The Miami News says: Jas. Ancell and Wm. Naylor while in the woods, east of Myers, last week noticed a large snake crawl into a hollow log. They procured an ax, cut into the log and there found three large rattle-snakes and 40 young ones which they killed. Pretty good snake story.

Cause of the Apple Sting.

A bulletin just issued by the university of Missouri explains the cause of the so-called "sting" of the apple that has destroyed so much of this valuable fruit since 1900 when it made its first appearance. A little bug about the size of an ordinary flea, known to horticulturists as the plum curculio, punctures the skin of the fruit for the purpose of eating the pulp and depositing its eggs. Dr. J. M. Stedman, author of the bulletin, recommends spraying the trees at intervals of 10 days, twice before the blossoms open and four times after they fall; allowing hogs to eat the fallen apples which contain large numbers of the insect; and cultivating the soil under the trees at least three times between the 15th of July and the middle of August.

Stop That Cough!

When a cough, a tickling or an irritation in the throat makes you feel uncomfortable, take Ballard's Horehound Syrup. Don't wait until the disease has gone beyond control. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Anderson, 354 West 5th St., Salt Lake City, Utah, write: "We think Ballard's Horehound Syrup the best medicine for coughs and colds. We have used it for several years; it always gives immediate relief and gives perfect satisfaction." 25c, 50c, $1 at H. M. Sigloch.

We see by the Brunswicker that W. S. Owen had quite an exciting experience while working in the mill Wednesday afternoon. While he was trying to put a belt on a wheel in the top of the mill building a setscrew in a collar on the revolving shaft became entangled in the "bib" of his overalls, and Walter saw his clothes rapidly leaving him and being wrapped around the shaft. He had the presence of mind to catch hold of an overhead beam, and there he held for all he was worth, until all of his clothing was torn from his body. But for this, he would certainly have been seriously hurt. As it was, he received several severe bruises, and was unable to resume work. It was a close call, and Walter's friends are congratulating him that it did not result more seriously.

Rheumatism.

When pains or irritation exist on any part of the body, the application of Ballard's Snow Liniment gives prompt relief. E. W. Sullivan, proprietor Sullivan House, El Reno, O. T., writes, June 6, 1902: "I take pleasure in recommending Ballard's Snow Liniment to all who are afflicted with rheumatism. It is the only remedy I have found that gives immediate relief." 25c., 50c. and $1 at H. M. Sigloch's.

Died, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Grotjan, two miles south of Dalton, of convulsions caused from teething, on Thursday morning, July 21, 1904, Ruth, aged 1 year, 6 months and 2 days. Funeral was preached from the Union church at Dalton by Rev. Meyer of Bowling Green in the presence of a large crowd of relatives and sympathizing friends, after which her little form was tenderly laid to rest in the Dalton cemetery. Little Ruth was a grand-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Doerrie of this place. The Democrat joins with the friends of the family in extending its heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved ones.—Salisbury Democrat.

Robert D. Ruff, a congressional committeeman of Saline county, a Democrat who favored James A. Reed for governor, has been represented by the St. Louis World as being a bolter, and has published a letter purporting to be from him to prove it. Mr. Huff is out in a letter to Saline county papers denying the authenticity of the letter and denouncing the charge of bolting the ticket as false in every particular. The letter published in the World makes him a Democratic voter for 30 years, but Mr. Ruff says he is only 34 years old—in fact, the letter as published in the World is a tissue of falsehoods. Mr. Ruff is a loyal Democrat and is ready to take the stump in defense of the ticket.

A woman tries to make her heart show on her face and a man tries to make his mind show there. This wouldn't be so bad if all women had hearts and all men had minds.

WINE OF CARDUI

816 Wells Street, MARINETTE, WIS., Sept. 25, 1903.
 I was all run down from nervousness and overwork and had to resign my position and take a rest. I found that I was not gaining my strength and health as fast as I could wish, and as your Wine of Cardui was recommended as such a good medicine for the ills of our sex, I bought a bottle and began using it. I was satisfied with the results from the use of the first bottle, and took three more and then found I was restored to good health and strength and able to take up my work with renewed vigor. I consider it a fine tonic and excellent for worn-out, nervous condition, and am pleased to endorse it.

Just as we go to press, says the Triplett Tribune, we learn of the death of Scott McCluhan, which occurred at his home, northeast of town, Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Mr. McCluhan had been in very poor health for a long time. He was a good man, an accommodating neighbor, and leaves a large number of friends to mourn his death. The Tribune extends its sincere sympathy to the bereaved family and friends, and may God comfort their sad hearts with the fond hope of re-union in a better world.

The Brunswicker tells its readers that Vernon Rucker, a member of the Marshall Concert band of Brunswick, had several teeth knocked loose and his upper jawbone broken by running against a clothes line at the home of his uncle, C. D. Marshall, Tuesday evening. After a trip to the doctor's and dentist's, Vernon was in pretty good shape again, and is now able to be about his work as usual though he will have to content himself with mush and milk and similar edibles for sometime.

We learn from the Press-Spectator that Richard Sanders, a brother of Squire Sanders of near Salisbury, was seriously hurt last Saturday while assisting in raising the track on the high line at Humphreys, Mo. He was stamping the jacks, and the handle struck him on the head, cutting a deep gash from which he was unconscious for sometime. He was brought to Salisbury and taken to Ed Landrum's, north of the railroad. We are glad to learn that he is improving.

We still have a number of COURIER wall atlases, and no well-regulated home should be without one. They make a convenient and ready reference, and contain maps of Missouri, of the United States and of the eastern and western hemispheres and the flags of all nations. On the state map is a list of all the counties, towns and cities of Missouri and the population of each for the census year 1900. There is on the back of the map of the United States a list of all the towns and cities of this country with a population of 3,000 or over for the census years 1880, 1890 and 1900. Call and get one of the atlases. They can be secured by subscribers to the COURIER for only 25c. At that price you cannot well afford to be without such a valuable compilation.

It is said that necessity sometimes makes fashion. Anyway, says the Sumner Star, two of Sumner's young bloods started a style of Elm leaf pantaloons. The young men had left their clothing on the bank of the lake while they enjoyed a plunge. During their stay in the water a bunch of cattle came up and devoured their trousers, and when the boys started home they had to invest themselves with a little shrubbery in order to be respectably seen on the public highway.

Miss Patricia, aged 16, daughter of R. B. Rutherford of Slater, after a short acquaintance, eloped with J. C. Booth, a trick bicycle-rider who attended the street carnival at Slater, not long since. They went to Kansas City and were married. The girl's parents supposed she had gone to visit her sister, but instead of that she went with Booth to the Blossom house and was married. Her parents are greatly distressed over the daughter's conduct.

End of Bitter Fight.

"Two physicians had a long and stubborn fight with an abscess on my right lung" writes J. F. Hughes of DuPont, Ga., "and gave me up. Everybody thought my time had come. As a last resort I tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. The benefit I received was striking and I was on my feet in a few days. Now I've entirely regained my health." It conquers all Coughs, Colds and Throat and Lung Troubles. Guaranteed by O. B. Anderson & Son, drug store. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottles free.

Dan West, aged 27 years, son of Steve West of Marshall, was drowned in the Missouri river at Kansas City Friday. He had a broken arm which he was carrying in a sling. While riding in a boat with some friends he lost his balance and fell overboard and was drowned before assistance could reach him. His remains were taken to Slater for interment.

Cures Sciatica.

Rev. W. L. Riley, LL. D., Cuba, N. Y., writes: "After 15-days' of excruciating pain from sciatic rheumatism, under various treatments, I was induced to try Ballard's Snow Liniment; the first application giving my first relief and the second entire relief. I can give it unqualified recommendation." 25c. and $1 at H. M. Sigloch's.
