

ONE DOLLAR IN ADVANCE.

Remember, by paying in advance the Courier can be had for $1.00 a year, but all arrears must be settled at the rate of $1.50 a year. For instance, a person 4 months behind on subscription can square up the arrearage by paying 50 cents, and then by paying a dollar more can get the paper for another year, thus paying the 4 months' arrearage and a year in advance with $1.50. If 2 months behind you can settle up by paying 25 cents, and then get the paper another year by paying a dollar more; if 6 months behind you can square the arrearage with 75 cents, etc., etc. When subscriptions are renewed within one month of expiration, no extra charge is made. ALL WILL PLEASE REMEMBER THERE IS NO DEVIATION FROM THESE TERMS. The date to the right of your name on the label on your paper indicates the time to which the subscription is paid. If there is any error in your name or date, please notify this office at once. Those who desire to get the paper at $1.00 can count up what they owe on back subscription at 12 cents a month, add one dollar for another year, and remit the amount to this office, or pay same as any of our agents. No other paper in the county ever published so much local news for $1.00 a year. At that price everybody ought to take the Courier. Though it has the largest circulation of any paper in the county, there is still room for more, at a dollar a year in advance.

WARRENBURG Journal-Democrat: Judge G. D. Burgess, of Linn, Mo., was in the city Monday, and favored the Journal-Democrat with a call. Judge Burgess has been on the bench of the Chariton circuit for nine years past, and enjoys the reputation of being one of the best circuit judges in the state. We do not doubt that if he should be elected to the supreme bench he would rank among the ablest judges that have ever filled that position.

It was shown at a recent meeting of Minnesota stock breeders that three-fifths of all cattle in the country other than milch cows are west of the Mississippi, and that the north-west Mississippi valley—Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri, Kansas and Dakota, have 6,398,000 this year against 5,830,000 in 1872; showing a gain of nearly 10 per cent. The gain in the ranching section altogether averages 6 per cent. Five states which have but just begun the dairy business—Mississippi, Iowa, Minnesota, Kansas and Nebraska—increased the number of milch cows by 245,000 in a year, equal to nearly 10 per cent. Iowa, which has nearly half the whole number, shows a gain of 12, and Nebraska of 22 per cent.

In speaking of the late denision of the U. S. Supreme Court declaring the Louisiana and Missouri Railway Railroad bonds valid, the Advertiser, of last week, has the following, which enlists our sympathy for the good people of old Howard, who have for many years had a prominent place in our estimation. It is hard for the people to pay a railroad bond tax, even when they have the benefits of a railroad, their money helped to build. But to pay the tax, having been swindled out of the railroad, makes the burden almost intolerable.

By an examination of the records we find there are still outstanding 226 of the L. & M. River R. R. bonds, upon which no interest has been paid since March 1, 1868, and upon part of them none since December, 1877. There are also still outstanding 64 Tebo & Nesho bonds, upon which the interest is due from December, 1877. Consequently there are still outstanding 290 bonds of the denomination of $1,000 each, with interest at 8 per cent. for about six years, with principal and interest amounts to between five and six hundred thousand dollars.

The ten years in which they were to be paid has expired. The courts have all decided that they must be paid. There is no money in the treasury, the people have refused to refund by issuing new bonds at a lower rate of interest. Now what are we going to do? It is time some move had been made in the matter. Will some one step to the front and lead us out of our predicament?

The following speech was delivered in the House of Representatives by Congressman W. H. Hatch, of the first (Missouri) district, in reference to the pleuro-pneumonia bill and other matters. Mr. Hatch spoke right to the point, and there is no pulling back to his remarks:

Mr. Hatch, of Missouri, supported the bill. He ridiculed the fear expressed by some opponents of the bill, that it would provide for a large number of federal officials to work against the Democratic party. He was not afraid of a few more officials. That was not what the Democratic party had to fear. What the Democratic party wanted was funerals—funerals in New York; funerals in Indiana, funerals in Ohio. [Laughter.] It wanted to bury some of the barnacles and corpses which had been hanging to it. It had a national committee to sit here a few days ago, and a majority of that committee did not even have originality or independence enough to find a place in the United States to hold the convention outside the place the Republican convention was to be held. He had traveled long enough in the wake of the old barnacles of the Democratic party following the Republican party. He wanted a little new blood in it, a little independence in it, a little originality in it. Before he would have followed the Republican convention to Chicago he would have gone to Los Angeles. He would have gone where the thermometer reached four hundred degrees below zero or three hundred degrees below the boiling point rather than have gone to Chicago. [Laughter.] He would have had the Democratic party possess independence enough to strike out for once on its own hook. He defied the intelligence of the House to introduce a measure which had for its object the promotion of the agricultural interests, and which sought in the slightest degree to interfere with the operations of those gigantic corporations of the country, without having some Democrat attacked by quails of conscience and jump on it quicker than a duck on a June bug with a constitutional objection. [Laughter.]

SENATOR MACKAY is our choice for Lieutenant Governor. Chariton County deserves a place on the State ticket, and Senator Mackay fills the wishes of the Democratic voters. We give three cheers and a tiger for Senator Mackay and the Democratic ticket, let the lightning strike where it will.

The Globe-Democrat has the following not very creditable article, but it goes a long way to show and illustrate a point: "By tricks to which honorable men would not resort, Chicago beat St. Louis as the place for holding the Democratic Convention. But when an opportunity for real merit came along St. Louis showed herself far ahead of Chicago. A St. Louis express robber walked off with the sack of $103,000, whereas his Chicago initiator was content to bag $27,000. The Chicago man, too, was helped by the negligence of his superior officers, whereas the St. Louis man did his work through sheer ingenuity and brain power. Poor old Chicago!"

Died—At her home five miles north of Keytesville, March 5, Mrs. M., wife of our esteemed countryman Burgess Davis. Mrs. Davis was an honored member of the C. P. Church. EDITOR COURIER:—As the items from our little place seem to come out in your columns so seldom, I thought it would not be intruding on the rights of others, for me to send a few this week.

The health of the community is generally good, with the exception of measles, very few who have not had them before, are escaping them now; though they do not seem to be of a very malignant type.

Several weddings are on the tapis, but have not been publicly announced, as yet.

Our literary society is still going on with a vim, and its members are improving wonderfully. They have been discussing prohibition for the two past meetings, decided both times against it, but we will not be discouraged hoping ere a great while it will be decided by a vote of the people whose voice will be law.

The young ladies of our little city and vicinity had a "Leap Year Party" on the 4th inst., which should have been first-class, but failed to be on account of inexperience, and lack of fore-thought. But ye young gents that had to vend your way home alone must take courage, most of the young ladies participating in it, have passed over three or four leap years since they have seen "sweet sixteen" and we have great reasons to hope they will pass several more before they leave the field of "single blessedness" so you see they will have plenty of time to improve and will treat you better next time. If our space would admit we would try to give a description of the "costumes" worn by the young ladies, but "pinch-back jewelry" and "ten dollar diamond sets" reigned to such an alarming extent, that it would not be of interest to our readers.

Our thrifty farmers are beginning to look up all their "odd jobs" to have them off hands before plough time, and are preparing for a large acreage of corn.

Wheat is looking well, though there is some fears of its being injured by the last cold weather.

Our sporting men are hunting the lakes and rivers to hear the quack of the first wandering duck, but very few have been heard as yet.

There are some two sermons a month at the McCurry school house. A meeting was held one evening last week to determine whether there should be any more protracted meetings held there. We hope that a spirit of good will pervade toward all.

Not long since Talley Kins house caught fire and was saved from destruction with great difficulty. We learn our prompt insurance agent is on his line of duty, looking up the loss, which will be promptly settled.

Chas. Brewer's school will close next Thursday. Chas. is a No. 1 teacher. He will soon move to Kansas with his interesting family, and will be missed in this community.

BRUNSWICK.

The action of the Democratic Central Committee in fixing the time of the primary election so far distant gives the candidates for the various county office "ample time" to appeal to the honest voters to their hearts' content. No haste is now necessary. It is suggested that farmers may leave to add their names to the lists of peddlers, patent-right and lightning rod men in defense of their time this summer, if they expect to raise a crop.

We have in prospect an exciting city election in April.

An invitation is here extended to the ward politicians of the Capital City to attend and take lessons. The sable voter on that day feels very near Heaven, and for "ways that are dark and tricks that are vain" his action is often peculiar.

Our doctors declare our city and country around very healthy. Indeed this locality has always been singularly exempt from the fatal diseases of North Missouri.

The two story brick hotel and saloon near the depot kept by P. S. Sues & Co. was burned last Monday night. Loss about $3,000; partially insured. A defective fire the cause.

Claude Bowman, of near this place, was married to Miss Hortense Hammond on the 7th inst., by Rev. W. G. Bowman. Both parties stand high in society circles, and enter on life's voyage with bright prospects.

CHARITON DIVIDE.

The farmers in this section of the county, notwithstanding the unpleasantness of the weather, many of them have done a deal of work, preparatory to making a crop, such as clearing land, making rails, building fences, etc., and with strong arms and willing souls seem determined to excel if possible the exertions of the past year.

Porter Shoemaker has moved in the house recently vacated by G. F. Adams and he and Walter Douglas will cultivate the place, each cropping for himself.

We learn that Mr. and Mrs. R.

V. Glenn, who formerly lived in this neighborhood, now living in Keytesville, has reunited in their efforts to make each other happy again.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fawks, of near Prairie Hill, were visiting the family of A. C. Johnson. Mr. F. brought a load of wheat which he carried over to Friend Bartz' mill at Keytesville and seems well pleased with his turn out.

The winter, having been longer and severe and following a bad crop year, has necessarily caused the supply of feed to run down pretty low, but yet we have in most instances an abundance for home consumption, and many have some to spare.

Stock of all kinds are in good demand, and though not much selling except at sales, are bringing prices sufficiently remunerative to pay a handsome profit to the feeder, notwithstanding the high price of grain.

Many of our farmers are preparing to grow tobacco this season, some of them doubtless stimulated by the fair prices received last year for the weed. We hope if they determine to raise tobacco, they will bestow all the labor and care necessary to produce a desirable quality. The quality, rather than quantity, brings the money.

Our friend, F. D. Shepard, has gone to Warrensburg, Johnson county, to attend school. Frank is a youth of indomitable will and we hope he will make a grand stride toward the completion of his education.

The ladies favorite remedy to purify the blood, strengthen the system, and do away with that tired feeling, is Dr. Jackson's Root and Herb Cordial. $1 per bottle. For sale by Charles Veatch.

The Doctors.

In conversation with one of our leading physicians, we were informed that lately his attention had been frequently called to the happy effects among his patients of Dr. Jackson's Root and Herb Cordial, especially among elderly people, delicate females and persons recovering from sickness. That its properties for strengthening the system were remarkably successful and in fact he must confess he had seldom met with a medicine that had in it so much merit. For sale by Chas. Veatch.

Polishing the Wrong End.

Many men daily polish their boots who never give a thought to the condition of their hair, except to harrow it casually with brush and comb, or submit it to the paralyzing attentions of the average barber. What happens? Why, this: From neglect, mental anxiety, or any of a score of causes, the hair turns prematurely gray and begins to fall out. Parker's Hair Balsam will at once stop the latter process and restore the original color. An elegant dressing, free from grease.
