Coming To Seek Army Recruits

Corporal Richard F. J. Martell, of the U. S. Army recruiting service, now stationed at Minot, writes that he will be in Williston some time this month to remain one week.

A poster enclosed with the corporal's letter sets forth some of the conditions, especially the advantages, of army service under the present law. Enlistment is for seven years. After one year's active service, if found qualified, a soldier may be placed on the reserve for the remaining six years. Or at the end of three years' active service he will be placed on reserve for the remaining four years unless he desires to remain in the service. While on reserve a man is at liberty to go where he pleases and engage in any business he chooses but will be called back into service in case of war or threatened hostilities.

Pay for enlisted men, says the poster, ranges from $15. to $118.80 per month according to rank and length of service.

Dry Washington Seems Probable

Washington, Jan. 10.—The fight for a "dry" national capital was transferred to the house today from the senate, where the Sheppard prohibition bill for the District of Columbia was passed late yesterday by a vote of 55 to 32. Advocates of the measure apparently are confident of favorable action in the house.

As it goes to the house, the bill would abolish saloons in the district and prevent manufacture and sale of liquors within its limits, but would not prohibit their importation for personal use.

The First North Dakota infantry must wait until the mustering out of the Second Minnesota infantry at Fort Snelling has been completed and the post made available for its use for the same purpose.

Fort Snelling, Minn., Jan. 10.—The 983 members of the Second Minnesota regiment have arrived here from Texas and will be mustered out Jan. 24. Because one member of Company M is suspected of having diphtheria, he has been isolated.

City Scales Do Big Coal Business

During three months of December the Williston City scales were patronized to the extent of 1,681 loads. About 250 of these loads were grain, hay or other farm products and the remaining 1431 were lignite coal, from the mines in operation near the city. Weighmaster Halvorson and Auditor Harvey estimate that the coal loads averaged two and a half tons each. This means that for the month of December 3577 tons, or 7,154,000 pounds of lignite coal were mined and brought to the city.

The heaviest load noted weighed 10,250 pounds, or five and one-eighth tons, hauled by Walter Lukenbill.

The scale fees at 10c per draft amounted to $168.10. At some seasons of the year the scales are much more extensively patronized by farmers for grain weighing. The city scales besides being a big accommodation to the public, have paid the first cost, the cost of repairs and paid the salary of the weighmaster who has extra time for assisting in the city auditor's office.

High Fence Around G. N. Round House

For reasons to the public unknown the Great Northern company has built a high and tight fence around its shops and round house. It is eight feet high with four wires stretched at the top.
