There seems to be quite a lot of stealing going on about town. It is not hardly safe to leave the house without locking up securely. While one woman was out of town some boys took all the pine boxes she had for kindling. Another woman went to dinner at the Christian church and while there someone entered her house and took about $2 in change. Neighbors saw the party enter the house and so it is not safe for them to go back. Something should be done to abate this nuisance.

AIRPLANE ACCIDENT AT BRUNSWICK WEDNESDAY

Down at Brunswick Wednesday the citizens and spectators were treated to a regular thriller—an airplane accident—the latest and most approved. There have been daily ascensions in that thriving metropolis for several days and Wednesday the star attraction was pulled.

The plane, on the occasion of the accident had one passenger besides the driver. When about 160 feet above sea level something went wrong and the airplane crashed to the earth. The occupants were rushed to a hospital, but it is reported their injuries are slight.

STOLEN AT THE COURT HOUSE DURING COURT

Sheriff Wilks dropped in on the Courier man Wednesday and gave us a notice to print. The notice speaks for itself, but the idea is that this hand bag was stolen from a deaf mute, a young girl who had been summoned here to testify in some one of the cases being tried. She had taken a seat outside the court room and when she got up she left her hand bag on the bench. When she returned it had been taken.

Lost at the Court House in Keytesville, a gray kid hand satchel containing $29.00 in bills. Finder will please return to or notify Mrs. W. O. Bayne, Hamden, Mo., and receive reward. 44

Ask to see at Miss Anna Ruckers the new Shopping bags, handbags, silk jersey bloomers, and house slippers for Christmas gifts. 44

As Mrs. John Closson and daughters, Thelma and Ruth, were coming to town Wednesday morning the horse attempted to run away and succeeded in breaking the buggy and giving the occupants quite a scare. Mrs. Closson managed to hold the horse and prevented a runaway. They were forced to get out and walk up the court house hill.

Good Looks and Long Wear Combined!

We can recommend this hosiery, because women who are overly particular in their selection of things to wear continue to buy them.

Armor Plate Hosiery

do not "bag" at the toes and heels or wrinkle about the ankles. They fit snug, smooth and comfortable, because they are knit to size and formed to fit. Reinforced for the extra wear at heel and toe. Made in cotton, wool and silk. Dyed with Harmes-Not-Dye—no rotting of fabric or harm to the skin. They are "perfect in weave, wear and wash."

MRS. JOHN MOSLEY

Died, at the Christian hospital in Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 17, Mrs. John Mosley. She was the mother of three daughters, Mrs. Ruby Johnson, Mrs. Pearl Banks and Mrs. Marie Daino all of Los Angeles, one son, Dewey, preceded her to the grave. Besides her daughter, she leaves a husband, two brothers, Frank Dailey of Arizona and Geo. of Camden, Mo., and one sister, Mrs. John Hickey of Mendon.

Mae Dailey was born and reared in this community and after her marriage she went to California to make her home. She united with the Christian church at the age of 15 years and was a good christian wife and a devoted mother. She has many friends here and in this county who will regret to learn of her sudden death. She was only ill a few hours after an attack of heart trouble. Burial was made in Los Angeles, where her son is buried.

SCOUT WORK AT PUEBLO.

If ever scouts had an opportunity to test out their power to live up to their motto "Be prepared," it was during the terrible period of the Pueblo flood last summer, when practically every scout and scoutleader within the district was on duty night and day in the service of the stricken community. As soon as it was clear that the flood was threatening to be a serious matter, Scout Executive Alverson got as many older scouts and scoutmasters as he could muster together, and plans for immediate action were made. In addition to many phenomenal feats of life-saving the boys served as messengers, established wireless booths in canteens and supply stations, even in the morgue itself; built emergency bridges and worked on the temporary lorries; opened their own headquarters for many refugees, found homes for others, did guard duty, distributed safe drinking water, shoveled mud, delivered posters and proclamations for the board of health. Indeed, there was almost no end to the work the valiant lads were willing and able to tackle in the face of the disaster.

On the east side the scouts took complete charge of the Western Union stations, a dangerous service, as a foot-bridge was the only means of getting across the river for several days. The telegrams were carried across the bridge by scouts and the number of messages carried was an enormous one, as can well be imagined.

Most of the rescue work on the part of scouts was done in the lowest portions of the city, where the risk was greatest and many a spectacular tale of life-saving is recorded. Scoutmaster Cary met his death in attempting to save the lives of two women in a floating house, his boat being violently dashed against a steel lamp-post. The boys themselves were in constant danger, but no one of them ever turned back from the task in hand, from any considerations of personal safety or well-being. Though many weeks have passed since the disaster, Pueblo is still talking about her scouts and their amazing and heroic service in the terrible hour.

SCOUTS REPAIR CITY SIDEWALKS

There is only one scout troop in Lind, Wash., but that one is up and doing as is proved by a recent example of thrift and enterprise. It seems the scouts noticed that the wooden sidewalks of the city were badly in need of repair. Consequently they marched up to the mayor and offered to do the job at a nominal figure. The mayor liked the idea. He also liked the spirit of the boys and took up the offer, arranging that the work should be done.
