PERSONAL POINTERS.

Notice.
It is a rule of nearly, if not, all offices to charge for obituary notices sent in for publication. Since a newspaper has commercial value as much as other articles in trade it goes to make up the revenues of the paper.

Mr. and Mrs. Durocq, of Lafourche parish, was in town last Saturday.

Miss Ida Bourg and Miss Cornelia of Lafourche were in town Sunday.

Robert Bensberg, commission merchant of New Orleans, was in our city last Sunday.

Sheriff James Beary, after visiting the Agricultural fair and races at Albion, returned home on Monday.

Marie Knobloch Esq., of New Orleans visited his father and mother—and Mrs. Clay Knobloch—in Donaldsonville last Sunday.

Miss Laura Morvant, who has been visiting her sister—Mrs. (Dr.) C. N. at White Castle, returned home Friday of last week.

The latest styles of Manhattan clothes are to be found at Ellis Braud's on Main street.

Mrs. (Dr.) J. A. Villier of Maurice, Louisiana, visited the family of the Mt. Carmel order in our city during the past week.

Dr. Thos. A. Stark, Hon. W. H. and Sheriff James Beary were present at the Central Louisiana Fair, Alexandria, the latter part of last week.

M. Bourgeois and daughter of Houma, spent the early part of the week in town. Miss remained over a boarder of Carmel convent.

Miss Lizzie and Mamie Daspit, Manson and Chas. Daspit, attended the Engerran—wedding in our city last Monday.

Have you seen the elegant line of fine Dress Trousers now on display in our show window? You will be not afraid to put a ticket on them. The Racket Store.

A lot of Gents Negligie shirts, and goods, large variety of patterns etc. just received at the Racket Store.

The population of the United States for the new census is found to be 122,220—being an increase of 10 per cent in the last decade over 241 for the previous decade.

The Tetreau is having three, pretty, modern cottages erected on Canal street which will be an ornament to the portion of town. They will be completed and doubtless will be occupied as soon as finished.

The weather prophets have made a gloomy forecast of weather for the winter. According to their prediction the month will be both wet and cool with a serious cyclonic storm on the Florida and Atlantic coast about the 15th inst. True to the forecast the month opened with heavy precipitation of rain with low temperature.

Francis Knobloch, owing to family departure to take a course of study at the Tulane University, New Orleans, has resigned his position as manager of the Thibodaux Opera house which he so successfully managed in the past. Mr. Knobloch is one of the promising and rising men of our city and the Sentinel is common with his numerous peers in wishing him success in his profession which he has

All Salute Day.
This day set aside for the remembrance of the dead was most fittingly observed by the Catholic and Episcopal Churches of our city. The cemeteries had been thoroughly cleaned of weeds and grass—shrubbery and flowers trimmed—tombs and vaults brightened up, and on November 1, the city of the dead, the last resting places of departed loved ones were decorated with many and varied floral offerings by friends and relatives whom they had left behind.

The oration of the graves spoke eloquently of the cherished memories of the dead by the living and vividly recalled the following tribute:

"The sorrow for the dead," says Irving, "is the only sorrow from which we refuse to be divorced. Every other wound we seek to heal, every other affliction to forget; but this wound we consider it a duty to keep open; this affliction we cherish and brood over in solitude."

Where is the mother who would willingly forget the infant that perished like a blossom from her arms, though every recollection is a pang? Where is the child that would willingly forget the most tender of parents, though to remember be but to lament? Who, even in the hour of agony, would forget the friend over whom he mourns? Who, even when the tomb is closing upon the remains of her he most loved, when he feels his heart, as it were, crushed in the closing of its portal, would accept of consolation that must be bought by forgetfulness?
No, the love which survives the tomb is one of the noblest attributes of the soul.

"Oh, the grave! the grave! It buries every error, covers every defect, extinguishes every resentment.
From its peaceful bosom spring none but fond regrets and tender recollections. Who can look upon the grave of an enemy and not feel a compassion that he should ever have warred with the poor handful of earth that lies mouldering before him?"

Then weave the chaplet of flowers, and strew the beauties of nature about the grave; console thy broken spirit, if thou canst, with these tender yet futile tributes of love and regret; but take warning by the bitterness of this thy contrite affliction over the dead, and henceforth be more faithful and affectionate in the discharge of thy duties to the living."

A Paying Industry.

Yesterday morning while the Sentinel representative was making his rounds in quest of local news to give our readers we hit upon an item of more than ordinary interest, showing what an enterprising woman can do when she makes up her mind to overcome difficulties and determine to succeed.

Mr. H. N. Coulon, our informant told us: Under the improved meth-

RELIEVED WOMEN
WINE OF CARDUI
has brought permanent relief to a million suffering women who were on their way to premature graves. Mrs. Mitchell was fast declining in health, when Wine of Cardui performed a "wonderful cure" in her case. She suffered with the agonies of falling of the womb, leucorrhoea and profuse menstruation. The weekly appearance of the menses for two months sapped her vitality until she was a physical wreck. Her nervous system gave way. Then came the trial of Wine of Cardui and the cure. Mrs. Mitchell's experience ought to commend Wine of Cardui to suffering women in words of burning eloquence.

is within the reach of all. Women who try it are relieved. Ask your druggist for a 21 bottle of Wine of Cardui, and do not take a substitute if tendered you.

Mrs. Willie Mitchell, South Gaston, N. C.
"Wine of Cardui and Theobald's Black-draught have performed a miraculous cure in my case. I had been a great sufferer with falling of the womb and leucorrhoea, and my menses came every week for two months and were very painful. My husband induced me to try Wine of Cardui and Black-Draught, and now the leucorrhoea has disappeared, and I am restored to perfect health."

ods of saving all waste matter containing saccharine matter the sugar mills now use what is called the filter bags to free the last screenings of the bagasse from dirt and foreign matter and hold in solution the last residue of available cane juice. About a year ago Miss Emma Allain of this city conceived the idea of manufacturing these filter bags and was so successful in furnishing the desired article that to day this energetic lady is enjoying a fine patronage from the sugar mills of the surrounding county. To supply the demand for these filter bags, Miss Allain is now running five large sewing machines with a gasoline motor, and employing the help of five more ladies to assist in their manufacture. This looks like a small industry, but it is remunerative to Miss Allain, besides being a great convenience to the sugar planters of the surrounding country.

An Important Convention.

We are glad to see so much interest in the Southern Industrial convention to be held in New Orleans from the 4th to the 9th of December.
The convention will be composed of delegates from both Northern and Southern States.

Its general object will be to obtain and disseminate information concerning the resources of the South and the possible adaptation of these resources to manufacturing interests.

Such a convention, if made up of men of the right sort, can be made vastly beneficial to this section. The enormous wealth of the South in raw materials and the unrivaled advantages offered here for manufactures of various kinds are much more fully recognized than they were formerly, but are not yet fully appreciated.

The New Orleans convention can do a great work by extending information as to the character and extent of the resources of the South and the inducements to capital which are offered here.—Atlanta Journal.

For Sale.

Second hand doors, blinds, door and window frames, mantle pieces, cistern, stoves, etc.; can be purchased at the Convent at very reasonable prices. 15.

New Classes.

In view of opening classes in Elocution, Physical Culture, and Painting, the Sisters of the Thibodaux Convent wish to make known that in addition to the courses connected with their Institution, they will be glad to open classes for outsiders—young girls, married ladies, and young boys. The services of a talented artist and graduate of St. Louis have been secured, and as soon as a sufficient number of pupils have been received, the lessons will be begun at the Convent; hence, if there are any persons desirous of availing themselves of these branches of the fine art, they are requested to call at the Convent and give in their names before Nov. 8th. 15-11.

APPEAL TO VOTERS.

Every Man Called on to Do His Duty.

Chicago, Nov. 1.—Chairman J. K.
Jones of the Democratic national committee today issued the following address:

"To all who favor the republic and oppose the empire: The election is already won. We now have only to maintain our present position. I urge that every man interested in preserving the principles of government which have come down to us from the fathers shall consecrate the entire day on Tuesday next to the great cause. Let each go to the polls early, either singly or as a member of a club, vote promptly and then give the remainder of the day to whatever may be necessary to be done. Let those who can do so place teams and vehicles at the disposal of the committees to bring the old and infirm to the polls. See that every one is reminded of the day and urged to vote.

"Let those whose duty it is to watch the polling and counting do so for every instant of time from the beginning to the end, from the opening of the ballot box in the morning until the returns are signed and sealed at night and all will be well.

J. K. JONES, Chairman."

RALLY SONG.

What's the News?

"What's the News?" S. S. song.
Where'er you go, you always say,
"What's the news? What's the news?
Pray, what's the campaign news today?"

What's the news? What's the news?
And glorious news I have to tell:
Our Bryan has done all things well, And Tuesday's vote for him will swell:

That's the news! That's the news!

"The doubtful States" are falling in—
That's the news! That's the news!
The Buckeyes and the Hoosiers grin—
That's the news! That's the news!

To Bryan 'York's great "Pendulum" swings,
And Jersey, too, for Bryan sings, And Teddy'll wish he had some wings,

That's the news! That's the news!

Old Hanna's prophecy will fall—
That's the news! That's the news!

There's no grub in that "dinner pail"—
That's the news! That's the news!

Imperialism's in the air;
But Bryan hits it everywhere, He'll get the votes and some to spare—

That's the news! That's the news!

November Sixth we'll call the roll—
That's the news! That's the news!

As it comes in from every poll—
That's the news! That's the news!

And then we'll wire the news along,
That great "plurality" so strong:
"Bryan has won" will be the song—
That's the news! That's the news!

RELDAS.

A French hygienic journal published the result of an investigation into the condition of the kitchens of Parisian eating houses and hotels, made in view of the fact that within a few months Paris will be crowded with visitors.
These kitchens, which are invariably in the basement, have not even the most primitive form of ventilation. The ceilings are usually less than eight feet from the floors, many of them being below the street sewers and drained by cesspools. The kitchens are cramped very often to an extraordinary degree, and in them are crowded the larder, the hot stoves and the cooks, with their assistants. The temperature is often found to register as high as 140 to 160 degrees F. In this frightful atmosphere men and women work from 6 in the morning until 10 o'clock at night, with only short intervals for eating, but none for repose. It is little wonder that there is an abnormal mortality among cooks in Paris, and that most of the deaths are caused from tuberculosis and gastro hepatitis.

Flooding Sahara.

A correspondent writes, in reference to the old scheme for flooding the Sahara desert by means of a canal 60 miles long from the Atlantic, that the project is impracticable. He maintains the canal could not possibly furnish enough water to compensate for the evaporation in that latitude. The lake, large or small, which would be formed would soon become a pit of salt, and that would be the end of it. The correspondent makes the unanswerable assertion that one cannot go on an evaporating sea water without getting salt.
There is an escape for the water by evaporation, but none for the percentage of salt. If the Sahara canal were large enough, and if its water were fresh and not salt, the project would be practicable, but as things are it isn't.

Hairpins and Headaches.

Certain doctors have attacked the metal hairpin, saying that shell or bone is much better, and that many women have suffered much from nervous headache, never dreaming that the cause lay in that useful little metal hairpin.
What proof of this?—Popular Science.

Petroleum For Steamer Fuel.

The Hamburg-American line is about to introduce a new kind of fuel on its new freight steamers. It consists of a semifluid petroleum which is imported from Borneo in large quantities.

Thawing Water Pipes With Electricity.
The Canadian Electrical News says that frozen water service pipes are thawed by means of alternating currents of electricity passed through the pipes themselves.
