Lagonda Lore.

Nobody sick now. Can't afford it—no doctor.

John Chrisman is building a new residence for Rufus Mulinix.

Wire has been put up for the second line of telephone to Lagonda.

Mrs. Lee Chrisman remembered your old correspondent by sending him a nice birthday cake. Long may she live.

The Lagonda store has re-organized and is now known as the Lagonda Mercantile Co. Several new parties have injected considerable capital into the new firm, and we predict success for the company.

Dr. C. O. West and C. Couch of Westville were perambulating the streets of our village last week. Perhaps the doctor is looking the grounds over for a new location in which to practice the art of healing. Come on, doctor. Just simply get married and visit all our patients.

Fred Young has purchased the Friesz restaurant and will take possession Monday.

Mrs. J. G. Gallemore and little son, Ray Trent, spent Monday visiting their Aunt Ann Wood.

Frank Rose, who has typhoid fever, is progressing nicely and will soon be up if no backset occurs.

Geo. Ireland's face is shortening—his wife will soon return from a protracted visit to the West.

Rev. Hobbs, the Kansas evangelist, will begin a protracted meeting at the C. P. church next Sunday.

Our farmers have sown a large acreage of wheat, and the man who raises corn next year will be "corn king."

Bud Fidler, who was hurt by a fall from the seat of his dray last week, is getting along all right, and will soon be on his "perch" again.

Eld. Love of Carrollton came down Tuesday to preach a few evenings for the Christian church. All are earnestly invited to come out and hear him.

W. S. Stockwell and wife are still at St. Peetersburg, Fla., and will likely winter there. Whether they will ever return to this place to live is doubtful.

There was preaching at the residence of Mr. Stephenson in Hedgpeith's addition, a Mrs. Bailey of the Holiness faith being the speaker Saturday night last.

C. O. Houston visited the capital Monday and while there purchased 40 acres of the W. G. Houston land near Prairie Hill, which was sold under a deed of trust for $1,055.

Splendid reports come from the N. M. A. New students coming in each week and everything is moving like clockwork. Prof. Tate seems to be a worthy successor to Prof. Briggs.

The insurance company has settled the loss of the Messrs. Gallemore and we look for a new laundry to rise from the ashes of the old one grander and greater than ever. So mote it be.

Rain temporarily suspended work on the Milling Co.'s elevator, and also on the Karcher building, but both will soon be completed. Such improvements are appreciated by our citizens.

Coal Oil Inspector J. G. Gallemore, while testing a new tank of oil Monday, thought it took the "tester" a long time to heat up, and found that, like those of the foolish virgins, his lamp had gone out.

"Uncle" Hamp Winn grows more feeble all the time and is confined to his room. His mind is cheerful, and, having lived an exemplary life, he does not fear the grim monster that is approaching him.

Saturday was an old-fashioned busy day in our city. Teams thick as they could stand about the hitchracks, and the sidewalks on Broadway and Second streets were full of people. Merchants were busy as bees and did a rushing business. Your reporter interviewed several farmers and they all told the same story—"too dry." Some were afraid the wheat would sprout and perish, while others were afraid it would not come up at all. The situation was bad, but all admitted that much fodder had been shocked, straw baled and that stock would get through the winter all right.

Summer Squibs.

W. W. Watterson is again displaying his artistic talent as a window dresser.

Ernest Brown and Mace Smart are among the pilgrims to Kansas City this week.

Mrs. C. W. Northcott, we are glad to report, is now on the mend and is sitting up.

W. W. Tracy started to put up the posts, etc., for our prospective telephone exchange Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Adams, who have been staying with the latter's parents, returned to Linneus Tuesday.

A. J. Hardy returned from a visit to his old home in Ohio Monday. He looks as if he had enjoyed himself.

John Robinson and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Sam Robinson, are witnessing the festivities in Kansas City this week.

Butler Smart drove his family to Hale Tuesday to partake of a birthday dinner at the residence of Mrs. D. H. Ballew.

Mrs. Samuel Flomerfelt and John Sparks visited friends in DeWitt last week. Early this week they sojourned at Linneus.

The last accounts from Las Animas, Colo., were that little Harry Hardy was doing favorably, and will likely recover.

Dr. and Mrs. Klepper of Lathrop, who have been visiting their sons, Joe and Will of this place, left for their home Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Patrick, former residents of Sumner, but now living at Carrollton, spent Sunday with Mrs. Patrick's parents here, Moses Jones and wife.

Cornelius Vaughn of Tina visited this town Monday on his way to look after his tobacco plantation on Medicine creek. While here he dined with his daughter, Mrs. C. M. Hopper.

The long-looked for rural mail delivery boxes arrived Monday morning. They have already nearly all been placed in their position and will very much lighten the labor of the carrier.

Dr. S. M. Deerman, a member of the medicine examining board of the pension bureau at Chillicothe, came here Monday to certify to the condition of Dr. A. C. Null, who has been helpless for several months as the result of a paralytic stroke.

Rev. J. H. Webb is having great success with his revival meetings at the Baptist church in Dean Lake. There have been nearly a score of conversions and the prospects are there will be many more. The present intention is to continue the meeting over Sunday next.

Aholt Afterthoughts.

A reception was tendered to Miss Mary Brandt by her numerous friends Thursday evening. Refreshments were served and dancing enlivened the assembly until a late hour.

Devotions at Glasgow Wednesday, Thursday and Friday took a good part of the week from your scribe, who was invited; also the clergy from West Glasgow, Salisbury, etc., participated in what is called the forty-hours' adoration of the Holy Eucharist.

Father Kearful, Frank Himmelberg and Misses Lena Oser, Mary Brandt and Winifred Sneeringer drove to Brunswick Wednesday, returning Thursday.

While in Brunswick Father Kearful renewed the old friendships of long ago by grasping many a cordial hand. The joke was on the plethoric gentleman (some-what venerable) who presides at the National bank. Father Kearful took him on the street for a preacher, and not taking kindly to preachers in general, passed him by with a cold stare—in fact, gave him the marble heart. Later on, when Mr. Merchant's true nature had been discovered, warm greetings ensued and to our great embarrassment, said banker offered us his personal check for unlimited amounts. It is needless to say that we declined with thanks, having at that time a bulging wad of sight drafts in our hip pocket. Word has been sent out to several parties, whom it concerns, that, having done Brunswick, we will now proceed to invade Keytesville, and certain individuals at the Farmers' bank will do well to put their house order against the evil time.

City Council Proceedings.

The city council of Keytesville met Monday evening, Oct. 7, 1901.

More New Suits.

The following new suits have been filed with Circuit Clerk Z. T. Lamkin during the past week for the November term of circuit court at Keytesville:

CIVIL CASES.

Minnie Miller vs. E. Le Roy Miller, divorce.

State ex rel John Kelliker vs. S. Sandidge, suit for city taxes.

Same vs. J. M. Peery et al, same.

Annie Randolph vs. Frank Daffayette, ejectment.

A. Senn vs. Grant Curtis et al, suit to quiet title.

Another Divorce Suit.

MILLER VS. MILLER.

Mrs. Minnie Miller, nee Meyer, of Brunswick has instituted proceedings at the ensuing November term of circuit court for the purpose of obtaining a decree of divorce from her husband, E. Le Roy Miller, to whom plaintiff was legally married in this county June 29, 1897. The causes of action, as stated in plaintiff's petition, are abandonment and non-support. Mrs. Miller charges that during their residence in Anaconda, Mont., April 11, 1899, defendant persuaded plaintiff to come to Brunswick on a visit to her parents, which she did, accompanied by their child, then 4 months old. Defendant promised to send plaintiff money to return home after her visit, but he has not done so, nor has he provided any means of support for herself and little one, although she has repeatedly written requesting that he provide for herself and child, also to send them money to return home to him. Plaintiff further says she has not heard from defendant since January 2, 1900. She, therefore, asks the court to divorce her from the bonds of matrimony contracted with defendant as aforesaid, and that she be granted the care and custody of their infant child, a boy, now 3 years of age. F. C. Sasse is Mrs. Miller's legal adviser.
