I have buyers for Missouri farms. If you want to sell, list with me or write for particulars.
HORACE GRANT,
Heist Bldg., Kansas City, Mo.

Farmers' institute at Keytesville Thursday, October 6. If you have some good corn, raised this year, bring it in that day. The COURIER has offered a prize of $2.50 for the best dozen ears of white and $2.50 for the best dozen ears of yellow corn.

Mrs. J. J. Nolting of San Luis Obispo, Cal., accompanied by her two daughters, Misses Georgia and Nellie, are here on a visit to the families of Fred and Wm. H. Burns. Mrs. Nolting is a niece of Mrs. Fred Burns and a cousin to Wm. H. Burns. The COURIER acknowledges the receipt of a very pleasant call from Mrs. Nolting and Mrs. W. H. Burns Tuesday afternoon.

Best figures to be had on lumber are made by Holcomb.

Dr. A. C. Johnson, an old Chariton county boy who was born and reared near Eccles, but who has been practicing medicine at New Murdock, Kas., for the past 10 years, has been to the world's fair with his wife and their two daughters, Misses Lola and Jessie, and son, Clarence. Of course they stopped off to spend a few days with Chariton county friends and relatives and were in Keytesville the first of the week. The COURIER was the recipient of a pleasant and substantial call from the doctor Tuesday afternoon. He was accompanied by his host, A. S. Wilks, the liveryman. Dr. Johnson and family took the 6:13 Wabash train Wednesday morning for their Kansas home.

W. C. Wagner, who was employed in E. Walter's wagonshop in Keytesville for four years, and who left here 18 years ago, stopped over Tuesday and remained till Wednesday morning to greet old friends. Will is a very fine-looking man and is as fine as he looks. He says he is married like every man ought to be, but has no children, unlike every married man ought to have. Will is engaged in the farm machinery business at 1215 Leavenworth street, Omaha, Neb., with his brother, C. A. Wagner, and is doing well. He went from here to the world's fair. Naturally he dropped in to see the COURIER while in Keytesville, renewed acquaintance with the editor and left us a silver dollar to renew his subscription.

A Democratic club was organized at Salisbury last Saturday afternoon with a membership of about 200. Geo. D. Copeland was elected president; T. A. La Grass, vice-president; J. L. Ritzenthaler and J. W. Dismukes, secretaries, and Heter L. Hayes, treasurer. Congressman W. W. Rucker made a most excellent address, and Eld. F. G. Terryl of St. Louis made a fiery speech. He has a fine command of language, but is a one-ideaed fellow, and his remarks were calculated to produce discord rather than promote harmony in the Democratic ranks. The state committee should have Terryl change his tune or chain him out in a wilderness till after the election.

A line of freezers for sale at cost at Holcomb's. The best.
