THIS car, at this price, smashes all previous records. It even totally eclipses 1912 Overland values, which a year ago baffled the world. 40,000 Overlands will be made in 1913. This enormous jump in production makes possible this new car at this new price. As the production goes up, prices come down, as has been shown each preceding year. In this age of rapid progress it is sometimes difficult to grasp the full significance of an important, progressive manufacturing step, such as this car exemplifies. But when you sum up the extraordinary, cold dollar-for-dollar value which this car offers, as compared to any and all competing motor car values, the giant economical manufacturing strength of the huge Overland plants is realized and recognized. It only proves the ability of this most powerful and efficient automobile factory.

Here we can but call your attention to the bare facts. This is the car—a big, powerful, beautiful, spacious, comfortable, self-starting, thirty horsepower, five-passenger touring car—fully equipped—all ready for night or day, rain or shine, service. Made of the best materials on the market, by the most skilled men known to the trade, and in the most efficient automobile shops in America. And the price is but $985.

This is the automobile industry's record value. Come in and see this car of extraordinary value—take a ride in it and be convinced. We can show it to you today.

SERBIA PREPARES TO FIGHT AUSTRIA

Reported to be Mounting Big Guns at Belgrade.

VIENNA EXPECTS CONFLICT

Relations Are So Strained That Political Circles Have Abandoned Hope For Peace.

London, Nov. 26.—It is reported at Vienna that the Belgrade forts are being hastily armed with heavy guns by the Serbian war office.

Information has also been received that all the Serbian troops who can be spared from Pristina and Monastir have been recalled to the Serbian capital.

Relations between Austria-Hungary and Serbia are now so strained that political circles in Vienna have abandoned hope of the preservation of peace, according to the Neue Gesellschaftliche Correspondenz, of Berlin, which says it has its information from a diplomatic source.

Despite official Austrian denials of the reported mobilization of the Austro-Hungarian army, the Correspondenz declares that five army corps have been already mobilized and the reserves continue to be called up in large numbers.

The Austro-Hungarian government, it continues, is resolved not to await the return of the Serbian troops operating against the Turks, and an ultimatum to Serbia may be expected in a few days.

The situation has become more acute through the changed attitude of Russia. Sergius Sazonoff, the Russian foreign minister, after having declared suitable a basis for further negotiations the Austrian proposal guaranteeing Serbia a free port on the Adriatic sea and a Serbian railway through Albania, but without territorial rights, has now abandoned this standpoint.

Austria is now disposed to push the question to a decision because if war is inevitable she wants to take advantage of her mobilization being more advanced than that of the Russian army.

Serbia justified Austria that she cannot definitely define her attitude in regard to obtaining a port on the Adriatic sea until the end of the Balkan war. This action followed a council, at which King Peter presided.

While Turkey and the Balkan states are engaged in a struggle for supremacy, the Austro-Hungarian government, in preparation to a definite peace, preparations elsewhere for possible action on a large scale show no signs of abatement.

While the intentions of the great European powers undoubtedly remain peaceful, Austro-Hungarian procedure seems to foreshadow separate action which will make difficult the realization of the plan of Premier Asquith, of Great Britain, for the settlement of eastern questions as a whole when the war is over.

The withdrawal of the Austrian Warship Admiral Spaun and of the Austrian contingent of bluejackets from Constantinople, and the sudden and unexplained departure for an unannounced destination of the Austrian squadron which has been lying at Smyrna, are factors which are disturbing diplomats, who see in a close union of all the great powers the only hope of a possible solution.

The information that the Serbian war office has recalled all the Serbian troops that can be spared from the columns operating in the neighborhood of Pristina and Monastir, and that the fortifications of the Serbian capital are being hastily supplied with heavy artillery, leads the Austrians to infer that Serbia is not disposed to yield, and a Pacific settlement of the Austro-Serbian dispute seems to them difficult of realization if Serbia's demands are maintained as an irreducible minimum.

Unconfirmed messages from Vienna stated that 11,000 Austrian troops have arrived at Gravosa, on the Gulf of Cattaro. Within the next twenty-four hours there will be nearly 20,000 Austrian soldiers at Gravosa, which is an important strategic position on the Adriatic sea. Messages from Cattaro say that 18,000 additional troops are being disembarked at Gravosa from transports to help strengthen the garrison.

EIGHTEEN MINERS HURT IN CAVE-IN

Fall of Roof Traps Men and Several May Die.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Nov. 26.—Eighteen miners were hurt by a cave-in at the Barnum mine, near Wilkes-Barre, Pa., today. Several of the injured are likely to die.

The cave-in came without warning and the injured men were partly covered by the slate and coal. Rescuers promptly went to work and the entombed men were taken to the surface before gas could accumulate.

Thirty other men, who were in the mine at the time, escaped by a second opening.

The most seriously injured are: A. E. Jetter, superintendent of the colliery, injured internally; John J. McNulty, miner and treasurer of the school district of Pittston; Frank Flannery, miner; Martin Reap, miner; and James Langen, miner. All the other victims are foreigners. Several of the injured are likely to die.

Nearly all the physicians in the vicinity were summoned to the shaft to attend to the injured. Most of the victims were removed to the Pittston hospital.

An investigation shows that the accident was caused by a depression in the surface, which caused the roof to fall and entombed the men in the place they were working.

WOMAN LEAPS 20 STORIES TO DEATH

Thought White Slavers Threatened Her.

BODY IS BADLY CRUSHED

She Had Crimson Linnen on Her Breast and soon and Tea in Her Handbag.

Chicago, Nov. 26.—Possessed with the idea that she was pursued for dishonorable purposes, Miss Maude Van Deusen, twenty-five years old, leaped from the twentieth story of the McCormick building and was crushed to death on the stone paving of an alley at the street level.

She jumped from a fire escape nearly 250 feet above the ground. Her body struck another fire escape at the first floor and bounded into the alleyway. Nearly all the bones in her body were broken.

Miss Van Deusen, according to papers on her person, was a school teacher at Humboldt, Neb. It appeared that she had been seeking a position in Chicago and had been obsessed with the idea that she had been in danger from white slavers. She wrote that she had been driven to appeal for protection to Chief of Police McWeeny, to the federal department of justice and to social settlement workers.

She had prepared for death by pinning across her bosom a strip of white linnen, which had been stained crimson at either end, and on which she had printed in large letters:

"Death before dishonor."

She had tied around her neck a copy of the New Testament, in which she had marked passages in St. John. She held her handbag in her hand and it was picked up near her body. In it was another marked Bible and a typewritten statement of several thousand words, entitled "Part of my life history."

"I will die clean, if I have to kill myself," was written at the head of one of the sheets. A strip of bacon, a small paper of pepper, an ounce of tea and $3.19 in currency were found in the handbag.

"I am trying to write this without the least emotion," her typewritten statement began, "and though the following statement may seem dramatic your reason will assure you that they contain only common sense."

"I have very little money and am not allowed to hold a position. I will accept no money but what I earn. If I do not get help it will be a certainty that I cannot escape, and I am in the hands of the spiritualist white slave trade and that will force me to self-destruction."

The police are mystified over what Miss Van Deusen meant by "spiritualist white slave trade."

In an opinion just received from the United States circuit court of appeals the judgment of $7700 allowed by the jury has been sustained.

Miss Pristack
