Border County Notes.

Lute Vaughn and Isaac Haas, of Marceline, ran a foot-race, near that city, Friday evening of last week for a purse of $50. The distance was 80 yards and Haas captured the prize.

Dr. W. E. Cantwell, of Bucklin, committed suicide in that city Wednesday morning of last week by taking morphine. Dr. Cantwell was a young man of promise, and no cause can be assigned for his rash act.

The citizens of Linneus have just made arrangements for holding a one day fair at that place some time next month. The money has all been subscribed, and a fine list of premiums will soon be published.

Some unknown party went to the barn of James Winrod's, near Laclede, Wednesday night of last week and turned Winrod's stallion loose. The halter was cut with a knife. The stallion was also slashed in several places.

A. H. Stone, one of Linn county's most successful stock raisers, shipped twelve car loads of fine cattle from Bucklin Friday of last week. This was the largest shipment of cattle ever made from that place at one time.

Several cars of a freight train on the Santa Fe railway were ditched, a short distance east of Bucklin, Wednesday night of last week. The cars were all filled with wheat and on their way to Chicago, and were a total loss to the company.

Some revengeful scoundrel is seeking vengeance on L. J. Holland a farmer in the vicinity of Linneus, by killing his stock. One night last week he killed three head of steers, and a night or two afterwards a fine mare had her throat cut.

SALINE.

The Widow Walker, of New Frankfort, had on exhibition at Slater two ears of corn last week which are each over a foot long and each weigh over three pounds. They both grew on one stalk.

The talk is now that Slater and the surrounding country, needs an anti-horse thief association, and needs it bad. The horse stealing business is getting too common in that community.

James Boyden, a one-armed union soldier and Grand Army man, is one of the most enthusiastic Democrats in Slater. He put in a solid week's work getting a 110 foot pole ready for erection, which was raised Wednesday of last week.

The case of the state against Joseph P. Hammett, of Randolph county, charged with murder in the first degree, was called up in the Saline county circuit court Wednesday of last week and continued until next term on application of the defendant, and at his cost.

LIVINGSTON.

A little 6-year-old son of N. J. Rensch, of Chillicothe, was thrown from a horse Wednesday afternoon of last week and was badly hurt. His condition was improving when last heard from.

The new corn crop of Livingston county is coming into market and is selling at 45 cents per bushel. The bushel, however, must weigh 80 pounds as a make up for moisture in the grain and cob.

Chillicothe will soon have a free mail delivery. Officials from the postal department at Washington were in that city looking into the matter. This will be a great convenience for the people of that progressive city.

A couple of little daughters of Christian McCarthy, of Chillicothe, were seriously scalded Wednesday of last week by turning a tub of hot water over on them. They were in a serious condition at last accounts.

Mrs. Adeia Field Linn, the widow of a once prominent lawyer of Williamstown, Kentucky, died Thursday of last week at her residence in Chillicothe where she has resided since the death of her husband.

W. C. Packard, a conductor on a freight train on the H. & St. Joe railroad, with headquarters at Chillicothe, was seriously injured in a mashup on that road Wednesday of ATTENTION, LADIES!

I have just returned from St. Louis, where I purchased a superb stock of

FALL AND WINTER MILLINERY, NOTIONS, PERFUMERY, ETC.,

Which I will open for inspection in the Winfree Building, south side Bridge Street, on FRIDAY AND SATURDAY, SEPT. 30 AND OCT. 1.

I have the largest stock of Millinery, Fancy Goods, Ladies' Furnishing Goods and Notions ever brought to Chariton county.

First-class goods and first-class work at low prices are the inducements I offer to the trade.

MRS. C. P. VANDIVER, Keytesville.

last week, and was taken to his home in a critical condition.

Henry Murphy, a young negro tough of Chillicothe, took rough on rats Thursday night of last week, but he was discovered in time to save him from its effects. He soon afterward made a second attempt in which he was more successful.

A singular mishap befell a couple of farmers up in Livingston county last week. They were on the highway in an ordinary spring wagon when a team and buggy came up behind and essayed to pass. The foremost parties began to whip up and a race was soon in progress, the dust flying, the wagons rattling and the whips cracking. Suddenly the tongue of the spring wagon dropped and stuck in to the ground. The wagon doubled up like a jack knife and the men flew up in the air fifteen feet, resulting in a number of bruises, concussions and broken bones.

RANDOLPH

Edward D. Blais, of Clark, hired a horse and buggy at a livery stable and started to Moberly. On the way the horse became unmanageable and kicked the buggy to pieces, and seriously injured Mr. Blais.

L. E. Walker, a farmer near Renick, had a horse stolen from a hitch-rack, in that village, Friday night of last week. A reward of $50 is offered for the return of the animal and arrest of the thief.

James Magard, one of Randolph county's successful fruit growers, was on the streets of Cairo Friday of last week with a wagon load of peaches. They were sold at $1.25 per bushel.

The Jacksonville fair was held at the association's grounds, near that village, four days last week and was a financial success. This is said to be the best agricultural fair in North Missouri.

The public schools of Moberly employ 26 teachers. This is one-fifth of the whole number of teachers employed in the county. Prof. W. E. Coleman is principal of the Moberly schools.

William Holland and Henry Davis burglarized Horsecrafts' store, at Moberly, Friday night of last week, and stole a quantity of candy tobacco. This is supposed to be their second raid on this store.

Thousands of dollars have been expended on the Collins coal mine, near Moberly. They have been sinking shafts and working at it for years, and yet the first coal ever taken out of the mine was last week.

At the M. K. & T. railroad yards, in Moberly, last Friday a number of Sweede section hands became involved in a difficulty over the theft of $6. J. C. Chambers was charged by Peter Hanson with having stolen the money. Chambers got hold of a 32 calibre revolver and emptied it at Hanson. Two balls took effect, one striking him in the left side of the head, ranging downward, and the other in the neck back of the ear. Chambers then pummelled another man over the head with the empty revolver. Hanson's wounds are dangerous, and he was taken to the M. K. & T. hospital at Sedalia. Chambers escaped.

CARROLL.

It is reported that W. T. Lone, city marshal of Carrollton, in trying to arrest a woman of color, in that city, one day last week was considerably worsted. His nose was broken and his eyes were draped in mourning.

A 12-year-old son of A. E. Gentry, a few miles west of Carrollton, undertook to heat some water in a tin can with a lid screwed on tightly one day last week. The water was converted into steam and exploded with terrific force, seriously scalding the little fellow's face and hands.

A man of unsavory reputation, at Carrollton, was arrested one evening last week for mal-beating his wife. It required a strong guard to protect him that night from the white caps. He was released next morning and told to skip. He skipped.

Henry Fisher, of Carrollton, was fined $50 and sentenced to six months' imprisonment in the county jail Friday of last week by justice

Grant for stealing a pair of pants from the store of Valbracht Bros. & Heidel.

HOWARD.

Thieves made an extensive rade on the chicken crop, at Glasgow, Thursday night of last week, and carried away all the fowls in reach.

The directors of the Howard county fair, at Fayette, offer a prize of $20, for the best tournament rider. The contest is to take place the first day of the fair.

Morris Patrick, deputy postmaster at Fayette, made a tour of the county last week inspecting the post-offices of the county, as required by law.

Howard county will have a larger corn crop this year than has been raised in the county for many years. The crop was planted late, but matured rapidly.

The colored people of Glasgow celebrated emancipation day Thursday of last week at the fair grounds, near that city. Music and speeches were the order of the day.

The Prohibitionists of Missouri opened their campaign, at Fayette, Thursday of last week. Col. John Sobieski was there and made a speech.

Edward Barney, a work hand on the premises of R. F. Kingsbury fell from a barn loft Friday of last week and was seriously injured.

MACON.

Mrs. W. H. Miller, of Macon City, was on the ill-fated train on the Santa Fe railway that was wrecked at Osage City Wednesday of last week, and was seriously injured. She was on her way home from a pleasure trip.

James Dunn, an enterprising business man of Lingo, was married Thursday of last week to Miss Campa Baker, who resided with a married sister, near Wien, Chariton county.

The negroes of Macon county celebrated emancipation day, at Macon City, Wednesday of last week. N. C. Crews, of Kansas City, was the orator of the day. Every thing went off quietly.

Wesley Howard, one of the early pioneers of Macon county, died very suddenly at his residence, near Macon City, Wednesday of last week in the 88th year of his age.

Dr. J. E. Goodson, an eminent minister of the Old School Baptist church, died at his residence in Macon City

Friday evening of last week in the 72nd year of his age.
Mrs. Polly Baskett, of Callao, who is 92 years of age, left that village Thursday of last week for Fayette, where she will visit her grandchildren for several weeks.

The Cumberland Presbyterians held a tabernacle meeting at College Mound last week. The Rev. Gaiser, of Macon City, had charge of the meeting which resulted in 18 additions of the church.

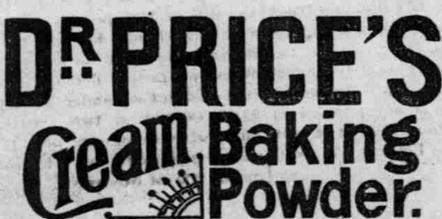

Coon Corban, while under the influence of something stronger than water Friday night of last week, lay down by the side of the railroad track, near Ardmore, Macon county, where he was found about two o'clock next morning minus a hand and still unconscious of his loss. The supposition is that he fell asleep with his hand across the rail and a passing train cut it off.

Put a buzzard in a pen about six feet square and open at the top, and it is as much a prisoner as though it were in a box. This is because buzzards always begin their flight by taking a short run, and they either cannot or will not attempt to fly unless they can do so.

A new process, it is stated, has been discovered for making tin plate. An inventor, at Braddock, Pa., has been making tests for some time, and finally succeeded in getting a perfect sheet from one dip in the tin. The new process also saves one man on the rolls. A local company, with a capital of $100,000, has been organized to carry on the work by the new process.

At the reunion of the one hundred and twenty-third regiment, at Saleix, Washington county, N. Y., it was stated that the last Confederate killed in the war was shot by the one hundred and twenty-third, and the last soldier was killed by a bullet belonging to that regiment.

At Aspin, Col., on Monday afternoon of last week Mrs. John Hughes the wife of a miner, a frail little woman, weighing about 100 pounds, gave birth to a faultless prototype of the Siamese twins, weighing sixteen pounds. They present two distinct and independent heads, two mouths, four arms and perfect hands, four feet and legs. The limbs, are radiating from a single trunk that is united as one from the breast bone to the naval at the base of the joint stomach. Other than this the children are of perfect mould and well developed. and it is thought they will live.
