

The Bulletin.

NEWS OF THE CITY.

OUR BOUNDARY POCKET. -The thermometer, at 12 M. stood 87 in the shade. -There was no council meeting last night. No quorum. -Beerwart, Orth & Co. are working on the roof of the new school house. -A vegetable wedding: -The marriage of a "head boat" which is Dr. Austin's joke. -A large number of our citizens are in attendance at the Normal School corner-stone ceremonies at Carbondale to-day. -The New York Store has sold $50,000 more goods this year than during any other year since the store was opened. -Chased seal and ornamental rings of every pattern are made to order by Taber Brothers. -The fire companies turned out to the funeral of Holmes and Davin this afternoon. The unfortunate men were buried at Villa Ridge. -Ensign, of the American Restaurant, will soon open out above Pat Fitzgerald's saloon. He is fitting up rooms and knows how to dish up an excellent meal. -To the exclusion of our usual inside variety we give place today to the address of the Constitutional Convention to the people of Illinois. It is a document which every voter should carefully read. -Dristol & Stillwell advertise the fragrant Palmetto cigar. B. & S. keep nothing but fine goods on hand, and these cigars are as good as cheap and popular. Call on them and take a puff. -We have not been informed as to the intentions of Louis Herbert and Walker and Simon; but, of course, they will go into business again. How can the city get along without such energetic business men? -No less than twenty dogs—dogs of all degrees of viciousness and worthlessness—set upon a little boy on Nineteenth street last night, and but for the interference of a negro woman, would, probably, have torn the child to pieces. -Just received at P. Neff's, No. 79, Ohio Levee, a splendid lot of spring Cassimeres, Coatings and Vestings, which will be made up in the most fashionable styles, and at prices to suit the times, a perfect fit guaranteed or no sale. -Jack Winters was absent from the city, when the fire occurred yesterday morning. He will be disconsolate for a month. What an opportunity he lost to display his skill as the business for which he is most peculiarly adapted. -The School Directors of this District will hold regular meetings on the first Monday of every month, in the office of Messrs. Allen Webb & Butler. All persons having claims against the District will please present them for allowance. -Jewett Wilcox, of the St. Charles, was victimized by Rogers, the Mark Twain Innocent's Abroad agent, and has prepared an elaborate sketch of the life of that Innocent Abroad, which he proposes to publish in the Bulletin. -Cool, airy and splendidly ventilated rooms can be had at the Saint Charles, with board, during the hot summer months, at very low prices. Families can be accommodated during the above period, with our most desirable rooms, at a large deduction from regular rates. -The colored folks, of Elder Brown's flock, and his friends, marched through the streets this morning, and embarked on the Old-Fellow for Caledonia, where they have doubtless had a pleasant time today. They were all neatly dressed, and presented an appearance of thrift which is very creditable to their industry and tact. -J. Geo. Steinhouse, formerly of the St. Charles Hotel, has opened a barber shop at the corner of Eighth street and Commercial avenue, (Perry House) and with a skillful assistants is prepared to execute all business incident to the profession in the most scientific manner, and to the full satisfaction of his customers. -A great pressure upon our local column during the past few days, excluded a number of local paragraphs, and among others that in which we acknowledged the compliment of a delightful serenade from Izenberger's string band. Mr. Izenberger is an accomplished musician, of great versatility of talent, and a gentleman also. His band is one of the best ever organized in Cairo, and seems to be in request whenever there is a call for first-class orchestral music. -The public school teachers, wishing to participate in the corner-stone ceremonies in Carbondale to-day, adjourned school until tomorrow, Wednesday morning. As the Carbondale demonstration is an affair in which the educators of Southern Illinois feel a lively interest, the attendance of the Cairo teachers, even at the sacrifice of a day's school, can very readily be excused. Indeed, a failure on their part to participate in the ceremonies, might be charged to a want of zeal in the cause to which they are devoting themselves.

THE FIRE. INCIDENTS, ACCIDENTS, ETC. The fire, yesterday morning, was, all things considered, the most disastrous that ever occurred in Cairo. The building, or block, was one of the largest and most imposing in the city. Unless the insurance companies concerned conclude to rebuild it, we apprehend that many months, possibly years, will elapse before the ugly gap will be filled by buildings as fine and costly as those destroyed. -Understanding that his rear fence was on fire, Geo. E. Olmstead, Thos. Davin, and James Holmes went back to extinguish it. Before they returned, the rear portion of the south wall of the burning building toppled and fell, burying Davin and Holmes in the rubbish and killing them almost instantly. Olmstead, fortunately, had taken a position about eighteen inches beyond the reach of the wall. -The front wall of the burnt building remained standing, endangering the lives of all passers-by. About 5 o'clock p. m. ropes were fastened about its supports, and a strong pull altogether brought the whole mass, with a great crash, to the ground. The balance of the south side-wall fell outward, at the same time, crashing in the roof of the adjoining frame building and everything beneath it, all the way down to the basement floor. -As many as a half dozen individuals were greatly exasperated during the progress of the fire because "nobody would work." A close watch was kept upon these same fellows and it was found that if one thing was more obnoxious to them than another it was the work they were so anxious for others to perform. They did nothing but talk—not even so much as the lending of a hand to lighten up the hose. How would this world have got along if these men hadn't been born? -Joe Abell, covered with dust, and enveloped in smoke, came dashing out one of the cellars, carrying an old dish pan. "Now d—n her," he remarked, looking spitefully at the building, "let her burn." It was subsequently ascertained that the dish pan had been thrown away. -It was apprehended that the front portion of the upper side wall would crush in Mr. White's storehouse, as the rear portion had crushed his warehouse. To prevent such a disaster, a carpenter, at great hazard of life and limb, planted strong braces from the wall of the imperilled building against the threatening wall. Shortly afterwards, the wall went crashing inward. But for this precaution, the disaster would probably have been increased by the demolition of Mr. White's storehouse. -It was with some difficulty that a looker-on at the fire yesterday morning, could keep his terror from rushing into the red hot roaring mass of bricks and burning timbers. With every crash of falling wall the insane purp imagined that at least a hundred rats were calling him to combat. -There were two alarms of fire last night occasioned by the burning debris of the late conflagration—one at 11, the other at about 12 o'clock. -The firemen of the city are in a dilapidated condition, all of them sore and tired, and many of them wounded. -The Hibernian Fire Company won golden opinions from all sorts of people. From the time the fire began, at half-past 2 until 9 o'clock in the morning, they kept a continuous stream of water playing on the fire, and during the day turned out several times, all hands at the breaks, to keep the flames of the burning debris from spreading to the buildings adjoining. McHale, the President, displayed great energy and held his men well in hand. He has used the company a valuable acquisition to our fire department, and deserves for his gratuitous labors in this regard, the thanks of every property-holder in the city. -Dyas T. Parker, Rev. C. F. Foote, Robt. Smyth, Dr. Brigham, A. B. Safford, Henry Candee, Dr. Dunning, and Thomas Halliday, were conspicuous at the breaks of the engines yesterday morning at the fire. They were indefatigable in their labors to extinguish the flames.

THE GERMAN SCHOOL PICNIC. A GALA DAY AT THE FLORA GARDEN. The German School Picnic, at the Flora Garden yesterday, was a grand success. The occasion was one long to be remembered with pleasure. The little folks, under the care of Prof. Weirich and his estimable lady, enjoyed themselves in games, and other pleasant pastimes; while their seniors, to very excellent music by the Wittigs, whiled away the hours in the pleasures of the dance. Mr. Young, of the Garden, who had tendered it to the school free of charge, was very attentive to his visitors, and earned much applause by his uniform kindness and courtesy. In the evening, members of the Singing Club of the Turners who were present, sang several pieces, and there was a great deal of fun and hilarity. At about nine o'clock, upon the call of the company, Esquire Brass made a brief address in the German language, which was frequently applauded by his hearers. He was followed in a few remarks by Mr. Oberly, and shortly after, the company retired well pleased with the festivities of the day. The telegraph has informed the public that Mrs. McFarland (or Richardson) was the other day taken seriously ill. On Sunday she so far recovered as to be able to start on a journey to New Orleans, and will probably pass through Cairo tomorrow. If she does, she will undoubtedly visit Pat Fitzgerald's Sun Flower Saloon, and settle her nerves by copious draughts of his Cincinnati Lager Beer, of which article he always keeps on hand a fresh supply, and gives it away for 5 cents a glass. If she will not drink his beer, she will not surely go back on his fine whiskeys, brandies, wines and cigars; as will not also the public. Mrs. McFarland and the public know that Pat Fitzgerald knows how to keep saloon, and they will patronize him—sure.

THE SCURT DISTRICT TO BE REBUILT. Mr. Scott White, whose business house was somewhat injured yesterday, by the falling walls of the St. Nicholas Hotel, has concluded to have the building removed, and put up in its place a new brick building, one hundred and ten feet deep, on Sixth street, of the width of the lot, and two stories above the Levee. He proposes to go at the work immediately, and expects to have it completed, and be in the new house with a new stock of new goods, by the 1st of September next. We have also been informed that arrangements will be made to rebuild the houses destroyed by the fire yesterday morning, and that a brick building will be erected on the site of the house lately occupied by Mr. George Olmstead. These facts show that there is life and vim in our business men, and that they have confidence in the future of the city.

AN INDELBLE BLENDISH. Nothing will restore the skin of the head to its original fairness, after it has been turned of a copper color with hair dyes. Yet none of them will produce the rich natural hair shades brought out by the use of Phalon's Vitalia, or Salvation for the Hair, a preparation clear and transparent, which does not stain the skin. Sold by all the druggists and fancy goods dealers. my16daw1w

REGULAR CONVOCATION OF CAIRO CHAPTER NO. 71 B. A. M. will be held at Masonic Hall this (Tuesday) evening, at 8 o'clock. M. L. DUNNING.

IF any of the professional billiardists should come to the city we would advise them to go to Pat Fitzgerald's saloon. He has excellent tables, and is a clever and courteous host.

THE CAIRO & VINCENNES R. R. A NEW ARRANGEMENT.

We announced yesterday (with feelings of exultation, we confess) that the Pennsylvania Central railroad had secured a lease of the Cairo & Vincennes railroad, and would resume immediately the work of construction where Gen. Burnside left off. We were informed that the arrangement had been effected in the name of the Western railroad consolidation or association, but that this was but another name for the Pennsylvania Central. That there are facts to warrant this conclusion we shall not insist, because we do not know. The foundation for the report that the Cairo & Vincennes road had been leased to parties who will push it through to an early completion, may be found in an instrument of writing filed by a gentleman in some manner connected with the Penn. Central, with the Circuit Clerk of this county for record, and such assurances as the gentleman gave, orally, to parties interested in the success of the enterprise. The instrument of writing—a voluminous document—recites the details of the lease of the Indianapolis and Vincennes road in perpetuity to the Indianapolis, Cincinnati and Lafayette railroad company; the Columbus, Chicago and Indiana Central company; and the Pittsburg, Cincinnati and St. Louis Company. To this lease, executed nearly two years ago, there is an addendum, by which Gen. Burnside agrees that the aforesaid parties or companies shall have the right to a perpetual lease and the perpetual use of a lease, by contract or otherwise, of the Cairo and Vincennes railroad, between Cairo, Illinois, and Vincennes, Indiana, at a rental of $2,100 per mile per annum, payable semi-annually, and for a certain share of the surplus dividends, etc. This is the only reference to the Cairo & Vincennes road to be found in the lease or instrument of writing filed with the Circuit Clerk for record. There may be supplemental agreements stipulating for a commencement and completion of the road; but we do not know of any. All reports, therefore, that work will be commenced immediately and pushed through vigorously, are outside of the record, although they may be strictly true.

A FLOATER. Judge Corcoran was called, on Saturday last, to hold an inquest on the dead body of a man found floating in the Ohio opposite the old fort. The body was much decayed, having been in the water probably a month. The clothing consisted of a grey coat, black pants and brogan shoes. In a tin box in the pantaloons pocket were found twenty-eight dollars and sixty cents in greenbacks and fractional currency. No letters or papers or marks upon the clothing were found to indicate the unfortunate man's place of residence. His height was about five feet six inches, and his age was supposed to be thirty-eight or forty years. The jury (of which Ed. Shanessy was foreman) arrived at the conclusion that the deceased came to his death by accidental drowning. The money found upon the body was, or will be, paid over to the County Treasurer.

THE FAIR ON THE SIXTH OF JUNE. EXTENSIVE PREPARATIONS FOR A "BIG THING." The liberality of the citizens of Cairo, who are determined that this city shall be made one of the greatest tobacco markets of the Southwest, has put into the hands of the Planters' Warehouse Company the means to make the tobacco fair on the 6th of June next, a grand affair. Everybody in the city is taking an interest in the affair, and arrangements are to be consummated for a "spread" such as has never yet been seen in Southern Illinois. Gold premiums and good victuals, with any quantity of good drinking fluids, are attractions which no seller of tobacco can resist, and we expect to see in the city on the 6th a larger crowd than was ever here before on any occasion. The Planters' Tobacco Warehouse Company is able to make good all its promises, and offers to the public no inducements which it has not the ability to make good a performance. It is built upon a sure foundation, and the people have confidence in its stability.

THE CONSTITUTIONALLY BILIOUS. No two parts of the human body more strongly sympathize together than the Stomach and Liver. When one is deranged, the other is generally out of repair. And at no other period of the year are they so liable to become deranged as now, and thus lay the foundation of disorders which will rob life of its pleasures, and, perhaps end in death itself. The stomach now requires an anti-bilious tonic, the liver needs toning immediately, and the blood ought to be cleansed and purified. Perhaps you do not realize the force of this statement; but, nevertheless, the necessity for observing it does exist. Be warned in time, and seek safety and exemption from disease by using Mishler's Herb Bitters every day, regularly. It is a certain cure for all diseases arising from a disordered stomach and liver, and a reliable protection to all who are constitutionally predisposed to bilious complaints. my16daw1w

ABOVE SUSPICIONS. A number of the most prominent and influential citizens of the noble old Commonwealth of Kentucky have united together to form and recommend to the people at large, for patronage, a very attractive prize scheme; and we are glad to be able to say that the inducements are so great, and the security for the faithful performance of all promises so strong, that it places the whole thing entirely above suspicion. We will be happy to furnish any of our friends information on the subject or to aid them in securing tickets. my16daw1w

PALESTRO. The old brand of cigars "Palestro" once sold by A. R. Whitaker are now kept by Bristol & Stillwell, No. 32 Eighth St. ml7d2t.

TRUTH. The powers of Mrs. Whitcomb's Syrup for children are as positive as the sunlight from heaven, and gentle and soothing as an angel's whisper. my16daw1w

SCOTT WHITE.

His Fine Stock of Goods, Saved from the Flames, to be Sold at Astonishingly Low Figures. THE GOODS ON EXHIBITION IN THE ROOM FORMERLY OCCUPIED BY HAYNES & SLOO. A BARE CHANCE FOR BARGAINS. Mr. Scott White, whose splendid display of goods made such a narrow escape from the flames on yesterday morning, but which was saved in an undamaged condition, has determined to close out the stock even to the last spool of thread, so that he may go into the new building which he is about to erect, with a new stock, embracing all the new styles of goods, and new fashions. In pursuance of this determination, he will open out his goods in the room occupied by Haynes & Sloo, and will sell at figures so low that competition will no longer contest with him the control of the Dry Goods market of Cairo. His are not bogus goods, that are purchased from damaged and condemned stocks, but THE FINEST THAT COULD BE FOUND IN THE EASTERN MARKET, AND MR. SCOTT DEFIES ANY MERCHANT OF THE CITY TO SELL THE SAME QUALITY OF GOODS AT FIGURES AS LOW AS HE HAS PLACED UPON HIS. Here, then, is a chance for bargains, and the public should avail themselves of it.
