

OWENS MILLS BURNED

Structure At Brunswick Up In Smoke—Loss Estimated at $20,000.

Monday morning at an early hour, the mill at Brunswick owned by the Owens Grain and Milling company was burned to the ground. The elevator was not injured. The loss is said to be about $20,000 and the insurance on the building to amount to about $9,000. The mill is a structure of several stories and a basement.

The fire was discovered it is said about 7 o'clock Sunday evening and it was put out. At 11 o'clock the fire commenced again to burn and it was brought under control and was thought to have been completely extinguished. At two o'clock A. M. Monday it is reported to have caught fire again and this time it was impossible for the fire department to get control and the structure was burned to the ground. The building housed one of the best industries of Brunswick the output, especially flour, being sold here and at many other places as well.

Market Roosters Early

Never before in the history of the poultry business have so many roosters been marketed so early in the season as they have this year. If marketed now, the frys bring as much money as they would if held until fall and then marketed, which has usually been done. The saving of the feed for several months is so considerable an item that the marketing of the roosters as frys commends itself to many people. Some people are eating the young roosters instead of marketing them. The high cost of other meat makes it profitable to eat the roosters instead of marketing them and it is needless to state that they are about as delectable an article of food as one could find anywhere in the market.

Young Ladies Wanted

The Brown Shoe Company needs more help for their Brookfield factory and would employ six young ladies a week until the force is increased to five hundred employees. The factory is equipped with electric fans and other modern conveniences and is a very desirable place to work. For additional information, write or apply to Geo. W. Bailey, Secretary of the Commercial Club, Brookfield, Mo. 3-4

Lake-Ray

Two young people of Marceline came to this city Saturday morning and were married. The officiating minister was Rev. W. L. Myers who was called to the courthouse about 9 A. M. to marry Walker Lake and Miss Orpha Ray, both giving their address at Marceline. The witnesses were the attaches of the recorder's office.

Up to The Lord

All the European nations that have gone to war have put it up to "God" to see that their cause triumphed. It appears that among the many jobs the Lord seems to have here these belligerents have saddled another rather difficult problem on him.

Indian Runner Ducks

Pure Strain, best breed. $1.50 the pair.
27-30 Mrs. W. M. Cavanah, Route 1.

Columbus says he was at Moberly Monday and attended the Emancipation Day Celebration. He relates there was some dancing including the tango, the Boston Dip and other fancy stuff in which he and his cousin, Evalina Allen, got the first prize. Great stuff, says Columbus.

The Election

A finer day could not have been wished nor a more amicable relationship between the supporters of the various candidates but that there was marked contrast between this election and several primaries which have preceded it, every one engaged will admit. It is to be deplored that there was as much mud slinging and betting, and if the practice grows, there are many leaders in the county who feel that a return to the primary system is imperative for the safety of the party.

The ticket nominated is a great surprise to many, but all will readily admit that the field presented to the voters for a selection was a fine one and from which it was conceived mistakes were impossible. The nominees will carry the county by the usual majorities, but the county committee should see to it that they do not sit back in the shade and manifest no concern about majorities, as has been the case in the past several elections. Where the democratic party showed pluralities from 1500 to 1800 in this county a few years ago, the number has shrunk to figures which do not represent its strength, if developed, and there surely is an explanation for this deplorable condition. That democrats will get together and show the interest in the general election which it is their duty to do, there is no question, and all will be well again.

We congratulate all the nominees on their victory and commiserate the losers with the suggestion that conditions over which they could not possibly exercise control arose to their defeat in spite of their valiant efforts to win.

All Democratic

There was not much to be done on the various party tickets in this county Tuesday excepting in the case of the Democratic party. The Republican ticket had on it candidates for congress, state school superintendent and judge of the supreme court. The progressive ticket had one nominee that for superintendent. The Socialist Labor ticket had a candidate for judge and the regular Socialist ticket had names of congressman, judge, school superintendent, representative and senator. The only full ticket for voting at the primaries was the Democratic ticket. None of the other parties seemed to have enough chance for election to make it worth while to nominate men in the county.

Baptist Church Notes

Oklahoma City, Okla., August 4, 1914.
Rev. W. T. Russell, Keytesville, Mo.,

Dear Brother:—I am planning to be with you and your people on schedule time August 10th. Let us have the first service on the night of that day. Hope you have made every preparation for a successful meeting. I am looking forward with great expectancy to this meeting with the friends of my first pastorate. Give my love to all the people before-hand.

C. W. Garhart, wife and children, Brummall and Mabella, Miss Ruth Hancock and Herbert Leach motored to Moberly to the fair Wednesday.

The theatre boat that makes a trip up the Missouri every year was at Brunswick Wednesday evening. Miss Lorena Holman planned to attend the show.

Having sold out I would be glad if the parties who owe me would call and settle with me at once. Thanking one and all for past favors, I remain your friend,
Ed Courtney

Will Goll and a party made up of Mrs. George Dewey, Mrs. Mackay, Misses Mollie Ann Mackay and Ellen Ward motored to Salisbury Tuesday night to get a line on the election excitement.

Leslie and Hazel Roberts were here Sunday and drove to Salisbury with a party of young ladies of this city. In the party were Misses Ella Hardin, Helen White, Agnes Taylor and Julia Bess Allega.

Enthusiasm was at a white heat Tuesday night. Two small boys got into a fight at the Air-dome and entertained the audience by kicking each other around for a while before older people intervened and stopped the fracas.

S. M. White, Jr., was swimming Sunday afternoon at the Chariton river. While engaged in the sport a companion hit him in the eye with a handful of sand and mud and the result was goggles for Simmie for several days.

Ben McCrum leaves Saturday or Sunday for the east. He has accepted an U. S. government job on the Ohio river at Belleville, near Parkersburg, West Virginia. He will be on this work for an indefinite period. The work is concrete construction. Mr. McCrum has been working for the Wabash but has been here for some time during which he surveyed some "made" land for the county. He is a conscientious workman and undoubtedly will make good with Uncle Sam.

J. R. Moffett and daughter, Mrs. Paul Kistler of south of Keytesville attended the Methodist Sunday school picnic given by the Salisbury members Tuesday at Clarence Garhart's east of Keytesville.

Three townships or voting precincts failed to arrive at the county clerks office Wednesday. They were Yellow Creek, Cunningham and Wayland. They got in Thursday.

Mrs. Willie Mackay was confined to her bed Wednesday and Thursday on account of a boil.

Miss Sciota Neighbors of Mussel Fork went to Chillicothe Monday to take a position as stenographer in an office.

Local people who were at Moberly Sunday saw James Roy Key who was there visiting a friend. Key now is working at Fulton on the Sun.

BROOKFIELD FAIR

AUGUST 11, 12, 13, 14

4 BIG DAYS

Special trains on Thursday, August 13. See agent for time the special leaves your town.

AEROPLANE FLIGHTS

RALPH McMILLAN, the most daring aeronaut of modern times, has been secured by the Brookfield Fair, to make flights in his Curtiss Bi-plane, two days of the fair, Wednesday and Thursday. He will give two flights on each day and you will see the spiral glide, loop-the-loop, and the daring stunts pulled off by this aeronaut, thousands of feet in the air. You will not be disappointed. McMillan does not disappoint.

No extra gate admission on these two days.

The entries in every race show from 13 to 27 horses entered, an unusually heavy racing card. 280 of the highest class horses in the west are entered, and 4 days of continuous racing is promised.

From 4 to 6 races each and every day. All 4 days big ones.

The Brookfield Fair Management have won the enviable reputation of pulling off what it advertises, and next to Sedalia, has the best fair in the state. Liberal treatment of its patrons, clean racing, extremely liberal admissions to grounds, no extra charges for grand stand and paddock, has been the means of building up a fair second to the State Fair only.

Admission, adults, 35c, children 6 to 12 25c. Season tickets, good for the 4 days, children 60c, adults $1

FRANK DICK, President      R. S. BROWNLEE, Treasurer      L. W. RUMMELL, Secretary      GUS GANNON, Speed Secy.
