IS YOUNGEST JUDGE.

Richard J. Higgins Elected to Bench Though Only 25 Years Old.

Topeka, Kan.—The youngest member of the judiciary in the United States probably is Richard J. Higgins, 25 years old, who was elected judge of the court of common pleas in Wyandotte county, Kansas, to fill the unexpired term of Judge William G. Holt.

JUDGE RICHARD J. HIGGINS

resigned. Mr. Higgins is a Democrat. He was born May 14, 1883, in Kansas City, Kan., where he now is living. He spent two years in the University of Kansas and then took the course in the Kansas City School of Law.

The young judge has some strict ideas as to the dignity of a court of record. "I shall allow no smoking in my courtroom, either by the court or by the members of the bar, while a case is on trial," he said, on taking the oath of office. "Another thing I shall not tolerate is the practice of attorneys who sit with feet propped up on the tables in the courtroom while the court is in session."

Thoughts Upon the College Yell.

The college yell's a senseless thing of crazy words tied on a string, a mixture of excited sounds in some cerebral junk shop found; a blend of wow and hiss boom ah with yip and yow and rah rah rah; and fathers who send sons to school to master all the rote and rule, to delve in logarithmic maze and spread all knowledge to their gaze, ask why their sons learn all this fuss, while differential calculus and the binomial theorem remain an utter blank to them—but you can bet the fathers seem delighted when the football team to which their sons belong makes good; oh, then the fathers (as they should) arise and let their whiskers float upon the wind that fans each throat, and whoop and shout and roar and yell the selfsame savage cry we tell. The fathers, bland and full of gulle, have known that class yell all the while!—Chicago Post.

No Commodities Decision.

Washington, Mar. —The supreme court of the United States yesterday failed to hand down a decision in what is known as the "commodities" case, involving the validity of the provision of the Hepburn rate law prohibiting railroads from holding an interest in or owning mines or other concerns whose products are shipped over their lines of railroad.
