat for reelection more certain than it now apparently is. He can't get more men in the army without authority from Congress, and he is afraid to take any more men from Gen. MacArthur, who has already been made to send men to the Philippines against his vigorous protest. Consequently, unless there is an extra session of Congress the total American force in China will not exceed 12,000, and several thousand of them cannot be got there before the first of September, no matter how badly they may be needed. Meanwhile, Mr. McKinley has gone back to Canton to wobble at leisure until public opinion shows him what to do.

There are reasons to believe that a decidedly interesting talk took place in the dining room of Secretary Gage's suburban residence, where Mr. McKinley, all the members of the Cabinet who are in Washington, and Gen. Leonard Wood, Military Governor of Cuba, were guests. The subject was Cuba and its probable future relations towards the U. S.

WASHINGTON LETTER.
(From our regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, JULY 20, 1900.

Mr. McKinley is again performing his specialty, the wobbling act. He heard the criticism of the country of his absence from his post and rushed back to Washington, everybody supposed to do something. There has been Cabinet meetings and Cabinet dinners, but that is all. Nothing has been done that had not been decided upon before Mr. McKinley pulled himself away from the enticing rocks on that Canton porch. Although it is the general opinion in Washington that Congress should be called in extra session to handle this Chinese business, Mr. McKinley and his advisers decided that no extra session should be called until the urgency became more pressing. Because the allied forces in China have won a temporary success, at an awful cost of life, including many Americans, and the Chinese have sent a message saying that the foreign ministers in Peking are alive, which, by the way, isn't believed by anybody outside of members of the administration, Mr. McKinley will wobble awhile longer.

The truth is that Mr. McKinley is afraid to do anything until he gets a plainer tip on what public sentiment wants this government to do. Men interested in syndicates which have big concessions in China are urging him to send a big army to China so that he can be in a position to prevent the breaking up of the Chinese empire, which would mean the end of their concessions, while republican politicians are cautioning him to feel his way carefully because a mistake will make his defeat for reelection more certain than it now apparently is. He can't get more men in the army without authority from Congress, and he is afraid to take any more men from Gen. MacArthur, who has already been made to send men to the Philippines against his vigorous protest. Consequently, unless there is an extra session of Congress the total American force in China will not exceed 12,000, and several thousand of them cannot be got there before the first of September, no matter how badly they may be needed. Meanwhile, Mr. McKinley has gone back to Canton to wobble at leisure until public opinion shows him what to do.

There are reasons to believe that a decidedly interesting talk took place in the dining room of Secretary Gage's suburban residence, where Mr. McKinley, all the members of the Cabinet who are in Washington, and Gen. Leonard Wood, Military Governor of Cuba, were guests. The subject was Cuba and its probable future relations towards the U. S.

WASHINGTON LETTER.
(From our regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, JULY 20, 1900.

Mr. McKinley is again performing his specialty, the wobbling act. He heard the criticism of the country of his absence from his post and rushed back to Washington, everybody supposed to do something. There has been Cabinet meetings and Cabinet dinners, but that is all. Nothing has been done that had not been decided upon before Mr. McKinley pulled himself away from the enticing rocks on that Canton porch. Although it is the general opinion in Washington that Congress should be called in extra session to handle this Chinese business, Mr. McKinley and his advisers decided that no extra session should be called until the urgency became more pressing. Because the allied forces in China have won a temporary success, at an awful cost of life, including many Americans, and the Chinese have sent a message saying that the foreign ministers in Peking are alive, which, by the way, isn't believed by anybody outside of members of the administration, Mr. McKinley will wobble awhile longer.

The truth is that Mr. McKinley is afraid to do anything until he gets a plainer tip on what public sentiment wants this government to do. Men interested in syndicates which have big concessions in China are urging him to send a big army to China so that he can be in a position to prevent the breaking up of the Chinese empire, which would mean the end of their concessions, while republican politicians are cautioning him to feel his way carefully because a mistake will make his defeat for reelection more certain than it now apparently is. He can't get more men in the army without authority from Congress, and he is afraid to take any more men from Gen. MacArthur, who has already been made to send men to the Philippines against his vigorous protest. Consequently, unless there is an extra session of Congress the total American force in China will not exceed 12,000, and several thousand of them cannot be got there before the first of September, no matter how badly they may be needed. Meanwhile, Mr. McKinley has gone back to Canton to wobble at leisure until public opinion shows him what to do.

There are reasons to believe that a decidedly interesting talk took place in the dining room of Secretary Gage's suburban residence, where Mr. McKinley, all the members of the Cabinet who are in Washington, and Gen. Leonard Wood, Military Governor of Cuba, were guests. The subject was Cuba and its probable future relations towards the U. S.

WASHINGTON LETTER.
(From our regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, JULY 20, 1900.

Mr. McKinley is again performing his specialty, the wobbling act. He heard the criticism of the country of his absence from his post and rushed back to Washington, everybody supposed to do something. There has been Cabinet meetings and Cabinet dinners, but that is all. Nothing has been done that had not been decided upon before Mr. McKinley pulled himself away from the enticing rocks on that Canton porch. Although it is the general opinion in Washington that Congress should be called in extra session to handle this Chinese business, Mr. McKinley and his advisers decided that no extra session should be called until the urgency became more pressing. Because the allied forces in China have won a temporary success, at an awful cost of life, including many Americans, and the Chinese have sent a message saying that the foreign ministers in Peking are alive, which, by the way, isn't believed by anybody outside of members of the administration, Mr. McKinley will wobble awhile longer.

The truth is that Mr. McKinley is afraid to do anything until he gets a plainer tip on what public sentiment wants this government to do. Men interested in syndicates which have big concessions in China are urging him to send a big army to China so that he can be in a position to prevent the breaking up of the Chinese empire, which would mean the end of their concessions, while republican politicians are cautioning him to feel his way carefully because a mistake will make his defeat for reelection more certain than it now apparently is. He can't get more men in the army without authority from Congress, and he is afraid to take any more men from Gen. MacArthur, who has already been made to send men to the Philippines against his vigorous protest. Consequently, unless there is an extra session of Congress the total American force in China will not exceed 12,000, and several thousand of them cannot be got there before the first of September, no matter how badly they may be needed. Meanwhile, Mr. McKinley has gone back to Canton to wobble at leisure until public opinion shows him what to do.

There are reasons to believe that a decidedly interesting talk took place in the dining room of Secretary Gage's suburban residence, where Mr. McKinley, all the members of the Cabinet who are in Washington, and Gen. Leonard Wood, Military Governor of Cuba, were guests. The subject was Cuba and its probable future relations towards the U. S.

ARIZONA KICKLETS.
Some Items of Interest Gleaned by a Lively Newsgatherer.

The mail carrier on the Grass Valley route got in 30 minutes ahead of time Wednesday afternoon. He says that a cinnamon bear picked him up

ARIZONA KICKLETS.
Some Items of Interest Gleaned by a Lively Newsgatherer.

The mail carrier on the Grass Valley route got in 30 minutes ahead of time Wednesday afternoon. He says that a cinnamon bear picked him up

ARIZONA KICKLETS.
Some Items of Interest Gleaned by a Lively Newsgatherer.

The mail carrier on the Grass Valley route got in 30 minutes ahead of time Wednesday afternoon. He says that a cinnamon bear picked him up

ARIZONA KICKLETS.
Some Items of Interest Gleaned by a Lively Newsgatherer.

The mail carrier on the Grass Valley route got in 30 minutes ahead of time Wednesday afternoon. He says that a cinnamon bear picked him up

ARIZONA KICKLETS.
Some Items of Interest Gleaned by a Lively Newsgatherer.

The mail carrier on the Grass Valley route got in 30 minutes ahead of time Wednesday afternoon. He says that a cinnamon bear picked him up

ARIZONA KICKLETS.
Some Items of Interest Gleaned by a Lively Newsgatherer.

The mail carrier on the Grass Valley route got in 30 minutes ahead of time Wednesday afternoon. He says that a cinnamon bear picked him up

ARIZONA KICKLETS.
Some Items of Interest Gleaned by a Lively Newsgatherer.

The mail carrier on the Grass Valley route got in 30 minutes ahead of time Wednesday afternoon. He says that a cinnamon bear picked him up

STATE OF LOUISIANA.
20th Judicial District Court—Parish of Lafourche.

THE STATE OF LOUISIANA AND THE PARISH OF LAFOURCHE EXHIBIT JAMES BEARY, TAX COLLECTOR VS. No. 375 LUTHER PITRE.

TAKE NOTICE: THAT ACTING under and by virtue of a writ of Fieri Facias emanating from the above entitled Court, in the above entitled suit, I have seized and will offer for sale at public auction pursuant to law to the last and highest bidder on the premises situated at Lafourche Crossing, on the right bank of Bayou Lafourche at about Four Miles below the town of Thibodaux on SATURDAY AUGUST 11TH 1900, between the hours of 11 o'clock a. m. and 4 o'clock p. m. the following described property to-wit:

The contents of a Bar-Room consisting of Liquors, Cigars, Tables, Chairs, Bottles, Glasses etc. etc.

Terms and Conditions of Sale, Cash to pay principal, interest, attorney's fees and all costs of these proceedings.

July 28th 1900.

JAMES BEARY, Sheriff of the Parish of Lafourche.

THE STATE OF LOUISIANA.
Parish of Lafourche—Justice Court 4th Ward.

C. D. LALLANDE VS. No. 217 JOS. BARRIOS.

STATE OF LOUISIANA.
20th Judicial District Court—Parish of Lafourche.

MARCELLIN DELAUNE VS. No. 358, OLIVIER GAUTREAUX.

TAKE NOTICE: THAT ACTING under and by virtue of a writ of Fieri Facias emanating from the above entitled Court, in the above entitled suit, I have seized and will offer for sale at public auction pursuant to law, to the last and highest bidder on the Court House, in the Town of Thibodaux, on SATURDAY, AUGUST 18, 1900, between the hours of 11 o'clock a. m. and 4 o'clock p. m., the following described property, to-wit:

A certain tract of land situated in the Parish of Lafourche, State of Louisiana, on the left descending bank of Bayou Lafourche, at about twenty-four miles below the Town of Thibodaux, measuring more or less, two arpents front by a depth of forty arpents, bounded above by lands of Joseph Daigre and below by the Paul Harrison. Together with the buildings and improvements thereon.

Terms and conditions of sale, cash to pay principal, interest, attorney's fees, and all costs in the suit.

JAMES BEARY, Sheriff Parish of Lafourche.

THOS. A. BADAUX & HOWELL & MARTIN, Attorneys of plaintiffs.

July 14, 1900.

Notice of Registration.

Notice is hereby given to the voters of the Parish of Lafourche, that conformably to law the office of the registrar will open on Monday August 6th 1900, for the purpose of registering all entitled to registry under the constitution and laws of Louisiana, and that for that purpose I shall be at the places hereinafter mentioned, on the date assigned for each place, to-wit:

First week in Thibodaux Monday to Saturday August 6th to 11th.

Monday August 13th Lafourche Registry.

Tuesday August 14th Felix Delatte.

Wednesday August 15th Jules Belet.

Thursday August 16th T. D. Kent store.

Friday August 17th Mrs. A. Gossin.

Saturday August 18th Lafourche Crossing.

Monday August 20th Joachim Braud.

Tuesday August 21st Boudreaux & Toups.

Wednesday August 22nd Lovinye Poles.

Thursday August 23rd E. Knobloch.

Friday August 24th Bowie.

Saturday August 25th Paul Guidroz.

Monday August 27th Arthur Legendre.

Tuesday August 28th Vacherie.

Wednesday August 29th Lockport.

Thursday August 30th Longueville.

Friday August 31st M. Delaune.

Saturday Sept. 1st J. T. Badaux.

Monday Sept. 3rd G. Sassoni.

Tuesday Sept. 4th Cut Off.

Wednesday Sept. 5th Andre Gajour.

Thursday Sept. 6th A. Terreboune.

Saturday Sept. 8th Lee Ville.

Tuesday Sept. 11th Onezipe Chasson.

Wednesday Sept. 12th Victor Legendre.

Thursday Sept. 13th Alidore Torres.

Friday Sept. 14th Edward Chasson.

Saturday Sept. 15th Orville Thibodaux and next two (2) weeks at the Court house (from 17th to 29th) legal holidays excepted.

E. A. DELAUNE, Assessor Parish of Lafourche.

TABLEAU.

Tableau of the probable expenses of the Parish of Lafourche, for the Fiscal Year 1900.

Salary of officers.	$1,000 00
Police Jurors, mileage and per diem.	500 00
Road and levee inspectors.	100 00
Grand and Petit Jurors.	200 00
Witnesses in Criminal cases.	500 00
Sheriff's fee.	100 00
Apprehension of Fugitives.	200 00
Conviction fees.	400 00
Constables fees.	800 00
Justice of the Peace fees.	500 00
Boarding of Prisoners.	1,000 00
Coroner's fees.	400 00
Jurors of Inquest.	250 00
Tax Collector's Commission.	800 00
Charity, maintenance of indigents.	2,000 00
Public School fund.	4,000 00
Incidental Expenses.	3,000 00
Drainage fund.	2,000 00
Election Expenses.	500 00
Quarantine and sanitation.	500 00
	$25,400 00

Mrs. J. B. C. GAZZO

Cures Cancer, Palsy, Rheumatism, Bright's Disease, Dropsy.

Medicines alone charged for.

Residence 16 miles below Thibodaux, Right bank of Bayou Lafourche.

RACELAND P. O. LOUISIANA

GEO. K. BRADFORD.

Rayne, Acadia Parish, La.

Surveying, Leveling, Plantation Drainage, Maps, Etc.

Twenty Years' Experience

In U. S. Re Surveys. Will take work in Lafourche parish. Correspondence Solicited.

DR. ALEXANDRE.

Specialist from Paris

1218 G. St. N. W. Washington, D.C.

Refuse all bottles that do not bear the above name and address.

For sale everywhere : : : :

Eug. Dessens, General agent for Louisiana 306 St. Joseph Street, New Orleans. 45-59

The neatest and best work done at this office.

THE SENTINEL.
Good Printing Our Specialty.

WANTED—Agents and depositaries for Polynice Oil (see the ad elsewhere) Write to Eug. Dessens, 335 St. Joseph Street, New Orleans—general agent for Louisiana.

BANK OF THIBODAUX.
THIBODAUX, Lne.

DESIGNEE PAR LE JURY DE POLICE COMME DEPOSITAIRE DES FONDS PUBLICS.

OFFICIERS:
E. G. ROBICHAUX, Président, C. P. SHAVER, Caissier
O. NAQUIN, Vice-président, P. L. BRAUD, Assistant-Caissier
E. U. MORVANT, Vice-président.

DIRECTEURS:
E. G. ROBICHAUX, THOMAS BEARY, OZEME NAQUIN
L. A. TROSCLAIR, P. L. BRAUD, L. M. LAYMAN
E. U. MORVANT, ERNEST ROGER, C. P. SHAVER
E. BEAUVAIS, W. H. PRICE.

La banque est munie d'un coffre-fort avec un "time lock" et à l'épreuve de toute infraction, renfermé dans une voûte revêtue d'acier. Avec un Capital et surplus de $60,000.

FAIT, EN GENERAL, TOUTES LES AFFAIRES DE BANQUE.

Achete et vend du change au taux le plus bas, soit domestique, soit étranger.

Reçoit des dépôts remboursables sur mandats vus. Votre patronage est ardemment respectueusement sollicité.

C. P. SHAVER, Caissier

Bank of Lafourche,
THIBODAUX, LOUISIANA.

OFFICIERS:
A. J. BRAUD, Président, K. J. BRAUD, Caissier
C. J. BARKER, Vice Président, P. F. LEGENDRE, Assistant Caissier

DIRECTEURS:
THOS. D. KENT, D. DELAUNE, W. H. RAGAN, Sr.
E. N. ROTH, JONH T. MOORE, Jr., Dr. L. E. MEYER
C. J. BARKER, A. J. BRAUD, C. R. BEATTIE
ALCIDE TOUPS, K. J. BRAUD.

Fait, en General, Toutes Affaires de Banque.

Géhele et vend du Change, soit Domestique, soit étranger.

Votre Patronage est Respectueusement Sollicite.

N. T. BOURG,
Market Stand,
MARKET ST., THIBODAUX, LA

—ALWAYS ON HAND THE—

BEST OF BEEF, MUTTON, PORK VEAL AND SAUSAGES OF ALL KINDS

J. LOUIS AUCOIN

FURNITURE of all kind

PAINTS, HARDWARE, UNDERTAKERS' Material etc.

MAIN STREET THIBODAUX, LA.

Stetson Hats

are staunch and sure—no doubt about them—they're hats with a reputation and they live up to it.

Graceful Spring Styles are here for your inspection.

EMILE J. BRAUD, Agent.

Rheumatism
Lumbago, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia, AND Inflammatory Diseases, CURED BY

Polynice Oil

This new French Medical Discovery has been used with remarkable success in Bellevue Hospital, New York, Howard Hospital, Philadelphia; John Hopkins and the Mary and Hospital, Baltimore, Md.

The New York Herald, Oct. 3 and 4, in an editorial article, says the experiments made at Bellevue Hospital with POLYNICE OIL in treatment of RHEUMATISM were highly successful.

The physicians at Bellevue Hospital were surprised at the marvelous results produced by this wonderful French medical discovery which they called POWERFUL POLYNICE.

JOHN HOPKINS UNIVERSITY, BALTIMORE, April 5, 1900.

The experiments made here at the Hospital with the Polynice Oil, witnessed by me, having been very successful, I hereby recommend it in all cases of rheumatism. (Signed) DR. E. L. ROBERTS.

DR. ALEXANDRE.
Specialist from Paris

1218 G. St. N. W. Washington, D.C.

Refuse all bottles that do not bear the above name and address.

For sale everywhere : : : :

Eug. Dessens, General agent for Louisiana 306 St. Joseph Street, New Orleans. 45-59

The neatest and best work done at this office.

THE SENTINEL.
Good Printing Our Specialty.

WANTED—Agents and depositaries for Polynice Oil (see the ad elsewhere) Write to Eug. Dessens, 335 St. Joseph Street, New Orleans—general agent for Louisiana.

McCALL'S 100 BAZAR PATTERNS

NONE BETTER AT ANY PRICE

100 These patterns are sold in nearly every city and town in the United States. If you desire them, send us your order and we will send them to you. One cent stamps received. Address your nearest post.

THE McCALL COMPANY, 1320 to 1400 W. 14th Street, New York

Branches open in: 150 Fifth Ave., Chicago, and 1051 Market St., San Francisco.

McCALL'S 50 MAGAZINE YEAR

Brightest Magazine Published

Contains Beautiful Colored Plates Illustrates Latest Patterns, Fashions, Fancy Work.

Agents wanted for this magazine in every locality. Beautiful premiums for a little while. Subscriptions only 50c. per year, including a FREE Pattern.

Address THE McCALL CO., 1320 to 1400 W. 14th St., New York

The Twice-a-Week Picayune

Mailed every Monday and Thursday morning. Has been substituted for the Weekly Picayune. Besides all the excellent features which made the Weekly so popular, it contains 6000 years of its existence. NEW DEPARTMENTS: SATISFIED BUYER, TELEGRAPHIC NEWS, etc. TO 11 O'CLOCK THIS NIGHT BEFORE THE ISSUE WHEN PUBLISHED, and is every respect

The Twice-a-Week Picayune WILL BE FOUND THE MOST NEW, INTERESTING AND INSTRUCTIVE PAPER IN THE SOUTH. Although each issue of the

The Twice-a-Week Picayune will contain 16 pages, making the total every week 32 pages, whereas the Weekly was only 16 pages, the price of subscription remains at the same figure.

One Dollar a Year.

THE PICAYUNE has made PRIMA-RIET ARRANGEMENTS with the NEW YORK HERALD, by which all the SOCIAL NEWS, and the WORK of that greatest of all newspapers is placed at the disposal of the simultaneous publication, thus supplementing, and often anticipating, the Associated Press news, and insuring to the readers of both THE DAILY PICAYUNE and THE TWICE-A-WEEK PICAYUNE The Best and Latest News of the Whole World. . . .

Notes of Subscriptions to the Picayune: Daily Picayune—7 Pages a Week: One year . . . $12 Six months . . . $6 Two months . . . $2 One month . . . $1 Sunday Picayune—4 to 32 Pages. One year . . . $5 Six months . . . $2.50 Two months . . . $1 One month . . . $0.50 The Twice-a-Week Picayune—16 Pages. Issued every Monday and Thursday. One year . . . $1 Six months . . . $0.50 Sample Copies Sent Free.

THE PICAYUNE, New Orleans, La.

WHEN YOU GET MARRIED

You want some handsome and stylish Wedding Invitations. We can suit you. The best assorted stock ever in town, and lots of it.

THE SENTINEL.
Good Printing Our Specialty.

WHEN YOU GET MARRIED

You want some handsome and stylish Wedding Invitations. We can suit you. The best assorted stock ever in town, and lots of it.

THE SENTINEL.
Good Printing Our Specialty.

WHEN YOU GET MARRIED

You want some handsome and stylish Wedding Invitations. We can suit you. The best assorted stock ever in town, and lots of it.

THE SENTINEL.
Good Printing Our Specialty.