

SalTone Cuts Feed Cost Fully One-Fifth

We want every owner of live stock to try SalTone. SalTone saves fully one-fifth of your feed cost by destroying all worms and parasites, and by putting every organ in every animal in perfect working condition. Then, animals get full value from every mouthful they eat.

Robert Scott, Ashford, North Carolina, writes: "I find SalTone the finest thing for stock I ever used. My horses that ate fifteen ears of corn now will eat but nine or ten, and they are fatter than ever. My cows, colts and hogs are mud fat since feeding it." If SalTone fails to do as much for your animals we will give you back your money upon return to us of empty SalTone package. Try it today.

A Correction

A month ago an item was published in the "Howard County" notes in the Courier to the effect that C. A. Clingenpeel, a student at Fayette had left for his home in St. Louis and had left unpaid a board bill and that his baggage was attached for the same. This was an error. Mr. Clingenpeel is one of the proprietors of Cupples Hall, a boarding house at Fayette and it was this firm of Abernathy & Clingenpeel that had the baggage of a young student attached for leaving his board bill unpaid. Later the young man paid his bill and his baggage was sent him. This correction was made to set right the wrong impression that it was Mr. Clingenpeel who was in trouble.
