Mayor Patterson of Salisbury lost a cuff-button last week, which he had worn for twelve years. He offers a liberal reward for its recovery.

A. L. Maupin of Wayland township lately took to the Prairie Hill Mascot office a bunch of five snake eggs, each containing a snake that was almost ready to hatch. Mr. Maupin turned the reptile eggs to the top ground while plowing in his field.

Mrs. J. H. White of near Hamden, mother of Mrs. O. P. Ray of Keytesville, has gone to Roanoke, Virginia, where she will spend the remainder of the summer with old friends and relatives. Old Virginia was Mrs. White's native heath.

The Salisbury Democrat says: John Reynolds, whom we reported in our last issue as being in a serious condition from a stroke of apoplexy, caused from being overheated is, we are glad to learn, some better, and is not considered in any immediate danger of dying, but his mind is still unbalanced, although at times he is rational and he recognizes his acquaintances.

After the recent Republican convention had adjourned at Salisbury, Alex Collier and Kite Lobban, two elderly gents of the g. o. p., got into a heated political controversy, when Mr. Collier called Mr. Lobban a vile name, and the latter thereupon knocked the former down. Mr. Lobban was arrested and pleaded guilty to the charge of assault, for which breach of the city ordinance he was fined $5 and costs.

While in Salisbury Saturday the editor of the COURIER noticed great, briny tears trickling down the handsome face of Dave Patterson, the efficient foreman of the Salisbury Press-Spectator. When this sad scene occurred Dave was returning from the depot, where his best girl had just taken the train for somewhere, hence Dave felt lonesome, and was trying to console himself by weeping.

Look Pleasant, Please.

Photographer C. C. Harlan of Eaton, O., can do so now, though for years he couldn't, because he suffered untold agony from the worst form of indigestion. All physicians and medicines failed to help him till he tried Electric Bitters, which worked such wonders for him that he declares they are a godsend to sufferers from dyspepsia and stomach troubles. Unrivaled for diseases of the Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, they build up and give new life to the whole system. Try them. Only 50c. Guaranteed by W. C. Gaston, druggist.

The Summer Star says that it is in receipt of a letter from Rev. Rice of Meadville, in which that reverend gentleman claims to have been grossly misrepresented by the COURIER'S Summer correspondent in our issue of August 1. There are always two sides to every controversy, and if Rev. Rice is certain that he has been wronged we will gladly give him space in the COURIER to answer our Summer scribe, but he must look well to his scalp before doing so. The editor of this paper is always for fair play, and believes in the right of free speech and the telling of the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth.

All Were Saved.

"For years I suffered such untold misery from Bronchitis," writes J. H. Johnston of Broughton, Ga., "that often I was unable to work. Then, when everything else failed, I was wholly cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. My wife suffered intensely from Asthma, till it cured her, and all our experience goes to show it is the best Croup medicine in the world." A trial will convince you it's unrivaled for Throat and Lung disease. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1. Trial bottles free at W. C. Gaston's drug store.

MAYDOLE'S HAMMER.

(Benson's Plaster is Pain's Master.)

When Maydole was told that he made "a pretty good hammer," he said, "No, I don't make a 'pretty good hammer,' I make the best hammer that ever was made."

Every carpenter who saw a Maydole hammer wanted one. It was of the best material, perfectly balanced, and the head never flew off. Hammers were divided into two classes—1st, Maydole's; 2d, all the rest.

Plasters are separated by the same line of cleavage: 1st, Benson's Porous Plaster; 2d, all the rest. When for rheumatic pain, a cold, a cough, kidney trouble or any other disease or ailment that may be treated externally, you ask for a plaster, any honest, reputable druggist will give you a Benson's. He knows it is incomparably the best, and he assumes that you know it too.

As the name of Maydole stands for hammers—the name of Benson stands for plasters—the "real thing." All the medicinal potencies that are valuable in a plaster are in Benson's. Capicum, Strengthening and Belladonna plasters are out of date.

An army of physicians and druggists, and millions of the people, have written of Benson's Plasters as a remedy to be trusted.

Benson's Plasters have fifty-five highest awards. Accept no substitute.

For sale by all druggists, or we will prepay postage on any number ordered in the United States, on receipt of 25c. each.

Floyd, the 1-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ewing Long of near Mendon, died Thursday, August 7. Interment took place at Old Mendon cemetery Friday afternoon.

Clarence A. Barnes of Mexico, slayer of Rhodes Clay, the representative of Audrain county, has had his preliminary trial before Justice Bass, who released defendant on a bond of $10,000.

The Salisbury Press-Spectator has figured up and finds that it has over $1,600 due on subscription, and would be very much pleased if its delinquents would pay what they owe the P.-S. They ought to do it.

Several enterprising citizens of Triplett have formed a company for the purpose of inaugurating monthly stock sales at Triplett. The first sale will take place tomorrow, August 16. Col. Wm. R. McGrew of Mendon will act as auctioneer.

Just Look at Her.

Whence came that sprightly step, faultless skin, rich, rosy complexion, smiling face. She looks good, feels good. Here's her secret. She uses Dr. King's New Life Pills. Result, all organs active, digestion good, no headache, no chance for "blues." Try them yourself. Only 25c at W. C. Gaston's.

H. B. Yates of Salisbury has been granted a patent on an adjustable thread-cutting device of which he is the patentee. It will fill a long-felt want in the mechanical line, and Mr. Yates seems to have no doubt but what he has struck the road that will lead to fame and fortune. So note it be.

Shatters all Records.

Twice in hospital, F. A. Guldedge, Verbana, Ala., paid a vast sum to doctors to cure a severe case of piles, causing twenty-four tumors. When all failed, Bucklin's Arnica salve soon cured him. Subdues Inflammation, conquers Aches, kills Pains. Best salve in the world. 25c at W. C. Gaston's drug store.

W. B. Finnell, better known as "Brother Bell," the youngest son of E. Finnell of Salisbury, who has been spending the summer on the farm with his uncle, John L. Finnell, three miles south of Keytesville, has gone to Colorado with his brother, J. E., where the latter will embark in the mercantile business and where "Brother Bell" will attend school.

Wanted.

We would like to ask, through the columns of your paper, if there is any person who has used Green's August Flower for the cure of Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and Liver Troubles that has not been cured—and we also mean their results, such as sour stomach, fermentation of food, habitual costiveness, nervous dyspepsia, headaches, despondent feelings, sleeplessness—in fact, any trouble connected with the stomach or liver? This medicine has been sold for many years in all civilized countries, and we wish to correspond with you and send you one of our books free of cost. If you never tried August Flower, try one bottle first. We have never known of its failing. If so, something more serious is the matter with you. Ask your oldest druggist.

R. Cromwell's residence in Macon was almost totally destroyed by fire Saturday evening. The fire originated in a summer kitchen and is supposed to have been caused by the explosion of a gasoline stove. The building was insured for $600.

J. F. Grote, one of the gentlemen who, as a special agent, inspected the three proposed rural free mail routes out of Keytesville a few weeks ago, was at Mendon last week on the same mission, and it is likely that that village will have a rural free mail route before the snow flies or soon afterward.

There is not so much difference in soil, so far as raising a crop is concerned, as some people imagine. If the season suits almost any clean soil in Missouri will raise a good crop. A stalk of corn was recently taken from a prairie field in Audrain county that had on it two large ears of corn and a nubbin. The land on which it grew was put in cultivation in 1858 and has been planted every season in corn except three years during the war.

MESSRS. ELY BROS.: I suffered from a severe cold in the head, and was about dead from want of sleep. I used your Cream Balm and woke up with a clear head and cold almost gone. I would not take $5 for my bottle of Cream Balm if I could not get another. S. K. LANSDALE.

The Mendon Citizen notes the fact that a mad-dog is reported to have been killed, by James Sevier the first part of last week. Before the dog was killed it did considerable damage. It bit several cows and one calf belonging to Mr. Sevier. The calf had to be killed, but as yet no serious symptoms have developed among any of the other stock. It is also reported that the dog fought with several other dogs in the neighborhood, but a close watch is being kept on them, and at the first signs of hydrophobia they will be killed.

Mrs. F. A. Shannon of near Shannondale, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. E. M. Robertson of Moberly, has gone to Yellowstone National park, Wyoming. Mesdames Shannon and Robertson were joined en route by five of their relatives of Minneapolis, Minn. Yellowstone National park is a place well worth seeing, as it is truly nature's wonderland with its spouting geysers, boiling lakes, protos, Upper and Lower falls, the grand canyon of the Yellowstone river, etc., and we doubt not that Mrs. Shannon and party will greatly enjoy their trip.

John F. Westrup, a former tonsorial artist at Mendon, but who has been at Hope, Kas., for some months in quest of health, will shortly return to Mendon again, having purchased B. A. Reynolds' confectionery and restaurant business, which Mr. Reynolds bought of Shupe & Allen a few weeks ago. Brother Reynolds is also editor of the Mendon Citizen, and couldn't make the restaurant the newspaper business work successfully together for the reason, doubtless, he couldn't live on printers' ink and when he went to the restaurant he ate up all of the profits of that branch of his business and was, therefore, forced to sell out.

Amics of a Street Car Mule.

The Louisville Railway Company has a big vacant lot at Eighteenth and Walnut streets. There the old cast-offs are kept preparatory to being disposed of to small buyers. When the fifty mules constituting the force for the Crescent Hill car line were finally retired last week, an advertisement was inserted in the papers that half a hundred good, gentle, well-broken animals that had seen service enough to render them safe for sale, and could be seen at Eighteenth and Walnut streets. Then came the rush. Those fifty mules went in two days.

They are telling a good story now on one of the mules turned adrift from the Crescent Hill service. This particular mule was sold to a huckster. For several days all went well, and the man was pleased with his purchase. Unfortunately, last Friday he started on a peddling trip up Frankfort avenue. Nothing unusual occurred until he reached that part of the avenue over which the mule cars used to run. They struck the old tracks. Suddenly, without warning, that mule started. From a walk he went to a trot, then to a gallop, and at last almost to a dead run, pitching the wagon this way and that, while vegetables flew all over the street.

In vain the driver hauled and pulled and yelled. The mule went the faster. People on the avenue stopped to watch the wild chase.
The flying mule, the rattling wagon, the screaming, cursing driver passed on old Crescent Hillster and straightway the old citizen understood. He recognized the mule.
"Ring your bell, you idiot, ring your bell!" yelled the man from the country. "Ring the bell and he'll stop."
The huckster had tried everything else in vain. In desperation he grabbed the big bell with which he was accustomed to wake a neighborhood.
"Clang! Clang!" it went. And the mule with a jerk stopped still. He had been waiting for the bell.—Louisville Courier Journal.

Orphans' Home.

The Christian Home Orphanage at Council Bluffs, Iowa, now shelters several hundred. Its founder and manager, Rev. J. G. Lemen, writes: "I have tested the merits of Dr. Kay's Renovator and Dr. Kay's Lung Balm in the Christian Home Orphanage and have found them to be all that they claim for them. Sold by all druggists."
C. C. Painter is again in charge of Painter's store at Mendon, J. B. Painter, who has successfully managed the establishment for the past few years, having gone to Minneapolis, Minn., where he will embark in the wholesale business. Both J. B. and C. C. Painter are deserving young men, and we hope they will continue to prosper in the business world. Before leaving Mendon J. B. sold his residence property to S. M. Moore, a retired farmer, for $1,600.

Saved a Woman's Life.

To have given up would have meant death for Mrs. Lois Craig of Dorchester, Mass. For years she had endured untold misery from a severe lung trouble and obstinate cough. "Often," she writes, "I could scarcely breathe and sometimes could not speak. All doctors and remedies failed till I used Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and was completely cured." Sufferers from Coughs, Colds, Throat and Lung Trouble need this grand remedy, for it never disappoints. Cure is guaranteed by W. C. Gaston. Price, 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

A Word Spoken in Season.

"If I have been able to accomplish anything in my life," said a woman famous as one of the most kindly and lovable among leaders of the best American society, "it is due to the word spoken to me in the right season when I was a child by my old teacher. I was the only homely, awkward one in a class of exceptionally beautiful girls, and being also dull at my books, I became the derision of the school. I fell into a morose, despairing state, gave up study, withdrew myself and grew daily more bitter and vindictive. One day the French teacher—a gray-haired old woman with keen eyes and a bright smile—found me crying. 'Qu'est-ce, ma fille?' she asked. 'Oh, madam, I am so ugly!' I sobbed out.
"She soothed me, but she did not contradict me. Presently she took me into her room and said: 'I have a present for you,' handing me a scaly, coarse lump covered with earth. 'It's round and brown as you. Ugly, did you say? Very well, we will call it by your name then. It is you. Now, you shall plant it and water it and give it sun for a week or two.' I planted it and watched it carefully. Green leaves came out first and at length a golden Japanese lily—the first I had ever seen. Madam came to share my delight. 'Ah,' she said significantly, 'who would believe so much beauty and fragrance were shut up in that ugly thing? but it took heart and grew in the sunlight!' It was the first time it ever occurred to me that in spite of my ugly face I, too, might be able to win friends and make myself beloved."—Chicago Chronicle.
