The tens of thousands who have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and its gripe during the past few years, to our knowledge, not a single case has resulted in pneumonia. Thos. Resumes Her Trips.

The fast and comfortable steamer Louisiana, resumed her regular trips between Lockport and Donaldsonville on Wednesday, upon the same schedule as formerly. Capt. Constantine announces that he has made a great reduction in both freight and passenger rates and from all points along Bayou Lafourche. The Louisiana's resumption of business will be greatly appreciated by everyone.

Bayou Lafourche Rising.

The water of the Bayou Lafourche have risen several feet during the past week, and at the time of this paper going to press 7 feet was registered on the gauge at the bridge. The familiar whistle of the steam boat "Louisiana" was heard on Wednesday, upon which day she made her debut trip of this season to this town. The "Lafourche" and the "Chickasaw" also made landings here during the week. The arrivals and departures of these boats, together with the numerous oyster loggers from the lower coast that arrive almost daily, give the wharves quite a busy appearance.

AN EXCELLENT CONCERT.

The Schumann Concert Company Gave an Enjoyable Program.

The Schumann Grand Concert Company appeared at the Durban Opera House last night and rendered a program that was indeed an excellent musical treat. The audience was a large one and there was nothing lacking in the way of enthusiastic appreciation of the concert, or in the renditions on the program.

The Schumann Concert Company is composed of four ladies that charmed the audience with harp, violin, piano, a rich lyric soprano voice, and with excellent impersonations.

Throughout the evening every member of the company was compelled to respond to numerous encores. All in all, the Schumann Grand Concert Company presents a most entertaining and enjoyable program, and if all who go to hear them do not have a delightful time, it is no fault of the Company, for each member certainly does her part to make it so.

Roman and American Imperialism.

We are told that the people of this country would never permit this republic to be changed into an empire. So thought the Romans upon whose republic the sun rose and set for 500 years, and who lost their liberty through influences very similar to those now in operation in this country.

After conquering Gaul, Caesar returned with his victorious legions and trampled upon the liberties of his country. But war and conquest had already centralized the government and corrupted and enervated the people, and Rome was virtually an empire years before she began that long line of emperors, among whom were some of the vilest human monsters that ever lived.

That proud and mighty empire endured nearly 500 years. It extended from the frozen wastes of the north to the burning sands of the south.

Valuable Recipe.

Here is a simple but never failing cure for wounds made by rusty nails, bites of angry animals, felons, wounds made by fireworks, inflamed and poisoned flesh wounds generally. I have myself saved several lives of persons, and also of horses from wounds in the feet and from stepping on rusty nails, and one man from death from the bite of an angry cat, where blood poisoning threatened a quick death.

It is an old Indian remedy known in our family for several generations and used so successfully that we have never had a felon or sore develop, as we used the cure in time. I am very anxious to have the remedy known. I wish it might reach every family in the land. Every time I hear of death from lockjaw caused by a rusty nail I feel guilty in not trying to tell the people this simple and sure cure.

Here is the remedy: Put equal parts of good fresh wood ashes and hot water enough in a pail or pan large enough to more than cover the hand or foot hurt. Keep it in some time, and when the water cools put fresh water in as hot as can comfortably be sometimes renewing the ashes and hot water both.

After a short time a soothing sense of relief from pain will come, but keep and it thought itself invincible and eternal. But the spirit of conquest and materialism; decay of the spirit of liberty; the amassing of great fortunes by a small class while the poverty of the people increased—these were among the conditions that preceded the decline and fall of the Roman empire.

The danger of imperialism, in our day, is not in the usurpation of an emperor, but in centralization, in the growth of a plutocracy, in class legislation, class distinctions, growth of the military spirit, conquest, and the spoliation of the people by the trusts for the enrichment of the few who come to control legislation, and corrupt in the interests of their class, the judiciary.—Quincy Daily Journal.

Coming Entertainment.

An entertainment will be given at Tabor's Hall on Thursday, December 27 at seven o'clock p. m., by the Ladies Auxilliary of St. John's Episcopal Church. To the Rescue.

The room was on fire, and at the window stood a fair and lovely creature. Frantic with horror, he pushed through the people and called upon the firemen to save her.
