Mrs. Westbrook and little daughter attended to prepare dinner and the boys almost completed the stable and had a jolly time. Jack is a capital Bachelor but really we think he needs a partner.

HIGLEY

Farmers Association

The fourth meeting of The Farmer's Progressive Association of Higley was held at the residence of B. C. Keihl on Friday April 19th. A large number attending. Several new ones were received into the fraternity. Subjects under discussion were "How much seed to the Acre" and "Grasses." It was learned from the experience of different farmers that the best results were obtained from sowing to the acre quantities of seed as follows:—Macaroui wheat, 2 bu. Five wheat 1 1/2 bu; Blue Stem wheat, 1 bu.; Bearded barley, 2 bu.; Beardless barley a little more than 2 bu.; Flax 5 gal; Speltz, 100 pounds; Alfalfa, 15 lbs.; Millet one-eighth of a bu.

The various grasses were discussed much being said in favor of brome grass Timothy.

Meetings of the Association are both interesting and instructive. They are an agreeable break in the routine of farm life and afford an opportunity to become acquainted with your neighbors. All are invited to attend.

The next meeting will be held at the residence of Mr. Gust Peterson on May 3rd. Subjects to be discussed are "Well Drilling and Feeding or hauling our grain to market."

GLADYS

R. C. Evans the popular merchant of Gladys has purchased the stock of goods owned by Rowe & Adden which recently moved into his own building. Mr. Evans undoubtedly has the largest and most complete line of goods of any store in the country.

Chas. Murphy and Lester Ely recently purchased three yoke of oxen from the Freeman ranch.

The Base Ball sports are out this week awakening up their us from their long winter slumber.

Rus Dingle has started from Williston with his steam plowing outfit and expects to be on the field of action in a day.

Walter Murphy recently returned from Ambrose where he has spent two months of our long winter.

Ira Davidson started turning over the sod this week but says that it does not turn very well on account of the ground not being thoroughly settled.

A petition is in circulation to move the Gladys, P. O. back to its former location, it is reported that Postmaster Rowe has resigned.

Notices are published of a Base Ball meeting at Gladys Saturday evening, requesting everyone interested in the team this season to be present.

M. G. Brown who has been spending the winter in New York writes that he will be back on his claim not later than May 15th.

FLICKERTAIL NUOGETS.

Lisbon—This place is a center for the cement industry.

Minot—Only nineteen drunks were arrested during March.

Jamestown—The fair is to be made a bigger event than ever.

Fessenden—A new building will be erected for the postoffice.

Abercrombie—Mrs. Nils Larson, who was overcome by coal gas, is dead.

Casselton—There was an election to empower the school board to sell some lots.

Bismarck—Thousands of settlers are going into the Hettinger county country this spring.

Litchville—Flax that remained in the fields all winter has been threshed. The grain was damaged very little.

Fargo—There is a movement on foot to have a high class baseball team representing both Imperial and Crosby.

Grand Forks—Six heavy ore cars were derailed in a freight wreck at Ojata, 12 miles west of here. No one was hurt.

Towner—The new towns along the Soo in McLean county are to use a lot of cement blocks for house construction.

Fargo—De Lamere will be the headquarters for a ditching crew this summer that is to reclaim a lot of land in that section.

Dickinson—Four, six, and Eight-horse teams headed south and loaded with homesteaders' supplies are a common sight these days.

Walhapon—Sept. 24, 25, 26, 27 are the dates set for the Richland county fair this year. This will be the second fair to be given by this association.

Lisbon—Clarence Cole took a Hettinger county claim and the Milwaukee has decided to build a depot on his land, and a townsite will be laid out.

Grand Forks—The eleventh annual oratorical contest of the state was held in the Metropolitan theater. J. F. T. O'Connor of the State University won first, and Don S. Ford of Wesley College was a very close second.

Edmore—John Houghton broke down while on the road home with a load of wood the other night, and had to throw off his load. Next day he returned to get his wood but found that some other party had gotten the start of him.

Bathgate—Bathgate is to have one of the twelve demonstration farms authorized by the last state legislature. The station will be located on part of Alex Morrison's farm and will contain about 24 acres, and has been leased for six years.

Willow—The freight train had pulled in on the sidetrack for the passenger, the corner of the caboose was still left on the main track and when the passenger came along they both got quite a jolt and the passenger engine was put out of business.

Fargo—At the last regular meeting of the athletic board of control, Mr. J. F. O'Connor was elected student manager of football for next year. Mr. O'Connor was manager last fall and his good work, in the opinion of the board, warranted a re-election.

Bismarck—The state live stock sanitary board met and promulgated rules for the government of live stock diseases in the state. The rules will be in accord with the government regulations and the government and state authorities will work in harmony.

Fargo—There is talk that there will be a new division created on the Northern Pacific between Bismarck and Fargo. It is said that the Fargo and Southwestern branch and the Casselton branch will be made into a new division, with headquarters at Fargo.

Upham—Fred Mehlhoff had the misfortune to leave a greyhound in his store when closing up last Saturday night. On returning to the store Sunday morning he found that the dog had torn down the front curtains and had destroyed about $150 worth of hats.

Minot—Ewald Liebolt, 16 years old, while on a visit to his uncle at Bantary, insisted on occupying a room by himself upstairs. Soon after he had retired to the room a shot was heard and upon investigation it was found that the boy had blown out his brains with a shotgun.

Jamestown—Express companies doing business in North Dakota will take legal action as a result of the seizure and confiscation of beer. Two cases of seizure have so far been reported and the express companies propose to find out if goods can be seized and the charges left unpaid.

Grand Forks—Crying, raving and cursing, Mrs. Herman Lee, wife of a laborer, broke quarantine and fled through the business section, dragging a child with her. She had been quarantined on account of smallpox, and the fact that quarantine was not released caused her mind to become temporarily unbalanced.

Dokken—The postoffice, which was located in the home of Sherman Hutton, was completely destroyed by an early morning fire, which is believed to have started from an over-heated stove. The flames had gained such rapid headway when they were discovered that nothing could be saved. All the accumulated mail was burned. The loss is estimated at $3,000.

Osnabrook—The National Elevator Company's elevator in this city was burned to the ground yesterday afternoon. The building contained 29,000 bushels of grain, on which there will be some salvage. A hot box is thought to have started the blaze. There are six other elevators in close proximity to the burned structure, and the fire for a time threatened all with destruction. The loss is estimated at $25,000.

Oakes—Mr. Hampton, agent for the National Grange, who has spent several months in Germany and other countries of Europe, has advised Congressman Marshall that he is on the way home with 50,000 lamps and stoves for the burning of denatured alcohol, which he hopes to distribute in the United States through agents.

PLOT IS SEEN IN THIRD TERM CRY

PRESIDENT'S FRIENDS ASSERT IT IS RAISED BY ENEMIES TO DEFEAT POLICIES.

ROOSEVELT TO MAKE HIS POSITION KNOWN

is Still Firm in Opposition to a Re-nomination--Controversy with Harriman Lost Sight Of in New Developments.

Washington, April 8.

Friends of the president declare they see in the growth of sentiment among politicians for a third term for President Roosevelt a plan to steal the Republican nomination for the presidency for a reactionary under the false pretenses. They unite in saying that the president is not a candidate to succeed himself, that the enemies of the president are aware of that fact, and that in seeking to elect Roosevelt delegates to the national convention these men are playing the faith of the people in the president with the knowledge that he will decline another nomination and they can then control the delegates for whomsoever they like. They assert that the president objects to being put in any such position and that he intends to let the people understand where he stands and what he wants, so that the coming fight shall be fair and free and the issues understood by all.

Forget Harriman Controversy.

Whatever may be the merit of the conspiracy charge emanating from the White House against the opponents of the president, the friends of the president are chagrined that it is not taken more seriously in Washington. While it is admitted on all sides that there is opposition to the president, official Washington, which talks in whispers these days, refuses to dignify the opposition by the term "conspiracy."

Such suggestions as "brain storm" and suggestions of overwork on the part of the president and the need of a rest are common. Comment on the fact that the Harriman letter controversy has been lost sight of in the new developments is also heard.

Look for Long Contest.

The politicians here see the beginning of a 15 months' fight between the president and his friends on the one hand and their opponents on the other. While most of the opponents of the president declare they are for him for a third term, they say that an attempt to dictate a successor to the president is another matter. The president appreciates this, his friends say, and has, therefore, appealed to the people.

While Senators Foraker and Knox have been mentioned by friends of the president as consciously or unconsciously being in the hands of the conspirators, Speaker Cannon and Vice President Fairbanks are not so characterized. It was said at the White House that a distinction is made between candidates who are out in the open looking for delegates and those working under cover. Messrs. Cannon and Fairbanks are put in the first class by a close adviser of the president in answer to a direct question.
