Call for Township Primary.

Notice is hereby given that a Democratic primary election will be held in Keytesville township, at Keytesville, on Saturday, March 7, 1891, for the purpose of nominating a Democratic ticket for the various offices, viz: One trustee, one collector, one clerk and ex-officio assessor, one constable and two justices of the peace.

Candidates going into the primary will be required to pay their assessments to the undersigned committee by Thursday, March 5, 1891. No candidate's name will be counted unless his assessment is paid on or before March 5th.

J. J. MOORE, Committee man for Keytesville Tp.

BENJAMIN F. FULLER, an intimate friend of Davy Crockett, during the war between Texas and Mexico, died at New Albany, Ind., Sunday last.

The annual report of the Booneville state reform school for boys has made its appearance. It shows the institution to be in good condition and growing in usefulness.

The recently completed census of Mexico, Mo., taken at the expense of the city, shows a population of 5,255, a gain of 470 over Mr. Porter's census of that city. Bob White's feet were evidently left out of Mr. Porter's count.

HENRY BURKHART, proprietor of the Howard County Democrat, has had an offer to sell either a half interest or the entire plant of his paper, but declined with thanks. If the partnership offer was made by a young lady, Harry ought to be kicked and not accepted.

WE are authorized to announce the resignation of Gov. Francis of the office of District Judge of the Twenty-second judicial district. The judge has been elected to the 10th district, and his term expires on the 4th day of ship, subject to the action of the court.

ST. JOSEPH BAILOTT has ascended as a candidate for the office of District Judge of the Twenty-second judicial district. The judge has been elected to the 10th district, and his term expires on the 4th day of ship, subject to the action of the court.

THE board of curators of the university of Missouri are asking an appropriation by the legislature for that institution for 1891-2 of $85,593. The estimated income of the institution for 1891-2 is $70,940. The curators urge the need of a permanent endowment in their report.

IF the president does conclude to appoint John C. New, of Ind., to fill the treasury portfolio, made vacant by the death of Sec'y Windom, it ought to prove the straw sufficient to break the camel's back. Two cabinet officers from one state, indeed! Oh, well, the eyes of the g. o. p. are surely "sot," any way.

MR. BOSSEAU'S bill, now pending in the Missouri legislature, which seeks to reduce the salaries of recorders of deeds and to eliminate entirely the fee system by placing everything upon a salary basis, has excited the fears of these officials in different parts of the state and a strong lobby is now at work against the measure.

A LETTER from Springfield has just been received at Marshall stating that the officers of the new railroad running north and tapping the Santa Fe at some point in North Missouri, are now ready to apply for a charter for the road. This will be done in a few days, or as soon as the five per cent. subscribed along the line is all paid in.

THE Brunswicker seems to have it in for Representative Eubank, of Saline county, but Mr. Eubank goes right along attending to his official duties at the state capital, and heeds not the deep-mouthed bark of the editor of our esteemed contemporary. Perhaps if Perry would do more biting and less barking he would be more successful in attracting the attention of Saline's young statesmen.

ONE of the brightest boys in Washington is Ewing Cockerell, the 18-year-old son of Senator Francis Marion Cockerell, who, besides attending the public high school, is the stenographer of the ever-busy senator from Missouri. He is tall for his years and bears a striking resemblance to the senator as does his sister, Mary, to Mrs. Cockerell. Miss Cockerell will not make her debut for some time, and seldom makes an appearance in society except on her mother's receptions.

There are now eighteen persons in the county jail at Marshall, Saline county. Some are serving out sentences and some are awaiting the result of the grand jury's investigation.

THE law enacted by the last legislature preventing farmers from using school-houses for meeting purposes should be repealed at once. There is neither sense nor necessity for such a law.

At a recent conference of leading negro citizens of the state of Alabama, held at Montgomery City, to discuss ways and means for the improvement and elevation of the negro race, a resolution to indorse the force bill was voted down by a large majority.

It is rumored that Senator John J. Ingalls will soon enter upon the pension claim business. If his business as a pension shark shall prove as successful as his deals in 18 per cent mortgages in Kansas, John J. will only need a few years in which to grow rich.

THE ways and means committee of the national world's Columbian exposition has decided to ask congress to appropriate $5,000,000 in aid of the world's fair. The matter will be laid before the next congress, as the present one is too near the end of its session to get it through.

THE story is told of a monster egg that is being exhibited in the museum at Buda-Pesth, Hungary. It is an egg of the prehistoric bird apornis, and but few museums possess such a specimen; 148 hen's eggs would find room in it and it would hold nearly nine quarts. It was found in 1850 in Madagascar.

THE shortage in the Boone county treasury has been settled. The money has been paid. The bondsmen have been released from further responsibility. Mr. Gillespy, the defaulting treasurer, will still be held to answer to the charge of embezzlement. He is under a bond of $4,000 to appear at the next term of the Boone county court, which meets February 16.

THE committee appointed to visit the eleemosynary and educational institutions of the state made its report to the legislature a few days ago. The report says the management of the various institutions has been much improved since the last session of the legislature. The system of keeping the books and accounts in many of them, however, is severely criticized.

MILES and miles and mountains of coal are on fire in the state of Colorado. The loss will reach into the millions, as mountain after mountain is rapidly burning. The terrible heat and smoke are almost suffocating. Those residing within a few miles of the conflagration are rapidly moving their household effects. Horses and cattle have stampeded in all directions.

THE Williamson murder trial was brought to a close at Sedalia last Saturday morning. The case was given to the jury Friday night. They took three ballots, the vote being eleven to one for murder in first degree. The jury then adjourned till Saturday morning, when the fourth and last ballot was cast, the vote being unanimous for conviction. The day of execution was fixed for Friday, March 20th, 1891.

THE latest thing in the great senatorial contest in Ill. is the appearance of Jerry Simpson, Alliance congressman elect from the big 7th district of Kansas, who has espoused the interest of John M. Palmer, on the ground that Gen. Palmer better represents the principles of the Alliance than any man now before the legislature of that state. If "sockless" Jerry succeeds in inducing the "big three" F. M. B. A. men to give their support to Gen. Palmer the Democrats of Kansas and the nation will rise up and call him blessed.

SCARCELY a day passes that new evidence is not forthcoming showing beyond doubt that the great protected interests of this country are unwilling to share their advantages obtained through the Republican party's protective policy with the wage earners in their employ. At Chicago on Saturday last five hundred men were thrown out of employment by a lockout on the part of the Illinois Steel and Iron works, the largest of its class in the world. The men asked for an advance of 10 per cent in wages, but the company offered instead an increase of 5 per cent in help, with wages the same.

Thus are laboring men favored at the hands of the God and morality party that has always done the bidding of the manufacturers, made rich by Republican legislative enactments. Judge Prentiss Waite, presiding judge of the Livingston county court, died one day last week, aged 60 years. He was an old and respected citizen and long an active and influential Democrat, and was chosen county judge last fall for a term of four years.

It is evident that there will be a constitutional convention called by the present general assembly. Senators Sparks and Major are leading the fight for it in the senate, and Senator Sparks' bill providing for such a convention in July next, has gone to engrossment.

County Court Proceedings.

REGULAR FEBRUARY TERM, 1891.

Nickerson, $35.90, same. L. H. Herring, $36.20, same. T. V. Green, $70, two months' services as janitor at court-house for Dec, 1890, and Jan, 1891. LaGrass & Lucas, $6, pauper coffin for J. A. Shatto. Semi annual settlement of A. F. Tooley, county treasurer, presented, examined, approved and ordered filed.

In lieu of his present bond to that fund for same sum. The sum of $1,500 appropriated to build a bridge across the East Fork of the Chariton river, at the old Medley mill, in section 16 53 16, and A. L. Wires, deputy bridge commissioner, ordered to survey proposed site for said bridge, and estimate length of span, and make report to the court at the next term thereof, to be held on the first Monday in March.

Former appropriation of the court, made to build a bridge, known as the McAdams bridge across Middle Fork of the Chariton river, on the road leading from Salisbury to Clifton Hill, ordered increased to the sum of $800. Clerk of the court ordered to advertise for one week in the Kansas City Times that the court will on the 2nd day of March 1891, receive sealed proposals for the building of an iron or cable wire bridge across the Middle Fork and East Fork of the Chariton river, respectively, on the road leading from Salisbury to Clifton and near the old Medley mill in section 16-55-16.

Adjourned until the first Monday in March. Communicated. MULSCLE FORK, Mo., Feb. 10, '91. In answer to a communication in the COURIER of Jan. 29th, over the signature of Lucius Salisbury, it seems that the truth is what is cramping Mr. Salisbury, and in order to cover up his son's meanness he starts out condemning everybody concerned in the case except A. V. Salisbury, his son.

If there was any one who acted ungentlemanly or unkind-like, it was on the part of the defense, and the spectators at the trial know this is true. Mr. Salisbury says that repeated attacks were made on his son by W. W. Ellis, a descendant of the notorious Pillman Ellis, who murdered his own son-in-law in cold blood.

As to this, Mr. Salisbury is an infamous liar, and I brand him as such. He has acted no part of a gentleman in the matter. He says the Ellises tried to have A. V. Salisbury indicted. That is true, and if it had not been for the rascality of the Salisbury's a bill would have been found. Their lying rascality did not work in the justice court.

He speaks of his son as a law-abiding citizen. It looks as though he is, when he carries one or two revolvers and a pair of knuckles, and draws them on nearly everybody he has any dealing with, but is too cowardly to use them. Wonder if he used his knuckles when he knocked his father down in a dispute over a settlement, as I have been credibly informed.

Now if Mr. Salisbury wants to know what kind of a reputation he or his son has, if he insists I will write it up, even if he has to be published in the Kansas City Sunday Sun. The "willing tool" he speaks of is much more of a gentleman than Mr. Salisbury, for no one can buy his notes for 25 cents on the dollar, as any one can Mr. Salisbury's.

The only willing tool I know of is Mr. George Brewer, a witness for A. V. Salisbury, who swore a positive falsehood. Mr. Salisbury speaks of his son being "persecuted" and says the persecution was malicious, and that R. C. Ford knows it. Judge Ford thought he needed prosecuting or he would have acquitted him under his oath, but he thought he needed prosecuting and did so and he was bound over to the April grand jury.

Mr. Salisbury's crookedness will be watched more closely in the future than in the past, and as the scripture says: "The way of the transgressor is hard." WESLEY ELLIS.

Westville Items. Most of the farmers are constantly engaged in hauling wood to Marceline. Mr. Crissman and wife have the sympathy of Westville friends in their sorrow. Twenty-five persons took hogs to Marceline Saturday and sold at 3 cents per pound.

A sweet little babe of John Crissman died at his home near Logdona, Mo., on Feb. 1st. Miss Katie Conway, of Kansas City, is the welcome guest of Mrs. G. B. Smith, this week. Among the pleasant faces noticed at the literary Friday evening was that of Mr. Owen Walters.

Mr. Wm. Clark has purchased a new pair of scales and will have them ready for use in the near future. Messrs. Hedding & Wisdom purchased a nice lot of hogs from Mr. Clark last week. The average weight 300 lbs each.

Berry Richardson, who has been in Marceline for some months past, following the blacksmith trade, has returned to "Dear Old Westville." Miss Mattie Neal will teach at "White Oak" this summer. This is Miss Mattie's second term here. Good people in that vicinity seem to appreciate her efficient training in the school room.

The prizes at the Maupin school were captured by Anna Cupp, Berry Robertson, James McLaughlin, Mattie Lambert, Jennie Everhart, Alice Callahan, Emma Callahan and Clarence McGowan. Mr. C. P. Cloyd the Ville's "brag" teacher, is going to teach a summer school at the Bills district. Mr. Cloyd has so well pleased the people of Westville, that they offer him inducements for another month's Several neighboring schools are coming to a close. Mr. Gilbert at the Hardis district closed his school last Friday. The spicy speeches were immense. People are constantly leaving Westville. Lester E. Pancost has left us. His family are still in our midst, but not for a longer period than a few months. We learn he is about to purchase a residence in Marceline. He has already purchased a shop and a larger engine, and more tools, and will continue the same business, and wishes his former customers not to forget that he keeps on East Howell St. Mr. Pancost is esteemed by all who know him. He has been an excellent postmaster for 19 years. The people regret to see him leave, and hope he will return to visit us. We wish him much success in business and much pleasure in his new home.

BRUNSWICK BREVITIES. Business very dull. One of our many capitalists will put in an ice machine plant here next month. L. A. Sasse is drumming the trade in the interests of the Brunswick Tobacco works.

Miss Bettie Moorman visited friends and attended the school exhibition here Saturday. J. E. Knappenberger and his two little sons, of DeWitt, took dinner at his father's house Sunday. Mrs. M. T. Davenport, of near Dalton, spent Saturday night with her daughter, who is attending school here.

A small dwelling house, situated on the hill, belonging to Col. R. H. Musser, was destroyed by fire Wednesday night. No insurance. Our representative at Jefferson City, Judge W. E. Perkinson, who has been spending the last week with his family here, returned to his duties at the state capital Saturday.

Widow Chas. Kessel, of the East end, died at her home on Sunday morning. Funeral services were held at the Catholic church, and her remains were interred in the Catholic cemetery north of town. The masquerade ball given by the Silver Cornet band on Monday night the 9th inst., was largely attended. The maskers made merry until 4 a. m. Tuesday morning, when the company dispersed to their home, well pleased with the entertainment.

The school exhibition given at the city hall on Saturday night by the pupils of the Brunswick high school, for the purpose of raising money to buy an organ for use in the school, was a complete success. The hall was crowded and the entertainment far above the average.

"Waddy" Brown, a young negro man of this place, who was married about a month ago, died at the residence of his father-in-law, Nelson Bowman, near town, Friday. "Waddy" was very genteel and liked by all who knew him. His funeral was attended by the brass band, to which he belonged, besides a large crowd of friends.

SALISBURY DEPARTMENT. BY A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Johnson is authorized to receive and accept for Subscriptions, and any Advertisements handed to him will receive our prompt attention.

The Catholic school opened Monday. Mrs. Dr. Clements is in the last stages of consumption. The meeting at the Baptist church closed Sunday night. M. R. Williams made a business trip to the capital Monday.

W. S. Coleman is building a large shed on his lot on Third street. The Enterprise will be out this week edited by Rev. R. A. Williams. T. W. Jamison went to St. Louis Sunday night after his new velocipede.

Luck Bros. have just opened up a nice stock of hardware in the opera block. P. H. Foster is gradually growing worse, and the cancer on his face is spreading. The writer and Harry St. Clair went to Prairie Hill last Friday on legal business.

Mrs. J. W. West sold a lot in Herriford's addition to R. L. Montgomery for $250. The quarterly meeting of the M. E. Church, South, was held here Saturday and Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. M. Kirns returned Monday from Warrensburg, where they had been to visit the parents of Mrs. Kirns.

Blind Boone gave a concert here Tuesday night. He has a peculiar motion of the body that is said to be natural to him. Ledru Silvey and family, of Larned, Kas., are visiting friends here. They are accompanied by a young lady friend whose name we failed to learn.

John L. Sanders sold 15 acres of land to R. S. Carter for $400. R. A. Patterson sold 400 acres to the Glasse brothers and Fred Suterer for $16,000.

Abner Green who went West last summer in quest of health has returned, but little improved. In his absence his little daughter died. His case excites the deepest sympathy. The belfry at the public school building has been fitted up as a library, and many nice books placed therein. The rules and regulations have not been published, but should be made as liberal as possible, consistent with the proper care of the books.

Prairie View. Several stock sales this week, and still we boom. Artemus Hurt, of the Forks, visited James Wren and family last Wednesday. P. C. Coleman is now dressing B. F. Moorman's residence in a neat coat of paint.

John Stark has secured a lucrative position in Marceline, and left for that place last Friday. Garrett Dye, of near Brunswick, was looking after his interest in stock feeding in this community last week. The Cottrell music class has decided to have its musical and literary entertainment on or about March the 7th.

Courtney & Son sold to Wack Bros of Salisbury, last week 20 head of fine cattle and received $4.75 per hundred. H. Horton, of Randolph Spring, visited his sister, Mrs. James Wren, near Prairie View, last Saturday and Sunday.

Please deposit your personals and locals for the CORNER in the Prairie View news office, Box 155 and oblige the reporter. Miss Frankie Stevenson will visit her cousin, Miss Carrie McFarren, of near Triplett, Saturday and Sunday of this week.

At this writing we learn that Mrs. A. C. Coleman is dangerously sick with the measles. Dr. H. T. Garnett is attending her. Thomas Nelson took his departure last Saturday for his Hoosier home in Lebanon, Ind., having visited a number of friends here. John Bushnell sold 18 head of fine cattle last Thursday to Eidsen & Dye, for which he received $999.00. They will be shipped Tuesday.

Beyond any manner of doubt, it is to Cupid, and not to St. Valentine, that the tradition of the 14th owes its survival and perennial freshness. Ruben Clark, who has been living north of Chraneville for the past three years, is moving back to his farm near the View this week, and we bid him welcome.

Miss Alma Singleton closed her school at College Vale last Friday was a week. We are glad to know that she has merited high honors as a teacher. Miss Alva Culbertson returned from her Dewitt visit last Wednesday and may be found again at her post in the Cottrell music class, which she fills so admirably.

Quite a number of the Cottrell singers enjoyed a musical feast at the residence of Wm. Adams last Thursday night. Miss Christie Adams performed at the organ, displaying much efficiency. Richard Alexander, one of the View's most popular students, having concluded to seek his fortune in the Indian Territory, departed on last Thursday for his new home. We wish him success.

John Clark, who resides in Kingman county, Kan., arrived here last week to visit with Chariton county relatives. He will return in a few days, accompanied by his mother, who has been here for several months on a visit. Mrs. Bettie Wheeler and family contemplate moving to a new home, near the McGee store, 7 miles north east of the View. She is a noble woman, and has a pleasant family, and hence her departure from our midst will be regretted.

Our sick list for the past week reads as follows: Misses Laura Neighbors, Myrtle Haston, Mrs. Mahala Haston, Lloyd, an infant son of J. M. Haston, Dena Hicks and a child of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Dewese. Captains David Stevenson and Abe Adams, were selected as leaders in a spelling match at the View last Friday evening. Both divisions displayed much bravery and valor in the apparently hostile engagement, and of course much praise to and fro, struggling for the palms of victory. At last Dave's little band of volunteers showed signs of exhaustion and hence began to evacuate the fort, when Abe's regulars took the entire field amid great cheers and applause.

Married, at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hinton, 3 miles north of the View, on Wednesday, Feb'y 4, Miss Fannie E. Hinton to Christian H. Stoner, also of this vicinity. We are not apprised as to who officiated at the marriage altar, or who the attendants were, but suffice it to say that Mr. Stoner is a promising and reputable gentleman, and has exhibited good judgment and excellent taste in the selection of his bride, who is one of our most pleasant, cultured and popular young ladies. Accept our congratulations. DOWLING.
