To Improve Airdome
A pretty fair-sized audience saw an exhibition of cattle-roping, broncho busting and other wild west performances on the films at the airdome Tuesday night. It was a reproduction of the affair at Tulsa, Okla. The price was raised to twenty cents for this special feature. The usual price is ten cents. The proprietors expect to show in the Airdome until about Oct. 1 when they will roof the show house and later prepare it for the cold winter days. The picture show will be varied during the winter with musical and other entertainments which will add to the attractiveness of the programs.

The Airdome furnishes wholesome amusement for Keytesville people and deserves the patronage and encouragement of residents of Keytesville and vicinity.

To Brookfield Shoot
A party of marksmen and trapshooters are preparing to go to Brookfield for the two days' state shoot, September 17 and 18. Amongst those who will go, unless signs fail are Warner White, Edgar Wilks, Pat Thrash, Jim Shannon, Bill Adams and Dr. Austin. This will constitute some of the thick cream of Keytesville marksmen and they expect to enter in the various events. If everything is favorable they will go in automobiles.

Banner Tobacco Crop
John Stevenson has the banner tobacco crop of tobacco in this county this year. He has forty acres and in no part of it can a six-foot man see where he is going. While John has one of the largest going tobacco barns in the county he is now erecting a new very large one and still may not have room enough for his 'crop'.

In Church Sans Cost
According to the Republic, the pastor of a Fulton, Mo. church suggested the male members of his congregation attend church in shirt sleeves, if such contributed to their comfort. In Keytesville, some of the church members have been following this sensible custom without advice.

Confederate Cross of Honor
The Daughters of Confederacy announce that after September there will be no more crosses of honor bestowed. Any Ex-Confederates desiring one of these badges will receive it from J. J. Moore during this month only.

In Durance Vile
The County bastille has Gordon Dotson, 8 months for assault. Theo. Anderson, 2 months petit larceny. Jas. Wilson, negro charged with stealing automobile, awaiting trial, in durance vile.

Mrs. Grace Pankey of Marcelline, one of the prettiest "hello" girls as well as most courteous in Missouri we are glad to learn will officiate in "central" here.

STUDENTS ARE AT WORK

Public School Enrollment Is Larger Than Last Year.

The fall term of the Keytesville school opened Monday with very pleasing prospects for a fine year's work. Superintendent Taylor notes with satisfaction that the enrollment in the grades is larger than last year and that the attendance in the High School will exceed the maximum of last year.

The school opened with a brief program in the assembly room during which short talks were given by the school directors. On Tuesday classes were organized and the work was progressing in the usual methodical way.

The school opened with the matriculation of 255 pupils. Of these, 42 are non-residents, leaving the attendance for the city at 211 students. The high school enrolled 82. The maximum last year was 86 and it is expected the attendance this year will reach at least 95.

Miss Elizabeth White has Grade 1, with 31 pupils; Miss Willie Davis, Grades 2 and 3, with 21 and 20 pupils, respectively; Miss Lois Hancock, Grades 4 and 5, with 15 and 24 students; Miss Lou Staples, Grade 6 with 20 pupils and part of Grade 7 with 10; Miss Jo Martin, part of 7 with 17 pupils and 8 with 14.

The High School, with 82 pupils, is in charge of Misses Mary E. Thompson, Ruth Gildert and J. W. Taylor. Music is under direction of Miss Sarah Lockhart. The building was in good condition, in charge of Bert Warshaw.

NON-RESIDENT PUPILS
Marion Taylor, Theodore Friesz, Anna Eliza Cook, Will Bayne, Katie Blackwell, Denton Grotjan, Nellie Mosley, Raymond Blackwell, Mamie Grotjan, Martin Courtney, Dan Bayne, Maybeth Smith, Elmer McAuley, Julia Besse Allega, Dovie Crawford, Orville Coy, Edna Steineau, Ella Mazie Emerson, Lowell Johnson, Willie Johnson, Carl Wallace Steineau, Otto Brandt, Juanita Dinsmore, Geo. Chapman, Edward Welch, Johnny Hayward, Raymond Spence, Eulah Vesah, Ethel Zillman, Norvell Allen, Edith Price, Elizabeth Blakey, W. D. Dotson, Edythe Taylor, Irene M. Enyeart, Albert Fetzer, Lucy Phillips, Helen Zillman, Anna Lou Fetzer, Sadie Mitchell, Mary Sue Blankenship, Charles Chapman.

Steam Heat for Hotel
This winter the Brown Hotel, for the first time in its history, will be heated by steam. The contract was let Saturday morning, the steam plant to cost $850. Other proprietors of the place had importuned the owner of the building, Walter Hyde, to place a similar plant, but not until Mr. Price, the present manager, made the request, did the owner consent. This will greatly increase the desirability of the hotel as a winter residence and unless signs fail, Manager Price will have a hard time entertaining all comers during the cold months. Even now the hotel is usually taxed to the limit of its capacity for occupants.

In addition to the contract for heating the Brown hotel in this city, J. Oscar Smith of Moberly has contracts for placing heating plants at Centralia, Talip, Madison, Macon, Marcelline and Columbia. The contractor has allowed a 90 day test of the plant here.

Mrs. W. A. Taylor who has been visiting her son, Walter, of Twin Falls, Idaho, is home.

Moore and Schell were driving near the residence of Mrs. Wheeler when the horse became frightened, running quite a distance, throwing the men from the rig. The rig was somewhat dilapidated as a result of its contact with the earth. It was a narrow escape from serious injuries for both men involved and witnesses of the incident for awhile feared that results would be even more disastrous.
