WE ARE NOW READY FOR BUSINESS IN OUR ENLARGED QUARTERS.

It is hardly necessary for us to state that we have felt the need of more room for the proper conduct of our rapidly increasing business for several years, but the past year's business has made it clear that it was imperative that we must increase our space.

We are glad to inform the trade that we are now nicely arranged in our enlarged quarters in the building formerly occupied by Gilroy & Hetherton, with better facilities than ever to take care of the wants of the people who want their work done QUICK and RIGHT.

THE FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION IN MINOT.

Dr. Forbes Delivers An Interesting Address —Good Races At The Fair Grounds— Snap Shots.

From the time that Minot Light Artillery under command of Col. John J. Coyle opened its salute of 21 guns, until Gen. Wm. Murray and his able staff of colonels and lieutenants, shot off the last sky rocket at 12 o'clock at night, Minot's Fourth of July was one continual round of pleasure. The day was greater than any body imagined it would be. Fully 10,000 visitors were entertained in our city Tuesday. The crowd began pouring in all day before and the celebration really began on Monday. All Monday night the streets were filled with people, many being unable to get beds. The day dawned hot and bright. By the time Gen. James Scofield had lined up the Industrial Parade, the streets were crowded with boys, and girls young men and their sweethearts, old men and women, they were all here, from every village and dale in the county. They came in train loads, in wagon loads, they walked, they got here any old way, but they were here and are not sorry for it. The Industrial Parade was a good one. It was headed by Mr. Glazer of the new store, who rode a handsome horse, bearing a sign, calling attention to the special sale at the place of business. The Minot Transfer Co., carried Mayor Roach, Rev. J. G. Moore and the speaker of the day, Dr. Forbes of Philadelphia. Martin Jacobson followed with a handsome three seated family carriage, drawn by four lovely horses, handsomely decorated. Mr. Jacobson's family rode in the carriage. The Eagle Band in full uniform, headed by the drum major Col. McGill, next was in line and played several stirring selections. D. A. Dinnie, the contractor, had a large float which carried his large force of employees. This was one of the best floats in the parade. Mr. and Mrs. Dinnie rode in a handsomely decorated carriage pulled by one of his fast horses.

P. P. Lee, who always has a good float carried a large number of beautifully adorned little girls.

Gilroy & Hetherton's employees tastefully dressed in white, rode in a well arranged float.

A little girl riding in a little goat cart pulled by two beautifully decorated goats represented the New York Store.

J. W. Rowan who is never to be outdone in the Fourth of July Parade and sustained his reputation this year. He had a beautiful float fine lot of new and second hand goods. Mr. Rowan also had a novel undertaking display.

The Scandinavian hotel was represented by its beautiful bus.

Mus Bros. had a large float. Sacks of candy were thrown at the crowds.

M. O. Seglen, who deals in Imported Norwegian goods advertised his business in good shape with an appropriate float.

R. W. Jones carried a pony on a wagon and followed with a wagon load of wood. The one who guessed the nearest to the weight of the pony got the load of wood.

Paul Baukol displayed a load of the famous coal which he sells.

The Great Northern Lumber Co. had its float arranged like a house and displayed its beautiful doors and windows especially.

J. P. Davis' famous water wagon was right in line.

J. H. Tompkins, proprietor of the City Meat Market, had a float well filled with chickens and calves. This was very attractive.

The Elite Steam laundry's was next in line.

Cleven & Hanson, the general merchants, had a well gotten up float.

Martin Jacobson's float was the largest in the parade and was pulled by 24 decorated horses. The float was decorated with 600 yards of bunting and hundreds of flags. An orchestra played from the wagon.

A number of cow boys dressed as Indians and Greasers were in the line
