

SUBJUGATION OF THE DESERT.

Surprising Results Obtained by Irrigation in the Southwest. We have a vast domain of arid land which, under scientific irrigation, will some day support a great population.

The free arable lands having been taken up and land that was cheap a few years ago rising rapidly in value, it is easy to see that the next step must be the reclamation of the "Great American Desert" by irrigation.—Albuquerque, N.M.

Deafness Cannot be Cured. If local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear, there is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by the use of the Deafness Cure.

The Tragedy of Life in New York. Could anything be more pathetic than the story of 11-year-old Sanford Parker, rushing out of the miserable Brooklyn tenement house the other day to earn a few pennies with which to buy food for his starving mother?

The Most Pleasant Way of preventing the grippe, colds, headaches, influenza, etc., is the liquid laxative remedy known as Pile, which cures the system.

When Some Things in Colorado Get to Growing They Forget to Stop. I brought these potatoes from the town founded by Horace Greeley, he said, as he entered the office of the newspaper founded by Horace Greeley.

When Some Things in Colorado Get to Growing They Forget to Stop. I brought these potatoes from the town founded by Horace Greeley, he said, as he entered the office of the newspaper founded by Horace Greeley.

When Some Things in Colorado Get to Growing They Forget to Stop. I brought these potatoes from the town founded by Horace Greeley, he said, as he entered the office of the newspaper founded by Horace Greeley.

When Some Things in Colorado Get to Growing They Forget to Stop. I brought these potatoes from the town founded by Horace Greeley, he said, as he entered the office of the newspaper founded by Horace Greeley.

A TALK ABOUT TOYS.

GERMANY STILL LEADS IN THEIR MANUFACTURE. All the inhabitants of the Town Make Dolls—Many Wooden Toys Made in America.

"Of all the toys sold in America," said a prominent wholesale dealer to a writer of the Philadelphia Times, "the ten cents come from Germany. Of these a large proportion are made in one little place, Sonneberg, a town of about 10,000 inhabitants in Thuringen.

"All this work is done at such starvation prices that Americans cannot compete in the manufacture, although the duty is thirty-five per cent. To this town of Sonneberg there comes every year a large number of buyers from all over the world. I go there myself and never fail to meet a score or so of Americans engaged in the same business.

"There are French walking dolls, smoking men, and other automatic figures, but they are mechanical and too intricate to be classed as mere dolls. Of the rubber dolls fully one-half are made in America, where anything that is machine made prospers to the exclusion of the imported stuffs.

"It is in this district that magnetic toys, swords, guns, trumpets, horns, woody sheep, jumping jacks, monkeys on sticks, jacks in the box, and ingenious mechanical toys are made. The carved wooden toys, as chiefly from the Bohemian Highlands, but they are brought to Nuremberg to be sold.

"The majority of rubber toys come from France, mostly from Paris, although the manufacture of this line of playthings is constantly increasing in America, and the American rubber toys are really the best to be had.

"The proper pronunciation is Hal-vah-e. There is no 'w' in our alphabet, and no letter or combination of letters which takes the sound of 'w,' as in English.

"They are samples of what can be grown in the soil of Colorado since the irrigation preached by Mr. Greeley has changed that part of the country from a barren waste to a bountiful garden."

"They are samples of what can be grown in the soil of Colorado since the irrigation preached by Mr. Greeley has changed that part of the country from a barren waste to a bountiful garden."

FOR THE YOUNG FOLKS.

THE HAY-MOW. When'er I rise at morning song, And see great clouds black and long, And hear the drum-sticks of the rain, I know at last I must not play.

Who would think that a rooster could become a great part on board ship? But on the flag-ship "Chicago," the man-of-war which last spring traveled almost six thousand miles to get home for the Columbian naval parade, there was a rooster.

"Where the fad originated, for I suppose it must have had a starting point, I am unable to say, nor have I any idea why it is likely to run; but it is an undeniable fact that well-to-do women are now having valuable diamonds set in their teeth much as they would have the same gems set in a brooch or any other article of personal adornment.

"The diamond is set between the two incisor teeth and exactly in the centre of the mouth. To do this it is necessary to drill a hole through the teeth, so that once the stone is placed in position it should remain there, otherwise the teeth will decay.

"How do you pronounce the name of the island kingdom which wants to be annexed to the United States?" was a frequent question recently. The most commonly accepted orthography is "Hal-vah-e," the second syllable accented, and the "v" long as in "pine."

"The proper pronunciation is Hal-vah-e. There is no 'w' in our alphabet, and no letter or combination of letters which takes the sound of 'w,' as in English.

"The proper pronunciation is Hal-vah-e. There is no 'w' in our alphabet, and no letter or combination of letters which takes the sound of 'w,' as in English.

"The proper pronunciation is Hal-vah-e. There is no 'w' in our alphabet, and no letter or combination of letters which takes the sound of 'w,' as in English.

"The proper pronunciation is Hal-vah-e. There is no 'w' in our alphabet, and no letter or combination of letters which takes the sound of 'w,' as in English.

FOR THE YOUNG FOLKS.

THE HAY-MOW. When'er I rise at morning song, And see great clouds black and long, And hear the drum-sticks of the rain, I know at last I must not play.

Who would think that a rooster could become a great part on board ship? But on the flag-ship "Chicago," the man-of-war which last spring traveled almost six thousand miles to get home for the Columbian naval parade, there was a rooster.

"Where the fad originated, for I suppose it must have had a starting point, I am unable to say, nor have I any idea why it is likely to run; but it is an undeniable fact that well-to-do women are now having valuable diamonds set in their teeth much as they would have the same gems set in a brooch or any other article of personal adornment.

"The diamond is set between the two incisor teeth and exactly in the centre of the mouth. To do this it is necessary to drill a hole through the teeth, so that once the stone is placed in position it should remain there, otherwise the teeth will decay.

"How do you pronounce the name of the island kingdom which wants to be annexed to the United States?" was a frequent question recently. The most commonly accepted orthography is "Hal-vah-e," the second syllable accented, and the "v" long as in "pine."

"The proper pronunciation is Hal-vah-e. There is no 'w' in our alphabet, and no letter or combination of letters which takes the sound of 'w,' as in English.

"The proper pronunciation is Hal-vah-e. There is no 'w' in our alphabet, and no letter or combination of letters which takes the sound of 'w,' as in English.

"The proper pronunciation is Hal-vah-e. There is no 'w' in our alphabet, and no letter or combination of letters which takes the sound of 'w,' as in English.

"The proper pronunciation is Hal-vah-e. There is no 'w' in our alphabet, and no letter or combination of letters which takes the sound of 'w,' as in English.

FOR THE YOUNG FOLKS.

THE HAY-MOW. When'er I rise at morning song, And see great clouds black and long, And hear the drum-sticks of the rain, I know at last I must not play.

Who would think that a rooster could become a great part on board ship? But on the flag-ship "Chicago," the man-of-war which last spring traveled almost six thousand miles to get home for the Columbian naval parade, there was a rooster.

"Where the fad originated, for I suppose it must have had a starting point, I am unable to say, nor have I any idea why it is likely to run; but it is an undeniable fact that well-to-do women are now having valuable diamonds set in their teeth much as they would have the same gems set in a brooch or any other article of personal adornment.

"The diamond is set between the two incisor teeth and exactly in the centre of the mouth. To do this it is necessary to drill a hole through the teeth, so that once the stone is placed in position it should remain there, otherwise the teeth will decay.

"How do you pronounce the name of the island kingdom which wants to be annexed to the United States?" was a frequent question recently. The most commonly accepted orthography is "Hal-vah-e," the second syllable accented, and the "v" long as in "pine."

"The proper pronunciation is Hal-vah-e. There is no 'w' in our alphabet, and no letter or combination of letters which takes the sound of 'w,' as in English.

"The proper pronunciation is Hal-vah-e. There is no 'w' in our alphabet, and no letter or combination of letters which takes the sound of 'w,' as in English.

"The proper pronunciation is Hal-vah-e. There is no 'w' in our alphabet, and no letter or combination of letters which takes the sound of 'w,' as in English.

"The proper pronunciation is Hal-vah-e. There is no 'w' in our alphabet, and no letter or combination of letters which takes the sound of 'w,' as in English.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

Royal Baking Powder ABSOLUTELY PURE. The official reports show Royal Baking Powder superior to all others, yielding 160 cubic inches of leavening gas per ounce of powder, a strength greatly in excess of every other powder tested.

It became positively dangerous during the Revolution to pronounce the word royal or king, and especially the name of any monarch who had reigned in France. The innocent King of "Twelfth Night" was suppressed, and the nomenclature of the "devil's picture boards" thoroughly revised.

"The term, 'reformed office,' the term applied to the unique honey bee in the hive by French naturalists, was changed into 'reformed' non-essence. Citizens, who so many have named to a Leoni (King) were invited to change it into Leoni (now, and the sight of a King, even under adverse circumstances, grated so terribly upon the patriots' nerves that one day a shop was sacked in the Palais-Royal because its window contained an engraving of Charles X. on the scaffold.

"The last word had scarcely left the actor's lips when the house rose at him as one man. "If thy plus de Place Royale, rest la Place des Piques," they howled, and, in spite of meter and everything else, the line had then and there to be repeated, as corrected by the audience.—The Fortnightly Review.

"The last word had scarcely left the actor's lips when the house rose at him as one man. "If thy plus de Place Royale, rest la Place des Piques," they howled, and, in spite of meter and everything else, the line had then and there to be repeated, as corrected by the audience.—The Fortnightly Review.

"The last word had scarcely left the actor's lips when the house rose at him as one man. "If thy plus de Place Royale, rest la Place des Piques," they howled, and, in spite of meter and everything else, the line had then and there to be repeated, as corrected by the audience.—The Fortnightly Review.

"The last word had scarcely left the actor's lips when the house rose at him as one man. "If thy plus de Place Royale, rest la Place des Piques," they howled, and, in spite of meter and everything else, the line had then and there to be repeated, as corrected by the audience.—The Fortnightly Review.

"The last word had scarcely left the actor's lips when the house rose at him as one man. "If thy plus de Place Royale, rest la Place des Piques," they howled, and, in spite of meter and everything else, the line had then and there to be repeated, as corrected by the audience.—The Fortnightly Review.

"The last word had scarcely left the actor's lips when the house rose at him as one man. "If thy plus de Place Royale, rest la Place des Piques," they howled, and, in spite of meter and everything else, the line had then and there to be repeated, as corrected by the audience.—The Fortnightly Review.

FOR THE YOUNG FOLKS.

THE HAY-MOW. When'er I rise at morning song, And see great clouds black and long, And hear the drum-sticks of the rain, I know at last I must not play.

FOR THE YOUNG FOLKS.

THE HAY-MOW. When'er I rise at morning song, And see great clouds black and long, And hear the drum-sticks of the rain, I know at last I must not play.

FOR THE YOUNG FOLKS.

THE HAY-MOW. When'er I rise at morning song, And see great clouds black and long, And hear the drum-sticks of the rain, I know at last I must not play.

FOR THE YOUNG FOLKS.

THE HAY-MOW. When'er I rise at morning song, And see great clouds black and long, And hear the drum-sticks of the rain, I know at last I must not play.

FOR THE YOUNG FOLKS.

THE HAY-MOW. When'er I rise at morning song, And see great clouds black and long, And hear the drum-sticks of the rain, I know at last I must not play.