From the Address of Democratic Congressmen Let there be no discussions about minor matters...

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

- FOR CONGRESS—STATE-AT-LARGE, GEN. WILLIAM B. ANDERSON, OF Jefferson County, FOR STATE TREASURER, CHARLES RIDGLEY, OF Sangamon County...

The Elections.

Once More, Old Chanticleer.

Five Congressmen Gained in Pennsylvania.

Democratic Gain on the Popular Vote 28,000.

INDIANA DEMOCRATIC.

The result of the election in Indiana and Pennsylvania is finally made known, and shows gains for the Democracy that were scarcely hoped for.

In 1868 Grant's majority in Pennsylvania was 29,000. At the election held on the 11th instant this majority was reduced to 1,072. The Democracy gained five Congressmen and elected an independent Republican who ran against the regular nominee.

In Indiana the mongrel party has been overthrown, horse, foot and dragon. The Democrats have elected every man on their State ticket, and changed the complexion of the Congressional delegation from 7 to 4, to 5 to 6, and came within four votes of making the delegation even.

In Ohio the Democrats reduced the Radical majority of 1868, over 7,000 votes, and, despite the hundreds of thousands of dollars of corruption money expended, gained one Congressman.

And thus the revolution goes on. Now for Illinois!

Look Out!

Kentucky and Missouri Negroes to be Colonized in the River Counties to Vote for D. W. Munn.

The fact has been disclosed that the Radical clique of Cairo, that claims to run the party in the Thirteenth Congressional district, will attempt to defeat the will of the majority in the district, by colonizing Kentucky and Missouri negroes in those river precincts where Radical judges and clerks will conduct the election!

We admonish Democrats of Pope and Massac counties to be on their guard. The unscrupulous partisans of D. W. Munn have their paid agents at work among the negroes of Kentucky and Missouri, and unless measures are adopted to guard the ballot box against fraudulent votes, dozens and scores of them will be cast, in all those river precincts, where the judges and clerks of the election can be corrupted by Radical money.

Let Democratic papers advise their readers of the base designs of Mr. Munn's partisans in Cairo, and urge the adoption of measures that will prevent the re-enactment of the disgraceful election farce recently played in the river towns of Indiana.

The votes of Kentucky and Missouri negroes must be excluded at any cost, and Democrats, aided by honest Radicals, must exclude them.

The Radical Clique of Cairo.

Brown, Castles, and other Radicals to be Sacrificed in the Interest of Dan Munn.

The friends of Mr. Munn are alarmed at the prospect. The Democratic party is solidly against their candidate; nearly one half of the substantial white Republicans of Alexander county are against him, and scores of black Republicans are unalterably determined not to vote. There is, therefore, abundant cause for their alarm. They can make no inroads into the Democratic party; the Republicans who know Munn are fixed in their opposition to him; and the negroes, who have avowed a purpose not to vote, cannot be budged from their resolution. In view of this unpromising state of affairs they have formed the desperate resolve to sacrifice Martin V. Brown, the Radical candidate for Sheriff in Alexander county, and J. J. Castles, the Radical candidate for a seat in the State Senate!

In pursuance of this determination the word has gone forth to the pliable instruments of the party, living in the country precincts of Alexander county, and in the different counties of the First Senatorial district, to give THREE BROWN OR CASTLE VOTES FOR ONE VOTE FOR D. W. MUNN! The Cairo Radical clique, that assume to control the party in Southern Illinois, are determined that Dan Munn, one of its members, shall not be defeated if the sacrifice of every other Radical candidate in the district will save him.

Knowledge of this determination comes to us from a reliable source, and that Democrats and respectable Radicals may take measures that will insure the defeat of the end aimed at by the unprincipled arrangement, we avail ourselves of the first opportunity presented to publicly expose it.

Munn and the Cairo Post-Office.

A HISTORY OF THE INTRIGUE, AND A REPLY TO A LIE.

Munn Denies a Charge which was not Made—His Guilty Conscience—Why Munn Became an Enemy of Col. Graham—A Lie of Daniels Related to the Counter.

In his late Cairo speech, Mr. Munn used the following language: "Now, I propose to notice, in a few words several charges made against me by this man, Oberly, on Friday night last. He says I had Col. Graham removed, in order to secure a place for my kinsmen and personal friends. This is another falsehood. * * He says I secured the appointment of my brother's boy, cousin and friend, the son of John Barber in the post-office as clerks. This also is false. * * E. W. Munn was appointed on the recommendation of Col. Graham the retiring postmaster."

Here Mr. Munn's guilty conscience has exposed him. Knowing the shortcomings of which he has been guilty—knowing what charges should be made against him—he has replied to a charge which Mr. Oberly did not make. Mr. Oberly did not mention Colonel Graham's name—did not make even the most remote allusion to the Cairo post-office affair. And yet Mr. Munn, in his reply to Mr. Oberly, entered upon an elaborate refutation of the charge. It was his guilty conscience that made him speak upon this subject.

But how does he stand in this matter of the Cairo post-office? At one time he was a bitter enemy of the lamented Col. Sloo; and he, as much as any man, contributed to the removal of that gentleman from the post-office in this city. He had then, while engaged in that intrigue, his own ends to serve as he has now. Col. Sloo understood this and freely expressed his opinion of the Munn-Pope clique. He denounced them as untrustworthy men and unscrupulous politicians. With Col. Graham, Mr. Munn was satisfied; and, in the Crebs-Raum campaign, endeavored to work upon the fears of Col. Graham and clerks, telling them that, if Raum should be elected, Graham and his friends would all be removed—that Sloo would go in again; but that, if Crebs should be elected, Gen. Logan, who was not friendly to the claims of Col. Sloo, would control all the offices in this part of the State, and Graham would be retained.

But, after awhile, Col. Graham concluded that he could get along without the Munn family, and dismissed from his service Jim Munn and Everett Munn, and some other Munnites. From that moment Dan Munn was Col. Graham's enemy, and worked to put him out of office.

Mysteriously, the Munn-Pope and Sloo factions of the Republican party became reconciled. Mr. Pope, no doubt, was the mediator; and being of the "outs," they put their heads together to get in and put the Graham faction out. They succeeded; and the arrangement was, that Col. McKaig, who had been a soldier and was the only Radical in Cairo who stood any chance against Col. Graham, should be made postmaster, he agreeing that Col. Sloo should be Deputy, and the Munn family should receive its proper amount of official pay.

We know Mr. Munn denies this soft impeachment, but what will he not deny? Does not every person acquainted with him know, that, if he had been one of the disciples, he would have denied his master long before Peter did, and would have betrayed Him long before Judas did—if he could have earned the thirty pieces of silver, or half that amount, by his treachery? Is his speech, Mr. Munn made the denial, and asserted that his relative Everett Munn had been appointed by Col. McKaig, on Col. Graham's recommendation. That he deliberately told a falsehood in this matter we declare, and, in proof of which declaration, call attention to the following letter from Col. Graham:

Mr. J. H. Oberly, Cairo, Ill. Mr. J. H. Oberly, I feel in the Egyptian Sun, of the 13th inst., that D. W. Munn, in a late speech at Cairo, told his audience that his cousin, E. W. Munn, had been appointed to a position in the Cairo P. O., upon a recommendation of mine, and had proven his statement by Col. McKaig. As this assertion will no doubt appear very strange on my part to my friends in Cairo, I wish to say through the columns of your paper, to the people of Cairo and this Congressional District, that it is untrue. What the gentleman means by "my recommendation" has no doubt originated from a conversation that I had with Col. McKaig a few days ago. He had received notice of his appointment by the President. I met Col. McKaig on the street, at the foot of the stairs leading to his office, and told him I wished to speak to him. We went up to his office, and sat down. I then told him that I had a favor to ask of him, and that was, that he retain my crippled brother in the office, for awhile, at least; that my brother was dependent on me for a support, and that he could do but little else but sit and write; that I had retained the son of the man that I succeeded in the office for a considerable time when his father would not speak to me on the street. Col. McKaig replied that he could not give me an answer, but that he was under obligations to his friends who had assisted him to obtain the office. ARG THAT THEIR WISDOM MUST BE CONSULTED. Col. McK. then asked how many clerks I employed; how much I paid each of them; how many delivery and how many distributing clerks; and some other questions about the office. To his question about the distributing clerks I replied that E. W. Munn and M. B. Wiley had been chief distributing clerks during nearly the whole time of my administration; that all routes were constantly changing, and as E. W. Munn had not been in the office for nearly a year, that Wiley knew more about it than any one else; and upon being further questioned about E. W. Munn I told Col. McKaig that I HAD DISCHARGED E. W. MUNN AT THE SAME TIME WITH JAMES W. MUNN; that E. W. Munn had been industrious and attentive to business while with us, and that I found no fault with him on that score. It appears to me that I am the last man in the world that any one in Cairo would make such assertions against, and sincerely hope that the good people of said city will exonerate me whether D. W. Munn and Col. McKaig do or not. Yours truly, J. M. GRAHAM.

A Girl With a Mustache. The Dorchester county (Md.) News publishes a story of a remarkable change of sex. The daughter of Mr. Mack, of Frederickburg, of that county, suddenly disappeared in male attire and went to Philadelphia, but has since returned insisting that he or she is a man, and refusing to don any other costume. Amus- tacho attests the truth of these claims to a masculine nature. For twenty years this singular person has passed for a girl.

Munn, the Substitute Broker.

A GLIMPSE INTO THE INTERIOR OF HIS FLESH AND BLOOD MART!

How He Inveigled Young Men Into the Service and Withheld their Bounty Money—Promises to Pay a Substitute Three Hundred Dollars—Shoves him into the Navy, and Forgets his Promise—A Suit for the Amount—Conclusive Proof of the Charge.

"Will you walk into my parlor? Says the spider to the fly."

After Hon. D. W. Munn had escaped from the army, he and his brother Benjamin entered into partnership in this city, under the firm name of "Munn and Munn." They became money-getting sharks, and had a sharp eye out for all the stray pennies that came near the ends of their fingers.

The most profitable part of the business of the firm of Munn and Munn was substitute brokerage—dealing in the flesh and blood of their fellow citizens.

Among their victims was a young man named Donahue, a resident of Mound City. Parentless, friendless, without a home, not yet nineteen years old, inexperienced in ways of the world, he fell into their hands, and with what result is told in the sworn affidavits published below, for which we are indebted to that enterprising paper, the Mound City Journal.

Young Donahue was accompanied to Cairo by Mr. Brodie, who took him to the office of the Munns, and introduced him to Daniel, with whom the business was transacted. Munn agreed to give Brodie one hundred dollars, and Donahue three hundred dollars and obtain for him six days furlough if he would go into the gunboat service. The bargain was made. The young man walked into the parlor of the Munn spiders, and was sent aboard the receiving ship. But THE FURLOUGH NEVER CAME, AND THE AMOUNT OF MONEY PROMISED TO HIM WAS NOT PAID, if he is worthy belief. And more, we were told, last night, by Mr. Brodie that of the hundred dollars promised to him he only received twenty.

And, now, let the witnesses be heard. Read, and be convinced:

DONAHUE'S STATEMENT. MOUND CITY, ILLINOIS, Oct. 20th, 1870.

DEAR SIR:—My attention has just been called to a certain communication which lately appeared in your paper charging Dan Munn, Radical candidate for Congress, with being engaged during the last war in the substitute business at Cairo and Mr. Munn's private denial of this charge. etc. Now, as a matter of fact, I hereby certify that, on the 16th day of January, 1865, I was a youth, only 19 years old, and was enticed by the fair promises, etc., of said Mr. Munn, as a substitute into the gunboat service in the Mississippi Squadron. He promised me at the time to pay me $300 to serve one year for a drafted friend. We together went down to the receiving ship at Cairo and there I was duly enlisted and have since served out my time and received an honorable discharge.

Mr. Munn has never paid me the amount promised, and after repeated dunnings I have entered suit against him in the Pulaski county Circuit Court. At the next term of said Court, if I obtain justice, Mr. Munn will be compelled to pay over to me the amount he has so long withheld and which is honestly due me. MATHEW DONAHUE.

DONAHUE'S OATH. State of Illinois, Pulaski County, ss. On this 20th day of October, A. D. 1870, personally appeared before me, the Clerk of the Circuit Court of said county, Mathew Donahue, a resident of said county, who being duly sworn on his oath states that the above and foregoing statement is true in every particular in substance and in fact, which he is ready to verify, and further says not.

MATHEW DONAHUE. Subscribed and sworn to before me this 20th day of October, A. D. 1870. Witness my hand and the seal of [Ls.] said Court.

HENRY F. POTTER, Clerk of Circuit Court, Pulaski County, Illinois.

BRODIE'S CONFIRMATION. State of Illinois, Pulaski County, ss. Also on this 20th day of October, A. D. 1870, personally appeared before me the Clerk of the Circuit Court of said county, James Brodie, a resident of said county, who being duly sworn, on his oath states that, to his own personal knowledge, the facts set forth in the foregoing statement made by Mathew Donahue are true in every particular.

JAMES BRODIE. State of Illinois, Pulaski County, ss. Subscribed and sworn to before me this 20th day of October, A. D. 1870. Witness my hand and the seal of [Ls.] said Court.

HENRY F. POTTER, Clerk of the Circuit Court of Pulaski County, Illinois.

THE SUMMONS.

State of Illinois, Pulaski County, ss.

The people of the State of Illinois, to the Sheriff of Alexander County Greeting: We command you to summon Daniel W. Munn and Benjamin M. Munn, firm doing business as Munn and Munn, if they shall be found in your county, personally to be and appear before the Circuit Court of said County, on the first day of the next term thereof to be held at the Court house in Mound City, in said Pulaski county, on the first Monday of November 1870, to answer unto Matthew Donahue, in a plea of assumpsit, to the damage of said plaintiff, Five Hundred dollars.

And have you then and there this writ, with an endorsement thereon in what manner you shall have executed the same. Witness Henry F. Potter, clerk of our said Court, and the seal thereof at his office in Mound City in said [Ls.] Pulaski county, this 20th day of October A. D. 1870.

HENRY F. POTTER, Clerk By HENRY KRUMSICK, Deputy.

HAIR RESTORATIVES. DISCOVERY!! PHALON'S "VITALIA;" OR, Salvation for the Hair.

For Restoring to Gray Hair its Original Color.

PHALON'S "VITALIA" differs utterly from all the "dyes," "colorers," and "restorers" (?) in use. It acts on a totally different principle. It is limpid, fragrant, and perfectly innocuous, precipitates no muddy or flacculent matter, requires no shampooing, and communicates no stain to the skin or the linen. No paper curtain is necessary to conceal its turbid appearance, for the simple reason that it is not turbid. It is, to all intents and purposes, A NEW DISCOVERY in Toilet Chemistry.

PHALON'S "VITALIA" is warranted to effect a change in the color of the hair within 10 days after the first application, the direction being carefully observed.

IT IS AS CLEAR AS WATER! AND HAS NO SEDIMENT. Price, One Dollar per Box, CONTAINING TWO BOTTLES. SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

If your Druggist has not "Vitalia" on hand, write, enclosing $1.00, and we will forward it immediately.
