Climatic Cures.

The influence of climatic conditions in the cure of consumption is very much overdrawn. The poor patient, and the rich patient, too, can do much better at home by proper attention to food digestion, and a regular use of German Syrup. Free expectoration in the morning is made certain by German syrup; is a good night's rest and the absence of that weakening cough and debilitating night-sweat. Restless nights and the exhaustion due to coughing, the greatest danger and dread of the consumptive, can be prevented or stopped by taking German Syrup liberally and regularly. Should you be able to go to a warmer climate, you will find that of the thousands of consumptives there the few who are benefited and regain strength are those who use German Syrup. Trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. For sale by H. M. SIGLOCH.

COURIER POINTS.

When a man's married his poverty begins.

It is best not to fool with a fool; you may get fooled.

The joy of living is chiefly avoiding the pain of dying.

A good many people get married just from force of habit.

Some people find it hard to get along when they are short.

It is impossible for one to live next door to a distant relative.

Lots of men make their mark in politics with the dollar mark.

You never find an undertaker trying to discover an elixir of life.

Anyone can superintend the construction of a building until it comes to details.

There is said to be some very nice things in bathing suits at the summer resorts.

Women wouldn't be so all mighty fascinating if men could understand them.

Whenever you see a sleepy looking man enter a saloon it is rarely for the first time.

There is something about a rich wife mighty fascinating till you are married to her.

It is very healthful to live in the country if you can be away from home most of the time.

If the baby likes the young man who calls, that may be put down as one point in his favor.

A woman with a baby and a woman with a pet dog always look at each other sort of queer.

Spoil the rod and spare the child, for the rod will not live and learn to hate the giver of a blow.

It is a bit doubtful if some men and a quart of whiskey were left together which would be drunk first.

Keytesville has no foreign missionaries. We have all we can do to manage the heathen at home.

With some men liquor seems to improved with age. That is the older they get the better they like it.

The man who tries to live on faith and hope alone in this world will generally end up by living on charity.

A girl always speaks of a Turkish bath in the same tone of voice she would use about boys who go in swimming without bathing suits.

It's funny to see the way a man who acts like a millionaire when he is riding in somebody else's automobile has to hunt around in his pockets for a nickel when he gets on a street car.

A FACT ABOUT THE "BLUES"

What is known as the "Blues" is seldom occasioned by actual existing external conditions, but in the great majority of cases by a disordered LIVER.

THIS IS A FACT which may be demonstrated by trying a course of

Tutt's Pills

They control and regulate the LIVER. They bring hope and buoyancy to the mind. They bring health and elasticity to the body.
