LOCAL PARAGRAPHS.

We were compelled to leave out many news items this week, on account of the lengthy writup of the carnival.

Fast Mail at the opera house tonight.

Nice line of Shirt Waists, Handkerchiefs, Hosiery, Corsets etc. at The Racket Store.

Yesterday was Washington's birthday and a legal holiday. Both banks and the postoffice were closed.

At a meeting of the stock holders of the Bank of Lafourche held on the 18th inst the entire board of directors were re-elected. The board of directors is composed of the following gentlemen.

Thos. D. Kent, E. N. Roth, C. J. Barker, D. Delaune, John T. Moore, Jr., A. J. Braud, W. H. Ragan, Sr., Dr. I. E. Meyer, C. R. Beattie, Alcide Toups, K. J. Braud.

Trone Brothers expected to have their show ready for last Monday and Tuesday but as they had not perfected their troupe at that time, they decided not to give a performance as they did not care to open their show without their full force of performers. They expect to have every thing in readiness soon, and will then introduce to the public one of the very best acrobatic shows ever seen in this town.

Roth the druggist, will refund you your money if you are not satisfied after using Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They cure disorders of the stomach, biliousness, constipation and headache. Price, 25 cents. Samples free.

We have learned with deep sorrow of the serious illness of two well-known and much esteemed ladies, Mrs. Maximin Naquin of this town, and Mrs. Bannion Thibodaux, of Terrebonne, near Schriever. There is little hope for their recovery and we deeply sympathize with their many relatives and friends. Mrs. Naquin is the mother of Mr. Ozene and Miss Emeline Naquin, and Mrs. Thibodaux is the mother of Mrs. B. Blake of this town.

In speaking of "The Fast Mail" the Toledo Times of Aug 13th, says, "The formal opening of the season in Burt's Theatre was most propitious. Though the weather was certainly not such as to drive people in doors for amusement, the house was filled up stairs and down. It was like a Sunday night in the Winter season when it is really necessary to "Come early to avoid the rush". Perhaps the bill had something to do with the attendance. "The Fast Mail" seems never to lose its popularity. The scenic and mechanical effects never pall, the steamboat explosion thrills and the Express Train satisfied with unflinching certainty. This time, in addition to the stage effects there are a number of good people in the cast who thoroughly pleased the audience by their good acting and numerous specialties."

The greatest danger from colds and la grippe is their resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. It will cure a cold or an attack of la grippe in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by Roth drug store.

The man who gives a loaf of bread to a starving family is a better Christian than the man who spends his time praying to the Lord to help the destitute while he would squeeze a dollar hard enough to make the eagle scream before he would give it to charity. Go down into your pocket to help the poor, instead of wearing out the knees of your pants asking the Lord to do that which common sense should teach you is your duty.—Ex.

The claim of other cough medicines to be as good as Chamberlain's are effectually set at rest in the following testimonial of Mr. C. D. Glass, an employe of Bartlett & Dennis Co., Gardner, Me. He says: "I had kept adding to a cold and cough in the winter of 1897, trying every cough medicine I heard of without permanent help, until one day I was in the drug store of Mr. Houlahan and he advised me to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and offered to pay back my money if I was not cured. My lungs and bronchial tubes were very sore at this time, but I was completely cured by this remedy, and have since always turned to it when I get a cold, and can find relief. I also recommend it to my friends and am glad to say it is the best of all medicines." For sale by Roth drug store.

The Carnival Club.

The Carnival Club of Thibodaux certainly deserve many thanks and commendation for the able, skilful and public spirited manner in which they carried out their design of making the festivities of Mardi gras a source of enjoyment to the throngs who visited Thibodaux on that occasion. We trust also, in fact we have no doubt, that the commercial and financial interests of the town were amply benefited by the many opportunities which it afforded them of catering to the various wants of their visitors. Such an enterprise should be encouraged for nothing can boom a place more than the making known of its real advantages, and certainly Thibodaux is an up-to-date town in every respect. Besides, there is something very pleasant and generally productive of good results in the social intercourse which is thus brought between different localities. The exchange of hospitalities between men is the best way of spreading the ideas of fraternity and emulation. In becoming better acquainted with us, our neighbors may learn to appreciate us more, and we hope that the many who honored us with their presence on this last Mardi gras, may have been pleased with the reception made them and on the whole, found Thibodaux sufficiently attractive to do us the pleasure of returning again. Long live the Carnival Club.

When you want a physic that is mild and gentle, easy to take and pleasant in effect use Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. Price, 25 cents. Samples free. Every box guaranteed. For sale by Roth drug store.

The newspapers of a town are its looking glasses. It is here you see yourselves as others see you. You smile on them, they smile back at you; you frown on them and you are repaid in kindness. They are the reflex of the town. If the town is doing business, the newspaper will show it in its advertising columns. If the merchants are spiritless, shiftless fellows, whose stores are jungles of junk and jam, the newspaper will show it by lack of space they use. If you want the world to know you have a live town, you can only let it be known through its newspapers.

What makes a boy a gentleman? Not merely lifting his hat to the ladies he meets, although that may be one sign, provided he lifts his hat to his mother and sister also. The real sign of the true gentleman is gentle unselfishness. Does he seek the good of others first? Is he brave and tender in caring for those weaker than himself? Does he show respect and courtesy to his mother and to those who are older than himself? Then put him down as a gentleman of the true school, whether his feet be shod in patent leather, or he have no shoe at all.—Ex.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

The man who proposes to a widow is either a philanthropist or a fool. The only way you can convince a girl that kissing is dangerous is by showing her. Love is like the grip. Everybody in the world has either just had it or is waiting to get it. A thin woman can pad, but a fat woman can only wear tight clothes and look uncomfortable. Probably Jonah had no idea that his wife would believe him when he told her where he had been, anyway. Probably a woman could never tell whether she dresses most to tickle the men or to make the other women mad.

After he has been married three years the average man can fool his wife as easily as he used to fool his mother. Most men take comfort in the thought the world will never know how mean they really were till after they are dead. If a man could only make his wife sweet the way he can his pipe, by boiling her in milk, the world would be a lot happier. You can never judge a woman by what the other women say about her, as well as you can by what she says about the other women.

There are only two kinds of women in the world—the kind that won't be nice to you unless you kiss them, and the kind that won't be nice to you if you do.—From the New York Press.

A Convincing Answer.

"I hobbled into Mr. Blackmon's drug store one evening," says Wesley Nelson, of Hamilton, Ga., "and he asked me to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism with which I had suffered for a long time. I told him I had no faith in any medicine as they all failed. He said: 'Well if Chamberlain's Pain Balm does not help you, you need not pay for it.' I took a bottle of it home and used it according to the directions and in one week I was cured, and have not since been troubled with rheumatism." Sold by Roth drug store.

A Matchless Orator Soon to be here.

We are requested to announce that a lecture by Henry Austin Adams, A. M. of New York will be delivered in the Auditorium of the Mount Carmel Convent, Thibodaux, on Wednesday, the 27th of February, 1901, at eight P. M.

Mr. Adams is one of the most popular lecturers in the United States, being in constant request in all the great cities of the country. He is peerless as an orator, having a clear, musical and most resonant voice, and being possessed of the faculty of rising to the highest flights of eloquence and then, of evoking smiles by his happy and inimitable sallies of wit and humor. He is one of the star attractions of the New Orleans Winter School, and whenever he is announced to lecture, the hall is sure of being packed by the largest audience.

Here are some of the flattering testimonials that have appeared in the public press in reference to the ability of Mr. Adams as a platform speaker.

From the Brooklyn Citizen: "Those who braved the elements to attend the lecture were more than repaid for their trouble. They heard a magnificent lecture by a past-master in all that goes to make up the ideal lecturer."

The Philadelphia Item: "The lectures are models of eloquence." Hamilton W. Malie, in the Outlook: "I know very few men who seem to me to have a greater natural aptitude for public speaking than Mr. Henry A. Adams. He has a rare faculty of making his personality felt and that personality is interesting and attractive. He has unusual gifts of force and eloquence."

Buffalo Evening News: "Almost electrical energy. A marvel of condensation. The Carlyleish way of putting truths appears everywhere." The Sisters of Mount Carmel describe the heartfelt thanks of the community for giving us the opportunity of hearing and enjoying the rich intellectual treat that is in store for us in the great lecture to be delivered by Mr. Adams on the 27th. Inst. at 8 P. M.

Let us manifest our appreciation of the engagement of Mr. Adams by the good Sisters by attending in great numbers, even to the extent of taxing the seating capacity of the Auditorium to the utmost.

THE TELEPHONE

Useful every day, helpful very often, indispensable on occasions and always on duty. It shops in all weathers, corrects mistakes, hastens deliveries and saves your time. It saves letter-writing, overtakes telegrams, outstrips the messenger boy and lengthens your life. It orders the dinner, invites the guests, reserves the tickets and calls the carriage. It makes appointments, changes the time, cancels them altogether and renews them. It calls the expressman, reserves the sleeping berth, calls the cab and instructs the office. It invites your friends, asks them to stay away, asks them to hurry and enables them to invite you. It calls the police, calls the fireman, calls the doctor and saves emergencies. It lengthens your day, reduces your worries, saves your temper. It is useful every day, helpful very often, indispensable on occasions and is always on duty.
