

A ROMANCE IN THE ROYAL FAMILY.

The two themes dearest to romance from the earliest dawn of literature have been the triumph of love over conventional obstacles, and the devotion of a noble daughter to some aged father, deserted by others in his declining years.

The Princess Frederica was daughter of the ex-king George V., of Hanover, who was despoiled of his dominions and autocratically persecuted by the power of imperial Germany.

After the committee on credentials had brought in their report, Syphax gained the floor. This he did by popping up from his seat a number of times and beckoning to the chairman.

"I thank you, I thank you kindly, Mr. Chairman. Am I in order though, Mr. Chairman?"

"Yes, sir, if you are going to speak to the report of the committee."

"I thank you, I thank you. Well I was going to say that I wanted to talk about this little piece of paper."

"Now, if any of these gentlemen don't want to hear me, I will sit down."

"I am from Alexandria. Everybody knows me. I came here to tell you all what I know, and I've got something very interesting to say, I think, I am going to speak about this little piece of paper—about myself."

"In the name of God, Syphax, if you have got anything to say, say it and be done with it."

"At this rebuke, Syphax stated very briefly that the committee on credentials had reported against him, for which he was very sorry, as he had hoped to give the convention the benefit of some of his sentiments."

"The girl that wants elbow room around the house is perfectly easy when seated with her young man in a buggy so narrow that a sheet of paper would crowd them apart if it was inserted between them."

AN INCIDENT OF THE STAUNTON CONVENTION.

SKETCH OF SYPHAX, OF ALEXANDRIA, THE COLORED CHESTERFIELD.

Correspondent Richmond Commercial.

Syphax's seat was contested, and, as was afterwards shown, on good grounds, but he was determined to make a speech before the convention.

"After the committee on credentials had brought in their report, Syphax gained the floor. This he did by popping up from his seat a number of times and beckoning to the chairman."

"I thank you, I thank you kindly, Mr. Chairman. Am I in order though, Mr. Chairman?"

"Yes, sir, if you are going to speak to the report of the committee."

"I am going to speak about this slip of paper," holding up a list of the delegates. "I am going to speak about myself. Am I in order?"

"Yes, sir, if you have any objections to make to the report," replied Peter Carter who was getting irritated at the smiling, bowing Syphax.

"Now, if I ain't in order, I don't want to go on. I'll take my seat, Mr. Chairman, if I ain't strictly according to order."

"The gentleman in order," replied Peter Carter. "The gentleman in order."

"I thank you, I thank you. Well I was going to say that I wanted to talk about this little piece of paper."

"Now, if any of these gentlemen don't want to hear me, I will sit down."

"I am from Alexandria. Everybody knows me. I came here to tell you all what I know, and I've got something very interesting to say, I think, I am going to speak about this little piece of paper—about myself."

"In the name of God, Syphax, if you have got anything to say, say it and be done with it."

"At this rebuke, Syphax stated very briefly that the committee on credentials had reported against him, for which he was very sorry, as he had hoped to give the convention the benefit of some of his sentiments."

"The girl that wants elbow room around the house is perfectly easy when seated with her young man in a buggy so narrow that a sheet of paper would crowd them apart if it was inserted between them."

A Massachusetts doctor charged a woman seventy-five dollars for curing an ingrowing toe nail. She refused payment and stood a suit, but when the jury saw her foot they allowed him eighty dollars for the job.

SANDER & SONS' EXTRACT (ESSENCE)

THE PURE VOLATILE PARTICLES OF THE LEAVES OF THE AUSTRALIAN GUM TREE, "THE EUCALYPTUS GLOBULUS," and the only protection against contagion in cases of Yellow Typhoid and other fevers.

Do not wait until that terrible foe, Yellow Fever, appears in your midst, but protect yourself and family by using SANDER & SONS' EXTRACT. It is an odorant, and when fever has already set in take internally four to six drops in a spoonful of water once a day, and apply it externally freely to the region of the bowels. It is the only remedy that can be relied on.

CERTIFICATE. SANDER & SONS' (Australia) March 18, 1878. I have been investigating Messrs. Sander & Sons' Eucalyptus Extract, and have to admit that there is, beside its no medicinal, of such universal effect on the human system that I know of, it checks completely all inflammations of whatever kind—chest, lung and all throat affections, Croup, Whooping Cough, Diphtheria, It cures Rheumatism, Toothache, Neuralgia, also severe Colic, etc. I used it with unparalleled success in Swellings, Bruises, Sprains, Burns, Wounds of the most serious nature, in all disorders of the Bowels, Diarrhea, etc., and gladly acknowledge its merits for the benefit of the public.

Dr. Mosler, Professor at the University of Griefswald, Germany, reports astonishing cures of Diphtheria, Asthma, (Berliner Klinische Wochenschrift, Nov. 21, 1879, 4th year office).

The extract effected cures of Typhoid Fever, Inflammation of Bronchi and Swelling of Legs, after confinement, Dysentery, Spasms, Inflamed Eyes, etc. Dr. CRUCKSHANK.

System of deodorization made before M. OOH, Esq., J. P. at Smallhills, October, 1877.

The son of Mr. Raabe will marry with an excellent knowledge of the English language, and is willing to be employed in any situation. He is a native of Prussia, and speaks German, French, and English. He is a native of Prussia, and speaks German, French, and English. He is a native of Prussia, and speaks German, French, and English.

There are some preparations of the gum resin in the trade without any value as a medicine. They may easily be discerned, as they turn milky, on account of the inferior nature of the material, when mixed with spirits of wine. We are the only existing manufacturers of the pure Extract (essence) of the leaves of the Australian gum tree. Therefore, ask for Sander & Sons' Extract, and insist upon getting it. (Jan 17 '80)
