Skaff. These young people belong to the Greek Orthodox Church. Many friends from the neighborhood and from Williston had assembled to participate in the festivities, the bride and groom being very popular among their own people. After the young couple had pledged their troth and taken their vows, the Eucharist was said and the newly married couple received the Sacrament. Then occurred the march round the room, three times, in the Name of the Father, Son and Holy Ghost, everyone carrying a lighted candle. Refreshments were served from time to time and the young couple were made to feel that they were among friends. It was a very happy wedding indeed. The Graphic extends congratulations. She was a widow, highly intellectual, in every way pleasing, and versed in the art of entertaining. For twenty years he had been in love with her, six evenings out of every week he called on her and took her to the theatre. That is about the record mark for romance—six evenings out of every week for twenty years—twenty years that reached from young womanhood and young manhood to advanced middle age. Their devotion was ideal. No word of reproach was in their vocabulary. No disagreement ever marked the course of their sweet communion. It was not only a love affair—it was an ideal romance. Since it was so ideal, their friends wondered why they did not marry. Obviously, such a perfect love must result in a supremely happy marriage. Finally a friend of his asked him: "Why don't you marry her?" "Because," he replied frankly, "if I did I wouldn't have anywhere to spend my evenings." MARRIED AT PARSONAGE On Tuesday evening November 23, at eight o'clock Harry D. Buchanan, one of the popular conductors on the Great Northern took unto himself a wife by the name of Pauline Colglizer. Rev. H. Styles Harriss officiated. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Brock of this city. The happy couple propose making the City of Opportunity their future home and we wish them prosperity and peace along life's journey. BIG SALE CALLS FOR MORE ROOM For some little time Greengard Bros. Co., have realized they were short on room for the proper display of their large and varied lines of men's, boys' and youth's furnishings but never did it strike them quite so forcibly as it did when they began to make arrangements for holding their mammoth sale starting Saturday, November 20. Something had to be done and done quickly and true to the Greengard style when it comes to overcoming difficulties they at once got busy and re-arranged their basement floor in a modern way. Under this new arrangement shoppers to the store during the great sale will be well repaid by a visit to the basement department where they will find a large and varied assortment of staple goods being offered at prices that makes one feel as though he ought to wrap them up himself at the prices they are being sold for. But as on the first floor the clerical force is there ready and willing to assist you in every possible way. Keep in mind this great sale lasts ten days and keep in mind visiting the basement department. THE YOUNG MAN'S QUESTION. Four or five hours each evening after the day's work, are yours to spend as you choose. "What's on tonight?" This is a question you have asked yourself or your chum during the day. Is your choosing accidental, determined by a passing whim, merely "killing the evening" or out for "a good time?" If your working hours require a program and purpose, much more does your leisure time need direction and objective—physical and mental recuperation and amusement, enjoyable companionship, which will contribute to the next day's efficiency and the coming years' success. Get into the physical activities two or three evenings a week. Slip into a gym suit and line up with the class for floor work; marching, dumbbells, wands and other exercises, accompanied by the piano—then break up into squads for apparatus work, athletics, finishing up with games, races, contests, basket ball and indoor baseball. After all this a shower. Doesn't this sound like real fun? What is the Community Center? It is a high grade low cost community club, christian but not sectarian. It is an athletic organization that does not use men to promote athletics but uses athletics to develop men. It is a place for young people to find friends and to make themselves friends to those who need friends. Its fellowship, club rooms, gymnasium, baths, classes and all other practical advantages are open to all, young and old alike, of all faiths and no faith. Campaign Teams For New Members. No. 1— A. J. Field, Captain. M. R. Marston.
