QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY.
Special to the Record.
The Hague, August 30.—Queen Wilhelmina will be twenty-two years old tomorrow and all Holland is preparing to celebrate the birthday anniversary with more than the usual manifestations of joy and tokens of congratulation. For it seems that the love and affection which the Netherlanders have for the little queen increases in geometrical proportion to the unhappiness with which, from all reports the queen has had to bear almost from her wedding day. A royal love match was the characteristic applied to the brilliant marriage ceremony celebrated here on that bright February morning scarcely two years ago, but how far the public was mistaken—and the fair young queen also—has long since been demonstrated.

By Union Associated Press.
Chicago, Ill., August 30.—Attorney General Knox has sent word through J. P. Morgan to the organizers of the big packers' trust that he has received orders to smash the beef trust and he has called on Morgan to help him by notifying the packers. The message was taken to the beef magnates by J. P. Morgan's partner, George W. Perkins, now in this city.
Mr. Perkins himself refuses to admit the fact, but there is reason to believe that it is true. Attorney General Knox, it is said, just before he sailed for Paris, conveyed to Mr. Morgan knowledge of Mr. Roosevelt's aggressive order, and Morgan commissioned Mr. Perkins to convey it to the Chicago packers.

Great Labor Day Travel.
Special to the Record.
Chicago, Ill., Aug. 30.—The railroads of the middle west believe that passenger traffic on labor day will exceed anything they have ever known. The need of equipments sufficient to accommodate the crowds is troubling transportation departments and in some instances it is recognized that the number of people carried will be limited only by the ability of the roads to supply enough cars.

Campaign in Vermont.
Special to the Record.
Burlington, Vt., Aug. 30.—One of the most active political campaigns this state has ever seen closed today, and Thursday will be waged the battle which is considered of the utmost importance by both parties. The situation is one without precedent in the state. After the Republicans had nominated their state ticket early in July, headed by General J. G. McCullough as candidate for governor, a bolting element of the party met in this city and put up an opposition state ticket on a local option programme. Their gubernatorial nominee is P. W. Clement. The regular Republicans profess to have no fear as to the result and say their majority will not be cut down much by the efforts of the element forces. There has never been a Democratic Governor, Congressman or Senator from Vermont, and politicians declare that the order will not be broken this year, though the Democrats themselves say that the split-up among the Republicans will enable them to make a better showing when the ballots are counted than ever before.
