Trustee's Sale.

Whereas, Calvin Minton and Adda Minton, his wife, by a certain deed of trust, dated the first day of January, A. D. 1890, and recorded in deed of trust book 25, on page 535, in the recorder's office of Chariton county, Missouri, conveyed to W. W. Rucker, as trustee, all their right, title and interest in and to the following real estate, to-wit: 75-100 acres in southwest corner, west half (1/2) southeast, section thirty-two (32), township fifty-five (55), range eighteen (18). Which said conveyance was made in trust to secure the payment of a certain promissory note, in said deed of trust described, and whereas said note has become due and remains unpaid, now, therefore, at the request of the legal holder of said note, and in pursuance of the terms of said deed of trust, I will, on Saturday, the 5th day of September A. D. 1891, between the hours of 9 o'clock in the forenoon and 5 o'clock in the afternoon of that day, at the east end of the court-house, in the town of Keytesville, Chariton county, Missouri, expose to sale the above described property at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash, for the purpose of satisfying said note and paying the costs and expenses of executing this trust.

ACME PULVERIZING HARROW,
 Glod Crusher and Leveler.

A prominent farmer in Kansas writes: "I have owned many of the wheat fields in this vicinity and have not found a single field where the volunteer wheat and weeds were kept down by the use of the 'ACME' Pulverizing Harrow, Glod Crusher and Leveler, that has any Hessian fly in it. The farmers are learning by experience that the use of the 'ACME' Harrow is a Hessian Fly Preventive.

For, as the 'ACME' cuts over the entire surface of the ground, it kills down the volunteer wheat and other weeds, so that the fly has nothing to live on.

From his own experience in preparing ground for winter grain, by the use of the 'ACME' Pulverizing Harrow, Glod Crusher and Leveler, the writer is quite free to say that had this implement been used instead of the common harrow, the loss of wheat by the Hessian fly would have been trivial, and that many a single acre which has not returned the seed sown upon it, might easily have made enough grain to have paid the cost of its implement."

Missouri celebrated her seventieth anniversary as a state on Monday, August 10th. She is yet a blooming lass, only 70 summers having passed over her head, but she is rapidly forging her way to the front, with bright prospects of becoming the leader in a few short years.

Small Size of Great Men.

It is a remarkable fact, although rather paradoxical, it must be admitted, that many of the world's greatest men have been small of stature. Sheridan was known the world over as "Little Phil." George B. McClellan was of but little larger build. Napoleon's nickname, "The Little Corporal," is a household word in every civilized country. "The Little Iron Duke" (the Duke of Wellington) was often twitted on account of his small stature and big nose. General (Lord) Wolseley is said to be ridiculously small and to be compelled to shorten his stirrups until they would hardly serve a 10-year-old boy when he rides horseback. One's mind's eye is likely to picture Gladstone as a giant both physically and intellectually, but it remains a fact that the grand old man is but 5 feet 8 inches high.

It is true that "westward the star of empire takes its way," but there are some peculiarities about Missouri that makes a pasture or a residence in it a very desirable thing. Missouri must be the great central power in the years to come. Her natural resources make her the equal of any and the superior of most. The emigration that is to flee from the east will settle in this land of abundance. We have every thing here that others have, and many things not found elsewhere. Our domain is large. You may place the whole of New England down in Missouri and we would have 4,000 square miles left.

Miss SALLIE LARABEE, a teacher in the public schools, at Macon City for many years, was prostrated on Tuesday evening of last week while attending the teacher's institute in that city, and was taken from the room in an unconscious condition.

JOHN L. GANZEBORN, an erratic justice of the peace, at Kansas City, was arrested in that city on Wednesday of last week on complaint of the prosecuting attorney, charging him with drunkenness in office. In default of bail Ganzeborn was lodged in jail, but has since been given bond.

McLELLAN'S WINE OF CARDUI for female diseases.

O. K. CALDWELL, cashier, William Christian, president, and W. H. Robinson, director, of the Citizens' bank, at Nevada, Vernon county, were arrested in that city on Tuesday of last week on a complaint charging them with receiving deposits when they knew the bank was in a failing condition.

The salvation army, at Moberly, consisting of men, women and children, was arrested in that city on Saturday evening of last week, on a complaint charging the troops with violating an ordinance of the city by parading through the streets without permission of the mayor.

ELI FISHER, of Tipton, Moniteau county, was fatally injured one day last week by an infuriated hog, which was trying to impound. The vicious animal inflicted several terrible wounds with its enormous tusks before the unfortunate man could be rescued.

WHATEVER is for the good of the town is for the good of people. Everything done toward building up a town enhances the value of property. Whether in educational, religious or business fields do all you can, and the town is bound to prosper and grow. And whatever is for the good of the town is for the good of the country surrounding. What helps one helps the other.

SUNDAY morning of last week Willard Dunston, of Howard county, went to a pond near the house to water a horse. He noticed something splashing about in the water and on examination found that an enormously large turtle had caught a fish two feet and ten inches in length and was trying to kill it; the fish was so worried that the boy easily caught it, but the monstrous turtle made its escape. The turtle has caught several full grown ducks in the past few weeks.

OLIVE SMITH, brother of Richard Smith, of Madison, Monroe county, left in the spring of '50 for California, during the gold excitement, and was not heard of here until last spring. He worked in the mines there for a year, and upon hearing that his wife was dead, he drifted away to the gold fields of Australia. He wrote several letters back home, which miscarried from some cause, and receiving no answer he gave up the idea of returning, contenting himself to live in his new home. He left four children here, all of whom are dead, they leaving two children. His wife is still living, at the age of 67 years. He was 26 years old when he went away. Mr. Smith will return home next month, and no doubt will meet a hearty welcome from his wife and relatives, as well as old friends, many of whom have long thought him dead.

McLELLAN'S WINE OF CARDUI for Weak Nerves.

A CORRESPONDENT writing from Maysville, Gentry county, to the St. Louis Republic, says: "There are a few advocates of the sub-treasury scheme in this county and they argue in support of their claim that the government issues certificates to persons who put whiskey in bonded warehouses, and that such certificates are legal tender in payment of debts and circulate as money." Those who make such a claim are either very ignorant or hopelessly mendacious. Government warehouse receipts for whiskey are not legal tender, nor are they money in any sense whatever. They represent whiskey and they are only good for what whiskey is good for.

WM. TRIPLETT and wife, of Triplett, Chariton county, have been here the most of the week guests of Mr. John Kring and wife. They left for home this evening well pleased with their visit. Mrs. Triplett was formerly Ella Wendell, who is well-known in this city.—Moberly Monitor.

The productiveness of Randolph county soil is well illustrated by a potato vine in the garden of H. S. McKinney, near Cairo. Several inches above the ground young potatoes sprung out of the stem, the ground being so strong a new source of growth was necessary to give it full swing.

JAMES GARVEY, a St. Louis tough, boarded a street car, insulted some ladies, spit in an old man's face, pulled his gray beard and jammed the old gentleman's plug hat over his eyes. He was arrested, thumped a detective and filled a policeman's eyes with tobacco juice. For all this a police justice fined him the simple sum of $15.

The prospects of a heavy shortage of wheat in Europe is creating the wildest excitement in American wheat. The bulls are having it their own way. Thursday the price ran up four and half cents and touched the round dollar mark. There is every prospect that farmers will get a profitable price for this season's crop as it is for the most part yet in their fields or bins.

BLACK-DRAUGHT tea cures Constipation.

The encampment of the state militia at Lake Conrady, near St. Joseph, was a decided success. "Governor's Day" was the banner day of the encampment, over 20,000 people being on the grounds. The governor reviewed the troops, who acquitted themselves nobly. The weather was exceedingly warm, over twenty-five people being overcome with the heat.

A MOVEMENT is now on foot to organize, in Sedalia, a company of 100 men, composed of federal and ex-confederate soldiers, for the purpose of attending, in a body, the world's fair. Should the organization be effected, application will be made to the Missouri legislature to furnish transportation for these soldiers to and from Chicago.

McLELLAN'S WINE OF CARDUI, a Tonic for Women.

Mertl Wins.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merit. For sale by W. C. Gaston.
