The Schools of Williams Stand in The Front Ranks

Teachers Like School Department

Almost every teacher has been in attendance at the Institute this week, and where opportunity offered, the Graphic has talked with them about our new county school department.

Hankey Dist. No. 2

The school began serving hot lunches last Wednesday. Everyone enjoys the plan very much.

McKENZIE EXHIBITS

The schools of McKenzie county did themselves proud in the splendid exhibits displayed at the pupils' corn show and industrial contest held at Alexander last Friday.

Miss Irene King and Miss Mahana visited the grade last week.

Marjorie Allen was out one day last week, the first day she has missed this fall.

Robert Mathewson of Tacoma, Wash., entered the third A grade last week.

Joseph Mahan and Leroy Brown entered the B third grade.

Harry Harris entered school last Monday morning.

The third grade room won the quarter holiday for last week.

In Senior High School The students in bookkeeping are in most cases turning in a class of work highly satisfactory, much of it being A grade or of a grade very near the A.

We are all pleased indeed to see Flava Musick back in school again this week after her illness.

During the past week the Commercial Geography classes have been reviewing that portion of their text devoted to Physical Geography.

The review has been more than ordinarily interesting and profitable owing to the fact that different ones of the students themselves have conducted the recitation in each case.

In Junior High School Grace Brown has been absent from school, having had her tonsils removed.

Three new pupils enrolled in Junior High School during the week: Florence Brown, Lawrence and John Schmidt.

The holiday was again won by the

VOTE FOR THE BOOTLEGGING LAW

Not the least of the many interests at stake at the approaching election in the northwestern states is the outcome of the issues between the temperance and the liquor forces.

A prohibition measure of great importance will be found on the North Dakota ballot, which is the referendum vote on the bootlegging law.

There can be no doubt about the will of the voters on this question, and the only danger lies in their failure to vote.

When you go to your booth do not forget to vote FOR the law defining bootlegging.

County aid for the county fair. John Steen for state treasurer.

Frank E. Fisk for district judge. Three men for the supreme bench.

Charles J. Fisk, E. T. Burke and either Birdzell or Spalding.

The amendment to the bootlegging law, which broadens the definition of the crime of bootlegging.

Ole Hanson, a progressive speaker from Washington state assisting in the North Dakota campaign.

Among the list sent out from Bismarck of new corporations that have been granted charters is the following:

Northwestern Theater company, Williston, 10,000; J. Walker McGuinness, R. L. Welliver, Kate Welliver, all of Williston.

ought to support it. You've got one here, I notice. It's called The Forum, I think. I was reading it to night and I want to say right here that it is a rare thing to find a paper so fair in its news columns and editorials.
