

Outridge Mills Oussip.

The roads are awful. George Lewis is quite ill with la grippe. John Tietjans went to Keytesville last Monday on business. Pole Fry and wife were the guests of the former's father last Sunday. There was a social hop at Ben Elmann's last Thursday. All report a good time. Our sick are getting better, but a few new cases are reported to be on the indisposed list. George Fry was in Texas, Monday. He says he don't like Texas, but failed to give any reason why. Misses Hattie and Anna Brewer were the guests of Mrs. R. R. Shands Thursday of last week. Henry Tietjans, Ben Padgett and Griff Kidd were pleasant callers on the Misses Campbell last Sunday. Frank Ellis has again started his grist-mill at this place after an idleness of some months on account of scarcity of water. Charles Akers and J. M. Callahan, two of New Liberty's stockmen, were in this neighborhood Thursday of last week in search of hogs and corn. By blacking their faces a couple of smart Alecks in this vicinity had considerable fun at other people's expense last Saturday night. These fellows even disturbed the peace of the dogs of the community. We have not seen a more amusing spectacle "since Heck was a pup."

Namrsh and Cazell.

"Duck" Fleming is on the sick list. Alfred Kruse is convalescing from a severe attack of bronchitis. The roads seem bottomless with no prospect of better ones soon. Miss Ida Kruse is visiting her aunt, Mrs. J. Andrews, of near Brunswick. "Bub" Gilford lost a child last week from whooping cough and pneumonia. Mrs. Ben Brewer is spending the week with her daughter, Mrs. J. J. Renahan. "Grandma" Goll is slowly improving. She is now able to be up a portion of each day. Mrs. Robert Leach returned last week from an extended visit to relatives in Saline county. H. A. Fleming spent last week courting in Salisbury, and intends to return again this week on the same errand. Crawford Williams and wife returned to Marceline Thursday after a few days' visit to Mrs. Williams' mother, "Grandma" Goll.

Dalton Doings.

Broadus & Horton shipped two car loads of fat heifers from Dalton to St. Louis last Monday. M. E. Quick shipped in two car loads of steers from Kansas City last Friday morning for feeding purposes. Dalton was almost depopulated last Tuesday as a large portion of our citizens went to Salisbury that day to attend court. Wm. Clavin of north of Dalton received 60 head of young heifers at this place last week. He will feed them for the June market. T. H. Carskadon, whose name now stands before the people of this county as a candidate for representative, shipped 6 car loads of stock—4 of cattle and 2 of hogs—from this place, and Carskadon & Summers three loads of cattle from Brunswick, F. K. Venable one load of cattle from this place and W. A. Snell of Brunswick four loads of cattle from DeWitt to Chicago last Tuesday, making a special train of 14 cars. H. C. Hyde of Keytesville and T. H. Carskadon and F. K. Venable of this place and probably one or two others whose names we failed to learn accompanied the several shipments to the city.

Salisbury Scribblings.

This city's grist this week consists of one "plain drunk." We hear talk of some new residence buildings in the spring. The case of the state against Croff was tried this week and the defendant acquitted. J. G. Gallimore will attend the meeting of the Press association at Kansas City this week.

T. M. Rice and Peter Ford locked horns in Judge LaGrass' court Tuesday in a 60-cent law-suit. Wm. LaGrasse has returned from an extended visit to Texas. He is looking well and enjoyed his trip. J. K. Rodes of Sedalia is a late arrival at court. V. M. Conkling of Carrollton is also here to take part in the Green case. The memorial service of the bar held in consequence of the death of Hon. Charles Hammond was a fitting tribute to the life-work and character of the deceased. An X-ray machine has been on exhibition several days at the James drug store. If a delinquent subscriber has a coin in his pocket the hungry editor can see it at a glance. At the debate Monday night the question—"Resolved, That labor-saving implements have improved the condition of the laboring classes," was decided in the affirmative. We notice the presence of outside attorneys in attendance on our court as follows: J. H. Kinley, J. S. and J. B. Forsee and — Garnett of Kansas City; Major Johnson of Brookfield, Ralph Lozier of Carrollton, J. N. Hamilton of Huntsville and E. S. Herrider of Slater. Court has been running along smoothly this week, and considerable business transacted. The first case to attract attention was that of the Keytesville negro charged with murder. The fight was soon transferred from the defendant to some of the witnesses in the case, and in the break up, some pretty bad reputations were aired. The reputation of a "darkey" was finally taken as the standard of the colored witnesses and after listening to it all the jury arrived at a verdict of manslaughter and gave the defendant two years in the "pen." The case of Moorman vs. Warbritton, which had been partly tried last week, was taken up Tuesday morning for argument and evolved four fiery speeches. The attorneys seemed to have been somewhat inspired by the zeal of the respective clients and went in with a vim that won the admiration of all. It was one of the largest cases with the smallest result that has been in our court since the Keene vs. the Wabash railway case. The jury after a short deliberation brought in a verdict for plaintiff in the sum of $25. This, we presume, will end the matter and the white wings of peace will once more float over the little village of Lagonda.

Lagonda Lore. Cholera has again attacked the hogs in this community. Hen fruit has depreciated in value from 18 to 13 cents per dozen. P. Hockin will move to Hale soon to shave ax-handles for that city. Perry Summers has rented a farm south of Callao and will take possession in March. We all wish him success in his new venture. Lagonda was well represented at Salisbury last Tuesday. There were 26 witnesses at circuit court over the "school troubles." J. D. Sharp and J. R. Chrisman have purchased 80 acres of bottom land from Rev. P. M. Sears. The boys will enclose it and stock it with hogs.

Triplet Times.

W. R. Payne made a trip to Mendon Tuesday. J. B. Zimmerman went to Brunswick Thursday. W. F. McCullough, our druggist, has moved to town. A. G. Irvin of Chillicothe was here the first of the week. John Sherman from Illinois is here this week to buy cattle. J. R. Derry now occupies the new residence of John Kiddle. Frank Riggan made a business trip to Brunswick Wednesday. Quite a number from here are attending court at Salisbury this week. H. Euband, J. H. Kermickle and Dr. C. P. Megee left for Texas Tuesday. Putnam & Boyle of Hale City were here Thursday buying horses and mules. H. E. Elliott of near Brunswick was in Triplett Wednesday transacting business. Born to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Zimmerman Wednesday morning, a fine 12-pound boy. B. F. Fleetwood is in Salisbury this week, and the announcement column of this paper will show what for. We understand that P. M. Bell has sold his large farm southwest of here and is going to move to Texas soon.

Shady Crown Jewels. We are beginning to suspect the authenticity of the French crown jewels. Some months ago a portion was put up at a Covent garden auction room, and was not sold; quite recently another portion was on view in New York; recently a corsage, set with numerous brilliant rubies, emeralds and sapphires, also a muff chain, set with diamonds and other precious stones, and other articles were offered at a Bond street auction room, and also failed to find a purchaser. The corsage is an extremely ornate affair, a trifle too gorgeous for the ordinary wear of any person lower than a reigning sovereign. Its reserve price is said to have been £1,200.—London Chronicle.

Travis Hampton bought a saddle horse of T. W. Huston the first of the week. Travis may go on horse-back now, but when the roads get good he will no doubt prefer the buggy. Mendon Mention. Rev. Cain of Sumner was a Mendon caller last Sunday. Wm. Felt made a flying trip to Kansas City last Monday. D. B. Stephens, a real estate dealer of Dwight, Ill., is here again looking after his interests. Mrs. George Grotz was visiting the family of Mrs. John Brewer of Prairie Mount last Thursday. Mrs. Robert Fletcher, who has been visiting friends and relatives near Rothville for the last two weeks, returned home Sunday. Can any one of the COURIER readers send us a sure cure for love-sickness, in a case where the old bachelor is too bashful to propose? The A. T. & Santa Fe railroad company is doing a good thing by putting out shade trees, around the depot and on three sides of the stock yards. The protracted meeting at the M. E. church is still in progress and interest is on the increase. The house is filled almost every night, regardless of the mud. Mrs. E. M. Shupe, who has been visiting friends and relatives in Chicago, returned home last Thursday, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Smith, who will make her home with Mrs. Shupe. While in Sumner today (Tuesday) we met Joly T. J. Miller, every body's friend, and Tom says he just began taking the COURIER the first of the year, but has already become so attached to it that he is glad to see it come and thinks it beats all three he used to take for news.

Sumner Squibs.

Harvey Smith is now officiating as clerk at the new Lakewood hotel. He is attentive and obliging. A. J. Miller boarded the train for St. Louis on Thursday morning to look after some fancy cattle. Wm. Griffith, a resident of the county for over thirty years, died about six miles northeast of here. He leaves a large family. Mrs. A. J. Brooks, an aged lady and an old settler, has been very sick for about a week. From latest accounts she was not any better. Deck Howard on Tuesday disposed of two lots south of the Baptist church to Aaron Stains, who started building on them Wednesday morning. The quarterly meeting of the M. E. church was held here last Sunday. Presiding Elder Clayton preached an eloquent and impressive sermon, taking his text from Matthew 5th, xiv. The meetings at the Baptist church are still going on adding numbers to that body. W. W. Caruthers, W. W. Watterson, Ed Mason, Will Watson, Cal Hopper, R. B. Kilpatrick, H. Ballew, Ross Loudon and Ira Frake left by the Wednesday morning train for Salisbury, as prosecutors and witnesses in the trial of the three burglars who broke into and robbed the store of Tracy and Hopper early in December. Although the weather was very stormy over twenty-five couples were on hand at the Lotus club rooms. As announced there was in addition to the usual hop, a cake walk which was won by Earl B. Kellogg and Mrs. Leo Minor. There was likewise a jig contest, participated in by Martyr Renyon, Sr., Rouse Wilson, Bert Markee, C. W. Northcott and Cal Hopper. The latter was pronounced the winner. There was likewise an eloquent address by Gov. Renyon.

THE Blair line extension from Osceola to Bolivar, 40 miles, will be completed May 1. Eight miles north of Bolivar the graders will have to remove solid stone for 2,000 feet, 40 in deep.

VIRGINIA'S MUSKRAT BILL.

An Effort to Protect the Little Rodent from Extinction. The people of the eastern shore heartily indorse the bill of Delegate S. Wilkins Matthews, intended to prevent the killing of muskrats during certain months of the year, and Senator Le Cato knew that he was doing the right thing when, as chairman of the senate committee, he made a favorable report on the muskrat bill. It created no surprise here when it was announced in the Richmond papers that the upland members of the general assembly had endeavored to poke fun at the bill and indulge in good-natured raillery at Delegate Matthews and Senator Le Cato. The Dispatch correspondent was once as ignorant of the delicious flavor of muskrat meat as these upland representatives now appear to be; but some 15 years ago a kind friend in Onancock offered him some muskrat that had been caught and cooked at the home of the late George R. Dennis, formerly a United States senator from Maryland, and from that day to this the aforesaid correspondent has been a dear lover of muskrat, properly prepared and cooked. Senator Dennis, who was himself an eastern shoreman and owned a fine estate on Pocomoke river, was a high authority on things good to eat, and it is known that he put but few things, if any, above muskrat. Another man of this region famed for his good living was the late Samuel C. Taylor, who for many years was a pillar of the old Messengo Hardshell Baptist church in the northern part of Accomac. So strong was his liking for muskrat that when he was 83 years old he spent an entire Sunday in digging some of these wily little animals out of their holes on the banks of Messengo creek, for which he was summarily turned out of the church. Numerous other authorities and instances could be cited to prove that Delegate Matthews and Senator Le Cato are right in protecting the muskrat from extermination, and that the upland members are wrong in trying to ridicule a measure fraught with so much interest to the epicures of the eastern shore and other tidewater regions of Virginia.

A gentleman who has just arrived here from King and Queen county, where muskrats abound along the water courses, says that the people of that section heartily indorse the muskrat bill of Mr. Matthews. It is currently reported here that Delegate Matthews is going to have several muskrats caught and properly prepared and will take them to Richmond for the upland members to eat, hoping thus to convert them from the error of their way of thinking about muskrats. Several years ago, while this writer was spending a summer in his native county of Nelson, he was regaling some of his old friends with an account of how the eastern shore people cooked and ate the famous diamond-back terrapin, when an old colored man, who had been an attentive listener, remarked, with a significant grunt: "Well, I never expected dat a white man raised in dis county would ever come to dat!"—Richmond Dispatch.

BUCKEYE AND NUTMEG GRATER.

An incident indicating the seriousness of an Ohio man. A half dozen college men were in New York one night not a great while ago indulging in a dinner at the expense of one whose enthusiasm on gridiron heroines had somewhat beclouded his judgment. Part of the party consisted of a Connecticut man and an Ohio chap, who, while he is smart enough in most matters, is not blessed with a very quick particularly slow to see a point when there is a mist of mellow merriment before his eyes, as there was on this occasion. Now it happens that the nutmeg man is as proud of his state as the buckeye man is of his, and they have friendly tilts-at-arms every now and again over the respective merits of Connecticut and Ohio. At the dinner the two sat together, and when the time arrived for any man to make a few remarks who wished to do so, the Connecticut man arose with his hand on the shoulder of his neighbor. "Here," he sang out, full and free, with his glass on high, "is to the nutmeg state—who can produce a grater!" The crowd of diners smiled charitably at the well-worn sentiment and gag. That is, all of them did except the buckeye, and he jumped to his feet. "Gentlemen," he shouted, with his glass up, "I can. Look, sirs, at Ohio. There she stands, the greatest commonwealth that sits enthroned upon—" But he never got his metaphors mixed any further. The crowd yelled him down, and for a week afterward he was trying to choke off unfeeling allusions.—Washington Star.

The Letter "Q."

The letter "q" is a superfluous alphabetical appendenda—a nondescript of the worst sort, and of no more real value for helping express our thoughts than one of the Chinese word signs would be. It never ends without the aid of the letter "u," being invariably followed by the mentioned letter in all words belonging to our language. The man doesn't live that can tell the why of the peculiar relation of the letter "q" and "u," or why the former was given its curious name. Some argue that its name was applied because of the tail or "q" at the bottom of the letter, but the original "q" when sounded just as it is to-day was made without the cue, the character much resembling the English sign for pounds. "K" and "u" give the sound of "q" as in the word "quilt." In a while the q will be put out of the dictionary. Her, put cu- her.

Poor and Weak

Catarrh and Bronchial Trouble—Had no Appetite—Now Better in Every Way—A Delicate Child. "Some time since I took a sudden cold and could not get rid of it. Being subject to catarrh and bronchial trouble I coughed terribly. I lost my appetite and grew poor and weak and I did not feel like work. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. In a short time the cough disappeared, I slept well, had a good appetite and I was better in every way. Last spring I was not feeling well, I had no appetite and no strength. I resorted to Hood's Sarsaparilla and soon felt more like work. My little nephew was a delicate child and had a humor which troubled him so he could not rest at night. He has taken a few bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and now he has a good appetite and is able to sleep." MISS ABBIE J. FREEMAN, South Duxbury, Mass.

NATIONAL LAWMAKERS.

Work of the Fifty-Fifth Congress from In the senate on the 14th Senator Hoar (Mass.) presented a joint resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution and making April 30, instead of March 4, as the commencement and termination of the official term of the president, vice president, senators and representatives in congress. The resolution was referred. Senator Quay (Pa.) offered a resolution, which was also referred, instructing the secretary of the interior to investigate the recent burning of two Indians by a mob in Oklahoma. The nomination of Attorney General McKenna to the supreme bench was taken up in executive session and it was finally decided to take a vote on the matter on the 21st. The house passed the agricultural appropriation bill, the item for 150,000 copies of the House Book being amended and reduced to 75,000 copies. A resolution was adopted to participate in the international fisheries exposition in Norway in September. The rest of the day was consumed in the appropriation bill, $288,000 to the Southern Methodist church for property seized during the war at Nashville, Tenn.

The senate was not in session on the 15th. In the house, on motion of Mr. Lanham (Tex.), a bill was passed authorizing the president to appoint an additional judge for the Northern district of Texas, as Judge Rector, the present judge, was incapacitated from performing the duties of his office. The house then went into committee on the bill for the reorganization of the Indian territory. Mr. Broderick (Kan.) secured an amendment to the Indian appropriation bill which provides for opening to white settlement of the surplus lands of the Potawatomi Indian reservation in Jackson county, Kan., and of the Kickapoo reservation in Brown county, Kan. The senate on the 18th passed the urgent deficiency appropriation bill, which carries $1,915,810. The "Teller" resolution providing for bonds of the United States may be paid in standard silver dollars was favorably reported by the finance committee and notice given that it would be called up at an early date. Senator Platt (N. Y.) introduced a bill providing for the withholding of pension of the soldiers employed in the civil service in cases where their salaries exceed $1,200 per annum. Senator Morgan (Ala.) occupied the entire time of the executive session in the presentation of his views favoring the annexation of the Hawaiian Islands. The house passed the army appropriation bill and then took up the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill. As soon as the enacting clause was read Mr. DeArmond (Cuba) issued the annexation resolution, which precipitated an exciting discussion. Mr. Hitt, chairman of the committee on foreign relations, raising the point of order that the amendment was new legislation and that the bill was not in order. The point was sustained. The Indian appropriation bill was then taken up.

A SPLITTED debate occurred in the senate on the 19th over a resolution for the committee on post offices to inquire into the recent order of the postmaster general for reducing the force of letter carriers in the country. The resolution was reported. Senator Vest (Mo.) reported a bill which places quarantine matters under the control of the federal government. Senator Morgan (Ala.) continued his speech in advocacy of the Hawaiian annexation treaty in the executive session. When the house convened Mr. Lacey (Ia.) introduced a bill to extend the homestead laws to Alaska. It went over. Mr. Brucker (Mich.) then introduced a resolution to instruct the committee on foreign affairs to report without further delay the Senate Cuban bill, emergency resolution. Like a flash, Mr. Hitt, chairman of the foreign affairs committee, was on his feet with a point of order which the speaker promptly sustained. Mr. Hitt then made a motion, which was carried, to go into committee of the whole on the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill. As soon as the first paragraph was read the battle over Cuba recommenced. Messrs. Williams (Miss.), Lewis (Wash.) and Wilson (S. C.) offering amendments to the bill looking to the recognition of the Cuban insurgents, but they were all ruled out of order. Mr. Hitt explaining at length the situation why action by congress was inadvisable.

"RESULT OF BOYISH FOLLY."

Col. Fred Funston, Cuban Hero, Talks Gloomily of His War Experience. LAWRENCE, Kan., Jan. 10. Col. Fred Funston, who is in a New York hospital suffering from wounds received in Cuba, has written a letter here, in which he describes his connection with the war as a piece of boyish folly. He says he is a battle-scarred and malaria-laden wreck of his old self and that he is out of pain only when asleep. Col. Funston says he expects to be in Kansas in about two weeks. His friends in town are preparing to give him an ovation on his return.
