

RESISTING ARREST. FATAL RESULT.

Circuit Court has adjourned. We are indebted to Capt. Philip Burg, for recent courtesies.

The commencement exercises of Readville Seminary will occur on the evening of the 28th inst. This will be an interesting occasion, and will attract an appreciative audience.

A considerable portion of our space is taken up to-day by the Tax-Collector's sales. The attention of all concerned is directed to the matter.

Mr. George Collins, the efficient manager of St. Clair Plantation, advertises in this issue for sealed proposals to build a warehouse and stable.

We are requested by the Sisters to state that the exhibition of St. Joseph's School for boys will take place next Thursday, June 16th, at 7 o'clock, P. M.

We returns to our friend, G. B. Enoch, who is on a tour north, for a late file of New York papers. He calls our attention to an article in the Herald on the subject of "The New South," which we shall in future endeavor to place before our readers.

The Police Jury of Pointe Coupee parish at its last meeting discussed the question of sending two beneficiary cadets to the State University at this place.

We return thanks to the C. M. B. and A. Association for an invitation to attend their grand entertainment on Saturday, July 9th.

For several weeks the Israelites of our city have allowed the Baptists, who have no house of worship, the free use of their synagogue.

Mr. Meynier, the genial editor of the Country Visitor, published in New Orleans, was in Baton Rouge last Saturday, during which time he favored the CAPITOLIAN with several calls.

Our State House Commissioners are men of business. As an offset to "a little corner on the State House warrants," they deposited the warrants as collateral for money necessary to complete the Capitol.

The Railroad Expropriations—The suits for damages against the N. O. Pacific, in West Baton Rouge, have fallen to the ground, the jury having reduced the claims to an equitable figure.

The total eclipse of the moon came off precisely according to astronomical announcement, to which many of our people gave due observance.

We are deeply grieved to have to record the death, on Sunday last, of Mrs. Sydney Angela Pope, wife of our esteemed friend, Dr. Marshall Pope.

Last Sunday afternoon an unfortunate affair occurred on Dr. Hugnet's plantation, on the Highlands below this city. Capt. J. W. Bates, as will be seen below, discovered that one Allen Phillips, colored, a prisoner who was sentenced by our District Court for burglary and larceny and who had escaped with other jail birds from the parish jail in 1876, while Mr. O. H. Foreman was sheriff, had returned to his "native roost" in this parish.

During the forenoon of Sunday Allen Phillips was at the stoop of Mr. John Wax in the southern limits of the town, and getting under the influence of liquor, allowed his dangerous passions to get the better of his judgment.

These facts coming to the ears of Chief T. B. Hillen, with others, he was convinced of the identity of the negro, and informed Sheriff Bates of the circumstances, who took immediate steps to effect an arrest.

Upon reaching the house of Alex Phillips, the officers found both of them seated near the house in evident conversation. They at once resisted arrest.

The wounds of the two men are not considered fatal by Dr. Duchain who visited them in company with Sheriff Bates yesterday, if they receive the proper care and attention, and the sheriff has already taken steps to this end.

Since the above occurrence sheriff Bates has ascertained the fact that Allen Phillips, the prisoner came near beating a white man to death at Plaquemine, some months ago, and made his escape.

Altogether, the officers were fully justified in what they did; at least a feeling of relief pervades the colored community which has been annoyed by these desperadoes.

Tricky Thermometer.

It was an act of downright cruelty that Mr. Joseph Languier perpetrated on both Uncle Harry of the Sugar Planter and our humble self. He had heard us talk about the days being hot and the nights very cool. That was enough to make him think that our printing offices were like red hot ovens and our riverside cottages moderately so.

On last Saturday, Uncle Harry squealed with anguish through the columns of his paper. It had happened that he was seen running out to Tony Barrow's yelling "133 in the shade!"

"If that thermometer be right," said our devil, "this crowd don't care for hell and it can swim across a Mississippi river full of red-hot volcanic lava."

some experience. I am the original discoverer of the richest mine around Leadville. Yes, I am the very man, though you wouldn't think it to see these old clothes.

"Then you don't own it now?" "Not a bit of it. I'll explain. I was poking around on the hills and found signs. I collected some specimens for assay; staked off a claim and went off to the assayers'.

"How?" "Why, a gang of sharpers had found the spec and built up a pole shanty, and hung out a sign of First Baptist Church over the door. True as shooting they had, and the law out there is no man can sink a shaft within 200 feet of a church building.

"Was there any particular way to take them?" "You bet there was! I ought to have opened on that revival with a Winchester rifle and given the corner fifty dollars for a verdict that they come to their death from too much religion."

"Where are you from, my good man?" asked his Honor, kindly. "Reno," replied the man, reluctantly.

"Reno," replied the man, reluctantly. The Court was buried in thought, and then, leaning over the desk, said: "Sheriff, release the prisoner. A man from Reno, who would decline to take a red-hot stove when he had such a good show is not, in my opinion, wholly bad.

"Do not think me wholly depraved, your Honor" said the prisoner with the tears starting in his eyes. "I left a fine red-hot stove, worth at least twenty-five dollars."
