A YOUNG LADY'S LIFE SAVED.
 At Panama, Colombia, by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.
 Dr. Chas. H. Utter, a prominent physician, of Panama, Colombia, in a recent letter states:
 "Last March I had as a patient a young lady sixteen years of age, who had a very bad attack of dyssentery. Everything I prescribed for her proved ineffectual and she was growing worse every hour. Her parents were sure she would die. She had become so weak that she could not turn over in bed. What to do at this critical moment was a study for me, but I thought of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and as a last resort prescribed it. The most wonderful result was effected.
 Within eight hours she was feeling much better; inside of three days she was upon her feet and at the end of one week was entirely well."

Man as a Meat-Eater.
 Men lecture on dietetics, and eat what they want. One's head is one thing, and his stomach is another. Even in cases of highly intelligent people the latter has proved itself the superior force on many notable occasions.
 There is a growing conviction that people eat entirely too much meat, yet they continue to eat it.
 While declaring that Americans eat too much meat, Prof. W.
 Gilman Tompson, an authority on dietetics, recently spoke of vegetarianism in an address as follows:
 In regard to an exclusive or almost exclusive vegetable diet for man, the universal experience has been that while it may keep him in apparent health for some time, it eventually results in a loss of strength and general resisting power against disease, which becomes evident after some months, if not before. It is impossible to subsist for any length of time on a diet which does not contain a considerable quantity of nitrogen.
 A purely vegetable diet gradually induces a condition of muscular weakness and languor, with disinclination for either physical or mental work.

ALL WERE TAKEN.
 For years I suffered such untold misery from Bronchitis, writes J. H. Johnson, of Bronchton, Ga. that often I was unable to work. Then when everything else failed, I was wholly cured by Dr. King New Discovery for Consumption. My wife suffered intensely from Asthma, till it cured her and all our experience goes to show it is the best Crop medicine in the world. A trial will convince you it's unrivaled for Throat and Lung diseases.
 Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1.00.

Profitable Poultry.
 "I raise poultry for market" said a farmer to a representative Commercial Poultry, "and don't have any use for pure-bred stock."
 That man was laboring under the very common mistake that the man who breeds poultry for marketing purposes does not need to pay any attention to the kind of stock he keeps. There are several reasons why every poultry breeder should keep purebred stock. The first one is that it is more profitable, because it has been bred to make the best use of the feed it consumes.
 The Asiatic class makes size as well as eggs from the feed given them. The American class makes size and eggs, being of medium size and good layers.
 The nonsetting classes do not make much size, but they make for this in the number of eggs they produce. Scrub stock makes neither size nor eggs enough to yield the best results.
 Another reason is that the breeder who offers for sale a lot of poultry uniform in size and color of skin will get a better price for it than he would for a lot of all sizes and colors, and to get this uniformly he must have pure-bred stock.

Here comes another reason that is not often considered. The man who breeds good standard poultry, no matter how quietly he does this will find that there is a steady demand for such stock for breeding purposes, and this demand will increase as the time goes on.
A CURE FOR CHOLERA INFANTUM.
 "Last May," says Mrs. Curtis Baker, of Bookwiler, Ohio, "an infant child of our neighbor's was suffering from cholera infantum.
 The doctor had given up all hopes of recovery. I took a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to the house, telling them I felt sure it would do good if used according to directions. In two days' time the child had fully recovered, and is now (nearly a year since) a vigorous, healthy girl. I have recommended this Remedy frequently and have never known it to fail in any single instance." For sale by

CORRESPONDENCE SOLICITED

Short Talks On Advertising
 By Charles Austin Bates.

Every advertiser should keep close watch of his daily and weekly sales. He should make a schedule of last year's sales, by days, weeks and months, and enter against it each day's sales for this year, as they are ascertained.
 If he sees on Tuesday that Monday's and Tuesday's sales are going to be less than last year's, he should put a good, strong ad in the Tuesday evening and Wednesday morning papers and keep up the treatment as long as it is needed. The same thing applies where only a weekly paper can be used. That is the rational way to advertise—the way to make it pay. Don't merely occupy your "space." Don't say that you will use three inches double for the year, but make up your mind to beat last year's business, if you have to use twenty inches double.
 Business is as susceptible to good advertising as the human body is to good medicine. You don't say: "Now, I'll spend $50 for doctors' bills and medicine this year, and no more!"—not a bit of it. When you get sick you don't dicker with the doctor at all. You say: "Get me well as quickly as you can," and you take your medicine like a little man without inquiring the cost. It costs something, of course, but it cannot be helped. It doesn't do any good to grumble about it. The question is whether you want to get well or not. That's the way business and advertising should be considered. Don't understand that I mean to advocate unlimited and promiscuous advertising—I do not, any more than I would advise you to fill yourself up with a lot of medicine when you don't need it. Judicious advertising may mean two inches or two pages. It is bad to use too much space, but it is worse to use too little.
