

LOCAL MATTERS.

Considerably mixed—Independents. Democrats, remember the poisonous "Buckeye"...

The Democrats must go to work, if they expect to succeed. Ah, boys! don't you see the whites of their eyes!

As waste and worthless lands can be made to yield abundantly by proper care and cultivation, so can arid and barren hearts be reclaimed by kind and sympathetic endeavors.

The machinery of the old ferry boat Sophie was shipped last Sunday to be placed in Mr. Givens' new boat, which will be brought down at the earliest practicable day.

Some of the carpet-baggers want of office again. Look out, boys! It is the same old rat with a part of his tail cut off!

Vote the independent ticket, and you drive a spoke in the wheel of National Radicalism, the party which strives to stifle every principle of Southern freedom.

Stand by your colors, boys! Democratic success means development of Southern resources, while that of the Independents will strengthen the bloody shirt Radical party of the North.

"What have you been a doin'?" asked a boy of his playmate, whom he saw coming out of the house with tears in his eyes. "I've been chasin' a birch-rod 'round my father," was the snarling and vindictive reply.

Mr. W. P. McLean, of New Orleans, announces that he is ready to supply sugar planters and levee contractors with workmen. See advertisement in another and address him immediately, if you want hands to take off your crop.

For the quintessence of malignant slander and bitter-misrepresentation, the average Ohio Radical excels the world. And this is the kind of men the Independents are sustaining. Boys, don't go back on the principles which constitute your native manhood!

The boys had a fine time last Tuesday launching a large flat-boat at the upper coal yard. Everything was handsomely managed, and the new flat "sits like a big thing on water," white and life-like, outshining all of its "rivals."

Wm. G. Waller, Esq., to whom we are indebted for files of late Northern papers, has returned from his annual tour, looking the very picture of good health. We take great pleasure in noting the return of this excellent citizen, while we extend thanks for his kind favors.

MATRIMONIAL—A slice of wedding cake, marked "compliments of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Calley," reminded us yesterday that our Lafayette street neighbor had re-entered the holy bonds of matrimony. We extend our cordial thanks for their kind remembrance, and wish the happy couple all the prosperity and happiness they deserve.

Skating at Pike's Hall on Tuesday and Friday evenings, from 7 to 10 1/2 p. m. Tickets of admission must be presented at the door. Ladies wishing to attend will apply for tickets. Gents wishing to become members will apply to committee on membership.

We return thanks to M. Chambers for copies of that sprightly young journal, the New Orleans Sunday Item. It is a very creditable paper, filled with excellent stories and general selections. This new candidate for public favor is devoted especially to the cause of temperance, and while not deficient in this respect, it contains a great deal of matter that is calculated to entertain and instruct every class of readers.

Beattie said in his speech here last Wednesday that he could take a net and throw it out in any direction and would haul up better educated men than two of our Congressmen. "A little learning is a dangerous thing," and Beattie's own silly logic makes him appear a fool. But he ain't. Educated in the Radical camps, he thinks every man an uneducated ass who doesn't follow its corrupt and dishonest teachings. Another such grand idea would burst the bands on Beattie's head and require the immediate use of a scavenger's cart! The independents don't come in here!

Palmer, the depraved colored Baptist minister at this place, who was recently dismissed by his flock for conduct unbecoming a minister, left for Kansas last Sunday, in company with eight or ten sympathizers. We understand that he has announced his intention to carry every one away he can possibly influence. He is welcome to all his viousness. We think it would be a good idea for our people to raise an Exodus Fund and pay their passage to the "happy land of Kansas," where money grows on trees and honey flows from every fountain. Go, ye creatures of ignorance and duplicity, and don't fail to embrace Gov. St. John—lug him warmly for the delicious sweets he will place before you.

COL. CHARLES R. RAITLEY.—During our recent visit to New Orleans we had occasion to meet this genial and wholesome gentleman, whose headquarters are located under the St. James Hotel. Col. Raitley does business as general agent for several distilleries and brands of choice whiskeys. We here take occasion to inform our mercantile friends that they will find it to their advantage to give him a call while they are in the city. We are indebted to the Colonel for many acts of friendly courtesy, which we cannot consider, however, as entirely personal to ourselves, as this accomplished gentleman is justly renowned for the urbanity of his manners towards all those whose good fortune it is to form his acquaintance.

Mr. Gillespie Refuses to Allow the Radicals to Use His Name.

The following dispatch from Gen. J. Floyd King explains itself. It will be remembered that the news of Mr. Gillespie's nomination by the Radical State Convention was received here upon the occasion of the Democratic mass meeting on the 20th of October. In the opening of his speech Gen. King remarked that he would not believe Mr. Gillespie had consented to such a thing until he told him so with his own lips.

The following is the result of the General's interview with that gentleman, and as coincidence would have it, the dispatch came just in time to throw a damper on the enthusiasm of the Radical State nominees as they stepped from the boat last Wednesday morning:

RODNEY, Miss., Oct. 26, 1879. Col. Ed Robertson: Col. Gillespie refuses to allow his name to be put on the Republican ticket for Lieutenant-Governor.

We feel proud of this decision on the part of Col. Gillespie. The South is in no condition to have our people divided on any of the political questions that now exist. In fact the South has but one policy—one actuating principle—and that is to fight the Radicals in whatever shape or form they may appear!

Out with such venomous subtleties! Rally around the standard, and let's carry the dear old South solid for the Democracy! Let none prove recreant to the trust of his home and native soil. Our patriotism demands it, our future greatness demands it, our liberty demands it—the full and free emancipation of the lacerated Southern heart from the despotism of radicalism and its corrupt elements of vice and iniquity.

Orator Greys.

At a meeting held on the 18th of October, the Cadet Grey Base Ball Club was reorganized for the season of 1879-80. The officers elected for the season are as follows: H. Wade, President; W. W. Backe, Vice-President; G. C. Conway, Secretary; J. L. Bourgeois, Treasurer; W. P. Kelly, Captain, and L. P. Conner, Steward.

Since their organization in '76, the Greys have been the acknowledged champions of this portion of the State, having met and defeated in a series of championship games every bona fide Club in and around Baton Rouge. The nine this season is unusually good, and bids fair to sustain the hard earned reputation of the old Club.

On Saturday, October 25th, the Greys met the famous Southerners of Baton Rouge, on the College green; both nines were in capital trim and a good game was the result. The Greys would like to hear from their old friends the Riverides of West Baton Rouge, also from the Eagles and Capitollians. Address all communications to G. C. Conway, Louisiana State University.

At TRICOU'S—On St. Charles street, New Orleans, is where gentlemen go to obtain all such articles as underwear, socks, cravats, handkerchiefs, gloves, umbrellas, perfume and every other article in the line of gent's furnishing goods. In the matter of fine and well-fitting shirts, which he makes a specialty, one cannot fail to obtain perfect satisfaction. Mr. Tricou has been engaged in that business on the same street for thirty years, and is justly renowned for his knowledge of the wants of his customers and his upright manner of conducting sales. His stock is selected with the greatest care, and never fails to give entire satisfaction, both in price and quality. The celebrated Wheeler & Alling's shirt among others is constantly kept by this house, and is now quoted at $1.50. It is a highly finished shirt, and can be had of all styles, either open front or back, with or without cuffs. To call once at Tricou's is to become a regular customer.

IG. BLUMENSON & Co.—Right opposite the St. Charles Hotel, New Orleans, is where this extensive clothing house and manufactory is located. It is a sight, indeed, to view the piles of clothing of every description that greet the eye on all sides. All styles and classes of clothing are always kept on hand in the greatest profusion. Tailors are constantly employed to ensure a perfect fit to the customer, who cannot fail to be pleased with the low prices established by this house, as well as by the accommodating and very polite manners of the proprietor and employees. This clothing establishment is an old and tried institution and possesses a regular and constantly increasing custom. As it is found impossible to do better anywhere, persons become habituated to get all they need at Blumenenson's. Our readers will find it to their advantage to give this establishment a call when in the city. See their advertisement in another column.

Beattie said in his speech here last Wednesday that the old Constitution suited him. Of course it does, the old constitution helped the Radicals steal sixty millions of dollars from the people of Louisiana—and Beattie is a chip of that old Radical block! And furthermore, Democrats, he endorses the independents! Tear off the mask!

A bald-headed professor, reproving a youth for the exercise of his fists, said: "We fight with our heads at this college." The young man reflected a few moments and then replied: "Ah, I see; and you butted all your hair off!"

Ohio, Cincinnati, the Radical party and the Independents!

MARGARET HAUGHERY & Co.—In another column will be found the advertisement of this mammoth bakery, situated at Nos. 74, 76 and 78, New Levee street, New Orleans.

Everything in the line of navy, pilot and coffeehouse bread, gingerbread, spice and ginger nuts, soda, cream, Boston, butter, picnic, water, milk, oyster and fancy crackers and biscuits of all description. Cracknels, ginger and lemon snaps, sugar cakes, lemon, sugar and extra fancy crackers, assorted cakes and jumbles, tea, lemon, cream and strawberry biscuit, and, in fact, the most complete line of such goods that can be found in any one establishment of this kind. It has always been conceded that the bakeries of the Crescent City manufacture the best goods in the United States. Never before, however, has this branch been developed so extensively as recently; this by Margaret Haugbery & Co. It is a sight worth seeing to go through the several departments of this bakery. The firm wields a large capital and means to retain for New Orleans a trade that the Western bakeries have been monopolizing in great measure in certain portions of this and other States.

A comparison in the quality of the goods manufactured will beyond question effect this object, and we have no doubt that consumers will readily note the difference and give the Haugbery manufacture a decided preference. The firm is noted for its liberal manner of doing business, and all those who believe in home enterprise, especially when it affords such superior advantages as in this case, will not fail to sustain it. We invite our dealers to call and see for themselves at their earliest opportunity. We will not attempt to speak further at present about this firm, whose reputation is proverbial in the Crescent City.

THE ST. JAMES HOTEL.—This popular establishment has been re-opened lately under the management of Messrs. Leake & Carraher. Everything about the place looks inviting. The rooms are spacious and comfortable and the table is supplied with all the luxuries that the market affords. This hotel is frequented largely by the best class of our planters and is becoming more and more a favorite resort. One of the proprietors Mr. Leake, formerly of Bayou Sara, is so well known in this section that it is but sufficient to mention the fact that he is connected with the hotel, to satisfy the public that the St. James is the place to stop at. The terms are $2.50 per day with special rates by the week. See advertisement.

LAGAN & MACKISON.—At Nos. 6 and 8 Common street, New Orleans, is where this well known firm is established. Everything in the line of plantation and other hardware is kept in store. Pipes, Telegraph and other wire, agricultural and mechanical implements, machinery or parts of machinery, cordage and ship chandlery, etc. A large force of skilled artisans is constantly employed in manufacturing steam trains, boilers, engines and all other machinery needed by sugar and cotton planters. These gentlemen are noted for the low figures they place on their goods and work, and their liberal and accommodating way of conducting their extensive business. They are ready to send out competent workmen at any time to put up the machinery they sell. We take very great pleasure in calling attention to their advertisement in another column. Our esteemed friend Mr. Lagan the senior of the firm, a gentleman whose name is one of the most popular throughout the State, is at all times present, to see that orders receive prompt attention. Call and see them.

CAPTAIN JOHN H. RARESHIDE is located at No. 60 Magazine street, where he does an extensive business as Commission Merchant and Manufacturers' agent, in the line of whiskeys and liquors. He is agent for several of the finest distilleries and houses in the country, among others the celebrated Hannis distilling Company of Philadelphia, whose ACME whiskey is a wonder in itself. Despite the efforts of Temperance Societies and Crusaders, people will drink whiskey. If it must be so, then give them a good article; that same ACME brand that we sampled at Capt. Rarehide's, for instance. We'll swear by it, if it's necessary. Our dealers and others will do well to call on this very clever and straight forward merchant whose card appears in another column.

L. C. ARMY.—We take pleasure in calling the attention of our readers to the advertisement of this house, which will be found in another column. Mr. Army is renowned for the excellence of the goods that he keeps. All such articles as lager beer, Philadelphia ales and porters, Northern cider, ginger ale, lemonade and other mineral waters, in bottles, kegs and barrels, etc. He makes a specialty of William Massey & Co.'s famous Philadelphia draft ale. Dealers will find it to their advantage to give this house their patronage, as all these articles are put up in the most convenient form and in quantities to suit. Mr. James Roberts, a Baton Rougean, holds forth there and is always on hand to attend to all orders. A visit to this establishment, which is situated at Nos. 26, 28 and 30 Bienville street, will satisfy our dealers and consumers that it will pay them to buy right there.

D. H. HOLMES & Co.—While in the city this week we had occasion to call at the magnificent Canal street emporium, where we had the pleasure of meeting that gallant Confederate soldier, Major E. D. Willett, of the First Louisiana Infantry, of the Army of Northern Virginia, who has returned to the Crescent City. He is a member of this sterling firm, one that is in existence for upwards of thirty-five years. The store has three entrances, one on Canal, one on Bourbon and the other on Dauphine street; the latter being the entrance leading to the ladies' cloak room and dress-making department, where are employed a large number of the most skilled milliners and dress-makers. The house of D. H. Holmes & Co., is one of the attractions of New Orleans, and cannot be surpassed anywhere in completeness of appointments, and in the varied and rich stock of goods it contains. A purchase from this house is in itself a guarantee of the superiority of the articles obtained.

THE undersigned begs leave to announce to his friends and the public that he has opened a RESTAURANT and OYSTER SALOON, Corner of Lafayette and Main streets, opposite Clay's drug store, where the choice of WINES, together with every delicacy in its season to be found here or from New Orleans markets. THE HOTEL, above the Restaurant, having been thoroughly repaired and renovated, is now open for guests. ALEXANDRE GROUCHY, Proprietor.

WHAT WAS IT YOU SAID? Sent your Job Printing to New York, when the Capitolian is so well prepared to do it at about the same rates. Such a system of business will recoil against you and impede the prosperity of your little city.

Charter Perpetual.
