Full Moon last night.

The cold wave missed us.

Business has been rather dull for the past few days.

There are several very severe cases of pneumonia in town.

The weather is clearing off and a fine day may be looked for to-morrow.

The raffle of Mrs. J. C. Stewart's handsome silk quilt will take place at the storehouse of Mr. J. W. Goss at 2 p. m., to-morrow (Thursday) evening.

Our oldtime friend Mr. Simon Marx one of the pioneer merchants of Monroe, but, who, following Horace Greeley's advice went west, locating at Gibsland, on the V. S. & P. R. R., is in the city.

Of course you want to look nice and clean when you enter the sanctum of Society—that's why you should call on Charley Randolph at his popular Tonorial Parlor and have a clean shave and delightful shampoo.

The Camden, Ark., Beacon of Saturday, reports the Ouachita river as having "withdrawn within a shell of the river." We can't blame the Ouachita for pursuing this course, perhaps, but we do suggest that she "shell out."

We were pleased to meet this morning our esteemed friend, Mr. Jas. Heekins, who arrived in the city a few days since and is stopping with his brother Mr. Wm. Heekins. He's just from Texas, but he didn't tackle the "cow-boys."

Mrs. Davis, wife of Doctor G. W. Davis, of Catahoula parish and sister of our young friends John C., and Aleck Prichard, departed by yesterday's train for Shreveport on a visit to relatives. Her two charming daughters accompanied her.

Natchez Democrat, 16th: The Natchez and Bayou Sara packet Courier has not been sold, as has been reported very frequently of late, nor is she for sale. Capt. Pennywitt says when she leaves Natchez to remain away she will be taken away by her present owners, and not by new ones.

Which suggests to us the propriety of our merchants consulting with Capt. Pennywitt, in order that they may get a "pound full." Do you see the point?

Heavy fog on the river this morning.

The Hanna leaves New Orleans this evening for this port.

The Marcus Collins left for the D'Arbonne this morning with a good freight.

The D. Stein left to-day for Capt. McLain's Waverly plantation after a load of cotton seed for the oil mills.

The John Howard, bound for Camden, passed up last night with a good trip—discharging quite a large freight here.

The Josie W., from the Bartholomew, arrived this morning with a big trip of cotton for reshipment, and a large lot of seed for the Monroe Oil Works.

WEST MONROE DOTS.

[FROM OUR REGULAR REPORTER]

The Oil mills shipped by yesterday's train one car load of linters.

W. J. Broadwell, Esq., of Simsboro, was in our town yesterday.

Business was more brisk yesterday than it has been for several days past. Quite a crowd was in town.

Our old friend Abe Cahn of Ruston was in our promising little town yesterday and gave the Dotter a pleasant call.

J. Moore, & Co., opened up in their new store house yesterday and will do a general merchandise business and also carry a full line of drugs in connection with his other business.

Work on Mr. J. W. Mitchell's new store house was commenced to day and will be pushed to completion as rapidly as possible.

There are two very important things that our merchants are utterly neglecting and that is to advertise in the DAILY and ditch those miserable streets. Come gentleman wake up and go to work!
