The Baptist ladies will hold a candy and cake sale at the Bank of Keytesville Saturday, June 29.

Theodore Monk and wife of Flanigan, Ill., are visiting his brother, Louis Monk, and family of near Marceline.

Editor E. L. Wickes and Dr. W. B. Lucas of Mendon were at the capital Wednesday. Mr. Wickes made the COURIER a fraternal call.

Geo. N. Elliott and J. M. Mason have had G. W. Gardner lay nice granitoid sidewalks in front of their respective residence property.

Louis Monk of near Marceline passed through Keytesville yesterday on his return from a visit to relatives down near Glasgow.

Triplet has organized a baseball club. John Jourdan, the long, lank man from Dean Lake, has signed as pitcher for the Triplet team.

The ladies of the Keytesville Baptist church cleared about $40 at their ice-cream and strawberry supper given in the Anderson building Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Welch of Chillicothe were the guests of Miss Emma Chapman Sunday. Mrs. Welch was a room-mate of Miss Chapman's at Stephens college, Columbia, Mo.,

Dr. W. F. Pumphrey has sold his residence property at Triplet to Frank Moritz, Sr., for $1,350. Dr. Pumphrey will move to Artesia, N. M., on account of his health. He has lung trouble and we hope will find relief from his affliction in his new home.

One of the Baker boys brought a "varmint" to the First National bank to-day that is a sure enough "what-is-it." It is about the size of a knitting needle, a foot long and writhes like a snake. Through a magnifying glass spots resembling those on a water moccasin can be seen.—Carrollton Democrat.

Wade McAllister of near Mendon is now a full-fledged lawyer, having just graduated from the law department of the state university of Missouri. We wish him much success in the practice of his chosen profession. Wade is a son of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. McAllister.

We note in the Tribune that while crossing the merry-go-round cable at Triplet Wednesday night Miss Clara Tory's dress was caught and she was thrown to the ground in an instant. Several parties that were standing near grabbed Miss Tory and cut her dress loose from the cable and saved her from severe injuries and possibly her life. It seems almost impossible that she escaped without being hurt.

A Salisbury man's wife went visiting a few days ago and the Press-Spectator proceeded to make trouble by giving him and a friend in away the following inconsiderate and cruel manner: "Pete Baer and Martin Reppen-hagen were having a high old time Saturday. Martin's wife had gone to Rockford visiting and so the two got gay. They bought themselves some remarkable hats furnished by Oscar Weiler and did a few little vaudeville stunts very successfully."

Complimentary to one of Keytesville's distinguished citizens the Salisbury Press-Spectator of last week contained the following: Congressman W. W. Rucker was in our town Tuesday, shaking hands with his many friends and incidentally looking over his fences, all of which he found in splendid repair. This district never had a man in congress that gave better satisfaction or more richly deserved it, and the man who succeeds him will find it difficult to keep the standard at the point to which the present incumbent has raised it. Those who at one time thought of trying conclusions with the judge, have thought better of it and will try for something else. The situation at this time seems to be about this: While some would really like to have the judge's congressional scalp, the prospect of getting it is so dim and hazardous that they can not afford to make the attempt. Again we say hurrah for Judge Rucker."

Isaac Huddle has sold his 160-acre farm, near Westville, for $6,000, possession to be given the 1st of next October. Mr. and Mrs. Huddle will likely move to Marceline. They will be greatly missed in the community in which they have lived for the past 37 years.

Rev. F. L. Alexander has tendered his resignation as pastor of the Keytesville Baptist church to take effect July 1, he having determined to accept a call to pastorate of the church of like faith at Norborne. He has been a most earnest worker here in the discharge of his pastoral duties and has endeared himself to all of our citizens by his agreeable manners and manly bearing at all times. His good wife has also ingratiated herself into equally high esteem here, and the very best wishes of many Keytesville friends will go with them to their new home at Norborne.

John Kelliker, the enterprising cigar manufacturer at Brunswick, the 1st of May offered four prizes for the greatest number of bands from his new brand of 5-cent cigar, "Little Sultana," brought to him between May, and June 15, inclusive. The first prize was 100 "Little Sultanas;" the second prize 50, and the third and fourth prizes 25. The winner of the first prize was L. E. Merrill, who had 2,298 bands; the second highest was Joe Boyer with 1,651; Ler Watkins came third with 613, and Riley Thompson fourth with 109 bands to his credit. The COURIER man was in Brunswick the day the contest closed and not a one of the entire bunch of winners asked us to have a smoke.

Hon. Harry K. West, one of the most brilliant lawyers in this section of the state, died at his home in Bookfield Sunday morning, June 16, 1907, aged 47 years. He was a native of Illinois, and a brother of Mayor H. J. West of Keytesville, and married a Keytesville lady in the person of Miss Lena Crawley, a daughter of the late B. F. Crawley, and who made him a most excellent wife. She and three daughters and one son are left to mourn the death of a loyal husband and devoted father. Mr. West had been in poor health for some time, but the immediate cause of his dissolution was bowel trouble and obstruction of the blood vessels of the right leg, producing mortification. The COURIER sincerely sympathizes with Mrs. West and children in their irreparable loss.

The man who reads a newspaper and then refuses to pay for it is the type of critter that has a wife who is ashamed of him.

The Criminal Calendar.

Jerry Hayes, a Keytesville darkey, was arrested the first of the week by City Marshal Tidals for burying a dead hog inside the city limits. Hayes was taken before L. W. Hansman, president of the board of aldermen and acting mayor, and the case was continued until next Monday, June 24.

John T. Aldridge, Jr., who came down from Kansas City Sunday night to see how old Keytesville looked, was arrested Tuesday by Constable Burt Worsham on a warrant that was sworn out for him some time since, charging him with hunting on J. V. Veach's land, 2 1-2 miles southwest of Keytesville. John was taken before Judge J. M. DeMoss for trial, but Prosecuting Attorney J. E. Montgomery dismissed the case, and will bring it up again at the next September term of circuit court at Salisbury.

Sheriff S. J. Shaughnessy went to Chillicothe Wednesday afternoon and brought back Wm. and Virgil Jones, two of the negroes who made such a disgraceful spectacle of themselves by quarreling, challenging and fighting on the Pattonsburg-Moberly excursion train on the Wabash Sunday afternoon. The arrests were made on warrants issued by Judge J. M. DeMoss of Keytesville on the oath of Prosecuting Attorney J. E. Montgomery. The trial of the two dusky defendants was set by Justice DeMoss for next Tuesday, June 25. Their bond was fixed at $200, each, and in default of which they were committed to jail. Wm. Jones was convicted of highway robbery at St. Joseph some years ago and sentenced to the penitentiary for 15 years, but he was pardoned by Gov. A. M. Dockery after serving about four years of his time. If the members of the Missouri legislature had been aboard of the Pattonsburg-Moberly, Wabash excursion train last Sunday they would certainly have been made to realize the necessity for a "Jim Crow" law in this state.

Cupid's Conquests.

WALTHER-HEINZ:—Ferdinand Walther and Miss Bertha Heinz, both of Decatur, Ill., were married Wednesday, June 19, 1907. The bridegroom's father, Rev. F. G. Walther of Brunswick, performed the marriage ceremony.

MORRIS-BLACK:—The marriage of two of Rothville's most highly-esteemed young people took place at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Black, Wednesday evening, June 12, 1907, when Lee Morris a worthy son of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Morris, led Miss Olive Black to the hymeneal altar, Rev. J. C. Cox welding the golden bonds of wedlock. After the congratulations of friends and relatives present were extended and dainty refreshments served, Mr. Morris and his fair bride left for Kansas City to spend their honeymoon. The COURIER desires to be remembered among their sincere well-wishers.
