

NEWS FROM ANTHONY.

Growers Increase Their Accounts—Other Items of Interest.

Correspondence Ocala Banner. The shipping season is drawing to a close. It has been a profitable one for farmers. Besides many solid crops of beans, tomatoes, cantaloupes, watermelons, thousands of packages were sent out by express. Prices were almost universally fine, and in consequence many of our growers have good bank accounts.

Merchants find business greatly improved. Saturday morning a northbound freight engine switching a car of onions jumped the track, but little damage was done. Since then another engine had a similar experience at the same place.

Last Sunday afternoon just before dark Mr. Frank Hughes and Miss Mamie Martin drove to the residence of Rev. J. G. Graham, and making their business known, were united in the holy bands of matrimony. They remained seated in the buggy during the ceremony and immediately afterwards attended the services at the Methodist church.

The district conference will be held here in the middle of July and arrangements are already being made for the reception and entertainment of the visitors. The committee appointed for the purpose report that Anthony sustains her reputation for hospitality and the houses of the people will be thrown open for the entertainment of as many as can come.

Wake up, ye city fathers, and see that the shade trees in the town are trimmed as travelers in vehicles and persons walking on sidewalks are frequently treated to a shower bath from drooping limbs weighted with water.

The Baptists are determined that the Methodist shall not get ahead of them so they have decided to purchase a new organ.

Mr. Smith and Miss Eloise Smoak of Ocala, are on a visit to friends and relatives here.

Mr. John Tilton's family held a reception recently. Those present were Mr. Emmett Tilton and family from DeLand and Mr. Will Grocott and family from Jacksonville.

Mrs. Neff and son, Eddie, of Jacksonville, are visiting Mrs. Neff's sister, Mrs. I. C. Kendrick.

J. G. G.

The wedding bells rang again at Anthony Sunday evening when the sky was as clear as sparkling water and everything looked so beautiful. Mr. Frank Hughes, of Daisy, and Miss Nannie Martin, of Silver Springs, were quietly married at the home of Mr. J. G. Graham. Only a few friends were present to witness the ceremony. The bride looked beautiful in white china silk with lace trimmings and white hat. She also carried a white ostrich fan of exquisite design. The groom looked handsome in a black suit and was very happy over having won such a treasure.

Mrs. Hughes' former home was at Anthony and she had many friends here and should this happy couple live to share the luxuries and necessities of life as long as their many friends hope they will, their hair will be thrice streaked with the silver cords of old age before their end shall come.

The writer adds her sincere wishes that their lives be ever linked in golden bands of pure love and may they sail over life's sea undisturbed with few sorrows and have only happiness in this world and the one to come.

Miss Eloise Smoak, of Ocala, is the guest of Mrs. Simmons this week.

Mr. J. A. Talton is visiting his parents here for a short while as is also his brother, Mr. W. G. Talton, of St. Augustine.

Miss Jettie Boyles and Mr. Lawrence Grantham, of Sparr, attended the services at the Methodist church Sunday night.

Mr. H. B. Mootie and Mr. H. C. McRae, of Silver Springs, were in Anthony Sunday and Monday.

We saw in the Daisy items last week that Mr. Harper gave a nice Sunday school lecture. We did not know that he was a Sunday school orator. Please tell him to honor us with a lecture next Sunday at the M. E. church. (Glad to know that we have some young men that take such interest in our Sunday schools.)

Mrs. Webb is on the sick list this week. We hope she will be up by another writing.

BLUE BELL.

Mr. James McGehee, of Juliette, stopped over in Ocala Wednesday

ORANGE LAKE.

Correspondence Ocala Banner.

Quite a number of cantaloupes are being shipped from here by Mr. Boynton and other growers in this section.

Messrs. Waits and Rush are rushing off the watermelons by the carload.

Burry brothers have been shipping tomatoes for the past two weeks but the tomato crop is nearly over owing to the recent heavy rains destroying the vines.

Mrs. Whitney, who has been visiting Mrs. Waite, went to Ocala last Wednesday to visit friends there.

Mrs. Teina Bryan, of Ocala, also the guest of Mrs. Waite, returned to her home on Wednesday.

Mrs. M. A. Hickson, of this place, left Thursday to visit her daughter, Mrs. Dr. Waller at Jacksonville.

Mrs. Odell, of Micanopy, is the guest of her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Scott.

Mrs. Waite was called to Gainesville to see her sister-in-law, Mrs. Henry Waite, who is sick with typhoid fever.

Miss Elizabeth Myzelle, who has been quite sick with fever, is up again and has gone to visit her aunt at Melrose.

Miss Alice Vaughn is the guest of her sister, Mrs. David Burry.

Miss Jaynie Scott left for Ocala Wednesday to visit her sister, Mrs. Tompkins. O. L. C.

Mrs. Muller, of Miami, formerly Miss Stella Barcus, of Citra, after a short visit to Ocala returned to Citra yesterday, where she is on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Barcus. Mrs. Muller was accompanied by her son, John.

Miss Annie Mathews gave a delightful little informal party Wednesday night for her guests, Miss Mervyn Ray and Miss Eileen Brocken, of Palatka.

GAITERVILLE.

The good old summer time is here, and with a few pleasant days.

Melons are plentiful in this section and notwithstanding the great amount of them the prices are still good. Better on an average than for several years.

Owing to the general rains the past week the river has risen considerably which makes fishing a thing of the past.

Mr. W. A. Brass, of Holder, was in Gaiterville last week hunting hands to do carpenter work in the mining district of Citrus county.

Mr. L. F. Richer is moving his shop to Crystal River again from which place he moved a year ago. He will be greatly missed from our section. We wish him success in the beautiful city of Crystal.

Mr. C. M. Whitton was a business visitor to the mining city Monday.

Mr. W. L. Brooks, passed through Gaiterville Tuesday from Ocala where he was called on business.

The Cedar Grove Epworth League was represented at the state league in Ocala Tuesday 19th, by Miss Mable Turner and others. We hope they had a pleasant time.

The Gaitervilleites are waiting patiently for the good old time coming the Fourth. Quite a number of people are expected. Refreshments will be served by committee.

Don't forget the place or date. The picnic grounds at Stoke's ferry, July 4th.

UNCLE JOSEPH.

Messrs. Knight and Lang.

Reference to our advertising columns will show that Messrs. Knight & Lang have purchased the wagon, buggy and harness business from Mr. Lee Miller the surviving partner of S. A. Standley & Co. These gentlemen will conduct the business at the same stand and the senior partner, Mr. W. A. Knight, will give it his undivided attention. He was the bookkeeper for Messrs. Standley & Company and is thoroughly familiar with the business.

As Messrs. Knight and Lang have an extensive acquaintance and are familiar with the trade it goes without saying that they will do a prosperous business. Having ample capital they are in a position to keep on hand a large stock and give their customers excellent service.

An examination of their vehicles, saddles, harness, etc., will show what a large business they are doing, and we hope the readers of this paper will call on them in person or if not able to do so, will drop them a postal when in need of anything in their line.

Mr. Josephus Munden, of Tampa, a former resident of Ocala, and a prominent member of the New York Life Insurance Co., has the New York Life Insurance Co. building in New York City.

MOSS BLUFF.

Special to the Ocala Banner:

After an absence from your paper of several weeks, please allow us space for a few items. The people of Moss Bluff and vicinity are forging along in an agricultural way, and all crops are looking excellent. We can boast of having plenty of rain and watermelons at present, and if the rain does not soon cease we shall all favor drainage over here.

We congratulate the citizens of Marion county for the manner in which both primaries were conducted. It was done on high-toned principles, and we have yet to hear of a single fuss or disturbance at the polls or otherwise. We feel sorry that some of the candidates were defeated, and they have our sympathy, but, gentlemen, all could not be elected this time, and you must come again.

Miss Debbie Chilton, of Titusville, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Griggs, at this place.

Miss Mollie Chalker returned home a few days ago after a visit of several weeks to her sister, at LaGrange.

Miss Maggie Anderson, of Lakeland, is visiting relatives here and at Electra.

Miss Dixie Pillans is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Florence Martin, this week.

Miss Minnie Reynolds, of DeLeon Springs, visited relatives and friends here last week.

Mr. George Heath and Miss Bessie Sellars were quietly married a few days ago. We wish for them pleasure and happiness throughout their married life.

Mr. H. B. Mock and family, of Welaka, have moved into the L. P. Waterman house here.

Miss Lillie White is spending a while in Jacksonville, the guest of Mrs. D. Williams.

J. N. Tillis and family, of Buffalo Bluff, have recently moved to this place, and are occupying the D. E. Driggers house.

John T. Lewis attended the meeting of the democratic executive committee Saturday in Ocala. He says the meeting was very pleasant and harmonious.

A. Mr. Tucker from south Florida was here a few days ago buying beef cattle and offering splendid prices for same, but as a rule our cattle owners are not ready to sell yet, preferring to wait until August and September.

The ferryman at this place reports that the Ocklawaha river is almost at high-water mark.

Just What Everyone Should Do.

Mr. J. T. Barber, of Irwinville, Ga., always keeps a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy at hand ready for instant use. Attacks of colic, cholera morbus and diarrhoea come on so suddenly that there is no time to hunt a doctor or go to the store for medicine. Mr. Barber says: "I have tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which is one of the best medicines I ever saw. I keep a bottle of it in my room as I have had several attacks of colic and it has proved to be the best medicine I ever used." Sold by all druggists.

BELLEVIEW.

Mrs. A. D. Mitchell, of Summerfield, visited in Belleview last week.

Miss Richardson, of Ocala, is visiting Mrs. John Brown.

The lumber is on the ground to put an addition to the Masonic building, occupied by the Marion Mercantile Company.

There have been several carloads of melons shipped from Belleview, and there will be several more.

Miss Kate Mitchell was the guest of Mrs. J. A. Mitchell from Saturday until Monday.

Judge Hopkins is having a nice residence built in Belleview. M. E.

Senator Bacon's Night Trip Across Golf Links.

NEW YELLOW HAT FOR UNCLE JOE

South Carolina's Gift to Speaker Cannon Stirs Up Rank Envy in Illinois Delegation—Joke Played on Representative Vreeland—Congressman Sends Constituent Spade to Plant Free Garden Seed.

General Bates gave a dinner the other night at the Country club, says the Washington correspondent of the St. Louis Republic. Senator Bacon of Georgia was invited. The senator went to the Chevy Chase Golf club by mistake. It was then fifteen minutes to 8 o'clock, and the dinner was set for 8 p. m. Mr. Bacon learned that the Country club could be reached most quickly by cutting across the golf course and fields on foot.

It was dark. He walked out on the golf course. As soon as he got outside the circle of lights of the clubhouse he fell over a bunker. He took another tack and fell over another bunker. Then he ran into a sand trap and for half an hour wandered around the golf course, falling over every bunker there was and over some of them twice.

He came to a barb wire fence, climbed it, tore one leg of his trousers and promptly fell into a water hazard that was not very deep, but that had much mud on the bottom. By this time he was wet, muddy, disheveled. He finally got off the golf course and plunged through two or three marshy fields to the club.

"Is General Bates giving a dinner here?" he asked of a club attendant.

"Yes, sir," said the attendant, looking at the muddy senator suspiciously, "but I do not think he can be disturbed."

Senator Bacon fairly snorted at this. "Tell him Senator Bacon of Georgia is out here," he commanded.

General Bates came out.

"Why, senator," he exclaimed, "what is the matter?"

"Matter!" shouted Bacon. "Nothing at all; nothing, of course, nothing, only I have been falling over a series of hills and into valleys out there."

"Come in to dinner," said General Bates soothingly.

"No, sir," said Bacon. "I cannot. I am too muddy. Please let me have a sandwich and I will go home."

Speaker Cannon appeared on the floor of the house the other day after adjournment wearing a brand new tan colored campaign hat, says the St. Louis Republic's Washington representative. It was a very becoming affair, presented to Uncle Joe by Representative Aiken of South Carolina, and the speaker was as pleased as a boy with his first pair of red boots. He demonstrated that it could be turned into many shapes and knocked about generally without showing rough usage. Several members of the Illinois delegation were on hand and insisted on trying on the speaker's "bonnet."

"It's a fine hat, Uncle Joe," said Representative Madden after a trying on, "but it's awfully unbecoming."

"Oh," replied the speaker, "you're just mad because you haven't one."

"No, I'm not mad, but I'm Madden."

"That looks like a senatorial hat," volunteered Billy Lorimer. "It's time you were moving."

"I've heard mighty uncomplimentary things about some men over there," replied the sage of Danville in the droll way his friends most like, "and I don't know that I want to move."

Representative Vreeland of New York had up his bill recently prohibiting the stamping of silver or gold articles with false assay marks, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer's Washington correspondent. To illustrate his speech he had a dozen or more of watches, silver spoons, forks, plated wear and articles of jewelry spread out on the top of his desk. Unknown to Mr. Vreeland, Representative McMorran of Michigan ranged on the desk behind him three big oranges in the shape of a pawnbroker's sign.

"What'll you advance on my watch?" asked Mr. Longworth as he walked by and saw the oranges.

"This is no pawnbroker's office," Mr. Vreeland said.

"Then take in your sign," Mr. Longworth advised.

As Elliott Woods, the superintendent of the capitol, was walking with Uncle Joe Cannon from the street cars to the capitol the other day Mr. Woods noticed several pairs of crows that were building their nests up in the carvings of the columns around the dome, says the New York World's Washington representative.

He pointed them out to Uncle Joe and remarked: "I think those crows are getting too familiar. I will send a man up there and drive them out."

"Oh, no; let them alone," said the speaker, gazing interestedly at the intruders, that were cawing to one another. "We must concede something to our Democratic brethren."
