UP AND AT THEM!

From every portion of the parish news of the most encouraging nature are coming in. The loyal citizens, who have at heart the preservation of public morals and the good name of the community with which their all identified, are joining hands with each other with the determination of punishing through overwhelming defeat the men who have allied themselves with the disreputable banners of the Radical party.

At a time when every true man feels that the public welfare demands of him that everything should be done to sustain the Democratic party of our State, in its efforts to establish on a permanent basis a government under a new Constitution which will beyond question place Louisiana on the high road to prosperity and contentment, a mere handful of disappointed office hunters, have lent themselves to a bargain that ensures a large vote in our parish for the contemptible renegade, Beattie, a man who is lending his name to be used as a tool for rallying as many of the fragments of the Radical Party as can be brought together while the shameless schemer acts with the full knowledge that his election is impossible, and plays the part assigned to him for a price to be paid him hereafter in the shape of a Federal appointment.

And we have men amongst us who have consented to organize hundreds of votes for him, against the nominee of a Convention composed of the best citizens of our State, provided those same votes are given to place them in the positions they seek to obtain at any and all cost.

To give such men any aid or countenance, is to wilfully and deliberately assist in demoralizing the people, and establish the precedent that would inevitably be followed in the future, that nothing is improper for one to do whose sole political preference. The men who would drag themselves most in the cesspools of society would become our law makers, and the officials who would administer the government under which it is expected our people should live happily.

Shall we re-introduce the dry-rot in our body politic, and instead of endeavoring to elevate our morals, shall we go back to the accursed chaos and reign of corruption that has stained with shame and dishonor the proud history of Louisiana!

We feel that such a calamity will not befall us. From day to day, our good people are viewing the situation in its true light, and they are becoming impressed with the determination to stamp out forever such reprehensible means of acquiring public offices.

Ere the second of December rolls around, we feel confident that all right thinking citizens, without regard to past political affiliations, will make the strongest rally that has ever been seen in this parish, to sweep out of sight this hermaphrodite or Independent cabal.

JAS. H. COSGROVE.—The Democracy of Natchitoches have nominated our esteemed friend Cosgrove as one of their Representatives to the next General Assembly. Everybody in the State knows his Findicator, and how fearlessly he has waved the Democratic banner for the redemption of Louisiana. A straight out unflinching party man though he is, there is nothing contracted or narrow about his views. He will do honor to his parish and to the House of Representatives, while his many friends will be confirmed in their opinion that he is "true blue" and a prince among good fellows. If a CAPITOLIAN double-breasted expression of our best wishes can bring back any pleasant reminiscences of by gone days, let them "gravitate" towards and reach him as they occur to us while we pen these lines. Take them unto your heart Cosgrove!

TO OUR COLORED FRIENDS.

ACTS BETTER THAN PROMISES.

For the benefit of our colored voters we re-publish below the proceedings of a Republican mass meeting held in Plaquemine, Iberville parish, bearing evidence to the fact that it was through Democratic votes that their rights were secured in the new Constitution. We are proud to say that we stood in the front rank of the advocates of universal suffrage, in thus representing the fundamental principle of Democracy, and in fulfillment of the utterances we had made on this question, prior to our election as one of the delegates from this parish to the Convention.

We do not think that a stronger proof can be given our colored citizens, that the Democratic party means to protect them in their rights than the acts performed by its Representatives.

It remains to be seen whether the promises of the Independent office seekers, will be so effective as to prevent our colored citizens from manifesting their approval of Democratic Justice, and cause them to cast their ballots for a set of men who hold no claim other than they have been unable to obtain nominations at the hands of their party.

W believe that such will not be their course, and that on the 2d of December, they will support Democratic candidates, thus ratifying the sentiments expressed by their Republican friends of the parish of Iberville.

A WELCOME HOME.

Editor of the Baton Rouge Capitolian.—According to previous notice a grand mass meeting was held on Saturday, last the 26th inst., at the Court House, at Plaquemine, parish of Iberville, to receive the Representatives from the Constitutional Convention and to obtain from them an account of their proceedings.

The following resolutions were passed unanimously: Resolved—That the citizens of the parish of Iberville and West Baton Rouge, in mass meeting assembled, on this 26th day of July 1879. That they heartily welcome back their Representatives, Messrs. T. T. Albin, J. Shelby Davidson and Col. John A. Stevenson, with the scriptural language, "well done, good and faithful servants."

Resolved—That we congratulate our Representatives, Messrs. Albin, Davidson and Stevenson, and the other twenty-six Republican delegates of the Convention, who remained at their post to the last, for their firmness in uniformly insisting upon unrestricted suffrage, and we tender our sincere thanks to the nine Democratic delegates, and especially to Hon. Felix P. Poche, of St. James, Hon. H. M. Favrot, of West Baton Rouge, Gen. Andrew S. Herron and Mayor Leon Jastremski, of Baton Rouge, for their particular championship of universal suffrage, and who voted with them so as to secure us in our rights.

Resolved—That we pledge ourselves to support the new Constitution in its entirety, with the exception of the part relating to the State debt, wherein our Representatives on signing the Constitution, reserve the right of rejecting ordinance No. 439, which is to be submitted separately to the people.

Attest: JOHN PRESTON, President. CHAS. A. ROXBOROUGH, Secretary.

HON. LOUIS A. WILTZ.

A base falsehood is being circulated through this parish by some of the canvassers of the Hermaphrodite ticket with a view of injuring Gov. Wiltz candidly, to the effect that while the renegade Beattie was such a valiant Confederate, Mr. Wiltz was nothing but a deserter in the army. On the best authority we pronounce this statement an unmitigated slander, one that is befitting the source from whence it originated.

Our standard-bearer, the Hon. Louis A. Wiltz was born in New Orleans in January, 1843, and was educated in the public schools of that city. At the age of eighteen, he joined the Confederate army at the beginning of the war, rising soon to the rank of Captain, in which capacity he served until his close, during which period, on many occasions, he exhibited the gallantry of a true Louisiana.

Died at his home in Minden, La., Nov. 5th, 1879, GEORGE W. TOMPKINS. Those sad words in the Minden Democrat convey the intelligence that another of North Louisiana's truest sons has gone to that "bourne from whence no traveler returns." In the days when men's patriotism was subjected to the severest tests, Mr. Tompkins wielded his virile pen and raised his voice with a force that placed him in the front rank of the defenders of the honor and the liberties of his native State. May his memory be entwined in bougls that are "ever fresh and green," is the heartfelt wish of the CAPITOLIAN.

We imagine that none of the Independent fraternity will boast of their connection with the delectable association of East Baton Rouge, when mingling with their fellow-citizens of other parishes. They'll never brag about that record.

THE PRESIDENT OF THE BEATTIE MEETING.

Believing that it would be of interest to the people at this time, to show by whom Taylor Beattie is championed in East Baton Rouge, it is eminent proper that the Honorable(?) President of the meeting organized to receive the renegade Louisiana, should be mentioned first.

We will content ourself by copying the following extract taken from the petition presented to the United States Circuit Court, by United States Attorney, J. R. Beckwith:

"Petitioners aver that the said Chapman (John S.) has altogether failed to comply with the stipulations and conditions of said bond, and particularly in this: that he has not faithfully accounted for and paid over to the United States, as he was required by law to do, all public moneys which came into his possession as Collector aforesaid; and further they aver that the accounts of the said Chapman as Collector (U. S. Revenue) were duly adjusted by the proper accounting officers of the Treasury Department on the 3d of November, 1871, and a balance of fifty-nine thousand five hundred and forty-two dollars and 18 cents was found to be due to them by the said Chapman, all of which with items, dates, amounts, etc., are fully detailed and set forth in the copy of the statement of said accounts hereto annexed as part of this petition, which said sum is still due and unpaid."

(Signed) J. R. BECKWITH, U. S. Attorney.

Following the above we deem comment entirely superfluous.

BEATTIE THROWS UP THE SPONGE.

The telegraph announces the fact that the renegade has become satisfied after his tour through a portion of North Louisiana, that his "cake is all dough." He has abandoned the canvass and started for New Orleans, to await the coming of the returns which will show him by what a large majority he has been overwhelmed. He'll get his Federal appointment though, that's all he was after. Outside of eight or ten parishes, the majorities will be piled up on him mountain high.

The St. Helena Democracy, have reason to congratulate themselves in having a sprightly and well conducted exponent. At Greensburg, our neighbors have the Gazette, a new weekly, which promises to become one of the most popular journals in the Florida parishes. We extend its editor our brotherly accolade for the manly stand he has taken in his advocacy of the welfare of his parish and State. Give it to them Hazleton, and with gloves off; we are with you heart and soul.

Our Democratic friends throughout the State will understand that if the majority for Gov. Wiltz is not as large as it ought to be in this parish, the failure can alone be charged up to our Independents, who have organized the Republican party, for the purpose of getting votes for themselves, to the utter disregard of the duty we owe to ourselves and the State. The Democrats of East Baton Rouge, are however at their posts fighting the common enemy with a determination unsurpassed in previous years.

The East Baton Rougeans who will have shown their loyalty to the Democracy, will have reason to say that they were not found wanting when the trying hour came. To their hearts can they take:

Trust to luck, trust to luck, Stars Fate in the face, Save your heart will be beg, If it's only in the right place.

Like the Shakespearean ghost, the main figure of "Long John," the Gaine carpet-bagger will haunt some of them in the "Sweet-by-and-by," when they put in a bid for office, honors or trusts. A grateful constituency will keep a few sneaks of salt wherein to preserve them as fresh as blooming roses. You are making a record that will stick, boys.

Several papers outside of our parish mention the existence of independent candidates in their midst. Such is the case in West Feliciana. There however, says the Sentinel, they've not resorted to such foul means as to coalesce with the Radicals as in East Baton Rouge. We are sorry indeed to acknowledge that this reproach is but too true.

Gov. Wiltz we are sorry to learn has been seriously ill and is on his way to his home. The labors of the Convention, followed by those of the present canvass were too arduous to be met without overtaxing his indomitable pluck and energy. He will be all right in a few days. The campaign however is being followed up by other distinguished citizens and speakers, and every appointment is being adequately filled. Everywhere the Democrats are alive and full of determination to place Louisiana on the high road to prosperity under the new Constitution.

A St. Petersburg dispatch says the Moscow committee on volunteer cruisers has called a meeting to discuss the ways and means for raising a fresh subscription for the construction of cruisers in view of the state of Russia's relations with England.

The Hermaphrodite ticket next Tuesday week is to be headed as follows: we take into consideration the different shades represented on it: "Independent People's White Man Republican Green-back Democratic give-your-votes and take-your-choice-ticket."

WHEELING INTO LINE.

The following are the proceedings, and accompanying resolutions of the Democratic Canvassers of the "Iron-sides" Fourth Ward. A manly and patriotic spirit animates the loyal Democracy of that section of the Capital parish, the echo of which will be swelled by the declarations of the other wards, supported as they will be by the united action of all those citizens whose first duty it is to promote the interests and sustain the good name of gallant East Baton Rouge:

AMBROSIA, East Baton Rouge, Nov. 17, 1879. By appointment, the Nov. 17th, 1879, at Ambrosia, this 19th day of November, 1879, and organized by electing A. C. Wood, Chairman and W. B. Louder, Secretary.

They passed the following resolution unanimously: Resolved, That we do promise to carry out fully to the letter the duty assigned us; and further promise to use every means in our power to defeat the Independent-Radical party, that promise nothing but high taxation, oppression, and ruin to the country at large.

A. C. WOOD, Chairman. W. B. LOUDER, Secretary.

TEXAS VIA BATON ROUGE.

In its Wednesday issue the New Orleans Democrat, commenting on the sale of the Yicksburg, Shreveport and Texas Railroad, says:

In its completed state it will drain the most important region of Texas and come in competition with the St. Louis lines at a point where it possesses great advantages over them as regards the East and the Atlantic or the Gulf coast. If the future owners of this road should determine to favor New Orleans or even to avoid hostile discrimination, it will become a source of vast profit and advantage to our city as well as to the region through which it passes. If not, our merchants and capitalists will bitterly rue the day they suffered it to fall into untried hands.

Our esteemed contemporary never spoke truer words than the above paragraph contains. The safeguard for New Orleans is plainly before us. The completion of the New Orleans Pacific Railway, starting from Pontchartraine, via Baton Rouge and Alexandria to Shreveport and Marshall. Then, and only then, can the Crescent City feel assured that no combination can deprive its merchants of the important trade that must inevitably otherwise, slip from their grasp. The New Orleans Pacific will be a direct line to your city, friend Democrat, and the other a diverging one. You had better use a few ounces of prevention, else it will require tons to effect a partial cure.

When a boy in Ohio, or somewhere else, Grant drove a milk-wagon. Among his customers was a colored family. As he drove up one day to the domicile of his colored patron he bethought him to have a little fun at the expense of a pickaninny that was making mud-pies in the door-yard, and so addressed it:

"You, Ephraim, take dat chalk out ob yo' eye!" Ephraim's mother happened to be just around the corner of the house hosing the watermelons, and hastening around in front, she almost yelled in her indignation:

"See hah, honey, you hab all you kin 'tend to of you take dat chalk out ob yo' milk!"

It is not paying too high a compliment to the Baton Rouge Capitolian and the Advocate, when we say that, in our estimation, they carry the battle-axes in the present political campaign on this side the Mississippi river, or rather in Eastern Louisiana. We do not say this by way of disparagement to other influential Democratic papers in the State, for they are all doing heroic service for the party, and for the glorious triumph of the ticket in December next. All praise to them.—Greensburg Gazette.

The Democratic Campaign Committee met last night at the office of Alexander & Blanchard and devised plans for the campaign to take immediate effect. If the Radicals think the Democrats are resting in fancied security and allowing things to take a dead athletic course among themselves, then the Reds are woefully stultifying themselves. There will be rousing meetings held all over the parish and Radicalism, whether under the guise of "Independents," or the openly dyed-in-the-wool sort, will be confronted and annihilated wherever it shows its dirty front. We are not going to let Caddo relapse into the dismal days of Republican rapine. Not much.—Shreveport Standard.

A local revolution occurred in Chihuahua against the State government. The pronunciados have occupied the capital and captured the Governor, with all the State officials. General Trevino, at the head of the necessary forces, has left Zacallias, and is marching on Chihuahua to put down the rebellion.

"That kind of talk will drive us into the Republican party," someone of 'em say. Don't, oh! don't, you please! Stay—as you are. Barmum wants you for his side show, adjoining the big tent. You'll go between the Circassian beauty and the wild man of Borneo!

The good people are anxious to know what's in the bag, and who'll be on that combination ticket election day! Some names are being used in connection with the vacant places on it, the proprietors of which, in justice to themselves, ought to speak out in unmistakable terms—else silence will be construed for consent! Don't all speak at once!

Our colored folks compare the Independent Republican concern to an illegitimate child.—"His a conglomeration of a white Republican and a Democratic daddy and mammy."

One song to the Democrats, and another to the Republicans, both on the same subject, is the music that the Hermaphrodites are giving us at this time. Those buckets are bound to leak on election day.

ELIZA PINKSTON. CANTON, Miss., Nov. 17.—The notorious Eliza Pinkston is now in our county jail, having been arrested and confined there on Saturday last under the suspicion of killing her late husband, Weyland Prichard, colored. The deceased came to his death very suddenly on the morning of the fifteenth, at Calhoun, eight miles south of this place. He and Eliza had been married about two years, and for some months past have lived very unhappily together, frequently quarreling. They quarreled about two weeks ago, and since that time have lived apart. She sought him on Friday last and they quarreled again. The jury of inquest are still in session over the case, and have not made their report as yet. All the circumstances point to Eliza as the author of her late husband's death.

THE COLORED PEOPLE TURN OUT IN FORCE.

NATCHITOCHEES, Nov. 17.—The grandest Democratic outpouring ever seen here was that of to-day. Fully 5000 people covered the grounds, and the speaking elicited the greatest enthusiasm. The colored people were out in large numbers, fully one-half of the crowd being negroes. Gov. McEnery, Colonels Ogden, Eagar, Levy, Jack and others were the orators. McEnery was happy in his remarks, and Ogden opened in a speech which was unequalled anywhere. The whites and blacks are rallying to the ticket, and Natchitoches will give a solid vote in December for Wiltz and his ticket.

LARGE AUDIENCE AT PLEASANT HILL.

PLEASANT HILL, Nov. 17.—A number of the canvassing party reached here Saturday, and addressed a large audience which had assembled from the plantations and farms in the neighborhood to hear them. Messrs. Cunningham, of Natchitoches, and Marston, of Red river, who are candidates for the Senate in this district, made speeches. The other orators of the occasion were Mr. Logan and Gov. McEnery. The audience was cheerful, appreciative and enthusiastic, and pledged DeSoto for a larger majority for the State ticket than she has ever yet given.

BEATTIE GIVES UP THE CANVASS IN NORTH LOUISIANA AND LEAVES FOR NEW ORLEANS.

SHREVEPORT, Nov. 17.—Taylor Beattie spoke here on Saturday during the day and at night. He had a fair audience of negroes. They congratulated here every Saturday in large numbers to be paid off for cotton picking during the week. There were no more here on that day than for every Saturday for the past six weeks. To such a crowd as this— which came to town to be paid off, not to hear Republican speeches—Beattie spoke. With the exception of three or four white Republicans, the few whites present were Democrats, who attended through curiosity merely. The meeting at night was about the same as in the day, and the audience about half as large as that which attended the Wiltz night meeting. Beattie left here Sunday morning for Marshall, Tex., on his way to New Orleans. He has given up the canvass in this part of the State. Indeed, he is reported to have said in his speech here that he had not hope of being elected. He came alone and went away alone. News from Mansfield and Conshatta report large and enthusiastic Wiltz meetings at those points. I think you may rely upon every parish in North Louisiana rolling up a large majority for the State ticket and the new Constitution.

LATER.

Mansfield, Nov. 17, via Shreveport, Nov. 18.—Friday last was a gala day in Mansfield. The people of the parish turned out en masse, all business was suspended, and amid the strains of martial music and the plaudits of the enthusiastic multitude, the speakers appeared. Gov. John McEnery and Major J. C. Moncreu, of the State canvassers, delivered soul-stirring addresses. Hon. M. J. Cunningham and B. W. Marston, Esq., candidates for the Senate from this district, were present and made effective speeches. Old De Soto is in line, and at the ensuing election will sustain her past record.

NORTH EASTMAN, Mass., Nov. 17.—The first message hence over the new French cable was sent by Mr. D. H. Bates, president of the American Union Telegraph Company, to the president of the cable company at Paris, congratulating the latter upon the rapid construction and successful landing of the cable.

RICHMOND, Nov. 18.—The Richmond Light Infantry Blues, whose organization dates back to 1793, held a meeting last night and decided to participate in the unveiling ceremonies of the Thomas statue at Washington.

SACKETTS HARBOR, N. Y., Nov. 18.—The steam tug Seymour left Cape Vincent yesterday at noon, with a tow consisting of three dredges, two derricks and seven scows. They had fine weather until after passing Gallop Islands off Sacketts harbor, when a gale from the northeast, with a heavy snow storm, set in. The tug and tow went within six miles of Oswego when they lost their lights. The tug turned around and endeavored to hold the fleet until daylight, but the fleet broke away and was lost with all hands, except six who were rescued by the tug. Thirty-one persons, including three women and one girl, were drowned. The fleet is a total loss.

RALPHIGH, Nov. 13.—The Colored People's Industrial Fair was formerly opened yesterday, and was followed by J. E. O'Hara and Col. Elliot, of South Carolina. A colored man speaks tomorrow. It has been raining all day, but the fair is crowded. Eight military companies and five companies composed the procession escorting the Governor to the grounds.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 18.—There was a general movement among the steamers in the Ohio river yesterday, preparing for a rise in the river, which is beginning at Pittsburg. A New Orleans packet expects to get away Thursday.

AGUSTA, Nov. 19.—The heaviest fall of snow in years occurred here to-day, the snow falling for over three hours steadily. The storm seemed to be general in this section.

CARLEISLE, Pa., Nov. 19.—The jury in the case of Mrs. Catharine Sell, charged with poisoning Mrs. Kiehl, brought in a verdict of murder in the first degree.

A disastrous fire occurred in Alexandria last Monday. According to the Democrat, twenty-five thousand dollars worth of property was destroyed.
