Business is froze up to-day. Nothing of consequence transpiring.

Remember that the Senatorial Convention meets next Wednesday.

The chances on the magnificent cross and wreath at Haugh's are going fast and only a few more are left.

Yes, neighbor, it was "old Sol" we had reference to, but "Old Borras" is "on deck" to day. Don't you think so?

The cold wave is here and knocks local items away out of sight. Everybody who can is hugging the stove or the chimney fire place. Look out for another big freeze to night.

We suggest to Dominic Schlinger that he don't take any more skiff rides in this kind of weather, unless he can find some one to "feather" the oars for him. He was making good time going down the river in a skiff this evening, though he was not destined in that direction.

The Grand Jury, which adjourned made a splendid report. First; That peace and quiet prevails throughout the parish. Second; That all public buildings except the jail are in good condition, which is little better than no jail. We hope that Ouachita will try in some way to build a new jail. The DAILY will publish the docket of cases tried and to be tried daily.

River News.

The Marcus Collins is due to-day from the D'Arbonne.

The Josie W., arrived this morning with another fine trip of cotton.

The Hanna Blanks arrived at New Orleans, Sunday with 1512 bales cotton

The Hanna for this point and H. Hanna Blanks for the Bartholomew leave New Orleans this evening.

The D. Stein left this morning for the D'Arbonne, with a fair trip.

The old reliable John H. Hanna leaves the Crescent City this evening as usual.

We are going to quit prognosticating blizzards, but hold! we believe we'll change right here and commence again prognosticating, then we'll not have any. We did not say anything yesterday about a blizzard and that is, perhaps, the reason that one struck with such force last night. The wind for awhile raged furiously, lashing the waters of the Ouachita into foam. The steamer Howard was at the landing when the wind struck with full force and it became necessary to run out her hausers tying to the iron abutments of the bridge for safety. The wind was direct from the North and was accompanied by a very heavy rain.

Mr. W. L. Collett and Miss Minnie Long, both of Island DeSiard, were united in the happy bonds of wedlock yesterday at 2 o'clock, at the Ouachita House. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Couey of the Methodist Church, in the presence of several of their friends and the boarders at the hotel. After partaking of dinner the bridal party left for their homes.

Our esteemed neighbor of the Bulletin, who is a fairly good disciple of Blackstone and a first class newspaper man in the various branches of "the art preservative," respectfully but firmly declines the honor of "serving the State of Louisiana in the capacity of a legislator." He gives good reasons, one of which literally speaking is that he's not greedy and that "a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush," and having "one bird" he is satisfied to let some one else catch the one in the bush.

The Postmaster General has directed that photographs come under the designation of printed matter, and are therefore to be rated as third class matter instead of being in the fourth class and rated as merchandise, as has heretofore been the case. Under this ruling photographs can now be sent through the mails by the payment of one cent for two ounces instead, of one cent an ounce. This reduction will be hailed with delight by impecunious lovers.

A lady advertises a "school for eubres, whose pupils are made proficient." cost of instruction $10 for the full course of one month. Many a man has paid ten times that much for a single lesson in poker.
