Small town editorial: When a man, or for that matter a woman either, becomes so "broad" that wrong looks like right, and so tolerant that nothing is quite evil and all things somehow are good, he needs to go off by himself somewhere, take his "in'ards" out and give them a thorough going over. Moral leprosy may be setting in, with all that it means in the decay of personal ideals and in the deterioration of individual conduct. In such a state of mind the men literally attribute the work of the Lord to the Devil, and in so doing commit the unforgivable sin. Every normal, healthy-minded man has a set of good, sturdy prejudices and he is bound to hate with all the ardor of which he is capable. He wouldn't be natural if he did not and is to be commended inasmuch as the right kind of prejudices are the best of safeguards. Those who affect to have home as a rule are eaten up with the wrong kind. If we were called on to write a litany, the first refrain would be, From people who are "too sweet oh Lord deliver us." Than your ultra sweet person, as a rule, nothing under heaven is more venomous. His poison sack—or hers—is always intact and the urge to draw on it always present. The individual who has prejudice and admits the fact may blow up occasionally, but he can't forget and forgive, and in the end, being human, comes around all right. In the highest test, that of friendship, loyalty to conviction, and the ability to be fair, you can place your last dollar on him. But keep your eye on these sweet people, those who are neither hot nor cold and to whom all things are the same—churches, political parties, and factions.

It is a pose, a cult, an affectation. Sweet people, like sheep killing dogs, run in groups, and if you look close enough you can see the wool in their teeth. If you want to see what the old Elizabethan writers called the "choler" rise, happen around when a couple of these repressed saints, who love everybody and everything, collide in cross-purposes. It is astonishing how quick fermentation sets in and sweet becomes bitter, how readily the honeyed word becomes acid. Sweet people are too good to be true and fool nobody. Believe something and admit it. Cultivate loyalty and hate lies. Stick to your church, your party, your wife, your husband, your home, your friend, in good report and ill, so long as they stick to you. The kingdom of heaven is going to be made up of those who have come up thru great tribulation and "strong personal bias"—those who have dared to love and to hate, to believe and to contend. This Karo syrup stuff wont work at The Gate. Can it. Tom Bodine

Peerless Self Starter

For Ford Cars Only
It is unlike any starter ever offered for sale. It has no weak points and requires no upkeep. With ordinary use it should outlast the car. It does not injure the "starter" if the engine backfires.

While it is a complete starting system it is not complicated, simplicity is the keynote.

Guaranteed. Price $16.00

LIFT OFF CORNS!

Apply few drops then lift sore, touchy corns off with fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little Freezone on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then you lift it right out. Yes, magic!

A tiny bottle of Freezone costs but a few cents at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation. Freezone is the sensational discovery of a Cincinnati genius. It is wonderful.

Try It Out

There are no birds in last year's nests.

So poets say,
And if you care to make some tests,

You surely may.

You may have grown a trifle stout,

May portly be,
But if you try, you eat, no doubt,
Shin up a tree.

You needn't take a poet's word

Or trust a book;
Just fly around like any bird

And have a look.

WOMAN'S NERVES MADE STRONG

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Winona, Minn.—"I suffered for more than a year from nervousness, and I was so bad I could not rest at night—would be nervous and get so nervous I would have to get up and walk around and in the morning would be all tired out. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and thought I would try it. My nervousness soon left me. I sleep well and feel fine in the morning and able to do my work. I gladly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to make weak nerves strong."—Mrs. ALBERT SULTZE, 603 Olmstead St., Winona, Minn.

How often do we hear the expression among women, "I am so nervous, I cannot sleep," or "it seems as though I should fly." Such women should profit by Mrs. Sultze's experience and give this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial.

For forty years it has been overcoming such serious conditions as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, dizziness, and nervous prostration of women, and is now considered the standard remedy for such ailments.

In the Probate Court of Chariton County, Missouri April 15th 1919

In the matter of Estate of John Keuchler, - - - Ex Parte, Upon information of A Wires

Proof of the Publication of the citation by Notice published in the Chariton Courier, requiring John Keuchler, if living to appear before this Court on this the 15th day of April 1919, having been filed and said cause was taken up by the Court for investigation and the Court having heard the evidence and seen all documents connected therewith, considered and adjudged that the legal death of said John Keuchler has been established and has so adjudged and decreed.

The Court in compliance with the Statutes as made and provided hereby gives this as an additional Notice to said John Keuchler and all parties who may be interested, of the action of this Court, and hereby orders that a further notice be published in the Chariton Courier once a week for four consecutive weeks, requiring said John Keuchler, if alive, or any person for him to produce to the Court, within twelve weeks from the day of the last insertion thereof, satisfactory evidence of the fact that he is still living. Upon failure to produce such evidence the Court will proceed and cause letters of Administration to be issued upon the estate of said John Keuchler.

Witness my hand and seal at Office at Court-house in Keytesville, Missouri this 15 day of April 1919.

True Liberty Well Defined.

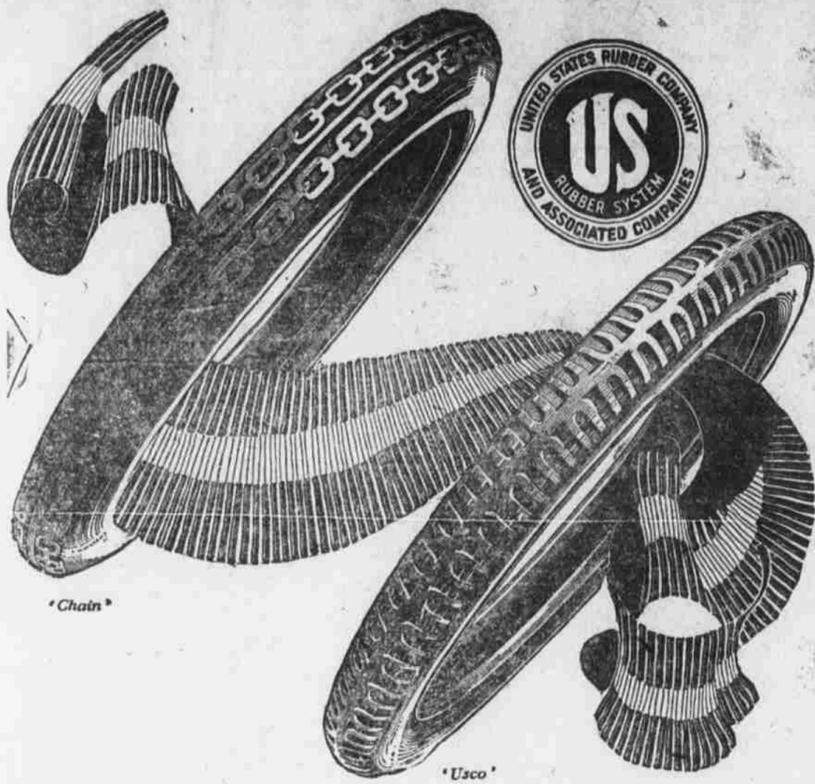

There is and can be no conflict between legitimate civil government and legitimate civil liberty.

This is not to say, however, that any man has an absolute right to do as he pleases, without reference to the equal rights of others.

The game in the forest, the fish in the streams, the grass in the parks, ect., are common property, and the rights of the individual are not invaded when he is forbidden to kill the game out of season, to catch the fish in a wasteful manner, or to walk upon the grass in the park. In all these things he is simply required to have proper regard for the equal rights of his fellows.

We might go much farther than this, and say that coal and mineral deposits, water power, public water supplies, utilities ect., belong, not to private individuals, nor yet to corporation but to the whole people and that they ought to be administered for the benefit of the people.

Call this Socialism if you will. There are some good things in Socialism. There is, however, Socialism and Socialism. The Socialism that seeks to make every man merely a cog in a great wheel, that would substitute communities for families and hand out education, religion, and about everything else ready-made, would be the worst kind of despotism. True liberty demands that the individual be left as free as possible, his liberty of thought, expression, and action being limited only by the equal rights of his fellow man. — Washington Post.

Wonderings

Are onion peels
And arrow roots
The products of
Our garden shoots?

If flies can fly
And sea gulls see,
Why don't the little
Flea-bug flee?

And does the auto
Have to wait
Because the sparks
Are at the the gate?

The famous Hinge Door Wood Stave Silo
Wind and Storm Proof

J. B. Crum, Dalton, Mo.

THE Famous Hinge Door, the all steel door frame, the hook lag support and lag screws, together with the ground anchor and cable tightener and the King-B Roof, make the Ladder Hinge Door Wood Stave Silo the peer of all silos in scientific construction.

would be glad to explain to you the principle of the Hinge Door. How it is easy to climb the big steel hinge which will hold a weight of over 2000 pounds. How the door never will sag, freeze in, bind or stick, and is always in place. How the lever operated by one hand will open and close the door. How the ensilage will keep perfectly next to the door. How the Hinge Door prevents silage from freezing in winter and drying out in summer, and how the door is always securely fastened to the silo.

Study the illustration at the left which shows three sections of the famous Ladder Hinge Door. Do not place an order for a Silo until you have talked over the proposition with our agent.
