HOTEL ARRIVALS

MONROE RESTAURANT.

Bob Wheeling, New York; B. Cooper, Shreveport; E. A. Easley, Vicksburg; F. L. Murphy, Jas. B. Williams Bastrop; J. W. McDuffy, Gardner, La; R. F. Gardner, Oak Ridge; Bob Anderson, New Orleans.

THE PIG.

The attendance at the skating rink last night was very large, the youth and beauty of this city, as well as that of West Monroe, turning out en masse to witness the fun of catching the pig. After several fouls had been called, and several falls my couptrymen had been made, the referee decided Ire Kahn winner of the "trophy." The pig, however, is not as fat as our young friend, who by the way is an Israelite and should have no need of a "Porker." Nevertheless he carried or rather dragged him home in triumph.

But we, divert, and would now discuss the merits of the dancers and skaters, but fear that we cannot do the subject justice. We must, however, say that it has been a long time since we noticed such excellent dancing as was to be seen last night and we were agreeably surprised, as well as pleased, to find, that Monroe is not lacking any of the ingredients that go to make up a first class sociable.

Professor Danna's deserves the thanks of all for his energy in making this a success and promises to "repeat the dose."

River News.

The beautiful St. John leaves New Orleans this evening and is due up Tuesday morning, and the Howard from Camden is due to-night or tomorrow morning.

The St. John had 2440 bales cotton arriving at New Orleans Thursday morning. It will be remembered that she passed here Sunday evening hence was 85 hours making the trip from Monroe to New Orleans, all owing to bad weather encountered.

WEST MONROE DOTS.

[FROM OUR REGULAR REPORTER]
Business is still very brisk in our little city.

We were pleased to meet our old friend Mr. Jno. E. Herron and son Lee of Bastrop who made our little town a pleasant call yesterday. We were glad to see them looking so well. Lee leaves to-day for Tulip, La., where he will enter school and Jno. E., goes back to his old home in Morehouse.

Capt. J. R. Heston of the D'Arbonne hove in port this evening with a flat boat load of cotton, and many of the good old farmers who live on the banks of this stream accompanied him. Among them was Mr. C. Duke, who says that the cold had froze up the Choudrant so they had to break the ice for at least a mile in order to get into the D'Arbonne.

Rev. Wm. Hart, our esteemed friend of Trenton, was in town to-day. He seems to be in good spirits and we think he will soon be a resident citizen of West Monroe. May God bless him in his efforts and may he be successful and get the church moved down soon, as this town is greatly in need of the same.

A Cleveland Ohio dispatch says: Owing to the continuation of the strike in Connellsville coke region the prospects of a famine in the pig iron market are becoming more serious.
