See Joshua Beal's new advertisements.

The excursion to Donaldsonville, via the N. O. Pacific, was composed of about seventy-five persons from this city, who came back in the evening, on schedule time, thoroughly satisfied with their trip.

A meeting of the City Council has been called for Thursday evening, at 4 o'clock, at which time Col. Wheelock is expected to attend to confer with the members regarding the matter of a landing for the transfer boat of the N. O. Pacific R. R., and the establishment of depots, etc.

Our young friend Willie Gesell, is again on his quarter-deck, at his store corner of Florida and Third, with a fine stock of stoves, tin-ware, &c., which he will sell cheap for cash. He is ready to attend to all work in his line, with promptness. Go and interview him.

Mike Chambers, is coming to the front with a new assortment of books, stationery, periodicals, etc., and will continue to receive additional supplies of stock during the ensuing business season. See his advertisements, go to his popular store and be convinced that we are not "pulling" simply.

An excursion of the colored people went down on Sunday to Donaldsonville, in force, aboard the Carl Shurz, accompanied by a brass band. They reached their destination at 3 P. M., and arrived home on the return at 7 A. M., on Monday. They doubtless had a gay time on the trip up.

CONFEDERATE MEMORIAL ASSOCIATION.—A meeting of this organization has been called for Thursday next, September 1st, at 4 P. M., at the hall of the French Society, to take under consideration matters of great importance to the Association and the objects it has in view. A full attendance is earnestly requested by the President.

SIDEWALKS.—We are glad to see that some of our citizens have taken time by the forelock by having their sidewalks repaired. Among these are Mrs. Burden and Mr. Andrew Jackson. We would advise property holders to imitate their public spirited example, before the city authorities are forced in the interest of the general welfare of the community to enforce the very strict ordinances which the Council will surely adopt at their next meeting regarding this important matter.

Capt. Leathers "Big Injun," the magnificent Natchez, arrived here from New Orleans, on her first trip of the season, at 5 A. M., on Sunday morning. She was welcomed by an artillery salute and the cheers of her assembled admirers, who were awaiting her at the landing. She looked resplendent with her electric lights, which made the river's surface as bright as day. May the gallant steamer and her wholesome commander have a brilliant campaign during the coming season.

CAPITOL GROCERY STORE.—We take pleasure in informing our readers that the grocery store formerly kept by Mr. A. F. Baroyre, corner of Third and Convention, after being thoroughly renovated, has been re-opened under the management of M. Gottlieb, who is putting in an extensive new and fresh stock of choice family and plantation groceries, linens, tobacco, etc., all of which will be sold for cash at the very lowest market prices. Customers will receive the most careful attention when calling at the Capitol Grocery Store.

The Cotton Factory.

The announcement contained in Major James' letter, the substance of which we gave to our readers last week, filled us with pleasure. While the starting of the magnificent machinery that has been laying idle for several years will give employment to a large number of our population, the complaints that have frequently been made against Major James for his apparent neglect will be silenced. We know of the great difficulties that he has had to encounter in past years when every enterprise seemed destined to stupendous failure. We have always admired his indomitable pluck and perseverance against adverse fortune, which great qualities have at last brought him triumphantly "out of the woods," from whence he now issues to fill the great want of Baton Rouge, Southwest Mississippi and Eastern Louisiana, with the long looked for Cotton Factory. The Major has always shown himself a friend of Baton Rouge, whenever called upon to aid in any movement that might result to her advantage. We feel assured that his efforts have been appreciated by those who have had occasion to witness them and that he will be heartily sustained in the enterprise which he is about to lead to unquestionable success.

TO BE DRAINED AT LAST.

Goose Hollow and Catfishtown.

We are happy to announce to the long suffering residents of Goose Hollow and Catfishtown, that the Special Committee of the City Council, met on Monday, at the State House, at the office of R. H. Burke, Esq., and that they finally adopted a comprehensive and practical plan to effectively drain the lower portion of the city, a work that has never up to the last year or two received the attention which the necessities of the people demanded.

The idea is to construct a lasting and substantial wooden flume or conduit that will traverse the levee at the foot of South Boulevard, and extend to the river's edge, in order to prevent the bank from washing. Canals of sufficient capacity are to be dug which will bring the flood water to this escape which is to have a width of some 12 feet. This system is to be operated during low water.

When it is considered that it is only on exceptional years that the river rises sufficiently to compel the closing of such an outlet, it will readily be seen that a great step towards the permanent relief of the section named is about to be taken.

The amount necessary to accomplish the work described is provided for in the appropriations of the present year.

The Committee and the Council intend to make assurance doubly sure, by making provision in the Budget of 1882, to purchase and erect a first class draining machine which will be operated when extraordinary high water demands its employment.

The Committee have arrived at these conclusions after mature deliberation and a critical examination of every idea or plan that has been suggested.

The Committee was led to its conclusions by the fact that the drainage system would always be under the control of the city, as the entire work will lie within her limits. No impediment can therefore be set up by any owners or lands situated below the city.

Besides, it is well known that all of the great bulk of water which issues from Goose Hollow and Catfishtown finds its way through the canal of the Wieck plantation, to the Hall's Bottom, where it constantly overflows and renders impassable at times the Highland road, one of the most important approaches to the city.

By diverting this flow of water towards the Mississippi, it is reasonable to suppose that the road above mentioned will be put in a position to be permanently rendered safe for travel.

Messrs. R. H. Burke and Chas. Wieck were appointed a sub-committee to at once purchase lumber and materials and employ competent workmen to carry out the detailed plans we have described.

BATON ROUGE, Aug. 29th, 1881.

Mr. Editor—The great New Orleans papers have each their partisans, but those of the Times, occasionally get a black eye, when they least expect it. The ridiculous alliterative head linings to its telegraphic columns, since the cowardly attack upon the President, causes its friends to turn rapidly to its broad print, incisive and really brilliant editorials for relief, and the keen wit of its Hoffenstein article, and Plabber Gaster papers, cover a little the disgust engendered by the direction and point of its Cocklebur Club proceedings, and yet the evenness of the game—of like and dislike, is totally destroyed by last Sunday's issue.

It is true, the following is an extract from the St. Louis Globe-Democrat one of the late editors of which probably well understands the force and power of "authorities" when they are "confederated" against "crooked" editors, but the Times by slipping it in its columns, endorses the application of the definition:

"Confederate"—By the common usage of our language this word is generally employed in a bad sense. The Psalmist speaks of the foes of Jehovah as "confederate against him." Shakespeare speaks of "vile confederates," of being "confederate with a damned pack," the beast Caliban and his "confederate," and similar instances. Cowper speaks of "hellish foes confederate for his harm." We say that men are confederate for an evil purpose. Seldom do we hear the word used for a good one. The adoption of this word by Southern rebels during the war confirmed its ancient and modern usage. They were "confederate" to uphold a most infernal system by means of the most abominable."

There are some dullards who pass their lives as aliens among a people whose under current of strong feeling they know nothing of. The assertion may strike this class as strange that if in the South there are a few men who are not proud that their grandfathers bought slaves from the ancestors of the Cables of New England, there are none ashamed that their progenitors were rebels in '76 and that they were co-associated with rebel Confederates in '61. To the entire South the word "Confederate" is a sacred one. Its colors are red with the blood of our best and bleached with the tears of those who loved them.

And whilst every one intends to live up to the law, and all are for the Union, we are not a people to forget our past, or pass in silence every gratuitous insult.

In one of his verses, Oscar Wilde alludes to "the barren memory of unkindled kisses." Now some other aesthetic idiot will be howling about the barren memory of undrunk drinks.

STATE NEWS GLEANINGS.

Monroe Bulletin: Monday night between eleven and twelve o'clock, a mob broke into the Sheriff's office, possessed themselves of the jail keys and carried off the bodies of Alex. Wilson and Perry Munson, colored, both confined under charges of murder; the former for killing Reuben Leonard, colored a month ago, and the latter for killing Anderson Mitchell, also colored, on the 17th instant. Wilson had a preliminary examination and had been committed without bail. Munson's examination was fixed for yesterday. The prisoners were hung between town and the Bayou Desiard. Dr. Cage is the only person who saw the mob, and has no idea of its complexion. Some of them were evidently well acquainted with the Sheriff's office as they knew just where to find the keys and what implements were necessary to force the locks. Such proceedings are indefensible and have and are doing the country infinite harm and injury.

Clinton Patriot Democrat: On the 19th inst., at about 11 o'clock, a. m., the alarm of fire was given and it was soon ascertained that the trouble was at the premises of Mrs. M. Harris, in this town. Our citizens made all possible haste to reach the scene of the conflagration, and succeeded after much work, in arresting the flames. The fire originated on the kitchen roof, and was owing to the stove pipe, which had thoughtlessly been run through the roof and left without anything to prevent its setting fire to the shingles. The damage was fortunately slight.

Shreveport Standard: Yesterday, Deputy Sheriff W. H. Wemsley, of Red River parish brought up to this city one Ben Adley, a horse thief, and turned him over to Sheriff Lake for safe keeping, the jail at Coushatta being considered insecure. Sheriff Lake put him behind the bars and we warrant he will be forthcoming when called for.

Shreveport Standard: Yesterday a colored man named Tilman Allison made an affidavit before Justice L. E. Carter charging one Ward Porter with making an assault upon Aleck Kendall with intent to kill him. It seems that both parties (colored) were employed on Mr. Robertson's place across the bayou, and became involved in a quarrel about some cotton baskets, which caused Porter to pick up a piece of scantling and beat Kendall with it. At first it was supposed the wounds were not of a serious nature, and the charge was made as stated above. Late yesterday evening, however, we learned from Dr. A. A. Lyon the wounded man had died from the effects of the wounds he had received. We failed to learn whether the guilty party was arrested or not.

Terrebonne Times: Mr. Francois Viguier has been having a "dove well" put down on his Point Farm plantation on lower Terrebonne, and instead of water has struck gas, which issues from the pipe with considerable force and when lighted burns with a bright light, the flame reaching nearly two feet high. If Mr. Viguier can utilize the gas to light his sugar-house, which stands near by, it will be more valuable than a well of water.

Iberville South: A shooting affair took place in this town on Saturday night last between two colored men named Clark and Jesse Conway, in which the former was shot in the thigh with a pistol ball. Both parties were arrested and locked up in the parish jail.
