R. J. HALLEY.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ellerbrock of Clayton, Ill., are here visiting Mrs. Clayton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Jefferson. The COURIER acknowledges the receipt of a pleasant call from Mr.
Ellerbrock Wednesday afternoon.
We found him to be a very agreeable and well-informed gentleman. He has been engaged in the flouring-mill business ever since he was 14 1-2 years of age, and has owned and operated a mill at Clayton, which is 28 miles east of Quincy, for the past 22 years.

Corn Wanted.

We want 50,000 bushels of corn, for which we will pay the highest market price delivered at Keytesville station.

to visit his brother, Jas. T. Rucker, who was at one time principal of the Keytesville public school. From Romney Judge and Mrs. Rucker will go to Washington, D. C., where he entered upon the discharge of the duties of his fourth term as congressman from this district.

Consult us about any watch troubles that may arise. We will stop the score of annoyances, and guarantee satisfaction.

H. M. SIGLOCH.

The supreme court has affirmed the decision of the jury in the case in which Jasper Coleman was convicted of the murder of W. Rufus Cox at Dalton in August, 1903.
At his first trial Coleman was found guilty and sent up for 20 years, but succeeded in having the verdict of the jury reversed and the cause remanded by the supreme court. He again appealed, and pending his second appeal, he jumped his bond of $2,500 and has not yet been captured.

NEWS OF NEWNESS:—New rings and brooches, new chains, fobs and bracelets, new watches, new clocks, new cut-glass and silverware, new novelties, new designs and patterns. Variety in plenty and real worth in everything at SIGLOCH'S.

The Keytesville friends of Miss Jean Lessley, formerly of this place, but now of St. Louis, will be surprised to learn that she is married to Thomas Cecil Courtney of St. Louis. The marriage ceremony was performed at St.
Charles by the Presbyterian minister of that city July 5, 1906.
The bridegroom has a responsible and lucrative position as bookkeeper and cashier for the St. Louis Union Packing Co. The COURIER hopes for Mr. and Mrs. Courtney a joyous and prosperous voyage on the sea of matrimony.

home up about Summer for several years, but moved to a farm he bought, near Dover, Lafayette county, Mo., a year or so ago, has invested in a 290-acre tract of land, near Adrian, Bates county, Mo., on which he expects to locate between now and the 1st of March.

Mrs. C. P. Vandiver handles the Fisk and Elzie hats. Ask to see them.

Lydia Swain of Kansas City, formerly of Keytesville, the divorced wife of Dr. J. M. Gallemore, who at one time practiced medicine here, was married Wednesday to T. B. Heun, a prominent young business man of Kansas City. Mr. Heun presented his bride with a beautiful new home on Myrtle avenue in that city. The COURIER extends congratulations.

The ladies of the Christian church will have their annual bazaar and dinner Wednesday, December 12. Every lady, old and young, is expected to donate liberally to both bazaar and dinner.

See the 50-cent hats including some trimmed and ready-to-wears.

MRS. C. P. VANDIVER.

E. J. Carskadon of Deming, N. M., a son of T. J. Carskadon of near Dalton, writing to renew his subscription to the COURIER, says: Enclosed find money order for subscription to the COURIER.
Have been a little too busy in politics to remit sooner. But I bulled through against "Tammany, the Republicans and other odds" for one of the best offices in the county, collector and treasurer. I was called a "lunger," "incompetent kid" etc., the same as when I was clerk in the legislature, but beat the "supposed-to-be" strongest man in the county. Guess I have some friends for I seem to get along all right out here.

We try to keep our stock so complete that all of the exceedingly varied lines that should be here are here. H. M. SIGLOCH.

One of the chief commercial curses of Keytesville is the practice of several of her citizens who "send away" for goods that should be bought at home. Many of these ingrates owe their daily bread to the people of Keytesville and vicinity. We know of those who do this that make great pretensions to sanctity, and yet they are total strangers to the golden rule.
On the other hand, Keytesville merchants must realize that they do not advertise like they should do—in fact, if the COURIER had to depend on them altogether for its advertising patronage it would be forced to suspend publication. When they do not patronize a good local advertising medium they cannot expect a clientele to be any more considerate of them than they (the merchants) are of the COURIER.
"It's a poor rule that won't work both ways."

Palatine Oil.

We have just contracted for a carload of strictly high-grade Pennsylvania coal oil. Guaranteed the highest grade oil made.
Bring in your can and let us fill it. If not satisfactory, money refunded.

nouncing that we are in the market for poultry, eggs, hides, tallow, etc., and you will find it to your interest to get our prices before you sell. Call on, write or telephone us.

SINGLETON & CHAPMAN.

Keytesville, Mo.

Telephone, 135.

Ad Maupin, a day laborer of Keytesville, got mixed up with too much tanglefoot and rattle-brain whiskey Friday, and upon going home proceeded to paint things red. He threw his wife and step daughter out of the house and then began tearing up the household goods. City Marshal Dick Tisdale was notified and went at once and caught Maupin in the act of wrecking his home. He had broken the dishes, table and rocking-chair, and was demolishing the sewing-machine when City Marshal Tisdale demanded that he desist.
Maupin showed fight and called the officer a vile name for which Maupin was knocked down. That quelled Maupin's obstreperous inclinations and he was placed under arrest. When taken before Justice H. A. Wheeler Saturday he entered a plea of guilty to the charge of disturbing the peace and was sentenced to the county jail for five days.
Add to this sentence 20 days for costs and you will see that Maupin has been placed where he can't lay violent hands on the inmates of his household nor smash the furniture for at least 25 days. This is not Maupin's first offense, and the COURIER believes that such a light punishment for such a crime is more in the nature of a license than it is a punishment. Such cattle should always be given the full limit of the law.

We have faith in our ability to please you in a cigar way, and are anxious to prove it. Will you let us try? Our small boxes for the holiday trade are now here.
