PREBBLE-SHARP WEDDING
 Oscar B. Prebble and Miss Verna Sharp were united in marriage last Thursday at the Eastman Ranch near Fairview. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Hawkins, pastor of the Congregational church at Fairview, in the presence of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Sharp, Mr. and Mrs. O. Prebble and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Eastman. The young couple left on a trip west and expect to return about the 12th of this month. They will be at home to their friends after October 15. Mr. and Mrs. Prebble will make their home on the Eastman ranch which the groom and Mr. E. A. Sharp have bought. The deal was made for the ranch some time ago so the young people were married in their own home so to speak.
 The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Sharp of this city and is a Williston girl having lived here practically all her life.
 The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Prebble of this city and is very well known here, having been a resident of the city for a good many years. Both of the young people were quite popular here and their hosts of friends join in wishing them a very pleasant journey through life.

HUNTING SEASON OPENED
 The hunting season opened Tuesday and we have been hearing many and varied stories of hits and misses ever since. Of course every local nimrod thinks he is a regular "Dead Shot Dave" and when he misses a bird there is something wrong with the gun, or the bird must be an old tough one. Cheer up boys. If we never missed it would get monotonous and again we want to leave a few for seed for next year.

"THE DEEP PURPLE"
 "The Deep Purple" is a photoplay about crooks, past and present, reformed and to be reformed. It portrays various kinds and degrees of evil on the surface and below the surface; there is nothing ideal or idealizing about the theme; it is photographically sharp all through; and if you so choose to regard it, it is a warning to all—even to experienced men of the world. The crook, like the poor, is always with us. And you are wise if you beware of crooks, single and en masse. At the Orpheum Theatre, Friday, September 10.

DON'T LIKE BRAKEMAN
 R. Gustaves and T. O'Grady, both of Seattle, were callers on the editor the first of the week and said they had a little story to tell which they believed the public should know. The boys appeared to be well behaved young men and told a believable story whether true or not. They said they were coming east to take in the harvest. That they had some money and had been working around Seattle. One of them had been working all summer on his father's large dairy farm but wanted a trip. They said they were following the same plan as many others, getting rides on freights by arranging with one of the train crew to let them ride. They had done this with one man on the run in here but the other brakeman came back and told them to get off. They explained that they had paid to ride. The brakeman went away they said but came back later and again ordered them to get off although the train was rumming pretty fast. When they started to argue, the brakeman, they said, kicked O'Grady in the face and he had quite a bruise on his forehead. The brakeman then got a long iron bar, according to their story, and they decided that they had better beat it. They left the train and caught a ride into Williston from near Trenton. We fail to see any excuse for this rough stuff unless the boys started it which they claim they did not.
