

Border County Notes

Friday, October 30 1908

CARROLL.

Geo. W. Cayton, 73 years old, was found dead in bed Sunday morning at his home in Norborne. He was a native of Illinois.

T. F. Houx of Hale got kicked on the knee and badly crippled Saturday while cranking his automobile.

The Patterson carnival completed its week's engagement in Carrollton Saturday night, and left early Sunday morning. The largest crowd of the week was present Saturday.

Hebert Brumworth, an employe in the Carrollton Democrat office, caught his hand in a cogwheel of the folding machine Tuesday morning. While no bones were broken, his hand was considerably lacerated.

Carrollton has bought a 60-foot iron bridge, 16 feet wide, to replace the old wooden bridge between the Santa Fe depot and the covered bridge. It will be there about November 1, and will be put in as soon as it arrives.

A barn belonging to Thos. Lowell of Norborne burned down Saturday. Russell Lowell's little son set the building on fire accidentally. The child hid under the house and it was thought he was in the burning barn.

Thursday evening Miss Fannie Simmons was thrown from a buggy in Carrollton and broke her right arm near the shoulder. In the buggy with her were Mr. and Mrs. Z. T. Simmons. Something about the buggy broke, the horse became frightened and whirled around, throwing all three of them out. Mr. and Mrs. Simmons escaped with a few bruises.

The residence of R. P. Magee of Carrollton was burglarized one night last week. The burglar gained entrance through an unlocked screen door on the back porch. When Mr. Magee got up the next morning he found his trousers in the yard and a little over a dollar in small change gone. His glasses were found near his clothes. Nothing else was missing.

The Kansas City Times gives an account of Miss Aileen Clemm, one of the DeArmond sisters, song and dance soubrettes, a former Carroll county girl, appearing in police court prosecuted by Mrs. John King, wife of the former stage manager at Forest Park theatre in Kansas City. Miss Clemm had been writing notes to King and Mrs. King determined to stop it. The girl is only 14 years old and lived at Braymer. She was stage struck and her mother allowed her to accept an offer of $10 a week "so that she could get enough of it while young." Mrs. King said she did not want the girl sent to the industrial home for girls. Judge McCune ordered the mother to take her back to Braymer. The girl's father is H. O. Clemm, a grocer at Braymer.

MARRIAGES.

Albert Duffen and Miss Bessie James, both of Norborne.

John H. Crump, 65 years old, died in Columbia Saturday night. Deceased was formerly of Fayette.

Central college at Fayette defeated Pritchett college of Glasgow Monday playing football. Score, 21 to 0.

Prof. O. H. Corprew, a former teacher in Central college at Fayette, died Monday in Virginia, aged 81 years. He had been a teacher in Central college for 35 years, never missing a day in that time. He filled the chair of language for 12 years at Randolph-Macon college in Virginia.

Cordell Scotten, son of Mrs. Nellie Scotten of Fayette, had his left leg broken in three places last Thursday on Central college's gridiron, while playing football with a number of the public school boys. There was no match game, simply a practice by the boys. In a scrimmage he was thrown and his left leg badly broken—once below the knee just where the bones unite, again, just above the knee cap and then the thigh bone.

Sheriff Gibson and little grandson, baby of Mrs. Margaret Gibson Daniels of Fayette, had a narrow escape from serious injury Sunday night. Sheriff Gibson got out and was handed the baby. He was standing between the wheels and at that moment the horses started up and one wheel ran over his ankle and the fender dragged him down. Fortunately he held the little baby away from the wheels and it escaped without injury. The sheriff was considerably bruised on the ankle.

MARRIAGES.

Geo. Banes of St. Louis and Miss Bessie Cooper of Fayette.

LINN.

Linneus' new electric light plant works beautifully.

Ether Kirby, daughter of H. C. Taggart of near Linneus, aged 14 years, died Tuesday.

Willie Williams was thrown for a horse at his home, near Chillicothe, Monday and badly injured. The young man fell on his head.

Mrs. Doc Smith, aged 46 years, died at her home in Sampsel Sunday. Deceased is survived by a husband and eight children.

I. L. Wade, cashier of the bank of Lock Springs, was injured Tuesday, near Chillicothe. He was thrown out of his buggy and a deep gash cut on his head.

In addition to public toilet rooms for visitors in Chillicothe, plans are maturing for a rest room for farmer's wives and children.

Mrs. A. J. Taylor, 48 years old, died Thursday at her home in Chillicothe. Deceased was born in Michigan and died of lung trouble.

Ralph Baker of near Chula, aged 17, was arrested Sunday on the charge of stealing a horse from Virgil Hill of Chula. The boy hired the horse from Hill and kept it so long that Hill went in search of him. Baker went to Iowa and returned Saturday when he was immediately arrested. The boy fails to state what he did with the horse.

Maggie Clark, from Cape

Girardeau county, 16 years old, sent to the industrial home for girls at Chillicothe last week, is the first inmate sent to that institution by federal authority. The girl wrote a letter using language tabooed by the postal authorities.

Miss Acote Hurd, 9 years old, a student in the Chillicothe normal, whose home is in Pattonburg, Mo., was arrested in St. Louis Sunday as "an incorrigible suspect." Dr. N. L. Toalson, a graduate of Barnes university in St. Louis, was arrested with her. The charges were preferred by Mrs. Emma Toalson, wife of Dr. Toalson. He was arrested for wife abandonment. According to Mrs. Toalson, the doctor left home six weeks ago while she was away on a visit. When she returned she tried to communicate with her sister at Chillicothe, but she had left school. She located her truant husband through the instrumentality of Sherman Hunt, whose name appears in the St. Louis city directory as living at No. 2874 Reilly avenue. "Hunt, from a picture he had, recognized Toalson on a street and followed him to the house on Lawton avenue. He obtained an interview with Toalson on the pretext that he was an officer looking into the registration of the city and was hunting a man registered as Toalson. "We have both had our troubles," said Miss Hurd, "and we were intensely sympathetic. This drew us together and our relations were of the soul and not the body." Mrs. Toalson, the girl's sister, does not subscribe to the affinity or soulmating belief of the pair and will prosecute them both. "I have no sympathy at all for my sister," Mrs. Toalson said on her arrival in St. Louis from Santa Rosa, Mo., Sunday with a warrant for the arrest of her husband, charging him with wife abandonment. "The girl stole my husband from me and she must suffer with him. I will have no mercy on them."

MARRIAGES.

Wayne Phillips and Miss Lillie Anderson, both of Wheeling.

Ralph Hoyt of Avalon and Miss Bessie Bryant of Chillicothe.

MACON.

Miss Mary Kern of St. Louis is to marry Paul Wm. Tuft of Macon in January.

Rufus B. Clark of Blue Lick and Miss Bertha E. Claycomb of Marshall.

Leonard M. Barnhill of Marshall and Miss Elizabeth S. Pile of Blue Lick.

LOCAL GLEANINGS.

According to the Prairie Hill Swastika, Joe Farthing will go to Shannon county in a few days with a view to buying land and moving his family there.

Ben Hayes, Jr., of Salisbury is now sporting an automobile. It is a Rambler, but Ben's wife will see that he doesn't do any "rambling" after night unless she is with him.

Albert Heiman, a former Brunswick boy, aged 22 years, died at Denver, Colo., Thursday, October 22, 1908, where he had employment. His remains were shipped to Brunswick for interment.

John Myers, Jr., of Brunswick and Wm. Hartman of St. Louis, who have been engaged in the apple business up about Brunswick, DeWitt and Miami this season, bought and shipped a little over 10,000 barrels to St. Louis.

We learn from the Salisbury Press-Spectator that the twin boys of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Martin Johnson of Forest Green died Thursday, October 15, a few hours after birth. The Courier sympathizes with the young parents in their bereavement.

C. R. Mason, at one time a well-known citizen of near Daleton, but more recently a resident of Brunswick, and still later of St. Louis, died of paralysis the 12th inst. at Eugene, Oregon, aged 59 years. His body was taken to St. Louis and laid to rest in Bellefontaine cemetery.

We are informed by the Press-Spectator that Dr. J. D. Brummall of Salisbury returned Wednesday from Kansas City where he had been to assist in the operation sustained by Ed Baier. Mr. Baier's leg was amputated, and when Dr. Brummall left the patient was doing well. Mr. Baier suffered the injury to his leg in a streetcar accident.

The Sumner Star says that Bill Loyd had a narrow escape from being killed at Geo. Southland's farm Sunday. He was breaking a young bronco and the animal threw him into a ditch and then fell in onto him. The narrowness of the ditch was all that saved him from being flattened out like a pancake. As it was he got one of his arms temporarily put out of business.

We see by the Rothville Bee that Miss Rosa Southard has been quite sick since last Monday as a result of being badly scared by a snake. Horace Miller had a small snake in a sack and when Miss Southard asked him for candy he handed her the sack, and thinking it contained candy she opened it, becoming badly frightened and had to be taken home from school. However, she was able to take up her school work yesterday morning. The Bee says that it would advise the young men not to give the ladies any more snakes.

You Want Your Loan
